"EVERYBODY'S STORE"

WHO SHALL TAKE THE LEAD, IS MUCH TALKED MATTER

Failure of Weaver to Stand Hitched Causes Speculation as to the Nominee for Governor.

The refusal of Arthur J. Weaver to run for governor at the head of the republican ticket has caused much regret among leading republican politicians and some candidates who expect to run for minor state offices.

At the state house many republicans declare Mr. Weaver the best qualified candidate in sight and many predict that he could be nominated and elected if he would only make the race.

Candidates on the republican state ticket do not openly show preference for any particular candidate for governor because they may be obliged to be running mate to the one least desired by them, but all have expressed a desire to have Mr. Weaver head the ticket and all regret his decision not to be a candidate.

Representative A. H. Byrum of Franklin county is the only republican candidate who has actually filed nomination papers as a candidate for governor. Adam McMullen of Beatrice announced last fall that he would do so. The retirement of Weaver is believed by some state house officials to give McMullen the leading position in the race for nomination if he desires to get in.

Senator Charles H. Randall of Cedar county has been much discussed as a probable candidate. Mr. Randall arrived at the state house Friday. He said he came merely on business and that his call had no political significance.

"I don't know; probably not," answered Senator Randall when asked if he intends to run for governor. "But I have been urged by many to do so."

Mr. Randall is a retired banker who has served two terms as a member of the state senate. He has filled many committee positions of importance in that body and as such has participated in all the important legislation of the past four years. He will come to Omaha from Lincoln Sunday to resume his work as a member of the agricultural loan agency of the finance war corporation.

D. C. West, the Nehawka banker, was here today for a short time looking after some matters of business.

MURRAY MERCHANTS TOUCHED LAST NIGHT

BURGLARS GET AWAY WITH LOOT ESTIMATED AT $350 TO $400 FROM STORES.

From Saturday's Daily.

The town of Murray awoke this morning to find that last night while the inhabitants were sunk deep in slumber, burglars had visited their fair little city and looted two of the leading stores of the place and made away with their booty which will amount to from $350 to $400.

The places visited were the Peterson Hardware Co. and the grocery store of Wilson & Puls, both establishments being in the same building and connected with an archway so that the robbers had little trouble in getting into the grocery store after they had secured entrance to the hardware section. Entrance was made through the coal chute into the cellar section. Entrance was made through the coal chute into the cellar and from there the robbers had made their way up into the store room of the Peterson Co. In the hardware store a large number of shot-guns and rifles were secured as well as some ammunition while in the grocery section of the building they secured a large amount of coffee, canned goods of various kinds, cigars, tobacco and cigarettes.

There was no trace of the robbers discovered until this morning when the stores were opened up for business and this gave the parties pulling off the job a good opportunity of making their getaway and seeking safety in flight. As soon as the robbery was discovered Sheriff C. D. Quisenberry was called to the scene of action but there was little that would afford any clue to the robbers.

It is supposed that the parties have made their escape into Omaha and gone into hiding there. This is a number of times that Murray has suffered from the depredations of the robbers and the greater part of the business houses there have been visited by the unwelcome callers and the community suffered accordingly. The last place to be robbed there was the department store of Hiatt & Tutt, which is now owned by H. M. Soennichsen of this city, and at that time they suffered the loss of several hundred dollars worth of stock.

SELECTS SENATOR WITH WISDOM OF A SOLOMON

Governor Kendall of Iowa Sidesteps Struggle by Naming Temporary Successor to Kenyon.

Des Moines, Feb. 17.—Charles A. Rawson, of Des Moines, state chairman of the G. O. P., was today named United States senator from Iowa to succeed William S. Kenyon. Appointment of Rawson was made by Governor Kendall this morning following receipt of the resignation of Kenyon, who will quit the senate to accept the judgeship of the eighth federal circuit.

Rawson's appointment, effective immediately, for the remainder of the unexpired term of Kenyon and was made with the specific reservation that he would not be a candidate to succeed himself in the approaching state election, but would serve out during the interim period.

Governor Kendall, who had previously indicated he would appoint Congressman L. J. Dickinson, with the expectations that Dickinson would make a logical and popular candidate for permanent succession to the Iowa senatorship, issued the following statement explaining his selection of Rawson:

"After mature deliberation I have appointed Honorable Charles A. Rawson to succeed Senator Kenyon. It is understood that Mr. Rawson will not aspire to the office, but will serve only until a senator can be regularly chosen.

"Thus the entire matter of the republican candidate for the further term is remitted to the voters of the June primary where their choice may be freely expressed. In making this action I am asking what I believe is the majority sentiment of the party and I am testifying to my conviction that the people themselves should be afforded the untrammelled opportunity to make their own selection.

"Mr. Rawson is a man who is favorably known to all extended circles of him would be superfluous. He is a man of abundant ability and excellent character, a successful business man and manufacturer. Always active in public affairs he has been for a dozen years chairman of the republican state committee and during that period has rendered distinguished and unselfish service."

FUNERAL OF MRS. M'CAULEY IS HELD

Services Yesterday Afternoon at the Presbyterian Church Conducted by Rev. McClusky.

From Saturday's Daily.

The funeral services of the late Mrs. William McCauley were held yesterday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church and conducted by the Rev. H. H. McClusky, pastor of the church. The funeral was filled with a large number of the old neighbors and friends who gathered to pay their last tribute of love and affection.

The pastor took as his text "He Giveth His Beloved Sleep," and paid tribute to the splendid life of the deceased lady and her kind and unselfish devotion to her family and friends during her lifetime. A quartet composed of Mrs. Edna Marshall Eaton, Miss Estelle Baird, G. L. Farley and R. W. Knorr, sang two of the appropriate hymns during the service and Mrs. Eaton gave a solo number, "Face to Face," which had been requested as one of the favorites of the deceased lady.

At the conclusion of the service the body was borne to Oak Hill cemetery where it was laid to rest beside that of the husband.

REFUNDING OF ALLIED WAR DEBT TO START SOON

Eleven Billions Owed U. S. to be Converted Into Long-Term Interest-Bearing Securities

Washington, Feb. 7.—Announcement of the membership of the allied debt commission created by congress to conduct the negotiations for refunding of the $11,000,000,000 owed this country by foreign nations will be made Monday or Tuesday, it was said today at the White house.

The commission is to be composed of five members, of which Secretary Mellon will be chairman, and it was indicated that its personnel would include a member of the house and senate, while high officials are understood to believe that Secretaries Hughes and Hoover will complete the membership.

Delay in the appointments is understood to have been occasioned by the necessity of determining the question of the constitutionality of naming members of congress to the commission, but it is now believed there is no legal bar to their service.

Upon the organization of the commission it was said word would go to the debtor nations through the usual diplomatic channels that the United States is preparing to begin refunding the negotiations which it is believed will be carried on in this country, unless circumstances arising in the future require meetings abroad.

According to treasury officials, the government is ready to begin negotiations at once, although it is believed that actual steps toward refunding arrangements will await the return of Secretary Hughes from Bermuda about March 1. In view of the treasury, negotiations will be taken up with the different foreign nations in the order of the size of their debt, beginning with England, whose total approximates five billion dollars and ending with the smaller nations from whom the sums due are comparatively slight.

The arrangements made with Great Britain are expected to form the model for the plan of payment worked out with all the debtor nations, and it is believed by the treasury that Ambassador Geddes will represent his country in the negotiations. The total foreign debt owing this country approximates $10,000,000,000 of principal and $1,000,000,000 of interest, which under the authority of congress are to be refunded into long time securities of maturities of not more than twenty-five years and bearing interest of not more than 4 1/2 per cent.

STATE MEMBERSHIP OF FARM BUREAU INCREASING

Membership of Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation Should be Increased This Year.

That the membership in the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation should be materially increased during this spring, inspired by the success of the farm bureau in the launching of its several large national co-operative enterprises, as well as the unprecedented success of the "agricultural bloc" in Washington, is the opinion of H. D. Lute of Lincoln who has been secretary of the Nebraska organization since it first started.

In a statement issued today, Mr. Lute urged the various county organizations to use every effort to secure additional members among their neighbors who did not share in the success of the past year's achievements, and also secure reinstatements from those who may have lagged behind.

The Nebraska farm bureau has done very little organization work, according to Mr. Lute. A campaign for memberships conducted for about four months during the winter of 1920-21 resulted in a membership in this state approximately 27,000, nothing having been done since that time. A concerted effort, however, to secure additional memberships before spring work opens up, is urged.

"The farmer has never had the need of organization work impressed upon him like he has the past year," Mr. Lute says, and again never in history have farm organizations accomplished as much as they have during the past year.

He says that while some are still seeking government aid, that the thinking farmers are keeping the words of Sidney Anderson, Minnesota congressman, who recently said at Washington that the government can only remove the obstacles and that the rest must come from the farmers themselves through their organizations.

"The Farm Bureau," Lute says, "as a service organization has secured results in a short time beyond the fondest hopes of its best friends. Investigations it has carried on, the organization of gigantic co-operative marketing concerns, the securing of a wonderful farmer legislative program at Washington and drastic cuts in freight rates, all go to make the farm bureau an outstanding farmers' service organization."
