OMAHA AUTO SHOW SOON TO BE HELD

Great Exhibition of the Auto Industry Will be Held at the Nebraska metropolis Soon.

Omaha, March 3.—Omaha's Seventeenth Annual Automobile Show to be held at the auditorium, March 13 to 18, will contain more of interest to car owner and dealer than any other show in recent years. There were few changes in models during the war. With the signing of the armistice in November, 1918, the factories nearly all of whom had been making munitions of war, had to be converted back to a car manufacturing basis again. With the big demand of 1919, there was a shortage of materials, advancing prices, and calls for cars and more cars. There was not time for new cars or new models.

The changes began in the winter of 1920-21 and continued throughout the year, the decrease in demand allowing the engineers time for a development of improvements as the result of their experience from 1917 to 1921.

So a wealth of new models and new cars are being shown at the various motor exhibitions. And all of the leading ones will be present at the Omaha show.

Prices it is felt have now been stabilized. Drastic reductions were made last year, and the New York and Chicago shows saw further cuts. Manufacturers are now talking that prices must go up rather than down. The greatly improved cars shown for 1922 are sold at prices that compare most favorably with the pre-war level.

For the dealers, one of the main events is the Dealers Frolic. A banquet will be held at the Fontenelle hotel Thursday, March 16th. George M. Graham, a leading figure in the automotive manufacturing field, will deliver an inspiration address. Following that, there will be a whirlwind program, good sport events, mirth provokers, jazz.

As usual there will be musical programs every afternoon and evening and the cars trucks and accessories will be presented in a wonderful setting.

A. B. Waugh, commissioner of the Omaha Automobile Trade association, who has visited several of the shows, reports that everywhere there has been a record breaking attendance, the keenest interest in the new models, and many sales.

The special railroad rates on the first three days with final date of March 29, insure a great attendance from out of town.

The Pneumonia Month

March is a typical pneumonia month and usually gives a high rate of mortality for the disease. After a long and hard winter, the system loses much of its resistance and people grow careless. When every cold, no matter how slight, is given prompt and intelligent attention, there is much less danger of pneumonia. It should be borne in mind that pneumonia is a germ disease and breeds in the throat. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is an expectorant and cleans out the germ laden mucus and not only cures a cold but prevents its resulting in pneumonia. It is pleasant to take. Children take it willingly. VALUABLE HOGS BURN IN FIRE ON ARAPAHOE FARM

Arapahoe, Neb., March 2.—Fire destroyed the large hog barn of A. H. Krumme, widely-known breeder of big type Poland China hogs. Four big brood sows that Mr. Krumme had lately purchased in Iowa were lost. These four animals alone were valued at over $800. About 24 pigs from two to three weeks old were also lost. The fire originated from the heating plant. There was no insurance.

CONDITIONS IN- SPIRE TRITE POEM

And Perhaps There is "More Truth Than Poetry" Contained Therein.

The farmer smiled as he passed them

The cow and the pig and the hen;

For the price of wheat had gone sky-high.

And the cow and the pig and the hen They ate up grain he could sell at the mill.

They needed his care when nights were chill.

He swore of them all he'd had his fill—

The cow and the pig and the hen.

These barnyard cattle had had their day.

The cow and the pig and the hen. He could get thirty bones for a ton of hay—

No need for the cow or the hen. He never would milk another cow.

He hated the sight of a grunting sow. And raising chickens was work for the frau.

Goodbye to the cow and the hen.

They gave no heed to his jeer or frown.

The cow and the pig and the hen. Whatever goes up, said they, comes down.

The wise old cow and the hen. The hen laid eggs the winter through.

The cow gave milk and the piggy grew;

But hay dropped down from thirty to two—

Oh, the cow, the pig and the hen!

Now he sits and sighs, as he counts his cost

For the cow and the pig and the hen. He almost cries for the milk he's lost.

The cow and the pig and the hen. He'd tend them gladly in mud and rain.

And lessen his acres of hay and grain if he could only buy them back again.

The cow and the pig and the hen.

Found a Cure for Indigestion.

"I use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for indigestion and find they suit my case better than any dyspepsia remedy I have ever tried, and I have used many different medicines. I am nearly fifty-one years of age and have suffered a great deal from indigestion. I can eat almost anything I want to, now," writes George W. Emory, Rock Mills, Ala. These tablets contain no pepsin, but strengthen the stomach and enable it to digest the food naturally. Weyrich & Hadraba.

JUDGE WESTOVER FORCED TO END COURT BY ILLNESS

Alliance, Neb., March 2.—Judge W. H. Westover of Rushville, who is holding a term of district court here, was taken ill following a strenuous day on the bench and is confined to his room at a hotel. It was stated that he is suffering from an attack of lumbago and a severe cold. He had been scarcely able to perform his duties for several days, but did so in order to finish the term as quickly as possible. Court was adjourned pending his recovery. His illness is not considered serious, physicians say.

EPPELSON FILES FORMAL CHARGES AT ROAD HEARING

Board of Inquiry Asks State Engineer to Make Showing on Last Three Charges.

Lincoln, March 1.—Today's developments at the inquiry into the affairs of the state department of public works included:

Admission by Frank M. Stuart, Norfolk, department engineer, that he received $15 from the state on a blank receipt for which he later gave a personal check.

Promulgation by the board of inquiry of a rule prohibiting interruption of witnesses and exchange of personalities after Department Secretary George E. Johnson had charged Paul Weaver, Falls City, this morning with telling untruths.

Charge by County Attorney L. C. Westwood of Johnson county that the department contracted to do a road job there for 50 cents a cubic foot, and that the cost proved to be 71 cents, so that the county will have to dig up $24,822 difference.

Charles H. Eppelson, Clay Center, member of the board, today filed formal charges with the board that:

Subcontractors third removed from the original contractor on a state road from Ogallala to Lemoyne received 10 cents a cubic yard for which Thelen-Shirley company of Omaha, original contractor, received 36 cents.

The department laid out a Broadwater-Northport road that twice crossed the North Platte river and the Union Pacific tracks when a road running north of the tracks would have been miles shorter with no crossings.

The department paid $18,000 for a sixty-three acre gravel pit in Saunders county that was a part of 163 acre that two months before was sold for $10,000.

The board has asked Johnson to make a showing on the last three charges.

"Auto Hire" Bill

J. F. Reif, county engineer of Richardson county, who was charged by the state department of public works with misfeasance in office last September, today laid before the board of inquiry at its second day's probe of department affairs, information calculated to show that Frank M. Stuart, Norfolk department engineer, who spent three months checking up the accounts of Reif and other county officials and made the adverse report, drew $15 from the state on "auto hire" for which he actually paid $5 three months later.

Stuart, called to the witness stand to explain, identified the $5 check dated "January 6, 1922," as one he wrote for Carl Shillineck, assistant county engineer of Richardson county, for his services in driving the investigator over 200 miles of county roads for three days—August 25 to 27, 1921.

It was on this trip that Stuart "found" that certain improvements on which the county made no roads did not exist, according to the department report. Reif declared today that every improvement could be accounted for.

Stuart admitted Reif's assertion that he required Shillineck to sign a blank receipt and that he himself filled in the blank with the words $15 (Fifteen dollars) for auto delivery at agreed price of $5 a day for three days, and included the receipt in his personal expense itemization.

Stuart received his pay from the state on Warrant No. 89,110.

"My personal check was to pay Shillineck for his services after I found he had not been paid by the county," Stuart said.

"The remaining $10 of the receipt was for gas, oil and repairs on the car."

"Whose car was that," asked Reif. "I don't know," said Stuart. "It was my car, and I paid for the oil, gas and repairs," answered Reif.

The witness was excused and Eppelson asked Attorney General C. L. Davis, secretary of the board, if this was the proper way to spend state money.

"I can't say I approve it," he replied.

Dr. Fred Hoffmeister, Imperial, volunteered with some heat, what he would do if he were governor and he knew of such a condition.
