

Mothers Find Kiddies' Clothes So Easy to Make the New McCall Way

Fast growing kiddies used to keep mother's needle busy most of the time—until a quicker way of sewing came into practice, the "printed" pattern way.

Now with the New McCall Pattern "it's printed," Gingham Rompers, Chambray Dresses, children's tailored little Coats can be made in a jiffy. Directions for cutting are printed on the pattern, itself. "Printed" gives accurate measurement to a pattern so that a garment can be made quickly in the right way.

JURY FINDS FOR BANK OF COMMERCE

Readers Verdict For Plaintiff Against Sidney and W. B. Spence in the Sum of $3,950.66.

From Wednesday's Daily. The case of the Bank of Commerce of Louisville vs. Sidney and William B. Spence, that occupied the attention of the district court yesterday was brought to a close last evening at 6 o'clock when the jury composed of A. R. Stander, C. K. Bestor, Fred Kehne, M. E. Bushnell, R. L. Hoback, Henry Dehning, Fred M. Prouty, E. P. Lutz, Watson Howard, Fred Muenchau, Philip Born and John Gauer, returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff bank in the sum of $3,950.66, against the defendants.

It was the contention of the plaintiff in the case that the defendant, Sidney Spence, had notes secured by chattel mortgage with the bank and as he desired to remove to Buffalo county to make his home it was arranged that the mortgage be released with W. B. Spence appearing as endorser of the new note and the property was released. The defense contended that the defendant, William, was unaware of the form of note used and that bank was made to appear as the purchaser of the note and contending there had been no consideration received. The case will probably be taken to the state supreme court by the defendants.
