Value giving has been our aim since this store was started, and in order to give value, we must give quality. It is upon this quality, we wish to speak.

QUALITY is our standard, and it is not unlike building a house upon a rock. Sacrificing quality and allowing price to rule ultimately crumbles the rock and the business house falls as though it had been founded on sand.

The quality idea is FIXED in the public mind, one of the best things that has happened to business in years. It was taught to us all, through war times. But you cannot get it and cheap prices together. They will not mingle, they never have been on speaking terms.

We are more than ever convinced that "price" buying is wrong, especially if the price is cheap. You get no more than you pay for, but you do get all you pay for when you buy known brands of quality.

Many people flew the quality track during high prices and bought inferior goods—cheaper, they thought, but it is with pleasure we find many of these careful buying customers again asking for—

STETSON HATS—The cheaper hat lacked quality. Result—It cost more per month to own, regardless of the price.

MANHATTAN SHIRTS—Because they fit, don't shrink, are extra full cut and will not fade.

INTERWOVEN SOCKS—Because they have style; they fit. The Interwoven toe and heel of lisle make them the best wearing sock made.

VASSAR UNDERWEAR—Because the garments fit. They are not cut from a flat piece of goods and sewed up—they are knitted to fit the form. They are comfortable and well made, because quality is built into them.

HOLEPROOF HOSE for women—Because there is no better wearing stocking made. Full reinforced, lisle foot, retains the snug-fitting ankle, is made extra long and has the extra stretch top feature.

VAN HEUSEN COLLARS—Because they do not shrink, will not wilt, and will not wrinkle—need no starch. In other words, a soft collar, with the appearance of a starched one.

KUPPENHEIMER GOOD CLOTHES—The standard for half a century. Foremost in styles, away to the front in fabrics, fit and expert tailoring, they are excelled by none.

WORK CLOTHES—Carhartt overalls, Hansen work gloves and Oak Kosh overalls.

Have we not a right to be proud of these lines? Does it not strike you, that when in doubt, this is a safe place to come?

DEATH OF TOM PARMELE OCCURS TODAY

PASSED AWAY AT HOSPITAL IN LINCOLN WHERE HE HAS BEEN A SHORT TIME.

VERY POORLY FOR SOME TIME
Mayor of Plattsmouth in 1900 and For Many Years Head of Louisville Bank of Commerce.

This morning at 10 o'clock at the hospital at Lincoln where he has been for the past few weeks, Thomas Evans Parmele passed away, his death coming at the close of an illness covering several months past. Since going to the hospital at Lincoln Mr. Parmele has been only partially conscious and his condition has been gradually growing more serious until the coming of the death messenger to release him from the suffering of his bodily infirmities.

Thomas Evans Parmele was the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin H. Parmele, pioneer residents of Cass county, and was born in this city forty-seven years ago, and has for the greater part of his lifetime been closely identified with the life of Cass county. The deceased was named in honor of Thomas Evans, old friend and associate of the late Calvin Parmele, and the young man on emerging from his school work, following the footsteps of his godfather, entered on a career along the lines of banking and was for a great many years in charge of the Bank of Commerce at Louisville, later retiring to look after land interests in the western part of the state.

Politically Mr. Parmele has been identified with the democratic party and was in 1900 elected mayor of Plattsmouth on this ticket and served for two in this capacity, retiring from office when he located at Louisville. Several times he has followed the call to the service and assisted his party in political campaigns.

Mr. Parmele was married some twenty years ago to Miss Nellie O'Rourke and who with their three children, John Calvin, Mary Catherine and Ruth, remain to share the grief that his death has brought. He also leaves the aged mother, Mrs. C. H. Parmele, and a sister, Mrs. Nellie Agnew of this city, and another sister, Mrs. S. H. Atwood residing at Washington, D. C., one brother, C. C. Parmele, residing in this city.

Owing to the absence of the members of the family at Lincoln at the bedside of Mr. Parmele, arrangements were made as to the funeral service, but the body will undoubtedly be brought back to the old home here for interment.

In their sorrow the family will have the sympathy of the many friends in this, their hour of deepest grief.

MEETS WITH APPROVAL
The proposition of the city government to issue optional instead of term bonds to pay the cost of paving, curbing and guttering in district No. 21, seems to be one that has the approval of the large majority of the residents of the district and the public at large. Under this plan the city can take up the bonds when they have the money available and this will permit the city to liquidate the bonds more rapidly. Under the first plan proposed the bonds could be retired each year and if the city had the funds on hand they would have to invest or carry them over the life of the bonds and this would result in a much greater cost to the city.

MARRIED AT NEBRASKA CITY

At 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, at the office of the county judge at Nebraska City, occurred the marriage of Miss Hazel Irwin of Murray and Mr. Gilbert Hull, residing south of this city. The marriage ceremony was performed by Judge Bishop and was a very quiet affair. The marriage was somewhat of a surprise to the friends of the young people in the locality where they are making their home and the newly weds will receive the best wishes of the associates on their new found happiness. Mr. and Mrs. Hull will live on a farm near Murray in the future. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. John Irwin and one of the well known and popular young ladies of the Murray neighborhood while the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hull of near Plattsmouth.

DEATH OF A BROTHER OF THE SHRADER BOYS

Vencel Shrader Dies After Terrible Exposure in Winter Weather Following Accident.

From the Creston (Oregon) Enterprise is taken an account of the death of Vencel Shrader, a resident of that locality and brother of Geo. W. Joseph and Z. W. Shrader, prominent residents of this county. The deceased leaves a wife and one daughter, Mrs. Georgia McMullen of Bluestock, Va. Another brother, Morgan Shrader of Bluestock, Va., and one sister, Mrs. James Holbrook at West Graham, Va.

The deceased was born and raised in Tazewell county, Va., and has in recent years resided in Oregon, where he has a son, P. W. Shrader, living at Harper.

The accident befell Mr. Shrader on February 15th and his death occurred on March 9th. To many of the residents of the county Mr. Shrader will be well remembered having visited quite often with his brothers and also making business trips here.

In speaking of the accident and death of the Enterprise says: "Vencel D. Shrader of Creston, aged 60, died at the Hold Rosary hospital in Ontario Saturday, following an operation. He was brought to Ontario Monday a week ago with hands and feet frozen, for medical treatment in hope that the frozen limbs might be saved, but blood poisoning set in and he was operated on."

"Shrader was thrown from a horse one evening about two weeks ago while on his way home from River-side. Because of a badly sprained ankle he was unable to walk and laid by the roadside all night. The next morning he managed to crawl to his ranch house a short distance away and there tried to administer first aid, but because of his weak condition was unable to build a fire, or to do any more than apply cold water to his frozen limbs. After staying in the cold house three days, Shrader crawled to his neighbor's home, three miles away, and from there was taken to the hospital in Ontario.

"At first it was thought that Shrader would recover, and that it was only necessary to amputate one hand and several fingers of the other, and that circulation could be restored to the frozen feet. But later symptoms of blood poisoning appeared and it was decided very necessary to amputate the feet also. As a result of the operation, the suffering man died a few hours later.

"Mr. Shrader has lived in the county a number of years and the last few years has been a rancher of Creston. A son, P. W. Shrader, of Harper, survives him."

PROGRESSIVE PARTY COUNTY CONVENTION
Notice is hereby given that the Cass County Convention of the Progressive party of Nebraska will be held at the court house in Plattsmouth, Saturday, April 1, 1939, at 2 p. m., for the purpose of organizing and selecting a county central committee, and such other business as may properly come before it. All progressives, both women and men, qualified to hold positions in the civil service, but whose wives are qualified, will be given the same preference in examination for postmasterhips at first, second and third class postoffices that is given to the men themselves, under the Civil Service Commission's interpretation of the Executive order of October 14, 1921, it is said in a statement issued by the commission today.

In other words, the commission states, under its interpretation it will apply the executive order to the same classes of World War veterans, their widows and wives, that is provided for positions in the classified civil service by the veteran preference act of July 11, 1921.

Postmasterhips at offices of the first, second and third classes are not classified under the civil service law, although filled through competitive examination under executive order, and such military preference as is allowed in examinations for such offices is also provided by executive order.

ELECT OFFICERS
Last evening Cass chapter, Order of De Molay, held their election of officers for the ensuing three months and the following were chosen: Fred J. Warren, master counselor; George J. Schmidtman, senior counselor; Otto Triletty, junior counselor; Harold Pitt, scribe; Karl Wurl, treasurer.

THE BASE BALL SEASON GETS A START HERE

Class of Boys of M. E. Church Win Five Inning Contest From Y. M. B. C. Last Evening.

The welcome season of the year when the baseball fan can rest on the sun-kissed bleachers and lustily cheer on the kings of awat, is apparently drawing near as was evinced last evening when the class of boys taught by Harry White at the Methodist Sunday school, engaged the members of the Young Men's Bible Class in a five inning contest of the national pastime at the ball park near the Burlington station. For the boys Harry White did the tossing and sprung a number of the new 1922 inshoots and spitballs on the unsuspecting members of the Bible class, while Joe Buttery acted as the receiving for the youngsters. For the Bible class, the Rev. John Calvert started the battle but retired in favor of Dr. O. Sandin who is one of the wizards of the leather sphere and the fire chief showed so much team that he was for a time the star for Byron Babbitt, who did the receiving for the Y. M. B. C. The game was much enjoyed and the members of the two classes are anticipating other meetings on the diamond in the future when the weather is more suited for baseball playing.

PRELIMINARY HEARING SET IN PARMELE CASE

Will be Held on Tuesday, April 11, in the County Court Before Judge Allen J. Beeson.

Late yesterday afternoon Charles C. Parmele, against whom complaint was filed charging him with violation of the banking law, appeared at the court house and entered his appearance at the preliminary hearing of the case which was set for Tuesday, April 11, at 10 a. m. The bond was signed by William Wehrlein and W. H. Tritsch, two of the prominent farmers of this community. In the trial of the case in the county court here the state will probably be assisted by members of the staff of the attorney general's office.

ELECTION WILL BE QUIET

The municipal election this year will be as calm and peaceful as the most pacific citizen could wish, as the city ticket named last Wednesday has no opposition at the polls and in only two wards of the city has there been any signs of the eruption in the political field. In the fourth ward Councilman Brittain and A. R. Johnson are to tangle and in the fifth ward Councilman Mauer will be opposed by L. E. Vroman and these two battles promise a colorful feature of the spring campaign. For several days the report was strong that there would be a petition ticket filed for other city offices but this seems to have failed to materialize as no candidate could be found that desired to oppose Mayor Carl A. Johnson. This is in keeping with the idea of the citizens' ticket which was to eliminate the necessity for heated political campaigns.

VETS' WIVES AND WIDOWS GET THE PREFERENCE

Civil Service Commission's Ruling in Examinations for Presidential Postmasterhips.
Washington, March 27.—Widows of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines who served in the World War and wives of injured soldiers, sailors and marines of that war who themselves are not physically qualified to hold positions in the civil service, but whose wives are qualified, will be given the same preference in examination for postmasterhips at first, second and third class postoffices that is given to the men themselves, under the Civil Service Commission's interpretation of the Executive order of October 14, 1921, it is said in a statement issued by the commission today.

In other words, the commission states, under its interpretation it will apply the executive order to the same classes of World War veterans, their widows and wives, that is provided for positions in the classified civil service by the veteran preference act of July 11, 1921.

Postmasterhips at offices of the first, second and third classes are not classified under the civil service law, although filled through competitive examination under executive order, and such military preference as is allowed in examinations for such offices is also provided by executive order.

RAIL SHOP UNION LEADER EXPLAINS $2,637 BUDGET

Says Critics, if Honest Will Provide Just What it Needs. That is Unnecessary.

Chicago, March 28.—Industries should use the same principle in supplying energy to their employees as in supplying coal under their boilers, B. M. Jewell, head of the shop crafts unions told the railroad labor board today in presenting a budget requiring $2,636.97 a year for sustaining a working man's family.

"America, with such productive power and such natural resources should afford all her workers more than a shabby existence," Mr. Jewell declared, in continuing his fight against wage reductions sought by 204 railroads before the board. To secure what Mr. Jewell budget provides, however, the labor leader said railroad mechanics would have to earn 40 per cent more than they now receive.

His budget, Mr. Jewell said, was based on the needs of an average railroad mechanic's family. It provided, he asserted, no more than a "stagnant supply of food and only the bare minimum in other respects." The food menus, samples of which he presented to the board, would furnish the wage earner 4,140 calories a day. The $2,636.97 family budget, Mr. Jewell said, was about $300 more than the department of labor's budget.

"Some people will undoubtedly comment upon the absurdity of a mere worker expecting an income of this size," said Mr. Jewell. "If they are honest they will recognize that they are remarking on the absurdity of the workers receiving as much goods as are enumerated in the budget. If such people are really honest they will enumerate the articles which it is absurd that a worker's family should have, and will state what, in their opinion, a worker may expect as the minimum and only in return for his service to society."

"Under the 67 1/2 cents an hour rate which the railroads propose, a mechanic can make $1,651.40 a year, $1,000 less than the amount necessary to purchase the essentials listed in the budget.

"Then there is the rate of 40 cents an hour proposed for helpers. With not an hour of regular working time missed during the year, this means annual earnings of $99.20. The allowance for food of $383.20 provides 10 cents a meal for the man and 6 cents daily for the young and old. For clothing $180 is allowed.

"Every article of clothing must wear from two to three times as long as is contemplated in the budget prepared by the economists for the railroad workers. Three summer union suits must do about three years' service. The man's suit must wear eight years, his winter overcoat ten years. Oatmeal, potatoes and coffee prevail in the menus because coffee acts as a stimulant in place of adequate nourishment an oatmeal and potatoes are filling."

GETS SEVERE SQUEEZE
Last Monday while Kelly Rhoden was milking one of his cows the animal turned around in the stall catching him against the side of the stall and skinned the fingers on one hand and also bruising his legs in a very serious manner as well. He is feeling rather the worse for the accident but is able to be about his work around the farm near Murray.

ENTERTAINED AT THEATRE
In an appreciation of the kindly assistance given by the ladies at the De Molay banquet two weeks ago, the members of the order last evening entertained the ladies who had so helpful in getting the banquet arranged and carried, at a theatre party at the Parmele to witness the offering of Mae Murray in "Peacock Alley." Those in attendance were: Mesdames Ralph Haynie, H. A. Schneider, J. F. Wolf, S. S. Chase, J. M. Hall, Bert Coleman, John Schutz, James Mauzy, L. L. Wiles, Mike Hill, Misses Tillie Hirz, Murna Wolf, Catherine Schneider and Marguerite Wiles.

FILES FOR NOMINATION
Lincoln, March 27.—H. A. Mark, Garden county surveyor, today filed with the secretary of state as democratic candidate for the legislature from the 94th district. The filing of H. A. Havens of Norfolk as republican candidate for congress from the Third district also was made. C. W. Beal of Broken Bow sent his filing check as progressive candidate for congress from the Sixth district to the secretary of state instead of the county treasurer.

HAVE PLEASANT TIME
The ladies of the Maccabees were very pleasantly entertained yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. August Clodt and the attendance was very pleasing. The evening was spent in social conversation and at a suitable hour very delicious refreshments were served that made the occasion even more pleasurable than usual.
