If I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself.—John 14.

Now let the paving go on.

Soul mates often turn out to be skippers.

The election was not unanimous by a long shot.

Never put on until tomorrow what the styles say off today.

Three world fairs have been held in the United States since 1893.

The Persians have a different name for each day in the month.

The day will come when we can have a grand opera for a dime.—Edison.

Jazz is really a disease that explains why the music is sometimes catchy.

I am hard up and confining myself to the necessities of life.—the ex-kaiser.

Head of a common shark is full of glue of highly valuable commercial quality.

Bedtime stories and sermons are being sent out by radio. Be careful you don't get them mixed.

Talk is cheap. So is dynamite. But in either case a little carelessness may cause a lot of trouble.

A Cleveland judge rules a man may see his children twice a month. The kids must be movie fans.

The good rum ship Clara was caught with $500,000 in Scotch. That's nearly a whole barrel.

They are wearing bells on their garters in Paris, but the bells won't help if the audience is fed up.

It's getting so nowadays a farmer can't tell which party he belongs to until he reads the market report.

The latest sensation in radio circles is the transmission of a kiss by wireless. That's up-to-date sparking.

Some crops depend upon the sun, but wild oats thrive best on moonshine. Work, not figuring, makes ends meet.

The theory of evolution is sound enough, but you can't elevate a pedestrian by crossing him with an 8-cylinder car.

Winston Churchill is acclaimed in Britain as the man of the hour on account of his success in bringing about the agreement between North and South Ireland. Too bad, too. Heretofore Mr. Churchill's career had not received a single check.

Somehow the average man imagines that a "flu" infection caused by germs coughed or sneezed out by a pretty girl would be a little more tolerable than a like infection from some other source.

Perhaps the best way to get out the woman's vote this fall would be to put that person who says a working girl can dress very nicely on $87.55 a year on the ticket, but we don't want her on ours.

A billion dollars spent upon American railways will give more employment to our people, more advance to our industry, more assistance to our farmers than twice that sum expended outside the frontiers of the United States—and there will be greater security for the investor.

New York Tribune, discussing the soldiers' bonus, asks, anxiously, "Who's to pay for it?" There is no doubt about who's to pay for the bonus and for everything else. The consumer, of course. Who else is there to pay? All sorts of efforts will be made to load the burden onto someone else, but they will mostly fail.

Charging that our government functions on an "intolerant partisan basis," William G. McAdoo, former secretary of treasury, who recently took up his home in Los Angeles, California, said: "What we should have in the United States is a large body of intelligent citizens who are not affiliated with any party and who could hold the balance of power. Such citizens would be Americans first, and their check on the big parties would be most valuable."

FAST STENOGRAPHERS

A stenographer who can rattle off 800 words a minute on the typewriter is considered fairly speedy.

At this speed, allowing five letters to the average word, the typist fingers hit the keys 400 times a minute, or nearly seven times a second. To accomplish this, each letter is carried to the brain, sorted out, identified, relayed over the nerves to the finger tips and the necessary muscles called into play to strike the right key.

This complicated process occurs seven times a second!

Thought is the fastest and most powerful force. Light, which travels 186,300 miles a second, is a small beside thought.

In a fraction of a second, you can run one of your thought waves out to a star so far away that it takes light millions of years to travel from the star to our earth.

Few people use this enormous power, though possessed by all, except the mentally unbalanced.

Watch a fast stenographer, pounding the keys so rapidly that her fingers receive 200,000 tap shocks a day without causing more than mild nervous fatigue.

Apply those taps to any other part of the body and insanity would speedily result.

One of the most terrible of medieval tortures was allowing water to trickle slowly, drop by drop, on the forehead of a prisoner bound to a bench. The victim always went crazy.

The typist takes that same torture daily many times over, because she works up to it gradually in learning her trade.

Behold, there, the body's marvelous powers of adapting itself to new conditions.

It is this power of adjustment that enables men to stand the sudden changes brought by lost fortunes.

For a moment there is anguish, for days grief. Then, if the victim doesn't lose heart and commit suicide, the body and brain adjust themselves to the new situation.

Things go on with the lapse of time and soon there is as much happiness as ever in a different way.

When life gets monotonous and boring, look about and examine the first thing that catches your eye.

Everything in the world has, locked up in it, as intense an interest as the things you learn by watching the typist's flying fingers.

That's what Horace Greeley meant when he said that a good reporter could write an interesting column about a cobblestone or a pin.

What a feeling of disappointment must have settled down upon the militant feminine citizenry of New York the night the board of aldermen decided not to prohibit smoking in public by women! How many weary hours the M. F. C. pass these days, waiting for the men to "dare to challenge their right to do something."

A member of the Russian delegation to the Genoa conference says the allied governments must recognize the soviet authority. And France says the soviet authority must recognize the French debt. Looks as though introductions all round are necessary.

Governor Small of Illinois insists upon having women on the jury that is to try him. Not that he expects it would be of any advantage to him, of course, but he is determined to have the proceedings strictly constitutional.

A stage woman testified in a damage suit the other day that an actress's gowns go out of date in four weeks. What the married man wonders is how they manage to keep them up to date so long.

MANLEY NEWS

Glen York was a visitor in Plattsmouth over Sunday, visiting with friends and relatives.

Mrs. Rudolph Bergman was a visitor and also looking after some business matters in Omaha last Tuesday.

The Rev. Higgins, pastor of the Saint Patrick's Catholic church, was a visitor in Omaha last Thursday for the day.

Wm. Heebner and wife were visiting in Omaha with friends on last Tuesday and also looking after some shopping.

Uncle Peter Vogler still remains not in the best of health, but while he is not entirely well, is not as sick as he has been formerly.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Otte were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rauth last Sunday, they all enjoying an excellent time.

Mr. J. E. McHugh of Murdock was a caller at the store of Theo Harms, and also with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rauth last Thursday, for a short time.

Mrs. W. D. Higgins, who has been sick at her home in Manley for some time, is reported as being slightly improved, though still not feeling the best.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Anderson were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rauth last Sunday, as were also Mr. and Mrs. Albert Snell, they all enjoying the day very much.

Mrs. Charles Craig, of Omaha, was a visitor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Burns, coming last Tuesday and returning to her home in the metropolis on Wednesday.

The eighth grade examinations were held at Louisville and a number of the students of the Manley schools went over to the town on the river to wrestle with the exams, as they were given there.

Mrs. J. J. O'Leary went to Omaha to visit with her son, who was at the Saint Catherine hospital, and while there was taken sick and remained for treatment herself, hoping to be able to return with better health.

Mrs. Fannie Sinaard, of Grand Island, and two children were visiting in Manley for a number of days last week, being guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Falschman, she being a sister of Mrs. Falschman.

Mr. Charles Craig, who suffered an injury, having one of his ears badly lacerated when he fell down carrying a timber on his shoulder, and which caught him cutting his ear badly, is reported as getting along all right.

Mike O'Leary went to the hospital in Omaha some time since where it was expected that he would be compelled to undergo an operation for appendicitis, but thus far he had not, but had been receiving treatment with the hopes of a cure without the operation.

James Murphey, Jr., was a visitor in Omaha last Friday, where he underwent an operation for relief from appendicitis and which had been giving him some trouble for some time, and it is hoped he will soon be able to be home again and entirely cured.

Last Thursday Errett Wiles was a passenger to Omaha, where he went to see Harold Wiles, who has been in the hospital at that place for some time past, and where he underwent an operation for appendicitis with the result that he is getting along as well as could be expected.

Joseph Wolpert, who looks after the assessing work for Center precinct, is still with the assistance of John Falschman, working at the farm getting things in proper condition for the farming work. Joseph will in a short time get after the assessing work and list every one who has property which is taxable.

There is some joy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Meisinger these days on account of the arrival at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thimgang of a baby girl a short time since. It will be remembered that Mrs. Thimgang is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Meisinger and the grandparents are greatly elated over the arrival of the young lady.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Seiker of near Elmwood were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. August Stander last Sunday, spending the day with the parents of Mrs. Seiker. This was the first time Mrs. Seiker was able to be out since her return from the hospital, where she received treatment several weeks since. Mrs. Seiker is getting along very nicely at this time.

Manley Fortunate
The people of Manley feel that they are able to congratulate themselves on account of the fact that the Western Union Telegraph office has been restored to the town, and they are now able to communicate with the outside world.

It Looked Like Spring
It sure looked like spring last Thursday when the scribe of the Journal was at Manley for everybody seemed to be out on the garden or lawn and busy as a spring bee. They were making gardens, raking the lawns and trimming the shrubbery and generally getting ready for the summer which is rushing spring along at a rapid rate into history.

Satisfactory Business
Herman Dall of the Manley Farm Implement company says that business is very satisfactory this spring and that the generous reduction which has come in the prices from former times enables him to sell goods at prices which are approaching the prices that prevailed some years ago. He has just sold and delivered three electric motors and a number of lists and other farm implements and finds with the new conditions that people are able to go ahead with the work.

Very Serious Condition
Last week Earl Wiles departed for Omaha where he underwent an operation for appendicitis and which proved to be a very acute case of the malady. Since the operation, Mr. Wiles has not shown the improvement which had been desired, and his case is considered one of much gravity, there being some apprehension as to the turn which it might take. Last Thursday Mrs. Wiles and the children went up to Omaha to visit the parent and husband, finding him very sick. It is hoped that he may soon be on the highway to recovery.
