SALESMANSHIP CLASS A SUCCESS

Seven Weeks' Lecture Course of Prof. Ivey of University of Nebraska Proves a Success.

From Wednesday's Daily.
The close of the lecture course on salesmanship that Prof. Paul Ivey of the department of business administration of the University of Nebraska has been conducting in this city is much regretted by those who have been attending the series of lectures and who have profited very much from the application of the advice of the able lecturer.
The coming of Prof. Ivey to this city opened up a new field of vision to many of those who handle goods each day as well as to the merchants and in the suggestions and the application of practical training in discerning the character and disposition of the customer and the proper manner to approach them when engaged in selling goods.
To many when the matter was first suggested it seemed a radical departure from the style method of salesmanship where the clerk gained all of his knowledge by handling cheese or flour, clothing or some other line, year in and year out, and its success was really questioned, but since the first two or three lectures it has been clear that the course was what had long been needed by the merchants, salesmen and saleswomen of the city.

Not only have the trades people profited by the lectures, but it is resulting in the customers and patrons of the various stores receiving service and treatment that makes it much more pleasant for the clerks and the patrons as well. The Ad club that boosted the salesmanship course here can well feel that they have had a big part in an important work.

TAKING SURVEY OF CITY; FIRE TRAPS TO BE REMOVED

From Tuesday's Daily.
Chief of the Fire Department Dr. O. Sandin, who is in charge of the survey committee of the clean up and paint up campaign, has made a trip over a part of the city and discovers that there are several alley ways that should be cleaned and cleared of debris and rubbish removed as well as a general clean-up made.
Chief Sandin has also discovered several old houses over the city that need eradicating and the state fire marshal's office will be called on to aid in clearing up this phase of the matter.
It is a matter of congratulation that the city has gotten in such excellent shape as regards the elimination of fire traps and with the general clean-up coming it is going to crowd any of the towns of the state for the honor of being most safe from fire dangers and for being a clean and attractive place in which to reside.

RETURNS TO THE EAST

From Tuesday's Daily.
This morning, Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Martin, of Huntington, Va., who have been visiting in this country for the past year, and guests at the home of their two sons, Frank W. Martin, living west of Avoca, and Bennie Martin, who makes his home north of Nehawka. Mr. B. O. Martin and wife came here from the east about a year ago to visit with their sons and family and liked the people here and the country, both of which the elder Mr. Martin and his good wife declare are perfectly all right, and have remained during the time with the exception of a trip to the west, which included the visit to the top of Pike's Peak and seeing the wonders of the mountains in Colorado and the west in general. During the time they have been here they have been shown every courtesy by their sons and the excellent citizens which make up the population of this county. There was a meeting of the former citizens of the east which represented Virginia and at which there were some sixty or seventy people. Mr. Frank Martin and son of near Avoca, were in town last evening, coming to bring the parents and grandparents to the train here, and when they came they could not make good connections by going on No. 2 of the Burlington, they waited until this morning, when they departed and will arrive at their destination at a little after one tomorrow. They sure have enjoyed the year spent in Nebraska and return to the east with a warm spot in their heart for this country.

"It's lucky we had Lee Puncture-proof tires"

PICKING up a horseshoe is unlucky where ordinary pneumatic tires are concerned. The same applies to nails, tacks, spikes, sharp metal and splinters of stone or glass.

But Lee Puncture-proof tires are different. They carry our cash refund guarantee against puncture.

The air in the tire carries the load. Lee Puncture-proofs hold the air.

That's why Lee Puncture-proof pneumatics have grown in favor every day for the past ten years—for passenger, business and delivery cars—for trucks.

We stand ready to prove that Lee Puncture-proof tires will solve your tire-trouble problems.

These two young men were in the back seat of the car and while crossing a small bridge the car left the incline rather fast and with the result that Allie and "Bluejay" were tossed up in the air and one of the ribs of the top of the car struck Allie across the nose, injuring it quite badly and knocking him out for a few moments, while "Bluejay" had one of his teeth knocked out. Both of the young men are still bearing the marks of the encounter.
