Among the other shows of the Dominion company that have proven big features at the cities where they have shown is that of the "Monkey Speedway," "The Pit," where is shown "Prince George," the horse with the human brain, as well as the electrical wizard and the large array of trained monkeys of all kinds.

Another of the big features of the shows is that of the "Petrified Man," one of the sensations of the year in the carnival business.

The Legion has furnished a force of police for the duration of the carnival, who will look after the conduct of affairs at the carnival grounds and see that everything is kept running along in the proper manner.

DOES SOME BUSINESS; NOW IN MILLION CLASS

From Tuesday's Daily. Yesterday was a day of much strenuousness at the Plattsmouth State Bank and that institution grew to be a $1,000,000 bank as the result of the deposit of the sum of $240,000 by the state department of banking to care for the payment of the deposits formerly carried in the Bank of Cass County.

The money was placed in the Plattsmouth State Bank and there was paid out to the various depositors who had claims pending. Mr. F. E. Bodie, the receiver of the defunct bank, was present and looked after the settlement of the various claims and cleaned up the matter in very fine shape.

The work of Mr. Bodie and his assistant, Mr. R. F. Reynolds in getting the affairs of the bank settled up is to be commended and their prompt and efficient methods of handling the business has led to a very speedy settlement of the bank business as they have been in charge only since December 13th, when the Bank of Cass County was turned over to the state banking board.

Each chapter was accompanied by a chaperone who looked after their care and saw that the members of the party were safely returned home to this city. On their arrival in Omaha at 8:45 they were taken direct to the All Saints church where they found automobiles awaiting them and were taken on an auto tour over the city, visiting the parks and the various points of interest until 10 o'clock when the party returned to the church where the services were held. The professional was participated in by all of the chapters each carrying their banners and headed by the children's choir of the All Saints church and made a very beautiful sight as they marched into the church for the services.

Bishop E. V. Shayler gave a short address to the children of the league on their splendid work and also presented the banner for the largest Easter offering from the children and which was secured by the children of the Church of Good Shepherd of Omaha.

After the religious service Miss Alice Fry, president of the league, took the chair and the members enjoyed a very impressive pageant of the children in which the delegations from Plattsmouth numbering fifty-two, made a great impression with their banners representing the different chapters. Luncheon was served to the visiting delegations in the parish house of the church.

Bishop Shayler was the host of the Plattsmouth children in a visit to the Clarkson hospital where they visited the children's ward and the members of the local chapters presented the little folks there with scrap books that they had made for them and which were much enjoyed.

The reports of the various chapters were given by the representatives of the chapters in a very concise manner and reflected a great deal of credit on the young people. In the afternoon the delegations returned home with the exception of the St. Michael boys and the Girls' Friendly who were chaperoned to a movie entertainment and returned on the later train.

OBSERVANCE OF MOTHER'S DAY IS VERY PLEASING

Special Services at the Churches and Many Home Gatherings Mark Observance of Day.

From Monday's Daily. Yesterday was one of great beauty in the bright and attractive weather furnished and which permitted a very general observance of Mother's Day in the churches of the city. At the Methodist church a special services had been arranged in honor of the day and who service was attended by the members of the American Legion and the Auxiliary. The members of the Legion post marched from the club rooms and were joined at the church by the ladies of the auxiliary who had assembled at the home of Mrs. M. Hill and the organizations assigned reserved seats at the front of the church.

The services were well arranged and very impressive and in keeping with the spirit of the day. The choir gave a special number in honor of the occasion and Mrs. E. H. Westcott in her usual charming manner sang "Little Mother O' Mine," which was most fitting for the day and touched a very responsive chord with the large congregation present. Mrs. William Baird also gave a highly appreciated reading, "Mother O' Mine" which showed the depths of mother love.

The sermon of Rev. John Calvert was one that brought much thought to the congregation, on the motherhood of the world from the days of the early history down to the present time, taking as the first figure of his subject the mother of Moses, who laid her infant child on the river Nile to preserve his life from the edict of the cruel Egyptian king, down to the mothers of the men and women of the present day, and pointed out the sacrifices of the mother, the watchful guardianship that is exercised over the young child by the mother and the tender sympathy and love that is given by the mother to her young. The pastor also paid tribute to his own mother as an example of the present day.

In the other churches the services partook of a nature of a tribute to the motherhood of the nation and of the world and all were very largely attended, by both men and women who took the opportunity of making their acknowledgements to the Maker for the love of the mother that had watched over and cared for them.

The custom of wearing a flower in remembrance of the mother is also observed by the greater part of the residents of the city.

From Monday's Daily. Yesterday afternoon the redoubtable Bellevue base ball team had been cleaning up the teams in their immediate locality slipped a cog when they met the Merchants team of this city and returned home in the twilight, the losers of the game by the score of 7 to 2.

For the Plattsmouth Merchants, Mason was the star in the box and kept the visitors guessing all the way through and their hits were few and far between while the locals were able to nick the opposing hurlers for numerous hits and a great many more errors that aided in swelling the score of the Plattsmouth team. The locals had their batting eye out as well as playing a tight game in the field and made the going decidedly rough for the visitors from the start of the battle.

The attendance was not as good as had been hoped for, owing to the extra attraction of the carnival company arriving and which took a great many to look over the grounds and view the various attractions as they arrived.

HAS VERY NEAT AND UP TO DATE CLOTHING STORE

Philip Thierolf Has New Balcony Placed in His Store—Makes Very Neat Addition.

One of the most neatly arranged and attractive stores of the city is that of Philip Thierolf, the clothier, and this store room is provided with the most modern and convenient means of displaying and caring for the stock of high class clothing and furnishings that is carried in stock here.

Recently Mr. Thierolf had a number of the latest dust proof display cases installed in the store that are used in the display of the lines of shirts, collars and other lines and which are the very last work in the way of equipment for a clothing store. On installing these Mr. Thierolf decided that the small balcony in the rear of the store was not in keeping with the general neatness and smartness of the rest of the store and he has just had completed a fine new balcony that is used for office space and the showing of extra lines of goods.

The new addition to the store is much more ample than the old office and occupies the entire north part of the store room. It is made of the very best of finished oak, in keeping with the rest of the building. SEWERING DELAYS WORK OF REPAVING MAIN STREET

Task of Placing First Section of Sewer Under Tracks Awaited By the Contractor.

The commencement of the repaving of Main street and the construction of the sewerage system that is to care for the surface water on the streets, has been delayed to some extent by the hope that the first sections of the sewer that is to run under the Burlington tracks and right of way might be completed before the work on Main street was started. However, if the sewer is not placed by the time that it is necessary to commence operations Mr. Coleman, the contractor on the Main street job, will have to make a temporary opening for the new sewer system into the subway near the Burlington station and then go on with the work of placing in the sewer and laying the new brick paving. Those who have to travel over the old and rugged granite blocks every day are looking forward with pleasure to the time when the new pavement will be in and travel made a pleasure instead of a severe trial to the auto drivers and the pedestrians.

PROMINENT YOUNG FARMER WEDS AN ASHLAND GIRL

The wedding of two popular young people occurred on Tuesday last week, May 2, 1922, when Miss Myrtle Bricker became the bride of Elmer Johnson. The wedding occurred at the parsonage of the Congregational church at Ashland, the home of the bride, the pastor, Rev. Beggs officiating.

The bride is a handsome and accomplished lady and taught the Glendale school last year and made a wide circle of friends and acquaintances during the time she taught in this community. She is a sister of Mrs. Philip Hennings, of Louisville, and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bricker of Ashland.

The groom is one of our best young men. He is a son of James Johnson, of Cedar Creek, formerly of Louisville, but after the death of his mother he made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fetzer, a prominent pioneer family east of town and they treated him always as a son and he is highly respected for his upright character and industry.

They have gone to housekeeping on the farm owned by W. H. Hill, east of town that was the former home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Ward, now of Oconto. This splendid young couple received a hearty welcome from the neighborhood where they will reside and their host of friends join with the Courier in wishing them a long and happy wedded life, filled with prosperity and many blessings.

On Tuesday night of this week, a jolly bunch of Odd Fellows and their ladies went out to give the young couple a rousing charivari and reception, showering them with good wishes for their future life. They took along ice cream and cakes and spent a merry evening with the newly weds, giving the bride a most hearty welcome to her new home.—Louisville Courier.

"I am in daily touch with the homeless refugee women and children of all races here in Constantinople and with the reports from Anatolia and the Caucasus. A heartrending picture of misery and suffering is presented. I wish you could see and know how much American generosity has meant to all these people and how great is their faith in America. I am sure that if the American people did know they could not let the food stop or the hopes remain unfulfilled. We, of this end, base our hopes upon people like yourself to help provide American aid for thousands of refugees and children and insure a continuation of their faith in American humanity. Will you pass this message, which may mean life and hope to the peoples of the Near East, to the women of America?"
