SAMUEL GOMPERS SKEPTICAL ABOUT A SHORTER DAY

Washington, May 19.—Confidence is held by President Harding, it was declared by an administrative spokesman at the White House with men controlling the steel industry had started a movement which would result in abolishing the 12-hour day. The same confidence was not held Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, issued a statement declaring the meeting was "typical of present-day effort of big business, that it should in the White House as a structure from which to give the country what the American people are accustomed to call 'bunk.'" Former Judge Gary, in his statement of what was accomplished, Mr. Gompers concluded, meant that the "steel industry intend to abolish the 12-hour day when it gets ready and not before."

ADVOCATES STATE LAKES FOR FISHING

Governor McKelvie Returns from a Trip to Sand Hills—Predicts Best Fishing in World. Governor McKelvie willingly admitted Thursday that he had been fishing in Cherry county, says the State Journal. "I will say," he announced, after admitting that he had spent a day or two in this sport, "that northwestern Nebraska—that portion of the state sometimes called the sand-hill region, is destined to be the best bass fishing grounds in the world. It is favorable for the propagation of trout in its clear streams and for bass, ring perch and crappies in its clear lakes. There are millions of perch and crappies there now. The bass were not biting good when I was there because the cold weather had driven them into deep water. They were beginning to come to the banks when I left. The time will come when some of the best lakes in Nebraska will be set aside as a fish or game preserve, or rather set aside for public fishing under proper regulations. Under our state road system such lakes will be accessible and thousands of people who now go elsewhere will go to northern and western Nebraska."

BANK CAN'T DEDUCT MORTGAGES ON LIST

Supreme Court Eays Down Law on What Banks Must Do when the Assessor Comes. The Creighton National bank lost its suit in supreme court against Knox county Wednesday when that tribunal laid down the law with respect to bank assessments. The dispute covered several years' taxes. The court says that the tax contemplated by law is a tax upon the shares of stock in the hands of stockholders and is not a tax upon the property of the corporation. In making an assessment upon the shares of stock in the hands of stockholders for purposes of taxation, as provided by law, the assessor should not deduct from the total value of the shares mortgage securities held by the banking corporation upon which the mortgage has agreed to pay any tax which may be levied against the mortgage or the debt secured thereby. The court says that the levying of the tax in such a case does not impair the obligation of the contract as between the mortgagee and the mortgagee.
