SENIOR CLASS BIDS FAREWELL TO ASSOCIATES

FORTY-THREE YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN ARRIVE AT THE THRESHOLD OF LIFE.

From Friday's Daily.

It was an audience that packed the high school auditorium to its capacity that greeted the Senior class of the high school on the last occasion that they gathered as a class and to bid the young people success and good fortune when as men and women they take up the problems of life and go out into the world to solve them to the best of their individual ability.

To many in the audience the occasion brought to mind the words of the poet when they too had reached this point in their school life, and the feeling of pride mingled with a slight chord of regret that had come to them, and in the bright and alluring countenances of the forty-three young people they again live this part of life's bright dream that intervening years had moved them to forget.

The members of the class, Superintendent G. E. DeWolf, Principal R. G. Campbell, Dr. Frank G. Smith, of Omaha, the class orator, and Rev. H. G. McClusky formed the procession, and the march being led by Miss Estelle Baird, one of the faculty of the high school and to the music of the march the class and their guests took their seats on the platform that they have grown familiar with in the years that have passed.

The invocation was offered by Rev. H. G. McClusky, who called down the blessing of the Almighty on the young people about to enter on another phase of their life work and on the occasion that had drawn the residents of the community together.

Miss Mary Baker, one of the graduating class gave a very artistic rendition of the "Sonata in A" by Mozart, and in her skillful touch charmed and delighted the audience.

The class of 1922 is distinguished by the splendid record of the young men members that stretch before them, these two stood forth as the leaders in their school work, and on their shoulders fell the task of the evening and the farewell of the class era it passed into the history of the things that were.

Raymond Bookmeyer was the salutatorian of the class and made a most pleasing impression and his marked ability as an orator was shown in the clear and concise delivery of his message. The young speaker took as his theme the story of Lieutenant Rowan, the man made famous by Elbert Hubbard, in "The Message to Gracia," the faithfulness, the courage and the devotion of this young man being depicted by the speaker in telling of his delivery of the trust placed in his hands by President McKinley, to the Cuban general, amid the mountain fastnesses of the island then torn by the war for liberty from Spanish domination. His classmates, the speaker stated, were in their way Rowans, delivering their message to the world and as a culmination of the story of the training were starting out on their mission; that they should carry the lesson of faithfulness and devotion the speaker stressed in his few remarks.

The valedictory of the class was given by Karl Wurl, the honor student of the year, and like Mr. Bookmeyer, this young man made a deep impression of thoughtfulness and marked ability in his brief and worked-whole message. Parting was one of the factors in life that comes to all and was perhaps the most beautiful and tender part of the life of man and to the class the evening of the commencement brought many stabs of regret as it meant the dissolution of the ties and associations formed in the school room and to many of the class that was meeting as a class for the last time, the separations might be for all time. He expressed the gratitude of the class to the superintendent and teachers who had labored with the young men and women to complete their school work as far as the high school was concerned and made their farewell filled with tender recollections of the years that they had been together.

Assisting in the delightfulness of the program was the vocal number, "Out Where the West Begins," by Chapman, given by Miss Minnie Klinger, who sang the most beautiful rendition to the song. Miss Esther Tritsch, another of the members of the class, played the accompaniment for the singer.

Superintendent G. E. DeWolf introduced the orator of the evening, Dr. Frank G. Smith, pastor of the First Congregational church of Omaha, and the audience had the satisfaction of hearing one of the best addresses that has ever been delivered in the city on any occasion, and the class of 1922 is doubly fortunate in having this opportunity of entering on their life work with the thoughts brought out in this splendid address to carry with them.

Dr. Smith stated that the graduation from the high school was the most important of any in the school life and even the day of leaving the college or higher educational institution did not carry the deep significance that this time in the life of

DECORATION DAY TO BE UXTENSIVE- LY OBSERVED HERE

Every Effort Will be Made to See That Memory of Fallen Her- oes of Nation Honored.

The plans for the Decoration day services point to one of the largest observances of the day in the history of the city and one in which the public is cordially invited to join in making a truly fitting tribute to the honored dead of the nation.

The morning will be devoted as usual to the decoration of the last resting places of the dead in Oak Hill cemetery and the Grand Army and W. R. C. as well as the American Legion and Auxiliary will participate in the services at that place. The societies will meet at the court house at 9 o'clock where they will go to the cemetery for the purpose of decorating the graves and fittingly see that the last resting place of the former soldiers or sailors are fittingly remembered. Ritualistic services will be held at the lot set apart for the two veterans' societies.

In the afternoon at 2 o'clock the memorial exercises will be held at the Parnell theatre at which a very well selected and fitting program will be given.

At the close of the memorial service the various societies and public will march from the theatre to the court house for the purpose of the unveiling of the memorial tablet secured by the D. A. R. for the fallen heroes of the World War. The order of the line of march will be as follows from the theatre to the court house:

- First Division
 - Marshal of the day.
 - Elks band.
 - Boy Scouts.
 - Ministers of the city.
 - Relatives of the dead.
 - High school Girl's chorus.
 - Daughters of the American Revolution.
 - Second Division
 - Grand Army of the Republic.
 - Woman's Relief Corps.
 - American Legion Auxiliary.
 - Armed escort, bugler.
 - American Legion and former servicemen.
 - General public.
- At the court house there will be places reserved for the societies and the ceremonies that will be held will be short and impressive and the D. A. R. will turn over to Cass county the tablet that bears the names of their honored dead.

FUNERAL OF YOUNG LADY

From Thursday's Daily.

The funeral services of the late Miss Lorene Northcutt were held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Cahill on North Seventh street, and attended by a number of the friends of the family. The services were in charge of Rev. John Calvert, pastor of the Methodist church, who spoke words of comfort to the sorrowing relatives and friends and during the funeral Mrs. E. H. Wescott, one of the lifelong friends of the family, sang two numbers, "Peace, Perfect Peace," and "Sun of My Soul." At the conclusion of the services the body was borne to Oak Hill cemetery where it was laid to rest in the family lot there.

Lorene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Northcutt, was born in Plattsmouth, March 19, 1901, lived and was raised in Omaha, attended the Franklin school, Omaha high school and business college. She attended the Walnut Hill Methodist Sunday school and church up to the time of her illness. She died at 11:40 a. m., Monday, May 22, at Omaha. She is survived by her parents, sister, Harriett Mable, and brother, Richard.

ENTERTAINS AT LUNCHEON

From Thursday's Daily.

One of the delightful social gatherings of the late spring season was the 1 o'clock bridge luncheon given yesterday afternoon at the charming Murphy home in the north portion of the city, when Miss Mae Murphy and Mrs. William A. Robertson entertained a number of friends.

The usually handsome Murphy home had its beauty enhanced by the decorations of the flowers of the season, pink peonies predominating in the color scheme and which added to the charm of the occasion.

There were five tables arranged and prizes given at each of the tables for the most skillful players and the trophies of the afternoon were given to Mrs. R. W. Clement, Mrs. Ione Dovey Betts, Miss Margaret Donelan, Miss Minnie Guthmann and Mrs. W. J. Straight.

The hostesses served a very enjoyable four-course luncheon in their usually charming manner and that served to add to the enjoyment of the afternoon.

WILL VISIT HERE

Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Heisele of St. Louis are in the city enjoying a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Shindelbower. Mrs. Heisele is a sister of Mrs. Shindelbower and Harry L. King of this city and was formerly Miss Loretta King. She will be well remembered by the many friends who met her on previous visits.

TEST OUT BREAD

The ladies of St. Mary's Guild at their meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. H. Dunbar were given a very pleasant surprise when they were presented with several loaves of bread that came from the bakeries of Fred H. Mumm and C. L. Heger, the local bakers, and who desired the ladies to test out their bread in comparison with the bread of other bakeries. The delicious bread was very much enjoyed and the ladies will certainly long pleasantly remember the opportunity of enjoying the Plattsmouth made bread.

INTEREST HIS FRIENDS

From Thursday's Daily.

Yesterday afternoon Robert Goodman was a visitor in Omaha and his departure did not at the time cause any question in the mind of the representative of the Journal, but such does not seem to be the case with the friends of this popular young man, who presides over the fizz department at the Morgan sweetshop. The fact that a number of the young men of the city have slipped away and returned sadder and wiser men under the yoke of matrimony has caused some of the friends of Bob to wonder, but we are reliably informed that there was nothing as serious as this in the visit and that it was purely platonic in its nature.

RETURNS FROM WEST

From Thursday's Daily.

William J. Smith and wife came in yesterday from Scottsbluff where Mrs. Smith has been teaching the past term in the public schools of that city. They departed in the afternoon for Auburn where they will visit at the home of Mrs. Smith's parents.

Their host of friends are pleased to welcome them back home and are more than pleased to have them decide to make Plattsmouth their home in the future.

REACHES CALIFORNIA

Word has been received from Mr. E. H. Wescott to the effect that he has reached Los Angeles and was agreeably surprised to find his father, Mr. C. E. Wescott, feeling much better and which certainly comes as good news to the relatives here as well as the host of friends of Mr. Wescott. Mr. E. H. Wescott will enjoy a brief stay with his parents, but will, owing to the pressing business, be unable to remain the full length of time he might desire.

MRS. WILLIAM BAIRD HEAD OF THE STATE P. E. O.

State Convention at Fairbury Names Plattsmouth Woman as State President of Society.

From Thursday's Daily.

The state convention of the P. E. O. society of Nebraska, at their meeting at Fairbury, selected as the president of the order for the ensuing year, Mrs. William Baird, of Plattsmouth, at the election held this morning.

Mrs. Baird is one of the best qualified ladies in the state for a position of this kind, and has in the past filled with distinction the various offices in the local chapter, Chapter F. At the session last year Mrs. Baird was named first vice president and has been a very able official in the office.

The friends of Mrs. Baird are very much pleased with the honor that has been bestowed on the local chapter and the city of Plattsmouth in the naming of the new president and the state society can rest assured that they will have at the head one of the best qualified ladies in the state. Mrs. Baird has taken a keen interest in the welfare of the order and her work has contributed greatly to its advancement over the state.

Edmund Dorr Old Resident of County

Edmund Dorr was born at Athens, Ohio, August 31st, 1845, and quietly slept away at his home near Wabash, Nebraska, May 19th, 1922, being 76 years, 8 months and 18 days old. He was a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, Ohio Infantry and served until the close of the war when he was honorably discharged. In later years he was a member of the Kansas Post No. 123 Grand Army of the Republic at Elmwood, Nebraska. This post at one time had an active membership of 38, but their number has slowly but surely answered the last Roll Call until there are only four members remaining, and they are here acting as an honorary escort to their beloved comrade.

Shortly after the civil strife closed Mr. Dorr moved his way to Iowa, where at Malvern, April 22nd, 1882, he was married to Louise Barret. To this union were born two children, Mrs. Della Root of Portland, Oregon, and Ralph Dorr, who lives on the old home place and has cared for his father in the declining years. Mr. Dorr and his wife remained but a short time at Malvern, coming to Nebraska and settling near Wabash more than 40 years ago. At this place he died, as he lived, honored, respected, and beloved by all and especially by those who knew him best. His remains will rest in the Wabash cemetery beside those of his wife who preceded him to the Great Beyond many years ago. The daughter, Della, is unable to be present because of illness in her family, but is sharing in the grief of her brother and has sent her tribute of love in flowers expressive of her sorrow. They are five grandchildren who will miss his voice and step. In addition to his own family he leaves surviving him three brothers, Josephus of Jerokee, Okla., Charles and Leander of Athens, Ohio.

Nearly a year ago Mr. Dorr became ill and at this time his daughter was able to spend some time with her father and aid in caring for him. At one time Mr. Dorr was a member of the chapter of the Eastern Star, having been a charter member this lodge pays its respects by attending in a body.

He was a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and his brethren have assembled at this time that they may assist in these last rites, sad though they be. He was a member of and has served the Masonic lodge at Elmwood, Nebraska, as an officer for many years and this lodge in the burial of their brother joins with the other fraternal organizations and friends in extending to bereaved ones their sympathy and we all mourn with you.

ELMWOOD CITIZEN PASSES TO REWARD

David Bogenrief, Old Resident of That Portion of County, Passes Away May 18th.

On Thursday morning of last week another of our aged, respected citizens passed to his reward. David Bogenrief one of the oldest citizens and a Nebraska pioneer, died at his home in this city after having been confined to his bed for several weeks. Mr. Bogenrief had been in poor health for some time but bore his affliction with fortitude, patience and cheerfulness. During the time he was out and before he was taken to his bed he always had a good word when you met him and was indeed most optimistic and cheerful. He believed in friendship and was a good neighbor, who will be missed by all who knew him.

The funeral services were held from the Methodist church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 and were conducted by Rev. Sala, pastor of the church. Interment was made in the Elmwood cemetery. Following is the obituary:

David Bogenrief was born in Union county, Penn., June 10th, 1842, and passed away on May 18, 1922, being 79 years, 11 months and 8 days of age. At the age of three years he moved to Stephenson county, Illinois, where he grew to manhood. He married Sarah Sloatman, also of Illinois, April 2nd, 1865, locating on a farm five miles south west of Elmwood. As a young man he was a member of the Lutheran church. In later years he united with the Methodist church at Elmwood.

To this union were born seven children. He is survived by his wife, Sarah, and six children, Spencer of Elmwood, Elmer of Eagle, Oliver of Avoca, Mrs. Henry Dickman of Sioux County, Iowa; Mrs. Ed Howe of Alliance, Nebr.; Mrs. Max Fisher of Omaha. The eldest son Charles passed on April 6, 1918, in McVernon, S. D. Twenty-two grandchildren, eight great grandchildren also mourn his loss.

Mr. Bogenrief enlisted from Freeport, Ill., in Co. D, 93rd regiment, Illinois Volunteers. He served until his honorable discharge.—Elmwood Leader-Echo.

RECEIVE GOOD NEWS

From Friday's Daily.

Rev. and Mrs. John Colvert yesterday received some very pleasing news from the home of their daughter, Mrs. Will Gridley, at Humboldt, Nebraska, announcing that a fine little son had arrived yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gridley and who was doing very nicely. It is needless to say that the occasion has made the genial grandfather even more optimistic than he is ordinarily.

PLAN TO TAKE AN ACTIVE PART IN THE CHURCH WORK

Episcopal Ladies Plan Working Force to Quicken Activities of Membership of Church.

From Friday's Daily.

The Lenten study class of which Miss Barbara Gering is leader, met yesterday at the Gering home on north Sixth street and with a very large number of the members present. The success of the course of study has inspired the members to continue their service to the church in other lines that might result in the upbuilding of an active and thoroughly alive membership and for this purpose they decided to enlarge their sphere of work and to enter into the active life of the parish as a vital factor.

It was decided that the study class enter on a campaign to interest all those who are communicants of the parish but that are not active in the church work, to lend their efforts to making a 100 per cent effective membership that would have a part in the various activities of the parish and to add the rector in making St. Luke's parish one of the best in the state from the standpoint of efficiency in their church work.

Among other forms of the activities that the study class will carry out is the personal visits to the membership of the church and also the promotion of more social gatherings of the parish members, so that the feeling of common interest in the church can be promoted and the power of the church for good in the community enlarged.

This will fill a long felt want in the parish and be a great aid to the rector who has labored diligently to make his parish one of the best in the state and that while productive of great results has not fully realized the aim of the pastor of having everyone have a part in the church work.

CHANGES IN RAILROAD TIME

The Burlington is announcing a new time card that will make several changes of interest to the Plattsmouth people and particularly as it gives this city a through train from Chicago that will be greatly appreciated as the connections with the east have been very poor since the taking off of No. 5. Train No. 1 will run from Chicago to Denver via Plattsmouth and will arrive in this city at 6:15 a. m., making the stop if there are passengers from east of Pacific Junction. This is the same arrangement as formerly used with No. 5.

Eastbound train No. 6 will arrive in this city at 8:10 a. m. instead of 8:14 as at present and meet No. 15, the westbound train, at this point.

The replacement of No. 10 will give a late train from Omaha for those who are detained in the metropolis and this train will leave Omaha at 2:40 and reach this city at 3:18 a. m.

The other trains are left on their present schedule.

AUTO TRAFFIC VS. THE RAILROADS

The Latter Pay Taxes and Upkeep on Their Roadbed and Should Receive Consideration.

Travel by auto bus has been a standard in fair weather or foul, to the wet weather that has prevailed and the freight trucks have been equally handicapped.

The great inroads on traffic made by the auto conveyances is one of the most serious things with which the railroads have to contend today. In fair weather, other things being equal most of us prefer to ride in the auto buses that skim over the dusty roads to the upholstered cushions of the steam cars. And, strange to say, an equally large percentage have their goods hauled by auto truck.

But in times like this, we gladly turn to the railroads to carry us to our destination and to bring us our goods safely.

The railroads, being a public utility, are compelled to operate their trains in fair weather or foul.

There is much discussion as to the formulating of some such restrictions for operators of commercial auto buses and trucks.

At the present time the Missouri Pacific has appealed to the state railway commission for permission to discontinue its local passenger train operating on a daily round trip schedule between Auburn and Omaha, through Louisville and Weeping Water, claiming the auto bus business has so affected its receipts as to make continued operation of the train a losing proposition.

Should the permission be granted, and the train discontinued, its removal is bound to be keenly felt by everyone in times such as these when the auto traffic is stalled for days due to impassable roads.

The railroads pay taxes on their properties and furnish employment to a large number of our people and are entitled to at least fair consideration.
