

CASS CO. FARM BUREAU NOTES

Poultry Pays Interest and Taxes Mrs. Ray Norris of Weeping Water has a flock of White Rocks which have made her a net profit of $2,33 per hen, for the last six months beginning November 1, 1921. For the six months she had an average flock of 166 hens which laid a total of 10,782 eggs. The total sale was $432.97, the total feed cost $63.50, leaving a net profit of $369.37. Many people make a profit from poultry but never keep a record of sales and cost. If you have such a record send it in the Farm Bureau. We want all records on poultry. Mrs. Norris began to build up her flock three years ago, through a Cass county Farm Bureau poultry demonstration. Now she has an accredited farm flock. She has sold many thousands of eggs for hatching this spring.

Tuberculosis in Cattle The amount of money paid the counties that are testing by the plan with the Cass county Farm Bureau wishes to take up is $183,318. About one out of every twenty head tested. We probably will have between 350 and 400 head of cattle in Cass county which will react. Are you in favor of a county wide testing? If so, get in the Farm Bureau and push.

Achievement Day A very interesting picnic and program were held at the Eight Mile grove school house Friday, May 26th. At noon a bounteous picnic dinner was served to about forty people. After dinner the sewing club girls gave two minute talks, songs, etc. The demonstration team demonstrated the making of Nellmar's embroidery and the garments made by the girls were on display. The certificates were given out and the seal placed on the charter. This club has done fine work under the leadership of Miss Mae Barker. They expect to take up Course 2 in sewing this summer. Many of the boys and girls of this school and neighborhood are also enrolled in a poultry club under the splendid leadership of Mr. W. F. Nolte of Myriad. More of the Cass county boys and girls should be taking advantage of this club work.

Dress Making In spite of the bad roads and rainy weather the ladies from three clubs braved the storm and came out to the dress making meeting, conducted by the Cass county Farm Bureau. Tuesday afternoon twelve of the women met at the home of Mrs. T. Fleming, Weeping Water; Thursday ten women attended an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. W. H. McBride; Friday women met at the home of Mrs. John Wagner, Louisville. A short course in the making of house dresses is being given. The making of the bungalow house dress was discussed and the women were shown how to draft patterns for the bungalow apron. Many attractive samples were on display, showing decorative stitches. Many of the women made copies of the samples, expecting to use them later. Much time and great interest was spent in looking at the miniature house dresses that were on display. Several interesting clothing bulletins were given out and the ladies went home feeling well paid for having made the effort to come out to the meeting. Plackets, finishing collar and cuffs, and putting on the finishing touches will be given at the next meeting.

Poultry Club Song Tune, Marching Through Georgia. "We are the County Poultry club and we are here to stay. Here to raise some better chicks and here to make them pay. Here to do our bit to help the farmer on his way. Hurrah for the County Farm Bureau!"

MAKES PUBLIC ITS PROGRAM OF DESIRED LEGISLATION

Farm Bureau Drafts Tentative List of its Reforms—Four Amendments Part of Program. Tentative draft of the legislative program of the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation has been made by the legislative committee. During the next few weeks the twenty-one points in the program will be presented at meetings of county and precinct officials of the Farm Bureau to be followed by precinct meetings at which the members themselves will be asked to discuss each proposal point by point. The majority expression on each subject at these precinct meetings will be the controlling factor on each point as to whether or not it will be a part of the program. When the program is finally completed it will be the expressed opinion of the Nebraska Farm Bureau drafted from the individual members as to what the next legislature should do for the farmers of this state. The program will be in the hands of the people in plenty of time that they, if they wish, may learn where their legislative candidates stand on the subject. The tentative program calls for four constitutional amendments to be initiated by the legislature, to permit the enactment of a rural real estate credit law, similar to the federal land bank law; permit classification of tangible property for taxation; permit the legislature by a two-thirds vote to change the salaries of state officials during any term and to provide for taxation of municipal property where used as a public utility and the taxation of bonds and securities of the various governmental subdivisions now exempt. Along the lines of direct legislative action the Farm Bureau asks for a state income tax law; to enable organization of a farmers' finance corporation; compel public utilities to pay taxes on their rate making value; mandatory publication of tax returns, township boards of equalization; repeal Smith mortgage law; to seek aid of other states in termination of federal aid road policy; larger portion of automobile license money to be left at disposal of county boards; tax sufficient to pay transportation of school children attending school while remaining at home; continuation of appropriation for indemnities in eradication of bovine tuberculosis and agricultural extension and if necessary, amendments to the present law to continue state operation of a hog cholera serum plant; state civil service law; state to buy land sold for taxes; laws or constitutional amendments so that each county thru a charter convention may formulate the kind of government it desires, with provision to adopt the county manager form of government, or commission form; waterpower development by the state and simplification of the work required to be taught in grade schools.

KEARNEY MAN IS NAMED PRESIDENT OF STATE C. OF C.

Budget of $3,000 Agreed Upon For Year's Work—Directors Will Select Next Meeting Place. Columbus, Neb., May 26.—Nebraska Chamber of Commerce at the close of its annual convention elected the directors and they in turn chose the officers as follows: President, Dan Morris of Kearney; first vice president, J. D. Busnell of Lincoln; second vice president, J. A. Ross, Long Pine; secretary, Harrison Elliott, Columbus; treasurer, Joseph Barker, Omaha; executive committee, Dr. T. H. Bass, Broken Bow, chairman; C. D. Marr, Fremont; F. B. Teller, Columbus. It was left to the directors and officers to select the next convention place. It was agreed that the state chamber should operate the coming year on a conservative budget of $3,000 and that the directors draft such a budget and notify the member clubs. Randall K. Brown of Omaha gave a talk on the recent meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce which he attended in Washington. Two resolutions submitted by the resolution committee were referred to the directors for consideration at their next regular meeting. One urged the immediate enactment by Congress of a tariff on imports adequate to protect American industries and based on the American valuation plan. The other endorses the provision of the Jones shipping bill and the Great Shipping bill calculated to encourage the merchant marines. DAN WHITFIELD, or "Doc" as he is known, has been chosen among his comrades in the Legion club rooms, to perform social duties this week. He is in the completion of a long and arduous task, the preparation of the program for the coming year. The program has been given in the past and has been very successful. It has been a great success in many respects. It has been a great success in many respects. It has been a great success in many respects. It has been a great success in many respects. REAL POULTRY RAISER

To learn of a young man stepping out with the chickens is not an unusual event, but when it is the real barnyard feathered variety it is worthy of comment. This is what one Plattsmouth young man is accused of doing and in fact the charge is made that the aforesaid young man was discovered peacefully asleep by the members of his family, amid the feathered beauties. How this occurred is a long story that covers a great many adventures on the part of the victim from the time that he first quaffed the flowing bowl of Nebraska's greatest product—corn; until the awakening. The exact circumstances that led to the youth seeking the hen house for a place of repose is veiled in deep mystery and in fact he does not know himself how it happened, which is proof that the corn has a kick compared to which the mightiest efforts of a government mule availeth nothing. It is safe to say, however, that it will not occur again and that in future before starting out to enjoy the revelry of Bacchus the young man will see that the hen house is safely locked, so that entrance is made impossible and if he must have the society of chickens it will be of the flapper variety.

SPECIAL ELECTION TO SELECT A NEW REPRESENTATIVE

Attorney General Rules This is the Proper Method—May Nominate on July 18th. Lincoln, May 26.—With Congressman C. F. Reavis' resignation announced as effective June 4th, the law makes it incumbent on Governor McKelvie to see that the vacancy is filled immediately by special election. Voters of the First congressional district will vote on his successor, who will serve until the regularly elected congressman of this district takes office March 4, 1923. Attorney General Clarence A. Davis is of the opinion that the governor will have to issue a special primary call to nominate "chickadee" candidates, supplementing the general call for the July 18 primaries. Since the primary law does not provide any means of selection by convention or otherwise of nominees for this special election, it is assumed that the governor will let the primaries decide, and to save expense of a special district primary, it is taken for granted that the proposition will be submitted at the regular primaries. The assumption is reasonable that the present party candidates for congress in the First district will appear in the short term nomination, officials at the capitol believe. The special election, therefore, may become a weather vane to test party strength in Nebraska before the general election.

LEGION DISCARDED POPPY AS OFFICIAL FLOWER LAST FALL

National Convention Adopted Daisy in Its Stead—O'Connell Tells of Poppy Exploitation. Why the American Legion backs the sale of daisies and withholds its support from the poppy campaign is explained in this statement issued Friday by Adjutant Frank B. O'Connell of the Legion in Nebraska. "State headquarters of the Nebraska American Legion has received several inquiries asking if the Legion endorses the sale of poppies or is interested in such sale, as suggested in the newspapers recently. "Most emphatically we are not. Our national convention last year adopted the daisy as the memorial flower of the world war. Certain organizations purporting to represent French children exploited our posts and the general public to such an extent that we threw the whole outfit over the transom and adopted an American flower. Even this year, after we had decided to use the daisy, high-salaried salesmen hounded us for weeks trying to unload their poppies. "The Legion buys the daisies for a little over one cent each and sells them for a dime. The difference in profit goes to the care of disabled and decorated the graves of American dead. Over 100,000 of these daisies will be worn on Memorial day in Nebraska alone. They are being used by the thousands in the decorating of our graves here in the state and also in France. Our posts send donations direct to our Paris post and they take care of the graves over there. "For three years now the Legion has decorated every American grave in France and every American veteran's grave in Nebraska, besides hundreds of those of soldiers of other wars who are buried at these places, where there is no post of the G. A. R. or Spanish War Veterans."

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS IS ACTIVE

State Convention at Lincoln Discloses Fact that Many Local Organizations Being Formed. Women are preparing to take a large part in government in this state, and to the end that this part may be taken intelligently the organization of women's voters leagues is going ahead in many counties of the state. That much was shown by reports made at the opening session of the state meeting Thursday morning in Lincoln, in faculty hall at the state university. The council of the state League of Women Voters met at 10:30. Mrs. C. C. Ryan, of Grand Island, state president of the league, presided at the meeting which was largely devoted to routine business. The state treasurer and state secretary gave their reports and the president began her report. Mrs. Ryan reported a large number of leagues organized over the state since the last meeting and that a growing interest in the league and work has been shown since the national convention. Many other women's organizations are lining up with the work of the league. Present at the opening session in the morning were league representatives from Grand Island, Hastings, Falls City and David City as well as numerous Lincoln members. Among the more prominent attendants, is Miss Gladys Pyle, national organizer, of Washington, D. C. In the afternoon the president's report was read and Mrs. C. H. Dietrich, regional director of the league, gave a report on the national convention in Baltimore. Miss Pyle, the national organizer, spoke on organization and membership work, and Miss Bertha Lutz, the Brazilian visitor, made an informal talk. A tea was given by the members of the Lincoln league at Ellen Smith hall from 4 to 6 o'clock in honor of Miss Lutz.

REAVIS TO RESIGN AS CONGRESSMAN FROM 1ST DISTRICT

Will Assist Attorney General Daugherty in Prosecuting Fraudsters—In His Fourth Term. Washington, May 25.—Attorney General Daugherty will assume personal direction of the prosecution of war fraud cases, it was announced tonight at the department of justice. Associated with the attorney general's statement said, will be a number of "distinguished lawyers from all parts of the country selected for their especial fitness for the posts." Among these will be Representative C. Frank Reavis of Nebraska, who will resign his seat in congress in order to take up his work in June. Col. Henry W. Anderson, of Richmond, Va., the announcement said, also would assist the attorney general as well as former Representative Roscoe C. McCullough, of Canton, Ohio, appointed recently by Mr. Daugherty to investigate war cantonment cases. The attorney general said he was not willing to make the names of the other counsel public at this time. By assuming direction of the war fraud cases, Mr. Daugherty said he would be able to use in the prosecution the salary of $25,000 or $50,000 a year which otherwise would have to be paid to one special assistant attorney general under authority of congress, which "has placed no limitation" on the salary to be paid this official. "That decision, statement said, "has the effect of insuring that proceed more satisfactorily if he assumed its direction." The assistants already selected, it was said, are "men whose incomes in private practice are probably five times as large as the amount which they will receive from the conspicuous service they will render to the government and the people."

WATERBURY BANK IS 'TOUCHED UP'

Waterbury, Neb., May 25.—The Waterbury State bank was robbed about 3 o'clock this morning. The robbers escaped with about $3,000 and the contents of a large number of safety deposit boxes, the value of which is unknown. The robbers used explosives to effect an entrance to the steel safe which contained the cash. One of the heavy stockholders of the bank is W. S. Gilman, of Sioux City, Vernon G. Smith is cashier. The bank, which was established in 1901, is fully insured. Waterbury is 25 miles west of Sioux City. Several charges of nitro glycerine were exploded by the cracksmen in opening the safe in which the cash was kept and seventy-five safety deposit boxes contained in the vault, which were also rifled. Entrance of the vault was gained by cutting thru the steel plate around the lock with an acetylene torch. The work of professional criminals. After cutting telephone and telegraph wire connections the bandits thought to have numbered five or six, are said to have sped out of town in a high powered automobile headed toward Sioux City. "The bank's loss is completely covered by insurance," said Cashier V. G. Smith. Flags for Decoration day on sale at the Journal office.

BOUND OVER TO DISTRICT COURT

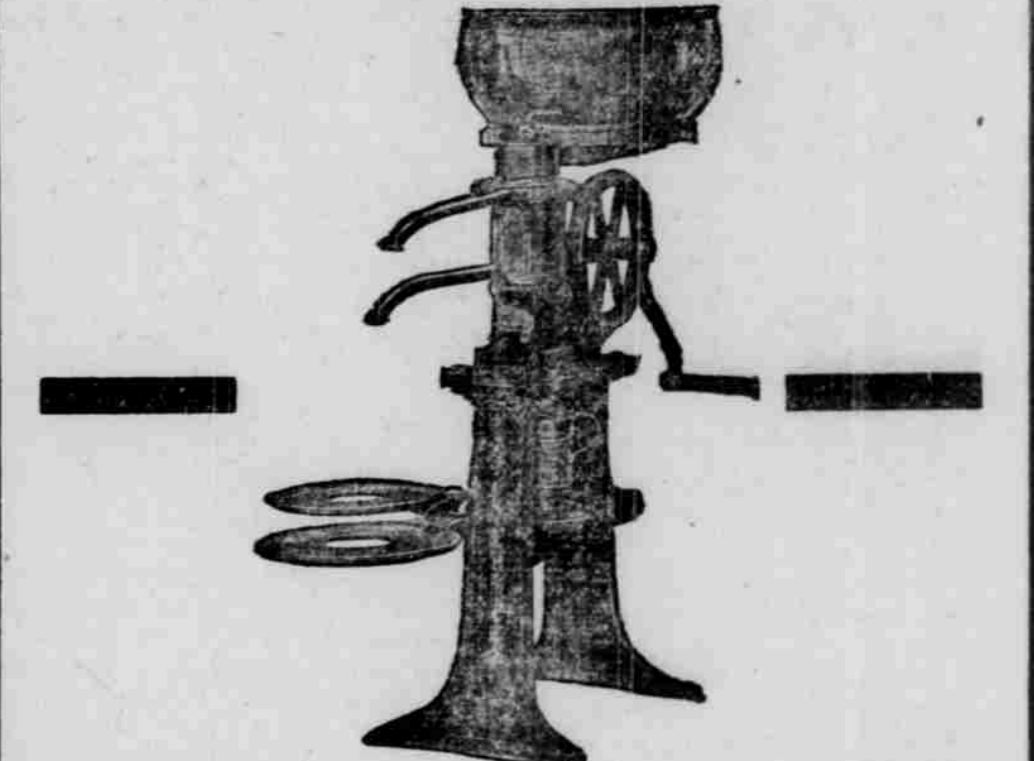

One of Trio Brought Here From Sebetaha, Kas., Concerning Car Theft Has a Hearing. From Saturday's Daily. Yesterday afternoon in the county court Charles Norton was arraigned before Judge Beeson on the information which bound over to the district court for trial and bond fixed at $1,000, and in default of the bond the young man was remanded to the custody of Sheriff Quinton. Norton is one of the three brought here from Kansas, who were held in connection with the taking of the car of Jack Neitzel from this city last Friday night and which was later found by the authorities at Sebetaha, Kansas, and the three men held in connection with it. After an investigation of the case here it was decided that rather than have the county forced to stand the costs of a trial in the district court that would have been necessary to secure the conviction of the one man in the case it would serve the ends of justice as well to place the concealed weapon charge on him, which would avoid the necessity of a long trial as the prisoner resolutely declared his innocence of the charge of taking the car, and his stand would have necessitated the trying of the case before a jury and after Norton was willing to plead guilty to the concealed weapon charge this was preferred. Just what will be the fate of the two younger members of the trio has not been determined, but owing to their youth and the fact that they are novices in the crook game they probably will escape much easier, as their part in the affair was not as serious as that of their older companion.

The Anker-Holth Cream Separator THE ONLY SEPARATOR WITH A SELF BALANCING BOWL

The Anker-Holth bowl can never get out of balance as the self-shifting discs create a perfect balance of the bowl. The discs are interchangeable and do not have to be placed in numerical order as in other makes of separators. Old discs can be replaced by new ones which cost only a few cents and the bowl will never have to be sent to the factory for re-balancing.

The Anker-Holth separator is a self oiling machine, having no oil cups or oil holes to care for. It will outlast any other separator, as all the gears and bearings are continually flushed with oil. We ask that you call and see this machine on our floor. Sent out on 30 days trial in competition with any make separator you may want to select.
