Lester Wunderlich, who is located at Valtsca, Iowa, where he is engaged in the battery business, was a visitor at home for a few days coming at the time of Decoration day and also having some business matters to look after as well.

County Commissioner C. F. Harris of Union was a visitor in Nehawka for a short time last Monday afternoon coming to look after some business matters about the country roads which the recent continued rains had put on the hummer.

All the girls who have been attending the state university, Misses Doris Meagney, Laura Lloyd, and Zula Chriswiser, arrived here during this week following the close of the school year and will enjoy their well earned vacation as they have all studied very hard during the past term.

Postmaster Grover Hoback, rural carrier R. H. Chapman and Thomas Mason were all in Plattsmouth last Tuesday, Decoration day, the date of the annual meeting of the postmaster and rural carriers of the county where they participated in the election of officers for the coming year and looked after such other business as came before the meeting.

Olaf Lundberg the reliable garage man and withal one of the most progressive of Nehawka's citizens was kept busy when he was caring for the garage last Monday during the absence of Ollie Allis who has gone to his home at Weeping Water on Decoration day and Verner Lundberg being in Omaha. However, Mr. Lundberg was able to care for the business as he is a rattle when it comes to caring for work and business.

Played Excellent Ball

A good game of ball was played at the local grounds last Sunday when the team from Cedar Creek came to Nehawka for a game with the team of this place. The game was well played until in about the seventh inning the home team made some costly errors which resulted in the visitors carrying away the victory. The score was nine for the visitors and two for the home team. The visiting team is a pretty strong array of players they having now won six games straight.

The Nehawka Department of the Journal which has been published the first of the week that is Monday will be in the future published on Thursday, thus allowing those who desire to get their news and advertising for the week in so it can be had that week and also making it more convenient for the publishers. Some of our friends say that as we were fortunate in a ways finding a storm on Friday and last year and that now the storms have been coming the first of the week was the reason we changed the time of coming, are we fear mistaken, for we are endeavoring to come whether the weather be fair or foul. However, we are desiring the aid of all interested in a better Nehawka service to assist in the furnishing of news for the department.

What Does it All Mean

Monday we noticed that Miller and Gruber were putting in the foundation for the new home of J. R. Dole, this is not a strange matter, but there were five bachelors on the job, besides Mr. James Miller, for just next is the house of Morris Pollard, which he "Pete" Johnson and Wm. Obergast are plastering. With these five bachelors and three of them just having built or are building a house, it looks like there might be an opportunity for a number of the ladies who are still enjoying single blessedness of securing a happy home. Just who five bachelors should be working in one bunch and three of them have homes now of their own, when the command is to marry and replenish the earth, we do not understand. However, we guess it is all right.

Made the Welkin Ring

We neglected to mention the house warming which the friends of Henry Gruber gave to that gentleman a short time ago when they in numbers appeared at his new home and made the evening merry dedicating the new bachelor quarters and making Henry known for a certain that he has many friends in Nehawka. We do not know whether he is going to continue to live alone or not.

Held Union Memorial Services

Last Sunday at the auditorium was held the memorial services for the village of Nehawka at which a large and very patriotic crowd of people gathered to hear the Rev. John W. Simpkins, the pastor of the United Brethren church, deliver the address. The discourse was filled with patriotic and inspiring utterances and was one of the most powerful pleas for peace and prosperity that has been delivered for a long time here.

Has Secured a House

Emory Kilberg, who has been employed at the farm of J. J. Pollard for some time and whose wife, Mrs. Kilbert, has been visiting in Omaha for some time on account of their not being able to secure a house in that they have secured the house in which Mr. E. M. Griffin has been living and moved to the east portion of Nehawka a few days since. It looks like this town should have some more places in which to live.

Secured Good Workers

The executive committee of the Nehawka Community club at their meeting last week appointed the following workers for the arrangements for a strawberry supper and social, which they held on the lawn of the Nehawka school grounds and which proved a great success. The committee being Messrs. Walter Wunderlich, Melvin Sturm, Gilbert Kime, Misses Vera Larson and Velma Munn. The committee selected Decoration day for the occasion, and very aptly at that. They were successful in getting the Nebraska City band, which furnished a most delightful musical treat for the people who were gathered for the occasion.

Many People Purchase Cars

During the past week many of the people of Nehawka have purchased cars and last Monday three of them went to Omaha and brought their purchase home. D. Steffens secured a Ford coupe, Charles Hemphill got a touring car, while L. W. Burbey secured a roadster. Verner Lundberg took the three gentlemen to Omaha in his auto in the morning and returned with them in the evening. Besides this, Frank Lemmon, the barber is also securing a car, it being in this case a Ford coupe, which he secured through the agency of the Lundberg garage. This is making one four cars additional which is owned by Nehawka people.

Was Buried at Mt. Pleasant

Last Tuesday the remains of one of the former citizens of Nehawka and this community, Mr. Lee Hobson, a son of the late Stephen Hobson, and who has been making his home in the west for some time, where he died arrived in Nehawka and was buried on the day when we are wont to strew pretty flowers on the graves of our loved ones. Mr. Hobson was a cousin of both Mrs. B. O. Tucker and Mrs. E. J. Maugay and lived here for long number of years before going to the west.

Finds the West Prosperous

A. C. Anderson who is connected with the Sheldon Manufacturing Co., and who has been in the west for some time returned last Saturday having concluded his mission, that of establishing another distributing point for the output of the factory, has to say for the west. Denver is humming with business and makes one feel the thrill of the mountain town to go out there and see the business rushing along. He also stopped in western Nebraska.

"HAVEN'T GOT TIME"

Opportunity tapped at a door with a chance for a brother within; He rapped till his fingers were sore, and muttered, "Come on, let me in. Here's something I know you can do. Here's a hill you can climb." But the brother inside very quickly replied: "Old fellow, I haven't got time." Opportunity wandered along in search of a man who would rise. He said to the indolent throngs: "Here's a chance for the fellow who tries." But each of them said with a smile: "I wish I could do it, but I'm very busy today, and I'm sorry to say that I really haven't got time."

At last opportunity came To a man who was burdened with cares, And said: "I now offer the same Opportunity that has been theirs. Here's a duty that ought to be done; It's a chance if you've got time to take it." Said the man with a grin: "Come along, pass it in. I'll either find time, or I'll make it." Of all the excuses there are By which this old world is accused, This "Haven't got time" is by far The poorest, the feeblest, the worst. A delusion it is, a snare; If the habit is yours, you should shake it. For if you want to do what is offered to you— You'll find time to do it, or make it.

John A. Doty of near Nehawka, he working in the city today and while here was a caller at the Journal for a few minutes. Mr. Doty is one of the progressive residents of his portion of the county and what it is a pleasure to meet.

THE BEREAVED MOTHER

Beside her cottage gate she stood, A woman sad and gray, Watching the children gathering flowers For Decoration day. She beckoned to them, and they came in haste across the way, With garlands of wood violets, And honeysuckles gay.

"Your flowers are very beautiful," She said with kindly praise; "Would you not like some lilac blooms." To put in your bouquets?" She opened the gate to let them in. The merry little group, And seated them all, side by side, Upon the cottage stoop.

Then from the lilac's flowery shrub She plucked its odorous store, And piled them in the eager hands Till they could hold no more; While with a sad, sweet smile she watched The little ones, as they Arranged the fragrant purple plumes To crown each bright bouquet.

"And did you have some soldier boys?" Inquired one little lad. "Yes, I had two as noble boys As e'er a mother had— Two handsome, brave and stalwart youths, Who, to their country true, Exchanged the farmer's humble garb For suits of Union blue."

"The scene is fresh within my mind, As if but yesterday; When with Rhode Island's gallant sons I saw them march away, And as the weary months went by, How lonely seemed our home, As daily at the throne of grace, I prayed that peace might come."

"But still the dreadful strife went on; Our nation writhed in pain, As brothers mingled blood with blood, On many a battle plain. Then came two days with sorrow fraught, They haunt my memory still— When Willie fell at Gettysburg, And James at Malvern Hill."

"These poor dim eyes may ne'er behold The graves where now they sleep; But then I know God's pitying eye O'er them their watch will keep, And when shall sound the judgment trumpet, Loud pealing from the skies; Bright-robed, with immortality, My loved ones shall arise."

"Those noble brows, once battle-sweared, Shall bear no crimson stain; But wearing each a crown of life, With Christ their King shall reign. Then, in their sweet companionship, I'll walk fair Eden's shore; Where war's wild scenes shall be unknown, And death comes nevermore."

NATIONAL HEADS OF KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS IN BAD

Iowa Convention of Knights of Columbus Demands Resignation of Pelletier and Flaherty

Des Moines, May 30.—The resignation of two officers of the national organization of the Knights of Columbus, Supreme Knight J. A. Flaherty of New Haven, Conn., and Supreme Advocate Joseph C. Pelletier of Boston in a resolution passed by Iowa Knights of Columbus at the closing session of their annual convention here this afternoon.

The Iowa Knights of Columbus also demanded that Supreme Knight Flaherty submit a public apology to the supreme court of Massachusetts for having cast aspersions upon its motives in dismissing from office and disbaring Pelletier as district attorney of Suffolk county, Mass., for malfeasance in office.

Delegates to the supreme convention to be held in Atlantic City in August were instructed to carry this message to the convention and vote on a unit to have this action brought about. Similar action condemnatory of the conduct of Pelletier and Flaherty already has been taken by several state councils of the Knights of Columbus.

HOOVER CALLS A MEETING OF THE COAL OPERATORS

Conference Today to Discuss Means of Preventing Price Boost During the Strike.

Washington, May 30.—Preparations were completed tonight by the commerce department for the meeting tomorrow of bituminous coal operators called by Secretary Hoover to discuss effective means of preventing an advance of the price of coal during the strike. Operators of both union and non-union mines in the present producing bituminous fields have been invited to the meeting. The conference tomorrow, according to Mr. Hoover, is to be confined solely to a discussion of methods of preventing unnecessary price increases during the coal strike. One of the methods suggested for handling the situation has been the formation of co-operative committees representing both the producing and purchasing elements, to keep coal prices somewhat along the level of the basis established by Fuel Administrator Garfield during the war.

PRaises FEDERAL RESERVE BANK ACT

Dr. P. L. Hall of Lincoln Tells Bankers Loans to Farmers Proved Lifesaver to Farmers.

At the meeting of group four bankers at McCook Tuesday, Dr. P. L. Hall, president of the Central National of Lincoln, praised the federal reserve bank act as the greatest field of constructive bank legislation ever enacted in the world.

Its administration after the war could have been improved upon, he admitted, but so could the administration of most other bank laws, even the bank laws of most states, he declared. He said that the act saved the world's civilization in the great war. Before that it took control of our national finances squarely out of the hands of Wall street and placed it in the hands of the people. The measure he said, would prove its worth to the people as the years go on.

Regarding loans in late 1920 and early 1921, Dr. Hall said he never saw a loan turned down in Nebraska that had sufficient security to have made it a desirable grant by any individual banker.

Farm loans made totaled 65 per cent of the total, he said, and commercial loans took up the balance. In fact, many of the commercial loans were needed because the merchants to whom they were made were carrying farmers, he explained.

Officers for next year are: President, O. A. Riley, Hastings; vice president, A. B. Wood, Bartley; secretary-treasurer, W. B. Remer, Holdrege. The next meeting will be held in Holdrege.
