Mr. McMullen is perhaps the best known of the republican candidates as he has been very prominent in the southern part of the state and has represented Gage county in the state legislature at various times and is at present state senator from that district. Mr. McMullen was a member of the memorable session of 1907 in which was the most progressive legislature the state has had and when the railroad rate bill that removed the railroads from Nebraska politics was enacted as well as other progressive legislation framed.

WAR DEPARTMENT TO AID REAVIS IN WAR FRAUD CASES

Announces It Will Give Every Possible Assistance in Prosecution of Alleged Graft.

Washington, June 9.—The War department, it was announced today, is planning to give every possible assistance to the corps of assistants which Attorney General Daugherty has surrounded himself with in the prosecution of alleged war frauds.

The report of the army liquidation commission, which has never been published, will be placed at the disposal of the investigators together with all the evidence that has been collected. Much of this refers to settlements of claims in the quartermaster department, which will come within the province of former Congressman Reavis of Nebraska, and his assistants, Major H. E. O'Neill and F. B. Enfield.

The secretary of war announced today also that $30,000,000 worth of claims, which have already been liquidated, but which have a suspicion of criminality about them, have already been handed over to the Department of Justice.

Gen. Lord, who is the head of the finance division of the War department, is the man who is empowered to deal with Mr. Reavis in handling the war cases.

From Saturday's Daily. Mr. Lohnes was accompanied by his niece, Miss Florence Terryberry, who will enjoy the stay back with the relatives in the old home. Mr. Lohnes is anticipating a most delightful visit and one that will be greatly appreciated by both the brother and sister as they are the last of the family of eight children. This is the first visit in two years back to the old home for Mr. Lohnes.

Cyrus Livingston and August Graham, from the vicinity of Weeping Water, were here today for a few hours visiting with friends and attending to some matters of business.

THINK ROBBERS TRIED TO WRECK PASSENGER

Special M. O. P. Agents of Opinion Sending of Freight Before Foiled Plans at Nebr. City.

Nebraska City, June 9.—Missouri Pacific special agents working here on the derailment of the Missouri Pacific freight train early Thursday morning are satisfied that an attempt had been made to rob the south bound passenger train, and that the departure of the freight earlier than anticipated is all that saved the train for which the iron had been wedged in the switch.

It was learned yesterday that a large amount of currency was aboard the passenger train, and it is believed that the parties who attempted to wreck the train were aware of this fact.

The railroad detectives believe they will be able to apprehend the guilty parties. The attempted wreck was not reported to the sheriff's office and it was not until the arrival of the special agents here that it was generally known that an attempt had been made to wreck the train.

MUSICAL AT M. W. A. HALL PROVES A GREAT SUCCESS

Mrs. A. D. Caldwell, Edna M. Eaton and Christine Coughlin Give Recital by Their Pupils.

From Saturday's Daily.

One of the most delightful musical treats of the season was the recital given last evening at the M. W. A. hall by the pupils of Mrs. A. D. Caldwell, in violin work, Mrs. Edna Marshall Eaton in voice and Mrs. Christine Coughlin in piano. The recital was one that reflected the greatest credit on the young people taking part as well as the instructors who have so carefully trained the young people in their various musical studies.

The hall had been well and artistically arranged for the occasion with a profusion of the flowers of early summer and the relatives and friends of the participants filled the hall to overflowing and their delight at the cleverness of the performers was evinced by the continuing applause that the various young artists won by their playing.

The opening number was the "Largo," by Handel, played by the string ensemble composed of the pupils of Mrs. Caldwell and consisting of Grace Linder, Mrs. O. Sandin, 1st violins; Margaret Sitzman, Effia Patterson, Violet Begley, Marie Horn, George Caldwell, 2nd violins; Mrs. Frank Gobelman, viola; Mrs. Sherman Cole, cello; Helen Farley, double bass, and was given very artistically by the members of the string orchestra.

The program consisted of twenty-five numbers, well divided between the violin, voice and piano, and was one that afforded all of the participants a great opportunity to demonstrate their skill.

The piano pupils participating were Esther Shindelower, Aurelia Reichstadt, Wilma Pickard, George Rebal, Elizabeth Hatt, Jean Caldwell, Raymond Smith, Fern Jahrig, Wilma Decker and in their solo numbers the young people showed a very pleasing appreciation of the music and an exceptional clearness in their playing. Misses Dora Soennichsen and Fern Jahrig were heard in a pleasing duet, and Jean Caldwell, Wilma Pickard and Elizabeth Hatt in a trio that pleased the audience to the utmost.

Mrs. Christine Coughlin, the instructor of the young people, has certainly secured splendid results in the course of instruction and even the smallest members of the class showed the greatest skill.

The violin pupils of Mrs. Caldwell showed wonderful touch and artistic ability in their various numbers given, Ira Mumm, Mrs. O. Sandin, Richard Frederick, Bernese Fogarty, Mrs. F. R. Gobelman, Grace Linder, Willie Rockstein, Lyle Lawton, offering solo numbers that were delightful in the extreme and the ensemble of the string orchestra which closed the program was more than usually pleasing.

In the presentation of the voice pupils of Edna Marshall Eaton, the young people showed an ability well worthy of those of mature years and their voices showed the possibilities that the future holds for them. In this portion of the program little Dorothy Hirz, Violet Begley, Alice Schultz, Catherine Schneider, won the warm approval of the audience by their charming voices and the well selected numbers that they presented.

Friday evening at 7 o'clock at the rectory of the St. Luke's church occurred the marriage of Miss Adelia Sayles of this city and Dr. Philip T. Campbell of Omaha.

HOLD PRELIMINARY HEARING IN THE PARMELE CASE

State Opens Action in Attempt to Fix Charge of Illegal Borrowing on Bank President.

From Saturday's Daily. This morning the preliminary hearing of the charge that the State of Nebraska through the office of the attorney general, has preferred against Charles C. Parmele, former president of the Bank of Cass County, was taken up in the county court with Hon. William Deles Durnier of Elmwood, acting county judge, occupying the bench.

The charges embrace sixteen counts and include the claim of illegal borrowing as well as taking up the matter of overdrawn the accounts of the defendant at the bank. The state was represented by Jackson Chase, assistant attorney general, while Mr. Parmele was defended by C. A. Rawls of this city, and John Wright of Omaha, associate of former Justice J. J. Sullivan, and one of the leaders of the Omaha bar.

The first witness called in the case was R. F. Patterson, who was connected with the Bank of Cass County from 1900 to the close of the institution on December 13, 1921, and ranging from his work as clerk to the position of cashier, which he occupied at the time of the closing of the banking house.

They had an auto load of the records of the defunct bank present at the hearing and introduced in evidence the ledger accounts of Will Jean, personal, the firm of Jean & Co., and Charles C. Parmele, as the state has alleged that the borrowing was made through the firm of Jean & Co., of which it is claimed Mr. Parmele was a member. Mr. Patterson's testimony was devoted to the identification of the records and the various items which were charged to the accounts of Jean & Co., and Will Jean as well as Mr. Parmele and covered the entire morning and the noon recess found Mr. Patterson still on the stand under the cross examination of Mr. Wright.

The defense in their cross examination sought to show that the records of deposits were strictly those of money an dnot other property or security and also questioning the entries on certain of the records.

The state will also have Will Jean on the stand in the case to attempt to show how the funds were procured and their use.

The hearing will probably run over until Monday to complete the taking of the evidence.
