Enjoy Delightful Picnic Miss Iva Maugay and Miss Fannie McCarroll entertained their Sunday school classes at a picnic last Monday evening. The children were taken to the Fahrlander pond southeast of town and there spent a most happy evening in playing games such as boys and girls always enjoy. The climax of the evening was a delicious picnic lunch. Those present from Miss Maugay's class were, Helen Fahrlander, Dorothy Foster, Jola McQuin, Margaret Murray, Ruth Applegate. Those from Miss McCarroll's class were, Elmer Fahrlander, Donald McQuin, Melvin Todd, Cecil Nickels, Lowell McQuin, Dick Applegate, Justin and Bennie Anderson, John and Ray Ervin.

Horticulturists to Hold a Picnic The horticulturists of the eastern portion of the state will in the near future hold a picnic at the Morton park where they will meet for the discussion of subjects pertinent to their calling. There will come from the state farm a delegation of experts and will first make their stop at Union and make an extensive examination of the orchards of W. B. Morton, who will join the delegation and they will then go to the state experiment farm south of Union and from there to a couple of other farms below Wyoming and make examinations at each of these places after which they will go to Morton park at Nebraska City where they will hold a picnic and also discuss the result of the examinations made at each place. Just when this will be is not known as no date has been determined upon but it will be in the near future.

Will Hold Community Meeting The community spirit is gripping many of the citizens of Union and they are seeing it in the best way to work together and they are now planning a concert which they will give on July 11th and at which time they'll have a program and refreshments during the evening. The proceeds will go for public welfare and a good time is assured as well. This is a topic which could well be practiced by many communities to their betterment. The town which is destined to success must resort to team work to accomplish the ends for which they are striving.

Created a Good Time The Jazz Classique dance band of which Mr. Lemuel Barrett is a member, of Omaha were at Brown's park last Monday afternoon where they furnished a good time to all who cared to come. This is an Omaha institution and a very popular musical organization. Mr. Barrett who is attending medical college there is playing in this orchestra during the time which he is not in his school studies. Lemuel was down last Sunday and visited with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Barrett and went to Nebraska City on Monday to assist in the concert given at the Brown's park.

Entertained Children and Mothers Miss Jessie Todd who is the superintendent of the Cradle Roll department of the Methodist Sunday school entertained the members of that department and of course their mothers at a dinner given at her home last Friday. All present declared Miss Todd one of the best of entertainers.

A Jolly Fourth The Epworth League of the Methodist church held their Fourth of July picnic at the "Maugay Grove" last Tuesday evening. About thirty-five young people were present prepared to have a good time. A swing had been provided for those who enjoy that sort of pastime; and various games were played which gave the young people a fine appetite. About seven o'clock a delicious picnic lunch was spread consisting of fried chicken, salad, deviled eggs, olives, sandwiches, ice tea, coffee, ice cream and cake. After the last fragments of supper had disappeared, a large box of fireworks was brought on the scene and the real "Fourth of July" spirit was manifest for sometime.

Before leaving for home, the crowd all gathered together and listened to a short talk given by the pastor, Rev. Warren, and all sang songs which helped add to the other pleasant events of the evening.

About 9:30 the lights started for home with a regret that it would be a whole year until the Fourth of July again came, yet feeling content that it wouldn't be that long until they should enjoy another picnic together.

FOURTH OF JULY AT OLD KENOSHA

Residents of that Locality Have Fine Time in Neighboring Meeting in the McNatt Grove.

It was in the territorial days of Nebraska that the town site of Kenosha was laid out by the hardy pioneers that came across the Missouri river to found a home in the new and unknown lands of the roving Indian and all that marked the community as a town has long since past, the last landmark being the church that was destroyed on March 23, 1913, but despite this disappearance of the landmarks of a settlement the residents there have maintained the real community spirit and this was shown very clearly on Tuesday when the residents of that portion of the county gathered for a real Fourth of July celebration.

The scene of the festival was laid in the A. J. McNatt grove, a fitting place for such a delightful gathering. There were some forty-five present to enjoy the reunion, included in these were some of the oldest residents of the county who reside in that locality.

There was a ball game as well as horse shoe pitching contest among the members of the party and other games and races that aided in making the day one of the greatest of pleasure to everyone and the youngsters with their firecrackers and other noise producers aided in making it a real Fourth of July in every way.

Everyone had brought well filled baskets of the good things to eat and these made a feast fit for a king when the tables were spread beneath the pleasant and inviting shade of the trees.

It was with regret that the members of the party saw the day come to a close and on departing they wished for many more such pleasant meetings in the future.

Studebaker Bodies Don't Rattle or Squeak

The Special-Six chassis frames 7" deep. It tapers from a width of 29" in the front to 41" in the rear, so that the sides of the body fit perfectly without overhang. Five cross-members prevent the distortion that eventually causes bodies to squeak.

Studebaker bodies rest squarely on the chassis frame—not on the body sills. The body and the frame form a rigid unit that successfully resists the rack of the road.

Studebaker bodies are built in Studebaker shops by men, many of whom have been building vehicle bodies for Studebaker for upwards of 30 years—and their fathers before them. Studebaker has been building fine bodies for seventy years.

Studebaker Special-Six bodies, because of their quality and soundness, weigh more than those of other cars around the Special-Six price. You cannot skimp in material and build a body that will not rattle.

Freedom from rattle or squeak is just another of the fine-car refinements that emphasize the extra value of the Studebaker Special-Six.

STATE ENTERS JULY WITHOUT OVERDRAFT

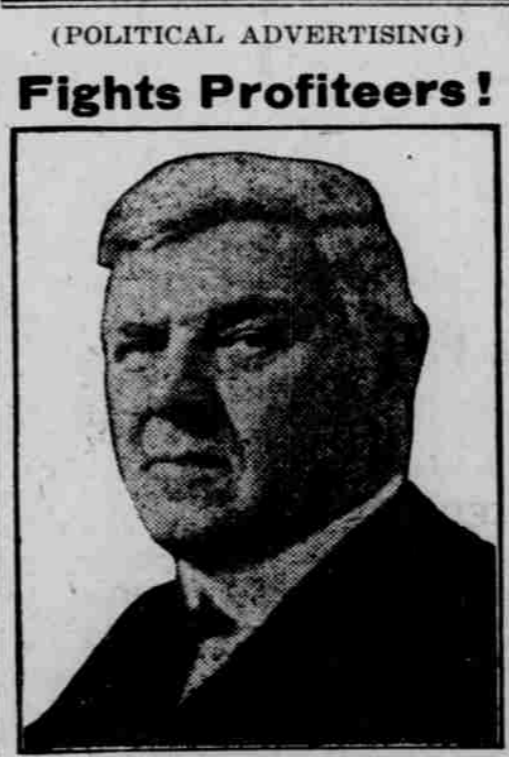

June Tax Collections are Largest Ever Known—Treasurer Wipes Out All Overdrafts.

State Treasurer D. B. Cropsey was able to look his constituents in the face Saturday and with patriotic fervor assert the coming Fourth of July will find the state treasury without an overdraft on its funds, the first time this situation has happened for several years.

His report for the month of June shows the largest collections from taxes of any month in the history of the state. The tax levy is also the largest ever known. The treasurer's report shows the wiping out of overdrafts amounting to more than $1,000,000. While Treasurer Cropsey is now rejoicing over the fact that there is $400,500 in the general fund and no overdrafts, he may be in the dumps a little later on in the year. Tax collections will be light from now until December but the state's bills will continue to pile up, and in addition nearly $600,000 of temporary

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS REPORTED AT CAPITAL

Washington, July 2.—Two earthquake shocks were registered on the seismograph of Georgetown university today, one this afternoon apparently being "local" and possibly in the United States at a distance of 700 or 800 miles from Washington.

The other was felt this morning, but was at a greater distance.

Halifax, N. S., July 2.—An earthquake shock, which, according to reports here, was distinctly felt in various sections of the maritime provinces was recorded on the seismograph at Dalhousie university this evening from 5:23 to 5:30, reaching its maximum at 5:24.

BARROWS FOR CONGRESS

Lieutenant Governor Pelham A. Barrows is in the race for the Republican nomination for congress in this district. He is popular with the people and has always been a vote getter. He was elected the first time he ran for lieutenant governor by a majority over his principal opponent of 22,864 which was increased the last election to 77,400. In that election he polled 10,530 more votes in this district than did his democratic opponent and 4,206 more votes than both his opponents combined.

One of the strong arguments in favor of the nomination and election of Mr. Barrows is the fact that if handicapped by being unknown. Probably no man has ever gone out of Nebraska for a good many years who has become so well known over the entire country as he. As Commander-in-Chief of his national organization, traveling from one coast to the other, speaking in most of the important cities of the United States, he was accorded enthusiastic receptions wherever he appeared and was greeted by many of the prominent men of the country. Naturally members of congress, and he is personally acquainted with many of them, will be interested in knowing the type of man the First Nebraska district is sending to take the place of Congressman Reavis, one of the very well known members of that body. Should Lieutenant Governor Barrows be elected, he will go to Washington with the prestige of being known and step into that body known either personally or by reputation by a large number of its members. This will mean a great deal for this district and with the experience which the Lieutenant Governor has had in public life, will be a valuable asset to Nebraska.—Nemaha County Republican.
