

Union Department

Prepared Exclusively for The Journal.

When in need of a new battery, see W. H. DuBois, 36-tfw. Mr. Lemuel Barritt of Omaha was a visitor at the home of his parents last Sunday.

Joy and Ray Garrens have been visiting at the home of a sister at Kansas City for several days past.

Orville McQuinn was a visitor in Plattsmouth last Sunday and while there had the Journal sent to his address.

L. W. Crawford who has been in the northern portion of the state for some months past returned home last Saturday.

Mrs. W. B. Banning was visiting with friends and also looking after some shopping at Nebraska City last Saturday.

Reuben Saxton and family were guests last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Saxton, southeast of Lincoln.

Joe Bauer is still at the Patrol house making excellent progress on the building which is to house the county's grading outfits.

Mrs. Hans Hanson who has been very ill at her home for some time past is reported as being some improved and is still on the mend.

Mrs. Geo. Hathaway east of Union, is reported as being somewhat improved from her long illness but is still confined to her home and bed.

Mr. J. E. McCarroll who has been taking treatment in Omaha for several weeks past is feeling much improved from the course which he has received.

Messrs. Wm. Rakes, Isaac Dye and Wayne Yonker shelled corn last week delivering the same to the elevators in Union. Mr. H. H. Becker did the work of shelling.

Ellis LaRue who is employed at a barber shop in Syracuse was a visitor in Union with the folks and also Weeping Water for the week end with a very dear friend.

Mrs. Mollie Garrens was looking after some business matters and also visiting with friends in Nebraska City last Saturday, making the trip via the green bus line.

Notice—Bids will be accepted on the Simon Gruber property in Union, Neb. Any one interested leave bids with Ray Frans, Administrator of Simon Gruber estate. J12-tfw

The Rev. W. A. Taylor was a visitor at Wabash last Sunday where he preached and conducted as well, the services for the late Wiley Colbert's funeral who was struck by lightning last week.

B. B. Everett and D. E. Eaton threshed last Saturday and each received about forty bushels to the acre from that they threshed. They were satisfied with the yield and would be better pleased if the price was some better.

The M. E. Ladies Aid society held a very interesting business and social meeting at the home of Miss Jessie Todd last week in the shape of an all day work meeting, the ladies were very busy and enjoyed the occasion very much.

For battery repairing go to W. H. DuBois, 36-tfw. A large number of soldier boys who have been stationed at Fort Riley for some time were stopping in Union awaiting for the drying of the roads in order that they could continue their way to Des Moines where they will be located in the future.

Herman Lessel, who was the first agent of the Missouri Pacific at Union, and which was a great many years ago and who is located at Herman, Mo., arrived here last week and has been visiting with old time friends stopping at the home of his friend, Harry M. Frans east of the city.

John Dukes who has been assisting in threshing with Harry McCarroll, was a visitor in Nebraska City last Monday taking advantage of the time when it was too wet to thresh. They threshed for Stephen Copenhaver whose wheat was of a good quality and tested over 61 pounds and went above 40 bushels to the acre.

Mr. M. A. Derrieg who has been suffering from an infection in one of his knees which was the result of an injury which he received while overseas in the service of the A. E. F. and who accompanied by the wife have been in Kansas City for some time taking treatment, stopped at the home of Mrs. Derrieg's father, Attorney C. L. Graves for a visit over Sunday and continued their trip to their home in Lincoln on the early morning train last Monday.

A seven passenger Cadillac, loaded to the gunwale went over the bank at the corner east of Union last Saturday morning with the result that both the car and the passengers were jimmied up to some extent. They were assisted out of their predicament and cared for by Messrs. E. E. Leach, Eugene and Sherman Austin. While they were going to Texas they have returned to their home in Omaha instead. A number of people have tried to negotiate that corner at a too rapid speed with very disastrous results.

See DuBois for Exide Batteries and Miller tires. 36-tfw

W. G. Kleck, candidate for nomination on the republican ticket for the position of county attorney, was in Union last Saturday hustling for votes for the primaries which are but a short distance away. In the three cornered fight which the republicans have for the office one has a poor chance to judge just where he is until the votes have been counted.

With two ex-service men, Mr. A. H. Duxbury, who is almost a native son, and Mr. Klock, who has been in Plattsmouth for a year, and the present incumbent, Mr. Cole, who has been in the office for some time, it is hard to tell where the lightning will strike.

Union Wins the Ball Game
Last Sunday there was a very pretty game of ball played at the park when Wabash came over to test the mettle of the Union team and found them on the job, with victory up their sleeves. The contest was a pretty one with not the largest crowd to watch the sport. The result was Union 9, Wabash 5. Come again, boys, and we will have another good game.

Drops Dead at the Table
When just having concluded the morning meal and while she was arranging a list of needed articles for the husband to purchase, Mrs. Joseph Brandt who was 46 years of age, suddenly dropped dead while she was talking. Mrs. Brandt had not been feeling the best but no apprehension was had as to her condition being serious, and it came as a great surprise when the call came. When she had fallen, Dr. E. S. Faray was summoned and while making all speed he found that life had been extinct some time before his arrival. Mr. and Mrs. Brandt and the four children have made their home on the old Young farm since early in the spring. The funeral was held at Nebraska City at the Catholic church of which Mrs. Brandt was a very devoted member. The husband and children have the sympathy of all the hosts of friends living here and elsewhere.

Would Conserve Coal
The Missouri Pacific railroad has taken a number of trains off its schedule, saying that it is to conserve coal which they have on hand and which is depleted very considerably on account of the coal strike. The trains on the main line to be taken off are the two fast trains, which are known as No's 107 and 108. They also took off the day passenger trains between Union and Lincoln and put a combination car on for the accommodation of the traveling public.

Celebrates His Birthday
The many friends of Mr. J. W. Simmons, the popular operator at the Missouri Pacific station, gathered at his home and celebrated the passing of his birthday, everyone having an excellent time.

Junior Girls and Boys
The two classes of the Baptist Sunday school known as the Junior Girls and Boys and taught by Misses Bessie LaRue and Marie Frans, had a picnic last Tuesday afternoon which was attended by all the members of the class and a number of their friends. They enjoyed the occasion very much and feel very thankful to their teachers for providing the happy occasion.

WARNING!
To the Ladies of Cass county: Mrs. George Lutz of Louisville, Nebraska, was almost murdered the other day by a stranger who entered her home when she was alone, and I advise you to be very careful in letting strangers into your home. A. G. COLE, County Attorney.

PUT TRAINS BACK
The Missouri Pacific trains No's 107 and 108 that were ordered discontinued last week have been continued in service by the order of the railroad management and the traveling public will appreciate this fact that they will not be put the inconvenience that the change might have made.

INCLUDES BRASS MOULDERS
The local offices of the striking shop crafts this afternoon received a message from Chicago where the general headquarters of the strikers is located, announcing that the brass moulders who are out on the strike will be considered as other striking crafts and their status will be that of the other men who are out on strike and giving official recognition of their part in the strike.

RETURNS FROM VACATION
Judge Allen J. Beeson and family who have been enjoying a visit for some two weeks at Minneapolis and the beautiful lakes surrounding that city, have returned home to this city and are feeling much refreshed by their outing. The judge says the country is one that is charming to the eye and very delightful in the summer time but the fishing did not hit the judicial fisherman just right as he had poor luck in this line of sport.

RAIL BOARD HEAD AND UNION CHIEFS IN SECRET SESSION
Settlement of Strike Looms as Conference Between Hooper and Shop Crafts Leaders.

Chicago, July 12.—2 a. m.—Settlement of the strike of 300,000 railway shopmen thruout the country seemed in prospect tonight following the personal intervention of President Harding and a series of secret conferences between Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the United States railroad labor board, and union leaders of the six striking shop crafts.

What part President Harding will play has not been disclosed. It is known, however, that the president was in telephonic communication here late last night with W. L. McMenimen, one of the three labor representatives on the railroad labor board.

From the secret peace conferences has come a rather definite conclusion as to what may be done to effect a settlement. While beyond issuing brief and rather noncommittal statements, Mr. Hooper and President Jewell declined to discuss prospects, reports indicated that the strike will be called off if four things are done:

1. If the carriers agree to wipe out the system under which some roads have let out work to contractors not within the jurisdiction of the labor board and therefore not bound by its decisions on wages and working conditions.

2. If some arrangement for modifying certain working rules which cut the overtime pay of shop men is made.

3. If President Jewell is given assurance that his organization will not be denied a rehearing by the labor board on the wage issue.

4. If the railroads agree to establish the boards of adjustment provided for in the transportation act, but which the carriers have steadfastly refused to consider.

LOOKING FOR THE PARTY ASSAILING MRS. GEORGE LUTZ

Authorities Think Possibly Man Escaping from State Reformatory Saturday May be the One

The search for the man who committed the assault and robbery at the home of Mrs. George Lutz in Louisville Monday afternoon is being continued over this portion of the state and from the circumstances of the case there is a strong belief that the perpetrator of the outrage may be the man who made his escape from the state reformatory on Saturday last.

This man, who is known as Charles Newharter, and was sent up, it is claimed for an offense of breaking and entering a home, made his escape from the state institution Saturday and has not been seen since.

The cases are somewhat similar and it is thought the man may have had time to work his way along as far as Louisville by Monday, and there is a strong probability that the connecting link between the two circumstances may be uncovered by the authorities.

Sheriff Quinton and County Attorney Cole are to get in touch with the authorities at the state reformatory and secure a portrait of the man to see if it can be identified by the injured woman as that of the man committing the act at Louisville.

It is stated that this same man, after making his escape from the reformatory, entered a home on the outskirts of Lincoln and attacked a lady there.

FORMER GOVERNOR

JOHN H. MOREHEAD

LETTER OF APPRECIATION FROM A SHUBERT VOTER

Published in Shubert Citizen, Shubert, Neb.—John H. Morehead is Commended.

John H. Morehead has lived in Richardson county for more than thirty-six years. He has filed as a candidate for the important position of representative in congress. Governor Morehead has served the people of this county and state at different times. In each instance he served well, and in addition has given his full time to the duties of the position which he was called upon to fill. He has always stood for the strictest economy in the management of public business. In 1913, when he assumed the important post of governor of Nebraska, he found that a deficit existed in several of the state institutions. Regardless of this fact the levy was not raised, and at the close of the first term the deficit was wiped out. During his second term as governor, he reduced the state levy more than $800,000, and at the close of his administration left the state free from debt.

These results were accomplished because we had a recognized business man as our chief executive, and the people of Nebraska almost without exception, credit Governor Morehead with having given the people of the state a sane and businesslike administration.

Therefore, with the admitted extravagance and excessive expenditure of our government, with the resulting high taxes which, if continued, will amount to the confiscation of our property, it is gratifying to see a man of Governor Morehead's ability, honesty and business experience become a candidate for congress. We furthermore believe that as an agricultural state we should send to the national law-making body, more practical business men. The record shows that the lower house of congress consists of more than four hundred members, three-fourths of whom are professional men, or lawyers, and in this kind of body a few men like Governor Morehead, who has had practical experience as a farmer, stock raiser, merchant and banker would undoubtedly be a great benefit to the people. In our opinion this is no time for narrow partisanship or petty rivalry as to the success of political parties, for these are critical times, and we should send men to congress who are practical business men, who are interested in agriculture, and who know the burdens which are being placed upon the taxpayers of the nation. Grave problems are confronting us as a people and, regardless of politics, we must draft the strongest and most experienced men that are available.

FUNERAL HELD SUNDAY

Wylie James Colbert was born in Winside, Neb., June 16, 1899, and passed away July 6, 1922, age, 23 years, 20 days. His parents moved to Cass county when he was a few years old where he was in school, taking one year in the Weeping Water Academy. He united with the Congregational church of Weeping Water when he was 14 years old. His parents moved to Wauneta, Nebraska, where he finished high school.

He enlisted in the U. S. army when 18 years of age and was in the service 18 months in the 33rd balloon company.

On May 30, 1920, he was united in marriage to Grace Marie Perkins of Bethany, Neb. One babe, Evelyn, came to bless this union.

He united with the Methodist church of Wauneta, Neb., and the last year was an active worker.

Last January they moved to Bethany. At the time of his death, which was caused by lightning, he was with the Searle-Chaplin Lumber Co. He leaves a wife, daughter, father, mother, one brother, one sister, many other relatives and a host of friends to mourn his loss.

The funeral services were held Sunday at 11:00 a. m. at the Wabash Baptist church, the Rev. W. A. Taylor officiating. Interment was had at the Wabash cemetery.

If Senator Charles A. Randall is nominated and elected Railway Commissioner everybody will get a square deal. J13-tfw.

SURPRISED ON BIRTHDAY

Yesterday was the 68th birthday anniversary of Mrs. F. S. White, one of the old residents of the city, and on the occasion she was given a most delightful surprise by some eighteen of the old friends and neighbors who have known her in the many years of her residence here. The guest of honor had no intimation of the pleasant occasion until the guests commenced arriving shortly after 2 o'clock and the greeting of the friends was one long to be pleasantly remembered. One of the pleasurable features of the event was the presentation of a very handsome birthday cake which had been prepared by Mrs. T. P. Livingston, to the worthy lady who was observing her anniversary, and the cake with its glowing candles made a most impressive sight. Light refreshments were served during the course of the afternoon that was spent in social conversation and visiting.

LINCOLN TAKING ANNESS IN Running Stronger Everywhere as the Primary Draws Nearer.

The Lincoln Daily Star has a staff of fine special writers that will rank with any daily paper in the west. Here is what the big special writer, Rambler Jones, thinks of Wilber Anness, to-wit:

"The friends of Wilber W. Anness, popular druggist and former newspaper man at Dunbar, and former business man of Elmwood, aspirant for the congressional nomination are loud in their claims for his right to the place."

"They say that he has always been a citizen of whom they could be proud; that he is a man of sound judgment, of clean life, capable and efficient, always active in anything launched for the community's good, and that he would honor his home town and his home district if he could be sent to congress.

"The Rambler has yet to hear a word unfavorable to the candidacy among those who know him best, regardless of the political complexion of the speaker. Then they feel that he is entitled to consideration because he ran so well in the 1914 contest, but after he was defeated, he proved to be a good loser and gave his successful opponent the most loyal support.

"His friends also point to his experience in the legislature and say that he is of legislative breadth and depth and a fine public speaker; that his record will bear the closest inspection. Although he has been absent from Elmwood for some years, yet they tell the Rambler there that he will sweep Cass county, for he has a host of friends there."
