KEEP YOURSELF UNSPOTTED

Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this. To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world.—James 1, 27.

Those who don't vote tomorrow may regret it.

A tax on intelligence wouldn't hit some folks hard.

Every man has at least one problem he can't solve.

A great deal of annoyance can be scattered around by pep.

The same big fish are getting away that got away last year.

Some crabs live in salt water, but the other kind live in hot water.

One way to get back to health is to take more rest and less advice.

Last call, ladies and gentlemen. Vote early, vote late and vote often.

No one can predict even the successful candidates in Cass county.

These people who are always blowing about themselves are spoiling a lot of good will.

Apathy seems to prevail to some extent, not only in Cass county, but throughout the state.

Some people are predicting a light vote tomorrow, and fail to give any good reason therefore.

Our army may be put to 125,000 but as long as strangers walk across lawns we will have fighters.

When it comes to bowing to the inevitable a man should, at least be a good sport and do the thing gracefully.

Senator Underwood lays the short skirts to the high prices of dress materials. There's some good in everything.

You are to select candidates tomorrow for the general election. Therefore, it is very important that you turn out and vote.

The wonder is, how Europe got along in the old days when she could bump her head without howling for America to kiss it.

Probably there are very few lovers nowadays who make use of the postage stamp language, but from the different designs that appear on the same countenances from day to day, we suspect they have perfected a lipstick language that serves quite as well.

Dry cleaning makes fits, suits, spic and span according to Dainty Dorothy

"It don't take a man long to bag his pants at the knees, and to make a finely tailored suit look thoroughly disreputable—that's the man of it," avers Dainty Dorothy.

But she goes on to explain that the man who is making use of our cleaning, steaming and pressing services is keeping his clothes in much more presentable condition than when he got acquainted with us. And it doesn't cost much, either.

Little drops of grape juice, Yeast till it ferments, Makes the Volstead dictum Look like thirty cents.

If a man comes up and shakes hands with me real friendly these days, don't know what he's running for but he's running.

An optimist is a man who buys a pocketbook on credit, but the optimistic honors belong to the man who sells him the pocketbook.

The determination of the government to investigate the dye trust seems to indicate there may be something about it that is off color.

"Not all the girls who have bobbed hair have bobbed brains," the Atchison Globe says, "but all girls with bobbed brains have bobbed hair."

The women seem to be taking more interest in the primary than the men folks, and they will turn out pretty well in the cities and towns.

We don't care how short the women wear their skirts, but we could lick the fellow who decreed that a man should not eat in his shirt sleeves.

People often tell us they read the paper to keep posted on current events. So, very well. Now, all together! Who won the war in China, and why?

Everyone entitled to vote should make it a point to go to the polls tomorrow and vote, and take your neighbor with you. It is really your duty to do so.

Sometimes we are apt to underestimate the crushing weight of Europe's troubles. Here is Albania, for example, tottering on the brink of despair because it can't find a king to come and occupy its throne.

It is strange how apt we are to take note of unimportant things. Here we are giving some attention to the railroad strike when the Dempsey-Wills so-called prize fight has not yet been definitely settled.

Maybe one thing that makes it easier for Mr. Lloyd George is that when the Irish question gets to be unbearable he can turn to the German question and when that gets unbearable he can turn to the Irish question.

Is it any wonder there is a demand for legislation against the grain exchanges when farmers who produce the grain are compelled to watch the sort of thing that goes on year after year in the grain markets, absolutely powerless to do anything about it?

One correspondent says that if the human race continues dodging motor cars for a few generations longer, children will be born with their eyes on each side of their heads, like chickens. It's a terrible alternative for if we don't continue to dodge, there won't be any future generation.

ADVERTISING

Of itself, advertising is little. And the differences in it are the differences which exist in men.

Just as soon as men are strong and verile and interesting, so is some advertisement. And just as some men are ineffectual and weak and boring, so is some other advertising.

"Does it pay to advertise?" It pays those men who are keen enough students of the public to make it pay them. It pays those men who are truthful, sincere, interesting and believable.

It pays the men whose product deserves the payment, whose brains are keen enough to organize for success and judge enough of the human mind to know how to tell their story with sincerity and interest.

So when you judge advertising, judge it by how it is used and by whom—not of itself and of itself alone.

Remember, an ugly man looks just as ugly in a mirror.

Nehawka Department!

Prepared in the interests of the People of Nehawka and Surrounding Vicinity Especially for the Journal Readers.

John Murdock and Ira Queen were among those threshing last week. Robert Trosop was a visitor in Omaha last Monday with a load of porkers for the market here.

Postmaster Grover Hoback and wife were visiting with friends in and near Murray last Sunday.

Charles Hall was assisting in the shocking of the barley crop at the farm R. R. Stone last Monday.

James Blake was with the family visiting at the home of relatives and friends at Syracuse last Sunday.

V. P. Sheldon was a visitor and was looking after some business matters near Avoca one day last week.

Henry Russell and family were visiting and looking over the storm district north of Nehawka last Sunday.

The Nehawka Mills were selling a load of mill stuff to the merchants of Wyoming and Weeping Water last week.

A. M. Beverage of near Mynard was a visitor in Nehawka last Monday looking after some business matters here.

Mrs. Joshua Sutphin was visiting with friends and looking after some business matters at Nebraska City on last Monday.

Nelson Berger and two sisters were visiting at Nebraska City last Monday for a short time, making the trip in his auto.

Mrs. M. Champlain of South Dakota and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Beck were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Troop last Sunday.

Fred and Edward Shumaker were threshing and delivering their wheat crop at the Farmers Elevator last Monday, they having an excellent quality.

All the threshing machines in and near Nehawka are in operation at this time and much wheat is being threshed and shipped from the elevators here.

John Frans was a visitor in Omaha last Saturday taking with him a truck load of apples to the markets of that place from the Pollard orchards near here.

The Missouri Pacific railroad company is making some substantial improvement in their station here by placing a new roof of asbestos shingles on the building.

A. C. Anderson is in the west looking after the interests of the Sheldon Manufacturing company and selling a number of the machines, the output of the factory here.

Mr. R. W. Kellogg, of Syracuse, was a visitor in Nehawka for the week end, spending the time as a guest at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kirkpatrick.

C. D. Quinton, sheriff, and A. G. Cole, county attorney, and also candidates for re-election, were visiting in Nehawka looking after their political fences one day last week.

Lester Wunderlich, of Villicia, Iowa, was visiting with the folks last week and also looking after some business here as well. Lester is doing nicely with his battery business in the Iowa town.

Mrs. Isabel Thomas, of Palmyra, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Sweet, Jr., of that place, were visiting here the day last Sunday at the home of H. L. Thomas, of Nehawka, driving over in their auto.

Charles Adams and family, accompanied by his father, Mr. D. D. Adams, were visiting the portion of the county that was devastated by the livestock industry last week, making the trip in their auto last Sunday.

Miss Belle Goust, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Gust Hanson and their daughter, Miss Edith and her aunt, Miss Helen Gansmer, of Plattsmouth, were spending the week end at Palmyra, making the trip in the auto of Mr. Hanson and had a most enjoyable time.

Chalmers Switzer last week installed a new electric pumping machine at the home of J. C. Rath near Manley, which is an added convenience and will prove a necessity after a short time use. The windmill which has been in service for some time, was destroyed by the storm of last week.

During the week Henry Feltes, the decorator, and his assistant, Mr. E. Woods, completed the decoration of the building of Mr. W. A. Norris which is being used by E. R. Kendall. The property now presents a very nice appearance and is nicely appointed for the purpose for which it is to be used.

Prof. L. W. Burby and family, who have been visiting in the east for some weeks past at the home of his parents and seeing the old places and enjoying the visit with relatives and friends for the time, returned to Nehawka last Monday evening, and is now ready to look after the business of the school, of which he is the superintendent, being better equipped for the work by reason of his visit and the studies which he has taken.

The Farmers' Elevator company has installed a radio receiving set at the elevator for the purpose of securing the markets, and are equipped for keeping in touch with the changing prices as they arrive, about every hour during the day. It affords a popular place for those interested in the grain market now to assemble to get the changes in prices. Also there is available through the medium of radio numerous concerts and news which are broadcasted in connection with the market service from time to time, particularly in the evening.

Knows How to Raise Wheat
Mr. Amos Sheldon of near Avoca, who has been a farmer for a long time and has always taken some degree of satisfaction in the production of the best wheat, was visited by his nephew, Mr. Vilas P. Sheldon, and while there was shown a field from which Mr. Sheldon just had threshed 935 bushels of excellent wheat, and which contained only 20 acres. This make a yield of 46 bushels and 3 pecks to the acre and is counted an excellent yield.

Had an Excellent Game
Last Sunday numbered just one dozen games which the Nehawka team has played during the season, they having lost three of them and won last Sunday the ninth, making their percentage 750.

The game which they played with the Ramblers of Omaha, and who by the way have the same record, was a very pretty one, and was won by the home boys by a score of three to one. This team defeated the Cedar Creek team a few weeks ago and the Cedar Creek team is considered one of the fastest teams in Cass county.

The boys of Nehawka feel justly proud of their victory of last Sunday.

EVERY FARMER WORTH $6,826

Stuhr's Bulletin Shows Nebraska is Second in Per Capita Farm Wealth of the Nation.

Despite low prices for farm products and unfavorable financial conditions affecting agriculture during the past two years, the farmers of Nebraska are not by any means a poverty-stricken class if federal census figures on agricultural wealth of this and other states furnish a reliable criterion.

A bulletin recently prepared by State Agriculture Secretary Stuhr, based on these statistics, places Nebraska second in per capita wealth of its farm population, with Iowa in first place. An average of $6,826 in value of property owned is credited to every man, woman and child living on farms in this state. The average value of Nebraska farms, including live stock and equipment is placed at $33,771.

Cereals, vegetables and fruits produced on the fertile soil of Nebraska amount in value to $519,729,000 per year, while livestock and its products including poultry, butter and eggs, are lumped at $387,869,000 a year.

Leads in Hay Production
In its production of wild hay and alfalfa, Nebraska outranks all other states. Newport, Rock county, is said to be the largest shipping station of wild hay in the world, loading out about 2,600 cars annually. The annual value of the wild hay crop is about $29,500,000.

For forty years, alfalfa has been popular in the state, the first fields being sown in the early eighties. The average annual production of this crop is 2,926,825 tons, valued at $44,411,000.

In acreage and production of corn Nebraska ranks third. The total annual value of the corn crop, based on the 1817-21 averages, is $156,856,000. To this very important crop, the livestock industry is largely indebted. Due to the abundance of this feed about 300,000 steers, 200,000 sheep and 3,500,000 hogs are raised and fattened annually.

Other important crops are wheat, valued at $90,688,700 in which the state ranks fifth in production and sugar beets in which it ranks second.
