planting of his corn last Thursday following the destruction of the crop by the hail storm.

Mr. J. E. McHugh was called to Omaha last Thursday to look after some business matters for the Murdock Mercantile company.

Fred Zink has just completed the threshing of some forty acres of wheat, the best of which went as high as 30 bushels per acre.

E. L. Postath and wife have been spending a portion of last week in Murdock, while Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Postath were away visiting.

Do not forget that on Saturday evening, July 22nd, the Girl Scouts play will be given, commencing at 8:15 in the evening promptly.

I. C. McCrory threshed last week an 80 acre piece which he had in wheat this year and which went in the neighborhood of 25 bushels per acre.

Miss Anna Lau has been assisting at the switchboard at the telephone exchange and is proving a very capable operator considering the experience.

Homer H. Lawton was a visitor in Lincoln last Wednesday, where he went to secure some repairs for his auto which he had the misfortune to injure.

Messrs. Aug Panska and L. Neitzel were visitors last Sunday at Havelock and while there were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Hitchcock.

Mrs. Ray Veach and son Robert Raymond Veach of Lincoln have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Schmidt and other friends in Murdock.

The best yield of wheat for this summer and in this neighborhood is on what is known as the "Old Skyles Place" and was for a yield of some 59 bushels per acre.

Fred A. Stock who threshed last week had the good fortune to receive some forty-five bushels per acre from his crop of wheat and which was of a very excellent quality.

The Murdock home talent play will be given at the M. W. A. hall on Saturday evening, July 29th. Be sure and remember the date, for it will be well worth while.

Mr. H. H. Lawton was busy last Thursday overhauling his auto which by a misadventure was injured a few days since. Mr. Lawton is putting the machine in proper repair.

Richard and Kenneth Tool were visitors in Plattsmouth last Wednesday where they went to take the election returns, for Elmwood precinct for the primary which was held last Tuesday.

If you want to see some pep, if you want to enjoy a good laugh, if you want to be cheered up, come to the home talent play to be given at the M. W. A. hall at Murdock in the near future.

Mr. Jess Landholm departed a few days since for North Platte, where he went to deliver a car which he has sold. The family also visited for a time in Omaha, arriving on last Wednesday evening.

Uncle A. A. Rikli who has been ill at his home for the past three weeks is now so far improved that he is able to be about again and was down town last Thursday, and says he is feeling much better.

Mrs. H. A. Guthman and family were in Plattsmouth last Tuesday and on Friday also departed for Ainsworth where they have relatives and will spend some time there visiting.

Blacksmith J. H. Buck was a visitor in Ashland a short time since to secure a supply of coal for use in his shop which he now has equipped in so excellent a manner as you see in a town not larger than Murdock.

Mr. Fitch, the well known of Elmwood, completed last week for wells for the citizens of Murdock, they being one for W. O. Gillespie, one for Harry Gillespie, one for Charles Schaefer and one for W. T. Weddell.

Misses Ruth and Irene Norton were guests at the home of their relatives in Lincoln last week for a short time visiting while there at the homes of Messrs. T. B. Andrus and Dr. F. M. Andrus and their families.

Carl Schneider departed a few days since for Dunning where he goes to look after the cattle on the Gakemeier and Rau ranch while Messrs. Charles Rau and John Gakemeier are putting up their winter's supply of hay.

A letter from Mr. Arnold Rikli who is making his home in Oklahoma, writes that a very destructive cyclone visited the portion of the country where he lives and that all there suffered very severe losses from the storm.

Dr. S. B. McDermid and wife of Omaha, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Neitzel during down last Friday afternoon and staying for supper with the parents of Mrs. McDermid, and returning home in the later evening.

Rex Young who recently ran for the nomination for sheriff on the republican ticket, was a visitor for a short time in Murdock last Thursday while on his way to the West, where he went to look after the harvesting of his wheat.

Max Dusterhoff, with his force of men are kept busy all the time and with much work yet to do in sight. The excellence of the character of the work of Mr. Dusterhoff requires is a factor in the abundance of the work which he is having.

County Commissioner Fred Gorder who is having some grading done on the precinct line road two miles north of Murdock and which was badly in need of the work, was in Murdock last Thursday evening and visited with his many friends here.

George Norton who has been spending his vacation from his work with the Western Union telegraph company at Omaha, in Murdock, returned a few days since to his work in the metropolis, after having enjoyed a most pleasant time with his relatives here.

Max Dusterhoff, proprietor of the Dusterhoff shops, assisted by Mrs. John Amgwert, are working at the home of Mr. George Vanderberg, having just completed the decoration of a number of rooms at Mr. George Miller's home. They will also paint the exterior of the home of Mrs. Vanderberg.

The young men who have been for some time kept busy rebuilding the telephone line under the superintendency of Lacey McDonald, who is a practical telephone man, concluded their work last Tuesday, and have the line in excellent condition at this time. Those assisting in the work were Wm. Meyers, L. B. Goer-thy and J. W. Kruger, Mr. Lacey McDonald having the work in hand.

Miss Isabel O'Halleran, who has been visiting in Murdock the guest of her friend, Miss Margaret Amgwert, for the past week or more, departed last Thursday for her home at St. Libory and was accompanied as far as Lincoln by Miss Margaret who visited with friends there from Thursday evening until Friday noon. Miss O'Halleran who has many very warm friends at Murdock enjoyed her stay here very much.

Mr. H. R. Schmidt who is very industrious, has been during the slow time overhauling his automobile and putting it in excellent shape for work and will have it in just the right shape when the fall campaign warms up. Mr. Schmidt and Mr. Gorder the candidates for county commissioner of this district, are both well satisfied with the vote which they received and which reflected almost the entire number of voters at the primary for their respective parties.

H. R. Schmidt and family drove to Ithaca last Sunday to visit at the home of Herman Kraft and found that gentleman not feeling the best, he having been in poor health for some time. They visited for the day and returned home in the evening. Miss Leah Schmidt, who accompanied her parents, remained in Ithaca and will look after the store of Mr. Kraft for the present. Miss Schmidt has had extensive experience in the mercantile line and can well look after the business there.

A Very Busy Man

For some time past during the absence of Mr. Wm. Stackenzie, who is visiting in the West, Mr. E. W. Thimman has been kept very busy with the work which has come to his place of business and has had to work almost day and night to do the work of his customers.

Will Be a Good Commissioner
With the nomination of two excellent men for the position of county commissioner in the third district it looks like there would be a good man elected which ever one is chosen. Mr. Gorder has made an excellent officer and Mr. Schmidt's friends are certain he will also make a good man for the place.

Begins Building New Home
W. T. Weddell has commenced the building of his new home and has during the past week been having the foundation and all the necessary work done for a cave and cellar for the house and will as fast as can be had the work of the house pushed forward in order that the home may be completed before the winter begins.

We Like His Spirit
Mr. Conrad Baumgartner, who suffered loss of 45 acres of corn by the storm, was very busy with his knowledge himself whipped but immediately put in the whole of the piece and 20 acres additional which has been in wheat stubble, this making instead of the 45 acres which he lost, 65 acres now. Mr. Baumgartner says he will raise a crop and he believes he will do well. We like the spirit which will not acknowledge defeat but will turn defeat into victory. The corn planted is now up and almost ready for the first plowing.

Entertained Their Friend
At the home of Miss Margaret Amgwert last Wednesday evening a large number of the friends of this young lady and Miss Isabel O'Halleran gave a small reception to Miss O'Halleran at which there were many in attendance. The entertainment of the evening consisted of a program which was musical in its nature and games enlivened at the close of the evening by a most delightful luncheon.

The Boys Are Now Here
Mr. Becker, who tipped the beam at eight pounds arrived at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Reinke last Tuesday causing a considerable joy at the home by his merry smiles and promises for the future. He was received with wide open arms by the fond parents, while there was also much joy in the homes of all the grandparents. The other young man was weighed into this world at 12 1/2 pounds and is the son of the happy couple, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vogler. The parents and young son are all doing well and joy reigns supreme in the Vogler household.

They Both Stopped
While Edna Buckirk was driving in one direction and Miss Esther Rau in another their cars seemingly having an affinity for each other, collided near the home of Emil Rikli with the result that the occupants of the same were pretty badly shaken up and the autos badly damaged. Fortunately it was the occupants were able to escape personal injury. The cars can be mended but had it resulted in severe injury to the drivers the repairs would have been more difficult.

The New Barber Here
Eddie Craig of Liberty where he has been making his home for some time, arrived in Murdock and is operating the barber shop with the expectation of purchasing the same should it prove as he expects. He arrived one day last week and is finding things pretty nice here, with business very good. Mr. Craig will move his family to Murdock as soon as he is able to secure a place in which to live.

Received Severe Injury
Recently while threshing was being done at his home, Paul Schewe, who noticed that by a defect in the measuring apparatus on the threshing machine a small portion of grain was thrown over on the ground at each weighing, endeavored to repair the same while the machinery was in operation and at the first attempt he succeeded in getting the machinery nearly perfect and being encouraged by this attempted to alter it again, so it would not waste the grain and this time as he was working the measuring mechanism dumped catching his hand and badly lacerating and crushing it. The member was so badly injured that it was feared for some time that he would suffer its loss, but with careful treatment it is now hoped that he will be able to save the member.

WITNESSED FARM DISAPPEAR IN THE MISSOURI RIVER

In a Very Short Time Entire Acreage is Swallowed Up Together With Growing Crops.

Last week Jim Cory and Wyatt Lambeth, with a desire for fresh fish and a good time, went over into Iowa on a little fishing excursion. While there they were the guests of Wm. Jean of Unadilla, who was spending his vacation at the farm of John Beck, his father living seven miles south of Hamburg, Iowa.

Will want to own a little farm there himself and at one time was offered $125 an acre for it. He did not sell and now he has no farm that he can see for the Missouri has swallowed up all that he owned.

Thursday night when the storm swept down the valley, Mr. Cory and Mr. Lambeth were safely sitting near the river watching the storm approach. After it had passed someone went out to the well for a pail of water and announced that the barn doors were down the river, chickens and all. Friday morning the river was twelve feet from the house and still, like Oliver Twist, asking for more.

Help was summoned from Hamburg and an effort was being made to save the house and Mr. Dean's effects from the hungry waters when Mr. Cory and Mr. Lambeth left for home, preferring to be where they knew the ground under their feet was safe.

Mr. Dean, Sr. originally owned over 200 acres of good Iowa land and now all that remains is a narrow strip along the river with no chance that this will remain over 24 hours.

Mr. Cory went to Hamburg, Iowa, Tuesday morning for his car which was left there last week while on their fishing trip, because of the storm. While there he learned that the Dean home which was threatened by the river when he left Friday morning was saved by the aid of the neighbors and trucks from Hamburg and by afternoon the foundation was in the river and since that time the remainder of the farm was gone and the river was across the road into a neighbor's cornfield, and was taking toll from it rapidly. —Syracuse Journal.

RESULTS OF VOTE FOR CONGRESSMEN

Vacancies to be Filled in First and Sixth Districts in Addition to Regular 2-Year Terms

Charles W. Beal, of Broken Bow, was nominated Tuesday for the regular term, democratic candidate for congress in the Sixth congressional district, as well as the party's candidate to make the race in November to fill a vacancy recently created by the death of Representative Moses P. Kinkaid.

His republican opponent for the regular term of office will be Robert C. Simmons of Scottsbluff, returns indicated, the latter having lead some other candidates for the nomination. Mr. Beal's republican opponent for the short term, however, could not be definitely announced because returns were too scattered to permit of accurate statements.

For the short term in the First congressional district, a close contest has developed between P. A. Barrows of Lincoln, present lieutenant governor, and R. H. Thorpe, also of Lincoln, republicans. In the Fourth district, where Clifford P. Fall of Beatrice was leading in the democratic race, Mrs. Irene C. Buell, one of the contestants was apparently defeated. She was the only woman in the state congressional races with the exception of Mrs. E. Lucia Barton, of Lincoln, nominated as a prohibition candidate in the First district, without opposition.

OBITUARY

S. Matthews was born in Pennsylvania on September 14, 1848, and died in a Lincoln hospital on July 13, 1922, being 74 years old.

He came to Nebraska and located in 1881. He was married twice, his first wife being a Miss Mary Towle, a cousin of George and Earl Towle. Mrs. Matthews did not live but a few years, and later he married Miss Jennie Waddell, of Millsboro, Pa., who died a few months ago.

Mr. Matthews was a quiet man, well read, and had a great many friends who will miss him from his accustomed places. He was a carpenter and a fine workman, honest and conscientious and the community has lost a man worth while.

The funeral was held at Hebron's undertaking parlors on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. W. H. Riley, pastor of the Congregational church, conducting the services. Mrs. Riley sang a hymn.

The body was laid beside his wife in Oakwood cemetery to await the final resurrection.—Weeping Water Republican.

THE STERLING STANDARD

A New York court has recently decided that no article of silver can legally be marked "sterling" unless at least 92 1/2 parts in 1,000 are pure silver. This is said to have caused some trouble to dealers in silverware as the word sterling has more or less been freely used in a more general way, with no asserted claim to an exact technical significance, but merely intended to suggest a high degree of excellence as when we speak of a man of sterling character.

It will be no injustice to the jewelers, however, to insist upon an article of silver offered for sale, few purchasers, if any, can make a fair estimate of the quality of silver by the eye, and it is not good policy to allow the use in a loose sense of the term which has an exact technical meaning. The present movement towards honesty in advertising is against such a practice.

For the past ten years Canada has had a very strict law on the subject known as "the gold and silver marking act." It was passed at the request of the jewelry trade, and is claimed to give the Canadian purchaser the best protection found in any country in the world. Silver may not be marked "sterling" unless it is .925 fine, and no article of gold can use the term "karat," or any abbreviation of it, unless it is of "9-karat," or any abbreviation of it, unless it is of 9-karat fineness. If a gold or silver article bears a quality mark of any kind, it must also bear the registered trademark of the manufacturer, as a means of identification. People who pay for high standard have the right to know that they are getting it.

FOOLISH SHOES

High heels are coming back on women's shoes. Advance samples are shown at the National Shoe Style Show in Boston. Fortunately for women's health, the extreme French heel is not returning. The new heels will be Louis style about twice as high as the present vogue.

They are called Louis heels after the vain French king who invented them to make his short body taller.

The correct shoe would have no heel. If nature intended us to wear stilts back of our ankles, she'd have grown them on our feet. Foot trouble started when horsemen invented heels to keep their boots from slipping in the stirrup. The higher they are, the more foolish and health-destroying.

Although JOURNAL want-ads cost but little the results they bring are wonderful. Try them.
