HIGHER THAN THE HIGHEST

If thou seest the oppression of the poor, and violent perverting of judgment and justice in a province, marvel not at the matter; for he that is higher than the highest regardeth; and there be higher than they.—Ecclesiastes v. 8.

The eyes of the world are on Muscle Shoals.

A stitch in time shows that the man is married.

No matter what happens, somebody knew it would.

Blessed is the man whose forethought comes before.

The Shah of Persia is spending a million in arts. Aw, shah!

Canada possesses nearly half the water power of the world.

There are five women house surgeons in England hospitals.

Some newspaper men are like Ford's. Everybody drives them.

Babe Ruth seems to think he has a steady job as home run king.

Funny things happen. Somebody beat up a lion tamer in Boston.

The world gets better. Dempsey has called for a vaudeville tour.

In this funny world, nearly all kinds of hogs are worth money.

Times may be hard but no more so in Plattsmouth than elsewhere.

The main objection to radio, is that it gives no chance to talk back.

Getting into a rut may not be necessarily fatal. It may be a good rut.

A normal adult should be able to hold his breath from 40 to 50 seconds.

Keep a stiff upper lip and forge ahead and we are bound to come out on top.

The 1922 baby cost nearly four times as much as his pre-war brother or sister.

We are now ready to hear from the little girl who expects to be president some day.

Speaking of self-consciousness, there is the man who carries home a bottle of vinegar from the corner grocery.

TO THE VOTERS

To my good friends in Cass county, who during the primary campaign gave me their loyal support in my race for the republican nomination for congress, I wish to express my thanks that comes from the heart. While not the victor in the battle I feel deeply the warm feeling of those who did their part in endeavoring to bring success to me and also to all of the good people of the First congressional district. I desire to express my well wishes for their success. It is worth the efforts to learn the real friends that a man has and I am certainly appreciative of mine.

To the victors in the contest I wish success and again to my friends I extend my thanks.

If you object to tobacco you surely can't find fault with some of the cigars these days.

You can't always judge folks by the dogs they keep because maybe the dogs can't help it.

And then, there is the applicant for a position who thinks he ought to be hired because he needs the money.

These are indeed perilous times. A husband no sooner pays for his wife's switch then he discovers she has bobbed it.

Senator Hitchcock is more popular today than ever. And that is because he has proved true to his constituents.

Politics will remain quiet a while now, and will simmer along until about the first of October, then look out for the squalls.

Republicans, democrats and progressives should all interest themselves in the matter of placing honest officials on guard.

Comparatively few of the young people are playing the mandolin nowadays. Yet we are being assured the world is growing worse.

The man who is wearing last season's straw hat, is now at ease, as it is practically impossible to tell the new vintage from that of last year now.

A Chicago packer has shipped 3,000 cases of soap to Russia. It had not been generally understood that Russia had been reduced to the point of eating soap.

The daughter of Harold McCormick, the harvester king, is opening a millinery shop in Chicago. We don't know whether the family fortune was in danger before but it is now.

The taxpayers should read up on the candidates between now and election and vote for those who are pledged to the reduction of taxes by "firing every wall flower on the job."

If things keep on going the way they have been in the past 3 years Nebraska will be a bankrupt state. Vote for men who are pledged to reduce taxation. That's the only way to get it.

The British air ministry is building a plane designed to cross the Atlantic in one day. Travelers who go in for speed like that never will really be satisfied until they can arrange to be delivered by pneumatic.

"A Hollywood woman is accused of killing another woman with a hammer," says the Atchison Globe, and no doubt everybody within a radius of forty miles of Los Angeles is crying. This is unusual, this is unusual.

The department of justice has completed a "program of legal action" to protect the public's interests in the coal strike. It sounds formidable although there is some doubt whether it really means that the lawyers are going to dig any coal.

One report says Lenine has been murdered, while another insists his health is improving. Perhaps both rumors are true. A man who has been hanged, shot, bombed and poisoned as many times as Lenine, might easily feel better after a mere murder.

Thirty were lynched in America in the last six months. Autos killed 12,500 Americans and injured 300,000 in 1921, says Albert W. Whitney, insurance expert. We have a long way to go before we can claim to be thoroughly civilized and nationally sane. Lynchings are due to mob insanity, auto casualties usually to the insanity of carelessness.

Pasture for Rent!

I have good pasture with running water for a few head of cattle on my farm, two miles east of Murray.

MANLEY NEWS ITEMS

Eli Keckler and Joe Miller are assisting in the running of the threshing outfit of H. J. Livingston. Miss Alice Harms who has been visiting for some time with friends at Lincoln, returned home last week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Rauth and their little son were spending last Sunday at the home of Mr. Edward Seiker, of Elmwood.

Human Dali was over to Murdock the first of last week where he installed a motor in the blacksmith shop of J. H. Buck.

Miss Teresa Tighe, of Omaha, was a visitor for a number of days at the home of her sister, Mrs. Charles Murphy, east of Mandey.

During the storm of last Wednesday evening, a hay rack belonging to Orris Schlieft was torn to pieces by the wind which picked the rack from the wagon and dashed it to pieces.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Lorenz, of Plattsmouth, were guests at the parish house and of Father Higgins and his mother, Mrs. W. D. Higgins Sunday, as well as attending services here.

While trying to curb the ambitions of a fractious calf last week, A. P. Rauth had the misfortune to very badly sprain one of his feet, which has prevented him from working for a number of days.

Messrs. Henry Vogler and Orris Schlieft made a hurried trip to Lincoln last Thursday afternoon to obtain some repairs for their threshing machine which was injured by some foreign substance getting into the cylinder.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Bach and the parents of the former, Mr. and Mrs. August Bach, Sr., were out in this portion of the county looking at the devastation caused by the recent heavy storm and also visited at the home of Rev. Higgins and his mother, Mrs. W. D. Higgins, for a short time.

Frank H. Stander of Omaha and wife have been visiting for some time at the homes of their two sons, John P. Stander and Eddie Stander, and while here Mr. Frank Stander has been busy making some repairs to the chimney at the home of Eddie Stander and putting the house in better condition.

A portion of a hay rake which was introduced into the threshing machine by accident of H. J. Livingston, while threshing at Wm. Heebner's, caused acute indigestion with the result that a portion of the contents of the cylinder and a part of the concave had to be removed before the work could be proceeded with.

Miss Anna Rauth entertained a number of her young girl friends at her home last Wednesday at which time all had a most pleasant time. There were present at the gathering, besides the charming hostesses, Misses Teresa and Margaret Ash, of Weeping Water and Misses Marie and Bernadine Carper, of near Manley.

Miss Nellie Christensen, of Omaha, was spending the past week at the home of her friend, Mrs. Herman Rauth, and on Friday, Mrs. Rauth entertained for her and other friends, having an excellent afternoon with the guests. Those present on the occasion were Misses Nellie Christensen and Nellie Peters of Omaha, Miss Rena Christensen of Weeping Water and Mrs. A. R. Dowler, of Union.

Sisters Mary Michael and Mary Lillian, of the Franciscan order, who are missionaries of the Catholic church and doing special work in behalf of leper colonies were visitors in Manley and vicinity for a number of days during the past week, soliciting for the missionary work. They were taken from here by aaylock by Mr. Joseph Wolpert, Father Higgins accompanying them on the trip. While the roads were very nice here, Mr. Wolpert found them almost impassable after getting as far as Alvo, having to put on chains and run the car in low gear, on account of the excessive rains which had visited that portion of the county the night before.

Organized a Chorus

Miss Anna Rauth, who is a bit musically inclined and having a desire to serve the church, together with a number of other young ladies organized a chorus for the St. Patrick's church which has done some very good service at the services. The young ladies have taken the matter up and made a pronounced success, much to the credit of the church and themselves. Those associated with Miss Anna in the excellent service are Misses Anna and Margaret Murphy, Philamena Ash, Wilma Evans, Marie Carper, Teresa Ash and Bernadine Carper.

Celebrated His Birthday

The friends of Mr. Peter Vogler last Sunday very appropriately celebrated the passing of the eightieth birthday of this gentleman at his home just at the edge of Manley. Mr. Vogler has the love and esteem of many friends in and about Manley and is very worthy of the confidence which the people repose in him. The day was very appropriately spent and a sumptuous repast was served by the friends who called to make merry for the occasion. There were among those who were in attendance Henry Vogler and family, George Vogler and family, Mr. and Mrs. Orris Schlieft, Mr. and Mrs. August Johnson and family, Messrs. and Mesdames Arnold Schlieft, John Sams and Adolph Steinkamp, Mrs. Arma Schlieft and daughter, Miss Dora.
