G. W. SHRADER PASSES 86TH MILESTONE

ONE OF THE OLDEST RESIDENTS OF COUNTY GIVEN OVATION BY HIS FRIENDS.

From Monday's Daily.
Last Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Creamer, was celebrated the passing of the 86th birthday of Mr. George W. Shrader, who was born in Taswell county, Virginia, and where he lived for the first twenty years of his life, removing later to the west and locating in Cass county in 1864, where he has made his home ever since. There were some 272 people to greet this aged American at the home of his daughter. A sumptuous repast served in cafeteria style was one of the features of the day. The vision of the future was strong with Mr. Shrader when he settled in Nebraska then a almost leafless prairie and which he seen in the future to be a garden fit for the shade of any one. His faith was rewarded when over a strip of country devastated by one of the most blighting of hail storms, there was produced one of the most elaborate feeds which could be imagined.

GEORGE W. SHRADER

The H. P. O. E. band was present and dispensed excellent music during the afternoon and was a portion of an excellent program which was a feature of the afternoon. Uncle George W. Shrader was able to get around among the crowd and distribute cigars and well wishes for all the friends who came to make the anniversary of his birth one of pleasant things to remember.
There were present his relatives, neighbors and friends and members of the Grand Army of which he is a member, and the Masonic order, of which he has been a member during his life.
The birthday cake which was baked by his daughter-in-law, Mrs. H. H. Shrader, was a unique one in pattern and consisted of three rows encircling the cake of candles telling of his age.
The special table for this host was occupied by the guest of honor, Uncle George W. A. Taylor, who was master of ceremonies; Joseph Shrader, Z. W. Shrader, N. H. Isabel and Wm. Kennedy, and was placed in the drawing room of the home.
The remainder of the large crowd with the plates piled high with the best things to eat, found comfortable places where they could eat and visit with friends. Following the repast the program was given, the first number thereon being given by a great granddaughter, little Allen Murphy, who came from Chillicothe, Mo., to attend this celebration. This little miss also gave a very entertaining dance as well.
The program was continued by the opening address by the Rev. W. A. Taylor of Union, followed by a few numbers from the Elks band, which were greatly appreciated. The first address being given by the Rev. Goodell, pastor of the Christian church at Murray. This was well received, it being a short history of Mr. Shrader telling of his coming here and interspersed by a number of very amusing stories which added to the good nature of the assembled neighbors and friends.
The large crowd then sang "Pass Me Not, O Gentle Saviour." Hon. R. B. Windham reviewed the experiences and his acquaintance with Mr. Shrader and told of their visiting the national encampment together at Vicksburg, Miss., some years ago. With more music by the Elks band, then followed the address of A. E. Stephenson of Omaha who spoke more directly in reference to the Masonic order of which both are members and said that the number of people present was a certification of the excellent character of this excellent man. Hon. W. B. Banning of Union, followed in an address in which he complimented the people who had gathered and extended to Mr. Shrader the wish that he might see many more happy birthdays.

He said the present condition of Nebraska which was like a garden, was the fulfilling of the vision which Mr. Shrader had of the future of this country. He said that one only appreciated the fact of this country being a garden after he had taken a ride in an airplane over the country when it was clothed with its summer garments.
The Journal representative then followed with a report of the meeting, telling of the ages of some twenty-two of the older of the crowd, approximating some 1,591 years, and the oldest being the guest of honor, while the youngest was George Alex Hull, five months old and named for "Uncle George." He also extended the thanks of Mr. Shrader to the assembled throng for the very pleasant day which they had given him. The singing of "Blest Be the Tie that Binds," concluded the program and with the visiting of the many friends and the personal extending of congratulations of friends and well wishes for the future, concluded a perfect day. Mr. Shrader and especially his daughter, Mrs. Chas. Creamer, wish to extend their thanks to the people who made this day one of pleasure for this excellent citizen.

LAND VALUATIONS ARE GIVEN BOOST

Twenty-Seven Counties Were Raised and Ten Reduced by State Board of Equalization.

Farm land assessments of twenty-seven counties were raised and those of ten counties reduced by the state board of equalization and assessments, at its meeting Wednesday, leaving fifty-six counties unchanged from the figures reported by them.
In consideration of this net increase in farm land valuations, the board decided that there was no good basis for the objection filed by railroad companies to their own assessments as being higher in proportion than on lands, and their request for a decrease below the valuations placed on their property two months ago was denied.

Following are the counties which have been raised, the percentage of increase being indicated for each:
Banner, 14 per cent; Boyd, 3; Brown, 5; Buffalo, 10; Cedar, 15; Cherry, 8; Cuming, 9; Custer, 4; Dawson, 7; Dixon, 21; Dundey, 6; Garden, 10; Garfield, 15; Greeley, 4; Hall, 6; Hayes, 20; Holt, 10; Knox, 5; Lincoln, 19; Loup, 10; Nance, 4; Otoe, 4; Perkins, 6; Pierce, 29; Richardson, 2; Stanton, 5; Washington, 4.
Those whose farm land valuations were reduced by the state board are: Blaine, 3 per cent; Burt, 2; Dakota, 2; Furnas, 4; Jefferson, 6; Johnson, 4; Merrick, 4; Red Willow, 4; Sarpy, 3; Thomas 4.
The services were beautiful and simple and the rector of the church, Father W. S. Leete, celebrated the funeral ritual of the Episcopal church. During the service the choir of the church gave a number of selections.
The body was laid to rest at the Oak Hill cemetery, the pall bearers being selected from among the business men of the city and were H. A. Schneider, Frank M. Bestor, William Schmidtman, H. M. Soennichsen, R. W. Knorr and Guy W. Morgan.

The announcement has been received here by the father of the groom and other relatives and friends of the marriage on Thursday, Aug. 3rd, of Miss Lulu Myrtle Ernst and Mr. Joseph George Creamer, the ceremony occurring at the Lutheran church in Harrisburg, Pa.
This wedding is the outgrowth of a romance of war time days when the groom was in service and his bride employed as a stenographer at a number of the army camps where Mr. Creamer served and from this acquaintanceship formed in the dark days of war, a warmer feeling developed that has resulted in the young people deciding that they would make their lives as one in the future.
Mr. Creamer has since his discharge from the service in the early part of 1919, been engaged in the automobile business at Harrisburg, Pa., where Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Ernst, parents of the bride reside, and for the past year Miss Ernst has been stenographer at the auto plant of Mr. Creamer.

ANDY SCHMADER TO MEET SOME OF THE TOP NOTCHERS

Tentative Arrangements for Matches
With Tommy Gibbons and Bob
Martin are Made.

Andy Schmader, Cass county's super-artist with the padded mitts, is being discussed as the probable opponent of Bob Martin, the A. E. F. champion, in a bout at Plattsmouth on August 18th, and where Manager Jack Lewis is at present looking over the situation. Another of the fights projected for the near future is one at Lincoln under the auspices of the American Legion in which Andy will be scheduled to meet Tommy Gibbons.
These two boxers that the Cass county man is being matched with are among the best in the broad confines of the country and should make two of the best matches of the heavyweights that have been seen in the country. The host of devoted Schmader boosters here are confident that Andy is the equal of any of the heavyweights and they are anxiously awaiting the matching of the Gibbons and Martin bouts.

REPUBLICANS OF COUNTY SELECT STATE DELEGATES

From Tuesday's Daily.
The Cass county republicans were in session this morning at the court house to act on the matter of selecting their delegation to the state convention at Lincoln next week and a very enthusiastic meeting was staged but the delegations from the west portion of the county were unable to be in attendance and this convention as well as the other two were decidedly shy on members from the western precincts.
James M. Tegarden of Weeping Water was made chairman of the convention and H. A. Schneider of this city, secretary, and the G. O. P. at once started in to do business. On motion of C. E. Tefft of Weeping Water a committee was appointed consisting of seven members to select a list of delegates to the state convention and in order that each part of the county might be adequately represented in the delegation.

Chairman Tegarden named as the committee, C. E. Tefft, Weeping Water; Hon. E. M. Pollard, Nehawka; B. A. Root, Murray; A. D. Zarr, South Bend; G. L. Farley, Plattsmouth; E. H. Johnson, Weeping Water, and Will S. Wettenkamp, Mynard to draft the tentative list of delegates.

The leaders of the party including State Senator A. F. Sturm, proceeded to stir things up with the discussion of the issues of the day and urging the members of the party to get in line for the big show in November.
The convention took no action as to naming a county chairman, leaving that to the county committee at its next meeting.

DEMOCRATS HOLD COUNTY CONVEN- TION HERE TODAY

Representatives of Party Name Dele- gates to State Convention— Convention Optimistic.

From Thursday's Daily.
The county convention of the democratic party assembled this morning at 10 o'clock at the equity court room in the court house in response to the call of the county clerk and in compliance with the primary law.
The convention was one of the most optimistic in nature that has been held in recent years and embraced the leaders of the old time democracy and the convention also had a fair sprinkling of the ladies, even more so than their republican rivals across the hall.
For the position of chairman, D. O. Dwyer was named as the presiding officer, and Mrs. P. J. Flynn acted as secretary and the task of naming the various delegates to the state convention was taken up. On motion of J. P. Falter the convention was requested to name twenty delegates and these were to be apportioned among the various precincts of the county and as each of the precincts were called the delegate was named. The list of those selected to represent the Cass county democracy to the state convention to be held at Omaha is as follows:
Ed. Carr, Eagle; G. P. Foreman, Alva; Walter Peiling, Greenwood; J. E. Loughor, Elmwood; J. E. McHugh, Murdock; William Richards, South Bend; Dan Bourke, Manley; J. C. Spangler, Louisville; Mrs. B. C. Marquardt, Avoca; F. J. Hill, Myard; Mrs. P. E. Trisch, Murray; W. D. Wheeler, Plattsmouth; G. W. Snyder, Plattsmouth; John Rugh, Weeping Water; Joseph Corley, Weeping Water; Col. M. A. Bates, Plattsmouth; Mrs. P. J. Flynn, Plattsmouth.

The convention listened to a number of the local democrats present and the democratic standard bearer for state senator W. B. Banning of Union, W. H. Puls of Murray, candidate for representative; Miss Mia U. Goring, candidate for county treasurer, and Mrs. Katherine Minor, candidate for register of deeds, were among those present to instill the enthusiasm for the coming campaign.
F. Langhorst of Elmwood was present at the convention and the general suggestion heard among the delegates was that Mr. Langhorst should act as the head of the committee in the county for the coming year.
The sentiment for Mr. Langhorst grew by bounds and in the closing hours of the convention he was unanimously named for the position of county chairman.
Henry R. Gering of Omaha, one of the old time scrapping democrats, was at the convention and was called upon for a few remarks and in the course of which he gave the republican mismanagement of the state a real exposure and urged the democrats to see that the state was placed back in the safe and sane manner of conducting the expenditures of the people's money.

George Hatt, who was called here by the illness and death of his brother, Jonathan Hatt, returned this morning to his home in the east. Mr. Hatt has just been on an extended visit to the South and New England and came from Buffalo, New York, to this city and will now return to his home in Detroit.

GETTING CAMP IN SHAPE FOR NA- TIONAL GUARD

Work of Placing in Water Lines and Bath Houses for Companies Now Being Rushed.

The site of the camp of the Nebraska national guard on the Bach farm east of the Burlington station is now a busy one as the various groups of workers are carrying out their part in making the camp as comfortable as possible and getting it in readiness for the first detachments of the guard that will arrive on next Sunday morning and at once enter on their military program.
Captain Potect, in charge of the advance work of preparing the camp is kept very busy with the plans and the procuring of supplies that are needed by the workers and he will be one of the busiest men in town until the soldiers reach here.
Yesterday Col. Amos Thomas of the 134th infantry, Capt. Haggerty, adjutant of the regiment, Lt. Col. R. K. Douglas of the 134th, together with Lt. Col. McDaniel, instructor attached to the guard from the U. S. Army and Major Pryne of the 17th infantry at Fort Crook, who will have charge of the work of the instruction of the officers of the regiment, were here and spent a few hours looking over the camp, rifle range and the general terrain of this locality in which the troops will have to work out their various military problems.

One of the programs of the drill schedule that will be of interest is the fact that a general review of the regiment will be held each afternoon by the commanding officer, and which will be a very interesting spectacle for the residents of this city and vicinity.

It was a reminder that the summer days are soon to be numbered among the things of the past.

Attorney C. E. Tefft and son, Sheldon, J. M. Tegarden, F. H. Johnson, J. M. Meier and H. A. Crozier were among the Weeping Water citizens here today to attend the republican county convention.
