TAXATION IS THEME OF THE DEMOCRATS

IN CONVENTION AT OMAHA YESTERDAY—STRONG PLATFORM OUTLINED.

The democratic state convention in the Omaha auditorium listened to considerable oratory yesterday afternoon, the substance of which was a high-powered exhortation of the republican state and national administrations and a sublimation of democratic virtues.

It was necessary for the convention to adjourn over for an evening session to adopt the platform and to name the new state central committee.

Taxation was one of the favorite themes of the speakers and the repeal of the code and revenue laws was another message on which the democrats said much. On which the platform charges the republican administration with incompetency, denounces the federal revenue law; favors impartial enforcement of laws, the eight-hour day and collective bargaining; holds up the subject of taxation as the paramount issue; pledges repeal of the code and revenue laws, upholds the primary law and endorses repeal or amendment of the indeterminate sentence law.

Platform Committee

The personnel of the platform committee by congressional districts follows: First, Dr. P. L. Hall and Mrs. C. S. Paine; second, Arthur F. Mullen and Mrs. J. P. Schree; third, Maj. Frank Warner and Miss Emma Meserve; fourth, Dr. C. P. Fall and Mrs. O. E. Weber; fifth, W. H. Thompson and Mrs. A. H. Brooke; sixth, Frank Taylor and Mrs. Keith Neville. Dr. P. L. Hall was elected chairman and Major Warner read the resolution.

The convention was called to order by Keith Neville, state chairman. Mrs. Cora Clayton of Lincoln and J. J. Tooley of Broken Bow were named as secretaries.

Judge Harry A. Dungan of Hastings was named as temporary chairman and also was selected to serve as permanent chairman. Rev. Lloyd Holdapple, rector of St. Barnabas church, offered the invocation and Mayor J. C. Dahlman gave a brief address of welcome.

Speakers of the Day

The speakers of the afternoon were Mrs. Antoinette Funk of Washington, D. C., Senator G. M. Hitchcock, Charles W. Bryan of Lincoln, gubernatorial nominee, and Edgar Howard, congressional nominee in the Third district. Miss E. Ruth Pyrtle of Lincoln, candidate for state superintendent, spoke briefly.

The appearance of Senator Hitchcock and Charles W. Bryan on the same platform was a political anomaly which the delegates got used to as the afternoon progressed. In his address to the convention the senator made the following reference to his present association with Mr. Bryan:

"I am not embarrassed by the fact that I am not obligated to him. I congratulate the democrats on their nomination of such a courageous and splendid man as Charles W. Bryan. For a number of years there has been no political intimacy between him and me. We have differed, as honest men differ, and we have, upon occasion, fought as honest men fight. Now that that occasion has passed we can co-operate, as free men co-operate."

DRIVE AGAINST DISLOYALTY IS ON

League of American Pen Women Launch Campaign for Greater Patriotism.

A nation-wide campaign against disloyalty to the United States what nature, in the spoken or printed word, has been launched by the league of American Pen Women. The efforts of those who attempt to destroy American principles and institutions are directed largely to women and colleges.

The league of American Pen Women holds within itself a tremendous national power, composed as it is and working through trained writers through endless channels. There are eighteen branches of the organization and 1,500 members in the national body. Mrs. S. R. McKelvie is at the head of the Nebraska division.

Secretary of War Weeks has written to the organization in part as follows:

"I desire to express my deep appreciation of the resolution adopted by the League of American Pen Women to combat the activities of certain organizations in the United States, which are unpatriotic and directed against preparation adequate to insure our national defense and the preservation of law and order. Such action by an organization of national strength with a membership of proven ability will have a marked effect in counteracting the un-American influences now prevalent."

Most of those who would destroy the institutions and principles which have carried our government to her present enviable position of world leadership, have directed their attention primarily to the women of America and the agents in our colleges, relying upon them for moral, political and financial support. Their panaceas, all of which have been failures in the past, are sugar-coated with appeals to the noblest motives and ideals. For that reason I am gratified especially to see your organization take such a decidedly patriotic stand against them. It is a certain sign that their deceptive and insidious propaganda will not be countenanced for long in our country."

PRETTY HOME WEDDING AT NEHAWKA

Nuptials of Miss Pearl Schlichtemier and Mr. Marion S. Waddell Celebrated Today.

One of the most charming home weddings of the late summer occurred this afternoon at 1:30 at the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Schlichtemier, near Nehawka, when their daughter, Miss Pearl, was united in marriage to Mr. Marion S. Waddell of Pawnee City, Neb.

The home was very charmingly arranged in a color scheme of yellow and white, the stately Goldenrod, the emblem of the state of the nativity of the bride, predominating in the decorations and adding a very pretty touch to the scene.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Mina Teachman of University Place, an old school friend of the bride, sang sweetly the love song that proved a fitting prelude to the beautiful and impressive ceremony and as the last note of the song died away the wedding march was sounded by Miss Hazel Wening of University Place, and to this march the bridal couple entered the parlors of the home where the hearts of the young people as one, was performed.

The bridal party was preceded by little Miss Eileen Mulick of Omaha, cousin of the bride, who bore the golden token of love's pledge concealed in the heart of a stately lily.

The bride gownned most attractively in a costume of white Canton crepe and wearing the flowing bridal veil with a bouquet of the bride roses presented a most charming picture.

The bridal couple were accompanied by Miss Clara Schlichtemier, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, and Mr. Walter Waddell, brother of the groom, as best man. Miss Schlichtemier wore a very chic costume of heliotrope crepe and carried yellow roses. The gentlemen were garbed in the conventional dark suits.

Entering the parlor, the bridal couple took their station before the Rev. O. Johnson, pastor of the Methodist church of Nehawka, and with the impressive ring service the words that made the young people as one were pronounced.

Following the wedding the young people were tendered a reception and very dainty and delicious refreshments were served by members of the family to the guests of the happy event.

There were some seventy in attendance at the wedding ceremony, being relatives of the contracting parties. Among those from out of town present were: Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Waddell, parents of the groom, of Pawnee City; Walter Waddell, a brother of the groom, of Pawnee City; Mrs. J. E. Mulick and daughter, Eileen of Omaha, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Gorder and family of Weeping Water.

The young people left after the reception for Mr. Pleasant, Ia, where they are to make their future home and where the groom is to occupy one of the chairs in the faculty of the Iowa Methodist university.

The bride is one of the charming daughters of Cass county, where she has been reared to womanhood and with the groom was a graduate of the Nebraska Wesleyan University and has for the past year been engaged as a teacher in the Plattsmouth city schools, and is a lady universally esteemed by all those who have the rare privilege of knowing her.

The groom has for the past year been engaged in school work at the University of Oklahoma, and is one of the leading young educators of this portion of the West.

In their new home the young people take the best wishes of a host of warm friends all over the county.

FALLS FOR OLD ONE

One of the well known real estate dealers of the city, it is reported, was the victim a few days since of an old con game that is so ancient that doubtless the man pulling it felt the affront he had offered to old age.

A stranger arrived in the city with the atmosphere of a seeker after a nice quiet home far from the maddening strife of the city and meeting one of the real estate men, he was assured that he had come to the right place and at the right time. The prize was loaded in an auto and taken over a number of the small framing acreages near the city and on which the stranger assured the dealer in land that he desired to establish a chicken farm.

This looked very good, and to show his good faith, the stranger took forth a check book and made out a check for $100 on a St. Joseph, (Mo.) bank to bind the deal. Then is where the soft music starts, as the stranger discovered when he started away that he was short of funds and drew a check for $10 which the real estate dealer cashed and the stranger departed, leaving visions of a fat commission with the dealer.

The awakening came later when the land man called the bank, relative to the check and found that the stranger was a stranger, indeed, to the bank and had nothing with which to back up the check. It is needless to say the local land dealer has sworn, "never again."

Adolph Rhode of Omaha was a visitor in the city today for a few hours with his mother, Mrs. Helen Rhode, returning to Omaha this afternoon on the belated Burlington train.
