BOY BRUISED UP QUITE BADLY IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Richard Hatt, Four-Year-Old Son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hatt, Has Very Narrow Escape.

From Thursday's Daily.
Last evening while Richard, the little four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hatt, was playing on Vine street in front of his home, he had a very narrow escape from death and it was only through the quick work of Ben Wiles, who was driving an auto on the street, that the boy escaped serious injury.

Mr. Wiles was coming west on Vine street, having just passed the intersection when the little boy darted out from around the Hatt car that was parked in the street, and ran into the path of the oncoming car. Seeing the danger, Mr. Wiles turned his car toward the curb and ran up on the curb and striking the little boy square, and as it was the front of the car struck him a glancing blow that felled him to the pavement.

Richard suffered severe bruises of the side and arm and on the head but nothing serious as he was able to be around this morning as usual and feeling only a little soreness as the result of the accident.

The accident drew a large number of people as it was thought at first that the boy was dangerously hurt. Mr. Wiles was entirely blameless in the matter and it was only his quickness that saved the lad.

DISCUSS PLANS FOR HANDLING THE SITUATION HERE

Burlington Officials Take Up Matter of Men Now at Shops Being Released from Yards.

From Thursday's Daily.
Last evening at the request of a number of the Burlington shop officials, a meeting was held by the county and city authorities as well as other citizens to discuss the matter of the men now working at the Burlington shops enjoying more liberty by going and coming as they wished.

It was stated by the representatives of the railroad that there are now in the neighborhood of 300 men at the shops and that some of these at least wish to enjoy the privilege of going and coming as they wish, instead of being compelled to remain confined in the shop yards as they have been since they arrived to take the places of the local striking shopmen.

The excellent way in which the affairs have been conducted here, and the lack of any hostile action, has been very pleasing to the city government and to the railroad company as well and certainly reflects credit on the men who are out on strike, and it is desired to maintain this same condition.

Frank Vallery, the rustling real estate man, has completed a number of deals in the last few weeks over which he is feeling well pleased. In these deals Mr. Vallery was associated with J. W. Williams, county clerk of Arthur county, one eight room residence and three acre tract in Plattsmouth, known as the Charles Hitt property. Ed S. Tutt of Murray has also closed a deal with the firm for the purchase of a section of land in Arthur county which is near one of the best bass lakes in the state and which greatly pleases Ed.

OMAHA SALES-MAN MAY START DAMAGE SUIT

James Thomas, Representative of U. S. Rubber Co., Claims he Was "Strongarmed."

From Thursday's Daily.
James Thomas, salesman of the United States Rubber company of Omaha, and who was arrested a few days ago at Nehawka by William Grebe, state deputy sheriff, while at Nebraska City yesterday gave to the press his views of the case and intimated that a damage suit might result if the after effects of his treatment at the hands of the state man.

Mr. Thomas, who has been a resident of Omaha for many years and is one of the well known salesmen in this territory, stated that he was at a garage in Nehawka when he was approached and asked to show a motor car license there being none on the car at the time.

He states that he drew the certificate from his pocket and showed it to the state deputy. An argument arose and he alleges that the state deputy slapped him in the face and then hustled him into a car and took him to Plattsmouth where he was fined $1 and costs.

He also claims that the evidence presented by the state was erroneous and that he did not resist the officers or the arrest, but was merely discussing the matter when struck, and is indignant over the treatment received.

NEW STATE GAME SANCTUARY IN SARPY COUNTY

Fontanelle Tract Set Aside by Secretary Stuhr—Application Accepted From Owners.

Secretary Leo Stuhr of the Nebraska department of agriculture has established a state game reserve and bird refuge upon 2,543 acres comprising the Fontanelle tract between South Omaha and Bellevue. This is the second reserve of the kind established under the legislative act of 1921. The first reserve comprises 200 acres near Fairbury. However, the state law designates every school section and every other tract of educational land owned by the state and the Halsey and Cherry county forest reserves as game and bird reserves. There are 2,009 acres in the two forest reserves so designated.

The Fontanelle tract, in the bend of the Missouri river, is owned or controlled in the main by Dr. Harold Gifford of Omaha. By them it has been retained in its natural state and the owners intend it to remain in that state. It is rich in flora and fauna and is much visited by naturalists and scientists. The owners have permitted the boy scouts, the Y. M. C. A. and some other organizations to establish camps upon the land with the understanding that all rules and regulations against the molestation or removal of plants, trees and animals shall be observed.

Secretary Stuhr commends the owners of the land upon their foresight in providing for the tract of woods and park land in its natural state instead of permitting it to be platted and sold as lots or farms. Eventually the tract may become a part of what is to be a state park system.

The tract includes what is known as Child's Point and low land that was formed by accretion from the river. Chief Game Warden George Koster and Dr. Gifford visited the land Wednesday and placed more than a dozen signs provided for by the state law. The Burlington railroad company track runs thru the land but the railroad has included all its right of way in the reserve.

Secretary Stuhr will appoint one or more special game wardens to patrol the land. He will appoint some one recommended by the owners and the appointment will carry no salary from the state. In addition the land will be visited frequently by deputy state game wardens who will make an inspection to ascertain whether the game laws are enforced.

BOOSTING FOR THE CASS COUNTY FAIR

Citizens of Weeping Water, Accompanied by Band Visit Plattsmouth Yesterday.

From Thursday's Daily.
Yesterday afternoon a number of the Weeping Water boosters, accompanied by their band, were here to advertise the forthcoming fair that is to be held in that city on September 23rd to 26th. Inclusive. The fair has only been in existence for the past few years and has rapidly grown in favor until it is one of the events of the year in the county.

It was the custom for many years to hold a real fair in Cass county, and the grounds of the association were located near this city, but for the past thirty years there has been nothing doing and the scene of former activities along this line is buried in a field of grain.

The citizens of Weeping Water started the ball rolling for a county fair three years ago and they have made it a very pleasing success and while cramped for room and the proper buildings they are endeavoring to give the people the best kind of a fair and live stock exposition possible.

From Friday's Daily.
Yesterday at the city park at Weeping Water was held the annual reunion of the Wiles family, one of the largest in the country and which has contributed much to the making of the county and state in the years that they have resided here and in Mills county, Iowa.

The day was ideal and there were 250 members of the family to respond to the notice of the meeting and to participate in the more than usually pleasant occasion.

One of the features of the day was, of course, the fine picnic dinner served in the pleasant shade of the park and which was certainly one of the most delightful that the family has enjoyed for years.

During the course of the afternoon a program was enjoyed, short talks being given by Mayor Troy Davis of Weeping Water, who is one of the members of the family, as well as Mrs. Charles Finch of Kansas City, who is here visiting at the home of her father, Thomas Wiles and family.

Other members of the family aided in the pleasant occasion with musical selections that added to the pleasantness of the day.

In the election of the officers it was decided to retain the present ones in their positions, they being Ray Wiles of Weeping Water, president, Luke L. Wiles of Plattsmouth, secretary, and Thomas Wiles of Plattsmouth, treasurer.

On voting the place of holding the next year's meeting it was decided to have it at Plattsmouth where a large number of the family reside and the residents of this community will serve as the hosts for the coming year.

There were members of the family present from Omaha, Nebraska City, Syracuse, Glenwood, and Tabor, Ia., and a large number from the central portion of Cass county.

CLOSING UP A SHORTAGE IN B. & L. ACCOUNTS

MEETING THIS AFTERNOON TO TAKE FINAL ACTION ON SETTLING SHORTAGE.

From Friday's Daily.
The visit here last evening of Jas. E. Hart, secretary of the state banking board, was the occasion of a meeting to determine just what could be accomplished in the way of a settlement of the affairs of the Livingston Loan & Building association, which has for several months been under the supervision of the state banking board as the result of the discovery of irregularities in the accounts of the secretary, C. G. Fricke.

The amount of the irregularities covers the amount of $76,600, and in order to save as much as possible to the stockholders and those who have made investments in the loan and building association, the officers have been doing all possible to secure a settlement that would insure the eventual payment of all the investors rather than take the chances of a receivership that would result in the clearing up only a small part of the amount that the men and women of this community have invested here.

At a meeting held several months ago the stockholders voted to allow the officers and directors to carry on the work in the hope that in a short time the affairs of the company could be cleared up and the investors protected and as a part of this plan, Mr. F. E. Schlatter was selected as secretary in succession to Mr. Fricke. Since the meeting, the president, H. M. Soennichsen, Mr. Schlatter and the directors have been checking up the books and accounts and preparing to secure as good a settlement as possible.

The members of the board of directors and the officers have met with Mr. Fricke and his legal representatives and the former secretary has placed at the disposal of the officers of the association, all his property and business interests, consisting of his home and two other pieces of residence property, his coal business and book accounts as well as his interests in an Iowa farm and his stock in the building & loan association and small funds in the bank to his credit, and to this the sum of $12,000 has been raised from other sources to be applied by Mr. Fricke on the amount of the shortage that has been discovered by the accountants of both the loan and building association and Mr. Fricke, to exist. The total of the amount that will be available to apply on a settlement of the shortage will be $45,000 and which results in preventing an entire loss to the investors.

With this sum, which it is expected to have placed in the hands of the board of directors of the Livingston Loan & Building association, with the funds and other papers transferring the property of Mr. Fricke, it will leave something like $30,000 to be made up from the profits of the association.

It was stated that the result of securing a settlement will be that the investors of the association will in a later time realize the full amount of their investment altho the shortage will result in the certificates being set back for some time and the loss of interest for the holders, but it will ultimately result in every one getting back their investments.

The officers of the Livingston Loan & Building association, while looking hard to secure the best possible result for their friends and associates and it seems that if the present program is carried out that it will be the best possible result.
