NEW REGULATIONS ON SACRAMENTAL WINES ANNOUNCED

Church Officers Not Allowed to Manufacture Wine for use of Individuals or Congregation.

Washington, Aug. 28.—New regulations covering distribution of wine for sacramental purposes, in accordance with the recent opinion of Attorney General Daugherty, were issued by Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair to become effective September 25. The regulations provide that manufacturers or importers of sacramental wine may sell only to rabbis, ministers, priests or other authorized officials of a church. Church officers may not manufacture wine for their individual use or for the use of the congregation, but may qualify as proprietors of bonded wineries for the purpose of manufacturing wine for religious purposes or may be employed by qualified winemakers to supervise the production of sacramental wines.

Distribution of sacramental wines under the regulations will be made through duly appointed officers of the churches or congregations who are prohibited from selling to others, but where it was the practice of members of congregations before the advent of prohibition to use wine for sacramental purposes in the home, it may be furnished to such householders in necessary quantities.

With respect to the Jewish faith, the regulations provide that only those who have been accustomed to celebrate religious rites in their homes which require the use of wine will be entitled to receive wine for such purposes. It should be assumed the regulations declared, that two gallons of sacramental wine a year for each member of the family is sufficient.

No Substitute Offered

Say what you will about druggists offering something "just as good" because it pays a better profit, the fact still stands that ninety-nine out of a hundred druggists recommend Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy, when the best medicine for diarrhoea is asked for, and do so because they know from what their customers say of it, that it can be depended upon. VERY PLEASANT OCCASION

From Saturday's Daily. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Horn in this city was the scene of a very pleasant gathering the past few days when Mrs. Horn enjoyed a visit with two of her sisters, and it being the first time in twenty years that the ladies have been together. Mrs. Edith Fornoff of Hayes Center was here visiting and a few days later Mr. and Mrs. Bals Volk of McLean, arrived unexpectedly for a visit and afforded the unusual pleasure of the three sisters meeting. It is needless to say that the occasion was enjoyed to the utmost. Mrs. Fornoff departed this morning for her home in the west, going to Omaha where she joined a party of friends who are driving to Hayes Center in an auto.

The Ideal Purgative

As a purgative, Chamberlain's Tablets are the exact thing required. Strong enough for the most robust, mild enough for children. They cause an agreeable movement of the bowels without any of that terrible griping. They are easy and pleasant to take and agreeable in effect. Weyrich & Hadraba.

COMPENSATION BILL IS PASSED BY THE SENATE

VOTE IS 47 FOR AND 22 AGAINST MEASURE AND BILL NOW GOES TO HOUSE.

Washington, Aug. 31.—The $4,000,000,000 soldiers' bonus bill was passed today by the senate and now goes to conference. The vote was 47 to 22, with party lines wiped out. The roll call follows: For the bonus—republicans: Brandegee, Bursum, Cameron, Capper, Colt, Cummins, Curtis, Gooding, Hale, Jones (Washington), Kellogg, La Follette, Lea, Lea, Lodge, McCord, McCumber, McLean, McNary, Nicholson, Odell, Rawson, Shortridge, Stanfield, Sutherland, Townsend, Watson (Indiana), and Willis—27. Democrats—Ashurst, Broussard, Culberson, Fletcher, Gerry, Healin, Hitchcock, Kendrick, McKellar, Pittman, Pomeroy, Tamm, Tamm, Reed of Missouri, Robinson, Sheppard, Simmons, Smith, Trammell, Walsh of Massachusetts and Walsh of Montana—20. Total—47.

Against the bill: Republicans—Ball, Borah, Calder, Dill, Egan, Edwards, Frazier, Gurnea, Hays, Keyes, Nelson, New, Phipps, Reed of Pennsylvania, Smoot, Sterling and Wadsworth—15. Democrats—Dial, Glass, Myers, Shields, Swanson, Underwood, and Williams—7. Total—22.

The senate discussion was opened by Senator Lodge, who argued that the government owed compensation to the soldiers, and disputed the theory that the proposed bonus would prove too great a burden on the treasury. Sterling loses patience. Senator Sterling, republican, South Dakota, renewed his opposition to the whole proposal, saying he had lost patience with the "ever recurring argument" that the former service men should have a bonus because congress had voted huge sums in settlement of war contracts and the government had not checked profiteering during the war.

Supporting the bonus, Senator Borah, democrat, Ohio, declared that whatever the fate of the pending bill, sentiment throughout the country would not be satisfied until something had been done for the veterans by the government. Three senators were present and unable to vote because of pairs, and twenty-four senators, sixteen republicans and eight democrats were absent. Pairs were announced as follows: Harrell for, Dupont against, Stanley for, Ernst against, Jones of New Mexico for, Fernald against, Harris for, Paige against, Spencer for, Newberry against (Newberry present and not voting), Overman for, Warren against (Warren present and not voting), Johnson for, Watson of Georgia against (Watson present and not voting), Harrison for, Moses against, Poindexter for, King against, Norbeck for, Pepper against. Absentees who were without pairs were: Caraway for, Elkins for, Ladd for, Mckenley for, Norris for, Owen against, Weller, position not announced.

Immediately after the passage of the measure, the senate directed that it be returned to the house with a request for a conference. Representative Mondell of Wyoming, the republican leader, said the house would send it to conference tomorrow under special rule. The senate conferees named those who now are working on the tariff bill and the amendment to the tariff measure. Since there is no serious dispute between the two houses on the bonus, the conferees are expected to lay aside the tariff long enough to agree to a report on the bonus.

BOB MARTIN SECURES TECHNICAL KNOCK-OUT

A. E. F. Champion Has Best of Navy Gladiator in Fight at Aurora, Illinois, Last Night.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—Bob Martin of Huntington, W. Va., A. E. F. heavyweight champion, added another victim to his string of knockouts tonight, when he scored a technical knockout over Andy Schmader of Louisville, navy champion. In the second round of the scheduled 10-round bout at Aurora, it was one of the fiercest fights ever staged in the Aurora arena.

Both Martin and Schmader were badly marked when they were taken from the ring. Martin's eyes were bruised and cut while Schmader also was badly cut over the eyes, which were nearly closed, and his left ear was cut badly and bleeding profusely. It was Martin's 97th victory by knockout in 110 bouts. In the second round Martin floored Schmader with a right-hand punch to the jaw, but Schmader arose in a daze and started again. Martin plunged in and hit Schmader flush on the chin with a right uppercut with two seconds of the round left. Schmader fell. Referee Dave Miller, knowing that it was useless to count as there was no time left, stopped the battle and awarded the decision to Martin.

UNIONS WANT STATE LABOR LAWS RESTORED

State Federation to Launch Campaign for Re-Enactment of Repealed Labor Laws.

Lincoln, Aug. 31.—A campaign for the re-enactment of the labor laws which the McKelvie code law of 1919 repealed will be launched at the fifteenth annual convention of the Nebraska state federation of labor meeting at 9 a. m. Monday, September 4, in the Labor temple at Omaha, Secretary Frank M. Coffey announced here today. From 150 to 200 delegates will be present.

"Under the code, the broad character of a department for the welfare of labor is lost, and the department head is merely administrator for the workmen's compensation law," Coffey says. "The female labor law, which originally applied to cities over 5,000, is now applicable only in Lincoln and Omaha. The 'service letter law' was emasculated by the code, and the loan shark bill, or its enforcement at least, was lost in the shuffle."

Coffey, in a public statement, says the organization may "become conscious of its economic interest and undertake to mass its votes in the coming congressional election." Opposition to the Esch-Cummins law and means of aiding the striking shipmen will be other questions for discussion. United action, he predicts, will be taken against the four republican laws up for referendum at the coming election.

The convention will open with a labor day celebration at Elmwood park, where Lynn J. Frazier, former governor of North Dakota and Nonpartisan League candidate for the United States senate, will be the principal speaker. George D. Brewer, of Minneapolis, for the time being state organizer for the Nonpartisan League in Nebraska, will also be on the program. Coffey says the convention will be in session three or four days.

A Pronounced Success. The uniform success that has attended the use of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy in the relief and cure of bowel complaints, both for children and adults, has brought it into almost universal use, so that it is practically without a rival and as everyone who has used it knows, it is without an equal. WOODS BROS. RIVER WORK IN THE LIMELIGHT

Retard Plan Proves Most Effective—Contracts Made with Government for Riparian Work

The work of the Woods Brothers' Construction company, of Lincoln, has brought the firm more into the national limelight than any other venture made by a Nebraska concern, except possibly the potato industry that flourished in western Nebraska during the war, only to pass into obscurity with the signing of the armistice.

The Standard Current Retary system of river bank protection, as originated and developed by the Woods Brothers, has proved the most satisfactory method yet employed for the protection of riparian property. This type of construction which has been used quite extensively along the banks of the Big Muddy in this vicinity, consists of trees cabled together and placed in the stream and attached to cable leading from dead timber, also attached to cables to which are attached the Bignell-Jones pile, sunk by jettling until the top of the pile is from 15 to 40 feet below the bed of the stream.

Retards built up in units of 20 to 35 trees per unit, extend from the bed of the stream at the channelward end to the height of the natural bank at the landward end. Retards Stream's Progress. This type of construction permits the water to flow through the structure, gradually impeding the velocity adjacent to the previously eroding bank and deflects the current channelward past the end of the retard. A stretch of dead water then exists next to the bank wherein sand, gravel and sediment carried by the current is deposited; in fact the same force of nature which formerly eroded the bank is controlled to the extent that it replaces material in the very place from where it was washing it away.

The success of this type of current retard is mainly due to its absolute anchorage, particularly its anchorage to the Bignell-Jones pile. Standard Current Retards are the practical application of the principle of sedimentation to the replacement, protection and conservation of river banks which have been lost by erosion, wash or cutting. This system as patented and used by the Woods Brothers' construction company, has brought forth glowing praise from both public and press and papers from different cities throughout the United States, as well as the most reputable engineering and scientific journals have devoted much space to description and recommendation of this method.

Woods Brothers make their contracts with the United States government, railroads, states and counties. At present the company is engaged in river bank protection on nine rivers in the United States. This work extends from Yankton, S. D., to Memphis, Tenn. The Key that Unlocks the Door to Long Living. The men of eighty-five and ninety years of age are not the rotund, well fed, but thin, spare men, who live on a slender diet. Be as careful as he will, however, a man past middle age will occasionally eat too much or of some article of food not suited to his constitution, causing indigestion or constipation and will need a dose of Chamberlain's Tablets to move his bowels and invigorate his stomach. When this is done, there is no reason why the average man should not live to a ripe old age. Weyrich & Hadraba.
