YOUNG PEOPLE WEDDED AT WALTON ON TUESDAY

Miss Mary Alice Booth United in Marriage to Mr. John L. Hadraba of This City.

One of the very charming weddings of the fall season was that of Miss Mary Alice Booth of Walton and Mr. John L. Hadraba of this city, which occurred at the Catholic church at Walton yesterday morning at 9 o'clock.

The nuptial mass was celebrated by Father Moran and the services attended by a very large number of the relatives and friends of the two happy young people.

The bride and groom were attended by Miss Loretta Booth and Mr. Frank Booth, sister and brother of the bride, as bridesmaid and best man.

Miss Booth made a very charming bride in her gown of whiteorgette crepe and carrying a shower bouquet of bride roses, while the bridesmaid was dressed in pink with a hat to match and carried a bouquet of pink roses that added a pleasing touch to the costume.

After the services at the church the bridal party and some 100 guests were entertained at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Minnie Booth, at dinner, a most sumptuous wedding feast having been prepared and served by the members of the party.

The young people received a wealth of gifts from the relatives and friends that will be loving remembrances of the happy occasion.

At the conclusion of the dinner the young people departed on a short honeymoon and will return to Plattsmouth where they will make their home in the future, the groom having already arranged a home for the bride.

The out of town guests present were: Joseph Jelinek and wife, Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. William Swatek, Mrs. Cyril Kalina, Mrs. Joseph Wooster, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Hadraba, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Egenberger and daughter, Helen, of Plattsmouth; Henry A. Egenberger and son Charles, Miss Barbara Ptak, Mrs. F. R. Guthmann and daughter, Miss Minnie, and Paul Lempe, all of Plattsmouth; Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Guthmann of Murdock, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weckbach of Crete, Mr. and Mrs. Myers of Omaha, Misses Agnes and Marie Weckbach of Lincoln.

The bride is well known here, where she was engaged in teaching for some time and is a lady of unusual charm of personality and one whose friends are without number in this community. The groom is a Plattsmouth boy and a young man of the highest character and a very industrious citizen of the community. He has since his return from service in the army been engaged in the Burlington shops as a carpenter up to the recent strike.

The host of friends of the young people join in wishing them a very happy future.

YOUNG PEOPLE ARE MARRIED HERE THIS MORNING

Miss Lillian Schiesel of this City and Mr. Percy B. Dunn Joined in Wedding This Morning.

From Wednesday's Daily This morning at 10:30 at the Presbyterian church occurred the marriage of two popular and well known young people of this community, Miss Lillian Schiesel and Mr. Percy B. Dunn, formerly of this city but now located in Omaha.

The wedding ceremony was attended by a number of the close relatives and friends of the contracting parties and the impressive religious service was used by Rev. H. G. McClusky in joining the lives of the young people. The bride was very charming in a traveling suit of dark blue, wearing a picture hat to match and with a shower bouquet of bride roses. The groom was in the customary dark suit.

As attendants of the bride and groom, Miss Rose Schiesel, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid and Mr. Homer Dunn of Malvern, Ia., brother of the groom, as best man. Miss Schiesel wore a black canton crepe and carried a bouquet of sweet peas.

After the ceremony at the residence of Rev. McClusky, the party proceeded to the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schiesel where a delicious wedding luncheon was served and a reception tendered the young people, who departed on No. 2 over the Burlington at 4:30 for the short honeymoon, but have kept their destination unknown.

Both of the bridal couple are very popular among the young people of this community, the bride having spent her lifetime here and the groom has for the past four years resided here and engaged in the barber business, just recently closing out his interests and removing to Omaha.

The out of town guests to attend the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Saylor, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Polstrup and Miss Ellen Polstrup of Ashland, Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Dunn, parents of the groom, of Malvern, Ia., Miss Lucille and Messrs. Harry and Francis Dunn of Malvern.

MUST USE CARE

The reckless driving along the avenues of the city at the time when the school children are going to and from their homes must cease or the parties doing this will be made to suffer the full penalty of the law. There have been a number of instances where cars have narrowly missed children and especially on Washington avenue and in order to curb this practice Chief of Police Barclay is preparing to launch a campaign that will ensure more safety to the little folks enroute to school by having the drivers make a little less speed, which, while it may be irksome to the drivers, certainly will result in saving the possibility of death to some one and a burden on the mind of the driver of the car that might cause the injury of some child. In reaching the Central building the young folks are compelled to cross the busy arteries of travel and caution should be used by both the school children and the drivers of autos.

DAUGHERTY SAYS HE WON'T ABRIDE FREE SPEECH

Attorney General Defines Rail Injunction as Ban Only on Violence and Harding Agrees

Washington, Sept. 5.—The injunction obtained in Chicago against striking shophen by the government, Attorney General Daugherty said today, will not be used to abridge personal liberty, nor will freedom of speech or the press be interfered with. But, he added, "freedom of speech and freedom of press does not mean those mediums may be used to incite riots or murders."

The attorney general also declared that the injunction had not been obtained to force men to work, nor was it a move to prevent strikes.

The statement of Mr. Daugherty which was made to newspaper correspondents, followed earlier declarations by a White House spokesman after today's cabinet meeting that President Harding felt the injunction would not in any way endanger the constitutional rights of men on strike or of other citizens. But, it was added, the Chicago injunction proceedings would be followed up with the determination of preventing interference with interstate transportation.

Just how far the government would be obliged to go with prosecutions against individuals, the White House spokesman said, could only be determined by events. It was indicated that no activities in connection with the strike outside of court matters were now in progress.

Attorney General Daugherty in his statement declared there would be no objection by the department of justice to meetings of union men to perform any of their functions "that do not interfere with interstate commerce or otherwise violate the law."

"If any one undertakes to abridge personal liberty," he added, "I will be as vigorous in upholding the people's rights as I am vigorous in opposing violence."

The attorney general expressed the belief that the strike situation would "quiet down" this week, and added: "I do not want to go any further in these proceedings than is necessary. I want to be reasonable about it, but not so reasonable as to let the government and the people be trampled upon."

Responding to a question, the attorney general said he thought a court would construe advocacy of picketing as being in violation of Judge Wilkerson's temporary restraining order.

Reports to the department of justice today, he asserted, showed the situation over the country to be "quiet, very comfortable."

PLAN NEW CHARITY FOR NEBRASKA

Mrs. Emily Hornberger of the State Child Welfare Bureau Would Aid Convicts' Families.

Plans for aiding the wives, children and other dependents of convicts in the state penitentiary and those at the men's reformatory, are being made by Mrs. Emily Hornberger of the state child welfare bureau. This is a new line of work for the bureau and one which opens up an extensive field for active and sympathetic effort, Mrs. Hornberger thinks.

Where families of convicts are found to be suffering, they will be helped by direct aid or by being furnished with employment or interesting local authorities and citizens in their behalf. Women's clubs, ladies' aid societies and other organizations which devote themselves to humanitarian undertakings will be asked to co-operate.

After getting the names of convicts from the board of pardons, data will be collected by the child welfare bureau from different sources to ascertain what families may be in need of assistance. The men themselves will be interviewed as to the circumstances of their dependents outside.

Going After Mothers' Pensions The bureau will exert itself to secure mothers' pensions, paid out of county funds, where they find a convict's wife struggling against odds to maintain herself and children.

Where prisoners in the penitentiary are regularly employed in factory work of the institution, they receive wages and a specified percentage of the money they earn is set aside for the support of their families or relatives. In many cases, this is enough, with what the convict's dependents can earn on their own account, to provide a comfortable living. But there are instances where it is not sufficient. Then, too, some convicts do not have employment which yields them a steady income.

Blank forms have been printed for the use of the child welfare bureau, on which will be recorded the name of a convict, the kind of a crime he was sentenced for, the county where it was committed, length of the term, previous commitments and detailed information concerning his family or other relatives or his dependents who have no work.

Information will also be tabulated on these blanks as to his being a man of temperate habits or addicted to liquor, tobacco or drugs. His religious belief or affiliation, if he has any, will likewise be recorded. The names will be kept on file for reference and as an aid in the bureau's investigations.

Two hundred of the '09 delegates expected had arrived last night.

T. George of Holdrege; the Rev. M. E. Gilbert, Kearney; the Rev. J. N. Clemens, Lincoln, and the Rev. J. W. Kirkpatrick, Omaha, held a conference at the Stanford hotel yesterday afternoon.

The first session this morning will be a communion service, followed by a memorial service for members who died during the past year. The Rev. G. H. Main, pastor of the First Methodist church, Abilene, Neb., will give the memorial address. Business sessions of the conference will commence this afternoon.

One of the principal addresses of the conference is to be given Wednesday night by Bishop Wilbur R. Thirkield of Mexico City, Mex. The Rev. Titus Lowe, former pastor of the First Methodist church, expected to arrive in Omaha today from New York, and Bishop Homer C. Stuntz, presiding at the conference, are also conference speakers.

VERY HAPPY EVENT

The friends of J. H. McMaken, the contractor, may have wondered at the pleased expression of the face of this genial gentleman the last few days and the cause is now announced as a fine little son arrived at an early hour Tuesday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Taylor at Wymore. Mrs. McMaken was at Wymore to greet the little grandson on his arrival, and the pleasant event has brought great joy to all of the family.

HOTTEST SEPTEMBER DAY

Today has the distinction of being the hottest September day ever recorded at the local Burlington office when the mercury reached 102 at 1 o'clock and established a new record in the locality. So far, September has made a new record in the heat line all over the state and the general public has felt the need of relief from the torrid days.

INTEREST LACKING IN NEVADA

Reno, Nev., Sept. 5.—The primary election in Nevada today was light, reports received here tonight indicated. It was estimated that not more than about one-half of the 333,000 registered voters went to the polls in spite of the five-sided race on the republican ticket for United States senator and a two-sided fight on the democratic ticket for governor.

Reports received here indicated the nomination of James G. Scrugham of Reno for governor by the democrats. The nomination of Samuel Platt also of Reno for senator by the republicans seemed possible on the face of early reports. Senator Key Pittman, democrat, had no opposition for the nomination for United States senator.

NEW JUSTICE IN UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT

John H. Clarke Has Tendered His Resignation to President; Effective September 18th.

Washington, Sept. 4.—Resignation of Associate Justice John H. Clarke from the United States supreme court and the intention to appoint Former Senator George H. Sutherland of Utah to succeed him was announced today by President Harding. Justice Clarke's resignation will become effective September 18, when he reaches the age of sixty-five years.

A desire to serve his neighbors and "some causes" in ways which would not be possible while he was holding public office was given by Justice Clarke in a letter to the president as the impelling reason for his leaving the bench. A retirement from public life at sixty-five, he added, would conform to his "philosophy of life." Senator Sutherland, who has been selected for the vacancy, is sixty years old. He was born in Buckingham, England, in 1862. He served Utah in the first state senate. Mr. Sutherland was twice elected to the United States senate, his service lasting from 1901 to 1917.

Justice Clarke was nominated to the supreme court bench by President Wilson in 1916 and in point of service is the junior associate justice.

Close to the President In announcing Justice Clarke's approaching retirement President Harding said it had been his privilege as a senator to recommend confirmation by the senate of Mr. Clarke's nomination.

The letter of resignation sent by Justice Clarke read:

"I shall be sixty-five years old the sixteen days of this month. For a long time I have promised what I think my better self that at that age I would free myself as much as possible from imperative duties to the end that I may have time to read many books which I have not had time to read in a busy life; to travel and to serve my neighbors and some public causes in ways in which I cannot serve them while holding important public office. As a beginning of what I hope may at least be a partial realization of this philosophy of my later life, I hereby resign as of September 18, 1922, the office of associate justice of the supreme court of the United States of America, which I have held during the past six years. With grateful appreciation, my dear Mr. President, of the many courtesies you have shown me thru many years, I am,

"Sincerely yours," "JOHN H. CLARKE."

Justice McKenna, senior member of the supreme court, and the only member in the city, expressed regret today when notified of Justice Clarke's resignation. A "more agreeable man" than Mr. Clarke never sat on the bench, he said, adding that he considered the appointment of former Senator Sutherland "excellent."

There have been few resignations from the supreme court, the most recent having been that of Justice Charles E. Hughes, who laid aside the robes to become a presidential candidate. Many justices have retired, however, and there are three members of the court eligible for retirement—Justices McKenna, Holmes and Day.

Justice Clarke's resignation leaves two members of the court from Ohio—Chief Justice Taft and Justice Day.

Ben Beckman from the vicinity of Murray was here visiting yesterday with friends and looking after some matters of business.

Mrs. Elmer Wetenkamp was a passenger on the early Burlington train today for Omaha where she will visit for a few hours there with friends.

Attorney J. A. Capwell of Elmwood, democratic candidate for county attorney, was here for a few moments today to look after some matters in the district court.
