The Ideal Purgative

As a purgative, Chamberlain's Tablets are the exact thing required. Strong enough for the most robust, mild enough for children. They cause an agreeable movement of the bowels without any of that terrible griping. They are easy and pleasant to take and agreeable in effect. Weyrich & Hadraba.

COUNTY FAIR BOOSTERS ON BIG AUTO TRIP

VISIT ALL TOWNS OF COUNTY; ALSO HOMES OF PROMINENT RESIDENTS.

Wednesday morning about 8 o'clock musical strains were heard to float thru the little valley of Weeping Water. Upon investigation this disturbance was laid to the Weeping Water band. It was the first of a series of concerts to be given that day. Those who were lucky enough to hear the other numbers were the participants in a tour of the eastern half of Cass county advertising the county fair to be held September 27-29. This trip was sponsored by the Farm Bureau, Fair board, breeders' association and business men of Weeping Water. Much credit must be given the farmers of Cass county who opened their homes to us and put their livestock at our disposal for inspection.

Immediately after the band concert about twenty-four car loads of enthusiastic boosters, led by the secretary of the fair association, Mr. Boone, drove out to Carl Davis' farm south of town. His herd of Percheron horses was on exhibit there. While there we got a good idea of Percheron type as this is about the best herd of Percherons in the county. After thirty minutes of study we drove on to Fred Carstens' farm. His herd of Shorthorn cattle was on exhibit. A good herd was shown and especially was there some good individuals on exhibit. He promised to bring some of them to the fair, so do not fail to see Carstens' Shorthorns the 27-29. His pure bred Percheron stallion was shown and a well put up piece of horse flesh it was.

Our next stop was at Avoca, where some of our towns people posted bills to the strains of jazz produced by aforesaid band. Soon after this, Nehawka was treated or mistreated to the same kind of performance after which we went to Ray Pollard's, the president of the fair association, place. Ray also raises Hampshire hogs and is very proud of it, as he knows where he gets his bacon. While there he told us of a project of feeding he has been carrying on the past year in which he has kept account of everything he fed his hogs and what they brought him. This was put forth in a very interesting way and it was brought out very forcibly that we should raise more hogs as he fed at his corn to hogs and realized $1.38 per bushel for it. This being a much more profitable market than most farmers found last year.

We then walked just across the road to E. M. Pollard's place, where he exhibited and told us the merits of his Ayrshire cattle. He only has a few cattle and is just starting in but by the fact he brought out in his talk we can readily see that he will not have to worry for fear the milk man will not arrive. While in Nehawka we also visited R. D. Stone's Spotted Poland China hogs. Mr. Stone has a fine large herd and we were very glad of this opportunity. Our next stop was at Union and as we were a little behind time with our schedule we hurried thru our studies there and drove out to W. B. Banning's orchard just east of town. While there Mr. Banning told us a few of the advantages and gave a few facts concerning his orchard. He is terracing his land in the orchard and has very good results. In the interest of those who had not seen much of this work we inspected it rather closely.

The next stop was at W. Swan's grove. This according to Carl Day & Co., Agent Snipes was the most important stop. And for the benefit of the poultry raisers of Cass county we would advise that when these two men are around they keep careful watch of their flocks. Mr. Banning had charge of the lunch which was spread on the ground by the ladies of the crowd and served cafeteria style. A good deal of praise must be given to the families of W. Swan, E. B. Chapman and W. B. Banning for the bountiful way in which they contributed to this project. Everything from fried chicken to after dinner mints was in evidence. Water was secured from a nearby well and lemonade was very much in evidence. Nobody showed very bad results, however.

Immediately after dinner a demonstration by the Jolly Workers of Avoca was given. This interesting demonstration was on "Possibilities of the Bungalow House Dress." The girls on this team are Muller Schackley and Dorothy Marquardt. Mrs. Paul Wolph is leader of this girls' clothing club, and has put forth every effort to make the work of this club a success. The girls did a splendid job showing us attractive house dresses, all of which had been made by the girls themselves. This is one of the clubs which will represent Cass county at the state fair. Three cheers for the Jolly Workers club. As soon as this was over we proceeded to Murray where the band gave the town a couple of rousing pieces.

Our next stop was at the A. O. Ramsey place between Murray and Plattsmouth, where his fine herd of Holstein Friesian cattle was exhibited. While there J. H. Frandse, who was with us all day, formerly chairman of the University of Nebraska Dairy department, now with the Nebraska Farm Journal, told us the good points of a dairy cow and explained the manufacture of milk from raw material by the dairy cow. As soon as this was over we proceeded to Holstein where the band gave the town a couple of rousing pieces. Our next stop was at the A. O. It's toasted. This one extra process gives a delightful quality that can not be duplicated

In evidence here. It was agreed by everyone that they should set this house up as their ideal.

About 2:30 we arrived at Plattsmouth and the band under the direction of Mr. Boone entertained the strikers for while. We then continued on our route.

The next stop was at C. L. Wiles where his flock of Barred Rock chickens was on exhibition. Mrs. Wiles had some 400 birds and it certainly made our mouth water to look at them as they were good to eat. Mrs. Wiles treated the crowd to lemonade which was very refreshing. After leaving C. L. Wiles we next looked at Spotted Poland China hogs. These belonged to Geo. Hennings and from the hogs in evidence we know that Mr. Hennings knows how to raise them.

We went from Hennings' to Louisville where the band rendered a few selections. Our next stop was at Manly where Mr. Ed Ruby got lost. He found his way back, however, after following the people who were going to hear the band play.

We arrived in Weeping Water about 8:00 o'clock after a 75 mile trip of much educational value. The crowd broke up to the air of "Home Sweet Home" played by the band. Then Friday morning what might be considered a repetition of the preceding Wednesday was started. The band as before opened the day with a few selections after which fifteen cars started on a tour of the western half of the county. Everything worked smoothly as we were now experienced hands after having so successfully completed our program Wednesday.

Our first stop was at the farm of John Rauth of Manly, where we looked over his fine herd of Short-horn cattle. Mr. Rauth pointed out some of the strong points of the Short-horn breed in a very interesting way.

The first town we found ourselves in was that of Murdock where Mr. Boone's band of melody makers entertained the natives for some little time.

W. A. Farmer's accredited flock of Rhode Island Red chickens was inspected and while there E. G. Maxwell, county agent of Douglas county, was called upon by County Agent Snipes to give a culling demonstration. This was very successfully carried out and we may be assured that our members will be on the job in the farm flocks of all those present. Mr. Farmer specializes in Rhode Island Reds but he also has about 300 White Leghorns. These are a little different type of chicken than are the Reds and as Mr. Farmer says are much better eaters.

After leaving Farmers we drove over some newly made road which caused considerable comment, to Ashland. By this time it was so hot that Haghey's corn had dried out so much that the band could not play until he watered it. With out much delay we were on the job in the town of Lemons south of town, where a repetition of the noon hour Wednesday was enjoyed. After inspecting Mr. Lemons' modern home we partook of fried chicken etc. just as if we were at home. Under the careful supervision of Mrs. Lemons we were served with cream and real honest to goodness cream in it too. Before dinner, however, we were given a cranial treat.

Several talks or toasts were given. Under the supervision of Toastmaster Snipes, the following responded: E. M. Pollard, a pioneer of Cass county, brought out the difference between the early Cass county and present Cass county. It has been a remarkable change, Congressman E. P. Sturm next followed and gave a very interesting talk also along historical side as he was an earlier settler as well as Mr. Pollard. S. D. Kittel, representing the Nebraska Farm Journal, entertained us with a story for a while and showed that he is proficient at telling stories. Ray Pollard was called upon next and he responded very readily with the subject of most vital interest to him—Hampshire hogs. He pointed out the difficulties and the obstacles which confront the pure bred breeder of the present time of not only hogs but other lines of livestock as well, and gave a solution of most of the problems. Then our gracious host, Mr. Lemons, was called upon and he stated that he was no talker, but contrary to the average speaker he de- cidedly is. After thanking Mr. Lemons and family very cordially and receiving an invitation to come back, we were on our way to Greenwood where the band entertained that peaceful village for a while.

We were met there by Chas. Hoffman who kindly showed us his place and showed us his fine herd of Poland China hogs and Holstein Friesian cattle. Mr. Hoffman is one of the progressive men of that neighborhood and is mighty proud of his stock which he has a right to be. His son, Elmer Hoffman, in the pig club of that vicinity, also exhibited the gilt which he is going to win first prize with at the state fair this week.

From there we went to Alvo and aroused that little village from a hot afternoon siesta by the strains of Yankee Doodle. After leaving Alvo we went to R. R. Adens' place just north of Eagle where we saw some mighty fine specimens of Duroc Jersey hogs and Buff Orpington chickens. After looking at those we went across the road to Chas. Jacobson's to look at his Poland China hogs and by the way he has some mighty fine ones too. When asked what he fed them he promptly took us out to the field and showed us a fine crop of soy beans which he sowed right in with the corn and is going to start to hog down before long. This makes a balanced ration and also saves the cost of harvesting the corn. Then came the biggest surprise and treat of the day. He led us up to the house where he had all the ice cream we could eat and Mr. McMahon stood upon the porch carving watermelon till you might have thought he was a butcher instead of a Smith Hughes agricultural teacher.

We then went on into Eagle where the band did justice to the town without Mr. Boone who had had so many watermelon seeds still in his mouth that every time he started to play he clogged up the mouthpiece of his horn. We then came home by the way of Elinwood and Wabash, giving each a concert, and arriving in Weeping Water in time to see the last few innings of the Weeping Water-Eagle game, but not in time to duck the onslaught of the Eagle warriors.

After being on this trip and looking over the prospects of Cass county we predict a great future.

The Key that Unlocks the Door to Long Living.

The men of eighty-five and ninety years of age are not the rotund, well fed, but thin, spare men, who live on a slender diet. Be as careful as he will, however, a man past middle age will occasionally eat too much or of some article of food not suited to his constitution, causing indigestion or constipation and he will need a dose of Chamberlain's Tablets to move his bowels and invigorate his stomach. When this is done, there is no reason why the average man should not live to a ripe old age. Weyrich & Hadraba.

ATTENDANCE AT STATE FAIR TOTALS 223,656

Lincoln, Sept. 8.—Attendance at the Nebraska state fair which closed at 4 p. m. today was 223,656 for the six days or only 11,381 below the mark of last year, the fair management announced tonight.

The attendance in 1919 was 262,458; in 1920, 270,669; and in 1921 225,937. The highest previous record was 213,937 in 1918.

Friday's mark alone this year was 35,551 as compared with 18,789 on the closing day last year.

5 1/2% EMPHASIZE FRENCH NOTE AT LEGION CONVENTION 5 1/2%

Nebraska world war veterans who attend the annual convention of the American Legion at New Orleans, October 16 to 20, will witness the portrayal of the life of the overseas fighter in the entertainment program. These amusements range from placid French village scenes to great naval and aerial displays. Three large downtown squares will be in imitation of the French village squares.

No Substitute Offered

Port amusement park is to be dressed in Mardi Gras garb, those in charge of the entertainment say. Dances will vary from those of the Creole days to modern steps. One of the features of the convention will be the parade in which 50,000 Legion boys will march to the tune of 100 bands and crack rifle and drum corps. A large number of the members of the Nebraska department of the Legion plan to attend the convention, a special train, one section of which will leave Omaha and another Lincoln, having been chartered to carry those desiring to go. Inasmuch as Pullman arrangements must be made in advance, it is urged that all who contemplate going get in touch with their post adjutants at once. The railroad fare will be around $39 from Plattsmouth for round trip, being the same as the normal one-way fare instead of the one cent a mile granted last year to Kansas City. A tourist section for the entire trip, and available for occupancy on siding near the downtown section of New Orleans, may be had for $21, and considering that it will accommodate two or three persons easily, will provide sleeping accommodations at considerably below the nominal hotel rates which it is announced will be in effect during the convention. Standard Pullman car accommodations may be had if desired, but only at regular rates, and there will be no parking of these cars in New Orleans.

Say what you will about druggists offering something "just as good" because it pays a better profit, the fact still stands that ninety-nine out of a hundred druggists recommend Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy, when the best medicine for diarrhoea is asked for, and do so because they know from what their customers say of it, that it can be depended upon.
