CASS CO. FARM BUREAU NOTES

Win at Nebraska State Fair
The stock judging team composed of Cecil Jacobsen, Roy Siekman and Carl Handrock of Eagle won fifth place in team judging. There were eighteen teams in the contest.

Cecil Jacobsen won first in judging hogs. There were fifty-four boys in this class. Roy won fourth place in sheep and Carl fifth in horses.

The Dairy club of Nehawka, composed of Frank and Ernest Pollard and Marion Stone, won third. The boys won first in placing Guernsey cows.

Spotted Polands
Sterling Ingwersen of Nehawka

won first in boar class and third in litter. Rex Timblin of Alvo won fifth of sow class.

State fair week proved to be full of successes for the Cass county club girls as well as the boys. The Jolly Workers of Avoca were represented at the state fair by the team, composed of Dorothy Marquardt and Schackley. Velma Diller and Anna Boyles very ably assisted in helping with the songs and yells and by spurring the team on to greater endeavor. This team was the state champions in the home economics division and will represent Nebraska at the interstate fair at Sioux City, Iowa, Sept. 18-22. This team competed with twenty-three other teams in home economics subjects. Much credit is due Mrs. Paul Wolph, leader of this club, who so ably coached this team and is now rejoicing with the girls.

The Hot Lunch club of Union was represented at the state fair by Alma Frans and Virginia Harris. This club demonstrated "The Hot Lunch Club in Schools." They prepared and served hot chocolate and told how a hot lunch club could be managed in a town or rural school. This team won first prize in hot lunch home economics division and second prize of $60.00 which was offered by the Ghirardelli Chocolate Co.

Cass county also had the most girls in camp at the commons and had the largest clothing exhibit at the state fair of any county in the state. The exhibit completely filled two booths, most of the clubs having only one booth. The following prizes were won:

First premium, collective exhibit, Jolly Farm Girls, Weeping Water; second premium, bungalow dress, Ruth Ranney, Weeping Water; first premium, towel, LaVon Frans, Union; second premium, wash dress, Alba Lund, Weeping Water; second premium, princess slip, Alba Lund, Weeping Water; second premium, dress protector, Greenwood; third premium, bungalow dress, Helen Morse, Weeping Water; fourth premium, lungalow dress, Ilene Donlan, Weeping Water; fifth premium, bungalow dress, Valley Nutzman, Avoca.

Bread and rolls—eighth premium, rolls, Mary Ahrens, Nehawka; 8th premium, white bread, Pearl Chapelle, Nehawka; 10th premium, rolls, Ruth Berbus, Nehawka.

G. O. P. COMMITTEE MEETING

The members of the republican county central committee and the candidates of the party will meet at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at Weeping Water to perfect the county organization and be ready to launch the campaign for the fall election.

DUCKS SHOULD BEGIN TO WATCH THEIR STEP

On Saturday, Sept. 16th, the Season Opens and Hunters Preparing For the Event.

On Saturday, September the 16th, the formal opening of the duck hunting season will be launched in this state and the local hunters are preparing to get out at the first break of day and start in on the season shooting along the Missouri and Platte rivers.

The nimrods have been very busy for the past few weeks in oiling up the old gun and getting ready the supply of decoys and the stock of shells in readiness for "der tag," as our old and not lamented friend, Kaiser Bill, would say.

George Tartsch, Will Streight, Cliff Forbes and others of the chief nimrods including Frank Gobelman and Dr. Caldwell, have been getting all ready for the auspicious occasion and are now ready to launch a great offensive on the unwary feathered residents along the rivers and streams in this locality.

County Clerk George Sayles has laid in a large supply of hunting licenses and all that is necessary now is the desire and the funds to procure the supplies for the season.

Those who are wise in the ways of hunting are willing to wager that this is going to be a good season for the ducks along the rivers and streams of the northern states.

HOLD THE OPENING MEETING OF YEAR

Ladies of St. Mary's Guild Entertained at Home of Mrs. R. W. Clement, Yesterday.

Yesterday afternoon the ladies of the St. Mary's Guild of St. Luke's Episcopal church held their first meeting of the year at the pleasant home of Mrs. R. W. Clement, with Mrs. T. B. Peterson assisting and the occasion was quite largely attended by the members of the society.

The ladies spent the time in discussing the plans for the year's work and the preparation of articles for the Christmas shop, that has grown to be one of the features of the holiday season in the community. The ladies will in the next few weeks start in on their needlework so that the shop will have the usual fine array of beautiful articles for the buying public.

At a suitable hour the hostesses served a very dainty luncheon that was very much enjoyed and which served to complete an interesting and profitable afternoon.

As a guest of the guild, Mrs. Daisy Pickett of Evansville, Indiana, was present to meet the many old friends, being a house guest of Miss Dora Fricke, and other old friends here.

MRS. DWYER VERY LOW

The many friends of Mrs. D. O. Dwyer will be greatly grieved to learn that her condition at the Immanuel hospital in Omaha is very serious and since last Thursday she has been gradually growing weaker until her physical strength is at a very low ebb and has caused the greatest apprehension to the members of the family. Mrs. Dwyer rallied nicely from her operation for gall stones but has since weakened and gradually failed.

PURCHASES NEW CAR

J. E. Mason, who has taken over the agency of the Chevrolet automobile, has been active in looking after the sale of this popular gas wagon and on Monday disposed of one of the celebrated "490" models to Roy Gregg, one of the enterprising young farmers of the Mynard neighborhood. The car is a very handsome one and the new owner is contemplating having a very pleasant time with it in the future.

OLD VETERAN POORLY

Fred Heinrich, Sr., one of the veterans of the Civil war, and a long time resident of this city, is in very serious condition at the home of his son, Fred, at Havelock, where he has been for the past three months visiting. The condition of the aged man who is in his eighty-fifth year, has become such that yesterday the members of the family were called to his bedside. This morning a message from Havelock gave word of the patient resting a little easier, but owing to his extreme age he is in very serious shape.

PURCHASES COAL BUSINESS

The Clويد Lumber and Coal Co. of this city has just closed the deal whereby they secure the coal business of C. G. Fricke, paying the sum of $5,305 to the Livingston Loan & Building association, the present owners of the yard. The purchase includes all of the stock on hand, the horses, trucks, wagons and other equipment as well as the office building and sheds and the lease of the land from the Burlington on which the sheds are located.

NOTICE TO PAY BILLS

The Livingston Loan and Building Association has taken over the C. G. Fricke coal business, and all accounts due to him. All the accounts due to C. G. Fricke in his coal and feed business have been placed in the hands of A. L. Tidd for collection. All persons knowing themselves indebted to C. G. Fricke for coal, wood and feed, will call at the office of A. L. Tidd and pay same.—The Livingston Loan and Building Association.

ASK THAT MEN IN THE SHOPS BE GIVEN LIBERTY

SUPT. ALLEN HAS DELEGATION
OF BUSINESS MEN OF CITY
VISIT THE SHOPS.

ARE TREATED TO LUNCHEON

This morning, at the invitation of Division Superintendent N. C. Allen of the Burlington, some forty-eight of the business men of the city, representing practically all of the business houses of the community, visited the Burlington shops to be shown through the plant and also to enjoy luncheon as the guests of the railroad company.

The visitors were escorted by Mr. Allen, Superintendent Baird, Trainmaster Connitt and other of the local officials through the shops to view the various departments and their workings.

The announcement was made that the Burlington had on its payrolls at this point 450 men in the mechanical department of the shops and each department, with the exception of the boiler shop, seemed to be supplied with a large force of men.

After the delegation had visited the departments they were escorted to the group of buildings in the south portion of the yards where are quartered the men who have come here to work, and these buildings consist of sleeping quarters as well as dining hall, recreation room and kitchens. These kitchens and dining rooms are under the control of the Greer company that supply the Burlington with their boarding camps at different points.

At the close of the very generous feed, which embraced a very fine array of the good things of the market, Mr. N. C. Allen gave a short talk to both the employees and the visitors relative to the situation from the viewpoint of the railroad and its officers. He stated that the company had been compelled to adopt methods to deal with the necessity of operating for the benefit of the public and for which they had advertised for men and had secured the present force which he stated numbered 450, and he expressed to the men his appreciation of their work and efforts. He also told the employees of the formation of the Burlington Mechanical Association, a formed among the employees of the railroad in the lines west of the Missouri river and also stated that the time had come when the railroad company desired to have the men in their employ allowed to go and come from their work as they chose and to assume places as citizens of the community.

To the delegation of Plattsmouth business men, Mr. Allen stated that many of the new employees desired to bring their families here to live and for this reason they were anxious that the status of the men be assured in the protection of the city government.

The Burlington officials and the business men at the close of the meeting held a short conference as to the matter of the new men who have been brought here by the railroad being given the right to pursue their own ways when through with their work and not be compelled to remain in the shop yards all of the time as they have been since the strike was first called or since they arrived here to work.

The general sentiment shown was that some means should be devised by conference with the city government as well as with the officials of the various unions as to what would be an agreeable plan of the handling of the situation here where the fact is self evident that a change will be made in the near future affecting the condition of the men who are now employed here.

While every merchant expressed nothing but the warmest regard for their friends who are numbered among those who have gone out on strike, the feeling was that the city should have the benefit of the desire of the men of the shops to get out and patronize the stores or attend churches or places of amusement in the evening. The strike has made necessary the assistance of the business houses to many of their old patrons and friends who have been out in their cause and this has led many to feel keenly the lack of the flow of monthly receipts and which they feel would be bettered somewhat by the men now at work being allowed to spend their money.

In speaking to the business men, Mr. Allen stated that the Burlington through President Hale Holden had announced that they were not parties to any negotiations and that those who desired to enter the service must do so by application to the shop superintendent, but that to the former employees the company would allow their former pension rights and sick or death benefits if they were accepted or taken back into the service.

Mr. Allen stated that the railroad desired to give the citizens the right to handle the matter as they thought best but the employees of the company would be given their full rights as citizens and the protection of the state would be called upon if the city and county authorities were not able to give the men the protection of their liberties.

It was finally decided that a committee would confer with the city government to see if the plans could not be carried out that would allow the men to come out and spend their money if they desired in the best interests of the community.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION TO BE GIVEN AGAIN

The Civil Service commission invites special attention to the fact that in an examination held recently in Omaha, Neb., and other cities throughout the United States for assistant examiner, Patent office, applicants were not secured in the number desired and that this examination will be held again on October 18, 19 and 20.

Persons interested in this or other examinations should apply to the secretary of the U. S. Civil Service board at the local postoffice for detailed information and application blanks.

Thomas Murty, the Weeping Water banker, was a visitor in the city yesterday attending to some matters in connection with the estate of his brother, John Murty, in the county court.

Will H. Meisinger of near Cedar Creek was here yesterday for a few hours looking after some matters of business with the merchants.
