GOD'S HUSBANDRY

We are laborers together with God: ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's building.—I Corinthians iii, 9.

If winter comes, will the plumbers be far behind?

One man tells us his girl is worth her weight in coal.

If health is wealth, a hay fever victim is almost broke.

Funny things happen. A poet has become a prize fighter.

Shant skirts are taxed in Burgaria. They tax the eyes here.

The man who takes his own time never has any left over.

Every man starts life as a baby. It is best to outgrow it.

A man who gives his friend away finds he hasn't any left.

A man who can't deliver the goods need not expect to collect.

Laying the winter's supply of coal is still a thrilling adventure.

What would help a safety first campaign more than longer skirts?

The republican slump in Maine shows which way the wind is blowing.

A few more weeks to do something to be thankful for Thanksgiving.

Eight persons attended the socialist party state convention in Topeka. Evidently Kansas is improving.

A professor has discovered among some ancient ruins what is supposed to be the eleventh commandment.

The Turkish war was King Constantine's bet, and having lost it, it looks as though he might be starting for Holland most any time now.

Don't forget that the cost of policing the railroads is also charged on the freight bills—another item in public opposition to strike violence.

America's oldest banker says that eating too much is one evil he has avoided. Generally the fellow who has the price doesn't have the appetite.

They have got one lonely prisoner so far in the Herrin investigation, out of the hundreds who were reported to have taken part in the massacre.

Seems like you can't please everybody. One editor recently reported of a social gathering that a "splendid time was enjoyed by quite a number of the guests."

Charles W. Bryan is demonstrating daily that his election as governor of Nebraska will be no mistake. He possesses all the qualities to make an excellent governor.

You never notice the number of Fords that pass your house in an hour until you sit down and try to listen to your neighbor's radio concert across the street.

Quite a difference in the Maine election returns this year and those of two years ago. The voters are not to be fooled all the time, especially a great many of them.

Here's a real reason at last. One reason why the world remains in sin is because the sinner attracts more attention than the saint and almost everyone has a desire to be in the limelight.

Well, we finally succeeded in trading off the old hot wave for a young cool wave, and now our energies will be needed to keep the newcomer from growing into a blizzard.

From New Orleans comes a rumor that James A. Stillman, New York, who staged a big divorce scandal, is seeking to buy Frevost Island, a lonely spot four miles long. Rumor adds that Stillman may retire by himself to think it over. If true, you understand him. In joy, man wants company. In sorrow, he wants to be alone. The old saying, "Misery loves company," is nine-tenths bunk.

Remember Bargain day next Wednesday.

Out of sight is not out of mind, coal is and isn't.

Some think the tariff protects everything except prosperity.

A wise man never poisons his wife or selects their wall paper.

The man of the hour in Ireland is lucky if he lasts that long.

Some towns have all the luck. Two motorcycles smashed in Detroit.

Our trains may be late; but Russian time tables are calendars.

"Plain girls are clever," finds a professor. But professor, is a clever girl plain?

Irene Castle dislocated her collar bone. That reminds us, football will be back soon.

Every time a house burns we wish it had waited until winter when fires will be needed.

A mayor of an Ohio town fined his son two dollars; but all fathers can't be mayors.

We respect telephone girls. They are connected with some of the best families in town.

Wouldn't it be great if an American dollar was worth as much here as it is in Germany?

This may be an awful country; but on Tagwa Island there are 14 women to every man.

An elephant's trunk has 40,000 muscles. It is the only trunk a baggage man can't smash.

Tennessee carries women's rights too far. A Chattanooga rooster hatched out some eggs.

Man who dropped dead on Wall street may have been a farmer learning the price of wheat.

If the republicans can get any comfort from the returns from Maine they are welcome to it.

Italy has hired an American rain-maker who may turn out to be only an American money maker.

Rumblings of a new war disturbing Europe in consequence of the abdication of Constantine, the king of Greece.

The shopmen of Havelock and Lincoln have endorsed Ex-Governor Morehead for congress. The laborer is worthy of his hire, as all people believe.

The farmers are rapidly finding out why their taxes are so big. The code and McKelvie's army of appointive officers drawing large salaries, which draw largely on the taxpayers of the state.

The proposals to amend the income tax law indicate the lurking uneasiness in congress over the tax situation. There is ground for uneasiness. The war ended four years ago. Yet there has been no attempt to put our hastily contrived taxation system on a scientific basis.

Senator Hitchcock is right out in what he believes. The voters know he is an honorable, upright gentleman, and has proved his ability by his work among the ablest statesmen of the United States senate. He will be re-elected because the voters believe he is, most emphatically, the right man in the place.

FROM THE DAYS OF CYRUS

Twenty-five hundred and sixty-eight years ago a prosperous gentleman of Sardis, Lydia, having heard that the Persian army had stormed the city wall, ran home in high excitement and thrust all his ready cash, some 30 gold starters, into a kitchen pot. Then he buried the pot in the back yard where the Persians couldn't find it; and now it has been dug up by American archaeologists, to be added to the swollen gold reserve that is already so much bigger than we need. What became of the owner is not definitely known but, with apologies to Herodotus and the Ionic dialect it can be related by inference why the Persians didn't get the gold.

The Persians of those days were rude and simple mountaineers, who hadn't heard of the high spots of civilization till they captured Sardis. Then they went to it with the enthusiasm of bibulous American tourists passing the three mile limit Croesus, whose image and super-scription appeared on these gold pieces had been spared by Cyrus; so presently he remarked to his conqueror: "King, why is your army making so much noise?" And Cyrus, laughing his rude and simple Persian laugh, replied: "That's an easy one. My army is looting your city." "Not at all," said Croesus. "It is looting your city." Whereupon Cyrus, seeing that there was no percentage for him in looting, sent out the M. P.'s and called his army off before it had destroyed all taxable values; and from that day on political philosophy was enriched with the doctrine of taking no more than is warranted by circumstances and leaving to future generations the labor of digging for the things that are not in sight.

Survey has made a canvass to find out why so many young people leave the farms and finds that in most cases the desire for better education than the usual rural school affords, is the cause. Cass county will have more reason to bless its consolidated schools as the years roll on.

In the nomination of Hubert D. Stephens for senator in Mississippi, that state will now be represented by two dependable democrats. Mr. Stephens has served ten years in the low house of congress. A strong team will Pat Harrison and Hubert Stephens make in the senate.

The text is as follows: "Emas rof yltmorp tseyap uoht seenu rapawen a daer ton tlaht uoht." The commandment is easily translated by beginning at the end of the sentence and reading backward.

M. Clemenceau's intended trip to the United States may indicate that he has decided to adopt politics as a career in France as soon as he gets a little experience.

CHICKEN THIEVES ARE ACTIVE IN THE COUNTRY DISTRICT

Visit Country Home of P. A. Horn and Make Way with 150 of the Choice Young Fries.

There is evidently some one in this portion of Cass county that is excessively fond of "chicken" of the old fashioned feathered variety, judging from the reports that come from Eight Mile Grove precinct.

The country home of P. A. Horn, west of Plattsmouth, was visited by what must have been an organized party of chicken thieves on last Thursday night and as the result of the visit there is 150 of the choice chickens missing from the roost.

There was no particular disturbance caused and all of the family as well as Harry Johnson and his assistant of this city, who were working on some plastering, were at the house all evening and did not hear the removal of the chickens by the visitors.

A trail was found across the field leading to the highway and through which the visitors had evidently made their getaway from the scene of their activities.

Whether the work was that of a roving band of travelers or not has not definitely been established, as they seem to have made a successful getaway.

PLATTSMOUTH TESTIMONY

Home Proof, Here, There and Everywhere.

When you see Doan's Kidney Pills recommended in this paper you most always find the recommender a Plattsmouth resident. It's the same everywhere—in 3,899 towns in the U. S. Fifty thousand people publicly thank Doan's. What other kidney remedy can give this proof of merit, honesty and truth? Home testimony must be true or it could not be published here. Read this Plattsmouth recommendation. Then insist on having Doan's. You will know what you are getting:

Mrs. Charles Mason, 312 Third St., says: "I have had quite a bit of experience with Doan's Kidney Pills. I used to have attacks when my back would be so lame and weak it bothered me a great deal to be around on my feet. My kidneys were disordered at times, and I felt miserable and had no ambition. A member of my family who had used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results advised me to try them which I did with the best result. In a short time I felt like a different woman. I get Doan's at Fricke's Drug Store and use them occasionally when I get tired in my back and they always quickly relieve me.

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Mason had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

SOME FINE COLORADO APPLES AND PEACHES

Mrs. Amil Stillger, who arrived in the city Tuesday of this week from her home in Grand Junction, Colorado, presented the Journal man with some mighty fine apples and peaches, sent by the famous Pigley-Wigley stores, one of which is located in her home city. This firm is interested in the upbuilding of their city and community and never loses an opportunity to advance their wonderful fruit resources. The samples received at this office were surely very fine.

Mrs. Stillger is well pleased with her new Colorado home, where they moved about a year ago, and says Grand Junction is a city that is advancing very rapidly.

They are now erecting a new $378,000 court house, a new $100,000 theatre and many other new buildings of a smaller class, including a beautiful new home for the Sentinel, their leading daily newspaper.

Mrs. Stillger says she will always enjoy a visit at the old home in Plattsmouth, but expects to make her future home in Colorado, the state with the wonderful climate. She will be here visiting with her parents for several weeks.
