

Nehawka Department

Prepared in the interests of the People of Nehawka and Surrounding Vicinity Especially for the Journal Readers.

Aria Griffin has been kept at his home and bed for a short time with a very sore throat. Vincent Straub of near Otoe was looking after some business matters at Nehawka last Monday afternoon. A. D. Crunk of Union was a business visitor in Nehawka, bringing some wheat to the Nehawka mills. Miss Hope St. John, who is attending the state university, was a visitor at home for over the week-end. Ernest Kropp and Vernor Lundberg were looking after some business matters in Omaha last Monday, driving over in their auto. H. H. Stoll took Fred Dow over to W. L. Doughty's last Monday afternoon to assist in making some repairs on the threshing outfit. W. A. Stoll and F. A. Hanson were hauling the winter's supply of coal from Nehawka to the Heebner school last Monday, each with a truck. Chester Waldo, who is employed in the Sheldon factory, took a few hours layoff last Monday to assist in unloading a car of coal for the schools. Miss Margaret Lane of Weeping Water has accepted the position of operator at the Nehawka exchange, and is proving an excellent person for the position. Frank Herring, from west of Murray, was a visitor in Nehawka, bringing some wheat to the Nehawka mill which he was exchanging for the "Letter Roll" flour. C. A. Stone, who with Mrs. Stone have been visiting for some time at their home at Steamboat Springs, Colorado, was a visitor at Plattsmouth last Monday. E. R. Kendle and wife were spending the week end at Syracuse, and while there Mr. Kendle enjoyed a hunt among the old haunts and was rewarded by a good bunch of game. Miss Alma Ost, who has been visiting in Lincoln at the home of friends for some three days, returned home last Saturday evening, having enjoyed a most pleasant visit while away. W. B. Dale, who was visiting here for a few days last week, returned to his work that of game warden at Broken Bow, and was accompanied by Elijah Griffin, who goes along to work in the west. The Rev. W. H. Underwood, superintendent of the Crowell home at Blair, was a visitor in Nehawka last Sunday and occupied the pulpit for the evening as well as in the morning service. Rev. Underwood proved to be an excellent speaker. Mrs. Isabel Thomas, of Palmyra, has been visiting at the home of her son, Herman L. Thomas and family, and with them enjoyed the Frans family reunion at Plattsmouth last Sunday, which was held at Garfield park, and at which there was a large crowd. C. E. Hitt and wife, with their little son Richard, of Plattsmouth, were visiting last Sunday at the home of Grandfather W. A. Hicks, who was more than pleased to have a visit from the little grandson. Of course he wanted to see the father and husband as well, but the little grandson took grandfather's eye. George Tate, who has been blasting stumps out for V. P. Sheldon near Avoca for some time, has completed the work and was assisting in the spring away of a car load of rock at the Nehawka schools last Monday. Mr. Tate was assisting Mr. C. F. Keltner, the efficient janitor who looks after the school building in such an excellent way. Henry M. Pollard has acquired a most enjoyable auto, when he exchanged his Stearns chummy roadster for the Hudson Coach, which some of the young ladies say is able to easily make 95 miles per hour. They claim when it is in full speed that the gas can be shut off at Weeping Water and it will coast clear to Nehawka. Of course we would like to see it do the feat. It is claimed that cars being county number "2" were numerous along the "O" street last Sunday, and that as many as fifty bushels of apples were toted away from the orchards of E. M. Pollard. Just as some people think they can steal apples and get away with it and would want to send a person to the penitentiary if he entered their homes and lifted a lunch from the refrigerator, we do not know, but such seems to be the case.

Will Paint All Buildings L. H. Young and son, Parr, have engaged Messrs Henry Feltes and his assistant, Edward Woods, to paint their buildings at the farm five miles north of Nehawka. Messrs. Founs have recently had constructed some new buildings and they wish the others will be given a good painting this fall. It is certain that Mr. Young and son know where to go to get the best work done.

Will Hold Reception Soon The people of Nehawka will in a short time hold a reception for the faculty of the Nehawka schools and for the Rev. E. O. Johnson any who at the Methodist church. The people of this town know just how to do a gracious act of this kind, as has been proven a number of times in the just recent past.

Played Ball Here The teams of Union and Nehawka played ball at the local grounds of the home team last Sunday, with the result that Nehawka was victor over the team from over east, the score being Union 3, Nehawka 15. It was not a very good day for base ball either.

Mrs. West Returning Home Mrs. D. C. West is returning home from an extended stay in the west. During her stay in the west, the home folks have been very busy with the changing of the home and making it indeed a bower of beauty. The porch at the home has been enlarged and made a most beautiful place, and a room added for a sun room, and has proved to be at the end of the work, a most beautiful place. The scheme of harmony in colors, with furniture, furnishings and fixtures has been deftly carried out by the work of those engaged in the building. The scheme has been superintended by Mrs. Walter Wunderlich, while the work did much of the work. The carpenter was Byron Baker of Weeping Water, while the painting and decorating was done by Morris Pollard and Walter Wunderlich.

Were Judging Hogs Monday The agricultural class of the Nehawka school last Monday afternoon were at the home of Raymond G. Pollard, where they were judging Hampshire hogs under the instruction of Superintendent W. L. Burby of the schools. There were present the entire class, which is composed of fifteen of the real live young men of this community, they being William August, Harold Dodson, Clyde Fleischman, Ralph Harshman, Harry Ingwerson, Harold Ketleheit, Sterling Hodge, Chester Plybon, Orville Philpot, Leonard Richmond, Marion Stone, Leonard St. John and Raymond Waldo.

Nehawka School Notes The first grade has learned sixteen words. The school has two end gates that they wish to sell at cost. Many of the books ordered to fill in have arrived and been put to immediate use. The girls taking domestic science have put up peaches and tomatoes and have made grape preserves and jelly. A new desk and chair have arrived for the domestic science department. Our equipment in this department is very complete. The shop has been equipped with a grinder run by pedals. This sharpens the tools very fast and is a valuable addition to the equipment. Mr. Burby had a letter from the state supervisor of agricultural education saying that all over there was an increased enrollment in the vocational courses. The second grade is working on the table of two's. The children were glad to see Florence Conrad back in school. She has been in Omaha for a few days. We are proud of our attendance record and hope to keep it up. The eighth grade civics class is studying "The Community and Community Life." Their discussions are very interesting. The seventh grade is studying the South American continent for their month's work in geography. The report of the project carried by Lloyd August has been completed. On an eight acre patch of wheat he procured 42.5 bushels per acre. After paying rent and other expenses (including pay to himself he made $96.00 which is considered very good. The agricultural class judged a fine bunch of hares at R. C. Pollard's last Wednesday. Their afternoon was well spent. They got some valuable lessons in regard to what the butcher demands in this class of animals. In shop work they are making bread boards and self feeders for swine. The classes in the high school are taking turns putting on programs for convocation which will be held once per week. The seniors put on the first program Thursday noon. Their subject was "The Value of Music." Papers were read by Grace Linville, Helen Brandt, and Leona Simpkins. Pieces were then played on the phonograph and something of the life of the musician read by Ernest Pollard. Merrill Sheldon ran the machine.

Seniors Have Big Time From Wednesday's Daily. Yesterday was a day of triumph for the seniors of the high school and one of deep and besetting gloom for the freshmen, who are just starting out on their long four years trip through the realms of the high school. The senior girls decided on a stunt that aggravated the spirit of the underclassmen, when they donned shoe strings composed of green and white, the freshmen colors. The incident caused much fun for both classes as the freshmen kept the seniors on the go when not in the school room to avoid capture and the removal of the offending shoestrings, and the seniors thought they had slipped one over on their younger associates.

Now in Auburn Fred Borne has taken over the management of the Rex theatre at Auburn. He will continue to publish the Union Union, however, with his capable wife, who is postmistress at Union, in charge of it during her husband's absence.—Nebraska City Press.

BRYAN IS SPEAKER AT THE GAGE FAIR

Beatrice, Neb., Sept. 26.—A crowd of more than 1,000 attended the opening day of the county fair today. It was democratic day, Charles W. Bryan, candidate for governor, being the speaker. Mr. Bryan, who was introduced by Chairman Tom Adams of the county committee, devoted most of his address to an arraignment of the McKelvie administration and the code law, citing cases of duplication costing the taxpayers of the state thousands of dollars annually. Mr. Bryan also discussed the tariff law recently enacted by congress. Prior to his address he was the guest at dinner given by democrats of the city. Exhibits at the fair are large, the live stock entries being the largest in years.
