INTO THE NET THEY HID

The heathens are sunk down in the pit that they made in the net which they hid is their own foot taken.—Psalm ix, 15.

When hubby cooks his own breakfast you know who is boss.

A raving beauty's hubby tells us he wishes should would stop raving.

Big crowds are turning out to hear Senator Hitchcock and Charley Bryan.

The man who talks to himself wants to hear something he can believe.

"Train wreck injures nine"—headline. That reminds us, football is back.

Bread wasn't made with yeast until 1650, but some of it hasn't kept very well.

Doctors agree a big breakfast is good for you. Just try to make the cook believe it.

London taxicabs are said to suffer from old age. The disease spread to this country.

John J. Butler was killed while shaking a rug. Show this to your wife next time.

Rickenbacher, famous aviator, is married. While he works his wife will look up to him.

Love makes the world go around; but knocking a man on the head has the same effect.

Before you get through paying on your summer clothes it is time to buy winter ones.

Our oil output is increasing. And since school opened the castor oil intake is increasing.

If the parlor isn't enough, before proposing, go back and see how she looks in the kitchen.

Having a two dollar bill may be bad luck; but not having one is often worse than that.

Clemenceau, the Tiger of France, may come over here for an attack on American banquets.

In this talkative age, it is strange that radio men sell more receiving than broadcasting sets.

In politics, carrying water on both shoulders never did get a candidate very far in the election.

There is a Sanskrit word of 152 syllables. Please do not tell the man who names Pullman cars.

Germany must understand, however, that a moratorium is a stay of execution, not a pardon.

A Bloomfield, N. J., girl went crazy when she saw her suitor. This, however, is nothing new.

One night 300,000 storks roosted in Oeynhausen, Germany. They may have been leaving France.

A St. Louis laundryman shot himself. He may have forgotten to fasten all the buttons on a shirt.

The business of congress is slightly delayed by the impression of many a member that he can vote more confidently after the fall election.

In hopping by airplane all the way across the continent in two hops it will be universally remarked that Lieut. Doolittle did a good deal.

The Turks say they desire to get into Thrace to liberate the oppressed Turks there. The question seems to be whether the Greeks shall oppress the Turks or the Turks the Greeks.

Hunt up your tax receipt and take a peep at it. You will then see why you should vote against McKelvie and his gang of sap-suckers in office, who were made so by this nefarious code.

Followers of Senator Bob La Follette see in his sweeping victory a big boost for the third national party, "of which it is hoped he may become the kernel." Evidently a nut party.

Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, says the public is sadly disappointed with not only the tariff bill but also with the whole administration record. The senator is so situated to find these matters out.

Senator Walsh of Massachusetts will speak in Omaha next Saturday. He is one of the most brilliant men in the United States senate, and people from all the surrounding country will flock to hear him.

That is a piquant story from Piqua, O., which tells us that a newspaper reporter was fined $25 for seeking to interview a man on Sunday. And probably that man wasn't worth interviewing, either.

If Randall only knew it, the republicans have no hope of his election as governor. The leaders are making their only effort to elect Howell and defeat Hitchcock. He will find out this fact after the election.

No office holder should be punished at the polls for failing to fulfill his campaign promise, because some times his failure is not his fault. But it is all the same—he ought to be punished for making the promises in the first place.

Years ago the ice men solved the dull season problem by going into the coal business, but nobody knows why they haven't gone into the light overcoat and felt hat business to tide over the little lull between ice weather and coal weather.

The disproportion between the sexes varies greatly throughout Europe, but every country that has been at war has a large surplus of women. On the whole continent of Europe, according to English statistics, there is an excess of 25 million women.

Charley Bryan will be elected governor because the people have great confidence in him. He favors the people's interests and will protect those interests by repudiating the McKelvie code, that makes a whole regiment "pits" at the governor's command.

That man who is hauling his wife from California to Palm Beach in a two horse wagon is evidently master in his own house, wherever that house is. There isn't a man in Nebraska who could make his wife ride across the continent in a jolting two horse wagon.

The radical influences in Michigan and the states adjoining sent their witch burners into Michigan to beat Senator Townsend. They wanted so much to beat him—and then failed! Unless a democrat can beat him in November we shall be glad to see him re-elected.

Judge Wray has evidently shot his wad by trying to sell out the progressives to the republicans, but he will miss his mark by a long range. Wonder if Howell hasn't promised his support to Wray for senator when Norris' time expires. But Norris will have something to say about delivering the goods.

Many standpat republicans will not support Brookhart, republican candidate for the U. S. senate in Iowa, because he is a progressive. In this state Howell, the candidate for senator, is trying to carry water on both shoulders. When it suits the community where progressives prevail, he is progressive. Do you like that sort of a candidate?
