THREE SEPARATE BALLOTS AT COMING FALL ELECTION

Referendum on One, Political Candidates on Another and Non-Political on Third.

County clerks have commenced to bombard Secretary of State Amsberry about the form of the ballot as carried in the compiled statutes of 1922. The statutes contain an old form which does not conform to amendments adopted by the legislature of 1921. That legislature amended the act of 1919, revised statutes of 1913, by providing that all proposals submitted by initiative or referendum and proposals for constitutional amendments shall be submitted upon a separate ballot. With the non-political ballot. This makes three ballots to be voted this fall. The form of the ballot printed in the 1922 statutes places referendum propositions at the head of the general election ballot, followed by straight party circles and followed by constitutional amendments. This was changed by the legislature of 1921 so that the party circles come first upon the ballot, followed by candidates for president and vice president if any are to be elected, then the candidates for United States senator, then the state ticket beginning with governor, followed by congressional, legislative and county candidates. This year no presidential candidate is elected so the ticket will start with the straight party circles, followed by United States senatorial candidates, state, congressional, legislative and county tickets.

According to the amendment of 1921 the four referred acts of the legislature must be printed upon separate ballots. Secretary of State Amsberry has asked the attorney general for an opinion on this subject.

The legislature of 1921 provided a plan for district sample ballots for the general election and provided that a copy of the ballot shall be printed in one or more newspapers of each county. A copy of the published ballot shall be posted at each polling place.

SEMI-FINALS IN THE TENNIS TOURNAMENT PLAYED

Rev. Calvert and Edgar Wescott defeat Robert Walling and E. A. Wurl in Stiff Game.

One of the most important games in the city tennis doubles tournament was staged last evening at the Larson court when Robert Walling and E. A. Wurl played Rev. John Calvert and Edgar Wescott and as the result of the contest which was hotly fought all the way through, Calvert and Wescott were the winners by the score of 6-3, 6-4, 6-3. The game attracted more attention than any held heretofore and the rooters for both sides were present at the court. Rev. Calvert was at his best and played a game which was impossible for his opponents to equal and the assistance of his younger partner in checking the plays of the opposition was very effective.

While the game in the semi-finals was being played, Alfred Knorr and R. W. Knorr were engaging Superintendent DeVolve and Hill Martin on the municipal courts on Washington avenue and as a result of the coming of darkness found them tied, one set apiece. The first set was taken by DeVolve and Martin, 6-4, and the succeeding set by Calvert and Knorr, 6-4. Early this morning, when the greater part of the population was wrapped in slumber, the four tennis enthusiasts hastened forth to do battle for the deciding set and as a result Calvert and Knorr won by the score of 6-2. Messrs. Calvert and Knorr will now play James Kuykendall and Ed Fricke and the winner of this match will meet Rev. Calvert and Edgar Wescott in the finals.

RALLY AND PROMOTION DAY IS GREAT SUCCESS

Sunday School of Church Enjoys Fine Services in Promotion of Members of Organization.

From Wednesday's Daily: The Presbyterian church was a bevy of beauty in decorations composed of garlands of oak leaves and the fall flowers that added their beauty to the handsome interior of the church building.

The music for the rally and promotion day program of the Sunday school in charge of Mrs. Edna Marshall Eaton and Miss Estelle Hotal and consisted of a choir of eight girls.

Miss Pearl Stants and Mrs. H. G. McClusky were in charge of the morning program and which was very beautiful and impressive, symbolizing as it did the advancement of the young people in the work of the Master.

There were fifteen transferred from the cradle roll to the beginners class. This was in charge of Mrs. Nelson Jena and was a very happy ceremony, as each little girl removed pin or hair curl from the banner of the class and they then passed thru the gates prepared for the ceremony to the higher class where little chairs adorned with bows of blue and pink awaited them. Each of the children carried their promotion certificate.

Five new names were entered on the cradle roll, these being dropped after which little Miss Wave Smith sang appropriate words. This held the charm that only the hushing words of childhood can give.

When were promoted to the primary department and ten to the junior and five to the intermediate.

The Sunday school uses the departmental system of grading and while the whole school was advanced to work, only a smaller number were advanced to another department. The school awarded beautiful promotion certificates to those completing the departments.

The program was unusually attractive and impressive as each of the little folks passed through the gates in the midst of garlands and were welcomed by two of the next higher departments and then another garden was fitted to allow them to pass into the advanced department. All of the program showed the thoughtfulness of the little folks and the excellent training they had received.

From Tuesday's Daily: The Busy Boys Pig club has reason to be proud of its record. This club was organized last February, as a sow and litter club. At the county fair they carried away twenty-seven ribbons and close to $50 prize money. John Horn took 2 firsts, 4 seconds, 3 thirds on his Duroc Jerseys. Latone Hennings 3 first, 2 seconds, 1 third on his Spotted China. Maynar Tritsch took first second and third on his Poland China and Elmer Salsberg was high on the winning grand champion, junior champion, besides 4 firsts, 2 seconds and $29 in prizes.

This club also took first in judging. Verner Kaffenberger was the best hog judge in Cass county, being the only one to score 100 per cent, which is quite a record for a twelve year old boy.

The diptheria scare which went out over the telephones was very unfortunate as it kept some of the boys from being there with their pigs.

The boys are very proud of their leader, John E. Kaffenberger, and give him the credit for their success for he has been untiring in his efforts to help them in every way possible and we know the boys will appreciate his work as they get older.

These boys also had to keep a record of their pigs, when farrowed, how fed, and what was used, and write a history of their work to make them eligible for prizes.

SUGGEST THAT LADIES TAKE UP HORSESHOE

Since our recent boost for the formation of the horse shoe pitchers' club, we have been approached by some of the enthusiastic male followers of the sport, who insist that a grave omission was made when the ladies were not invited to get into the game. The gentlemen submit a list of players that look very formidable and should equal if not surpass the boys that were listed as prospects for the club.

While we know little about the game of horse shoes, having only set in for a few hands, it would certainly be a fine thing to see the girls get out the old horse shoes, but we urge that only the single girls take up the pastime, as practicing with "ringers" would certainly put the married ladies in a dangerous class when it comes to hanging a "ringer" on hubby for coming home at "Two O'Clock in the Morning."

From Tuesday's Daily: Kathryn Steinkamp was awarded a divorce from Roy Steinkamp by District Judge Goss yesterday on allegations of cruelty. She got a decree of separate maintenance a year ago. They became reconciled later but again were unable to agree and she sued for divorce.

She testified that her husband and his father, Adolph Steinkamp of Manly, Neb., interfered with her going to church.

Roy is said now to be in California. The question of alimony was left open by the court until he returns.
