WITHDRAWS AS A CANDIDATE FOR CO. TREASURER

J. G. Meisinger, Who Had Been Selected as Progressive Candidate, Quits the Race.

The race for county treasurer of Cass county has narrowed down to a contest between Miss Mia U. Gering, democratic candidate, and Will T. Adams, the republican candidate, as the third candidate, J. G. Meisinger of Eight Mile Grove precinct, has filed in the office of the county clerk his withdrawal from the race.

Mr. Meisinger, who is one of the busy and energetic citizens of Eight Mile Grove, has felt that he could not spare the time necessary for the campaign and in justice to himself felt that he should get out of the race.

Both of the remaining candidates have been out to some extent over the county but as both of them are quite busy at this season of the year in the office of treasurer and clerk they will have to make their final whirlwind campaign in the last weeks of the contest.

"MICKEY" AS EDITOR

The Journal has received a copy of the "Armour Oval," the official publication issued by the Armour Packing company, and which is published in the interests of the employes and contains many of the pertinent facts relative to the packing concern and its employees. The particular interest that this publication has for Plattsmouth people is that its editor is Frank H. Shields, formerly a resident here and who in his boyhood days was known as "Mickey." Mr. Shields, as a lad, was a carrier for the Journal and worked at different times during his school days in the office of this paper and here received the first dabble of printers' ink that has caused him to once more venture into the lure of newspaperdom. Frank is a fine young man and has a neat and very clever publication to show as his handiwork.

ARE YOU GOING, BUDDY?

State headquarters of the American Legion reports that over two hundred reservations have been made on the special train to the national convention at New Orleans. One section of this train will leave Omaha next Friday night at 11:15 and the other will leave Lincoln a couple of hours later, the two being united at St. Joseph.

Any local Legionaire planning to make this trip should get in touch with the post adjutant at once.

Herbert Sherwood was a passenger this morning for Omaha where he was called to look after a few matters of business in that city.

Marvin Allen and wife were among those going to Omaha this afternoon where they will enjoy a few hours visiting with relatives and friends.

HARDING NAMES A COAL INVESTIGATION BOARD

John Hays Hammond Heads List—Former Vice President Marshall Also a Member.

Washington, Oct. 10.—President Harding today announced the personnel of the commission which is authorized by an act of congress to make an exhaustive investigation in both the bituminous and anthracite coal fields with a view to recommending legislation designed to bring tranquility to the industry.

John Hays Hammond of Washington, an internationally known mining engineer, heads the list. The other members are former Vice President Thomas R. Marshall, Judge Samuel Alschuler of Chicago, Clark Howell, editor of the Atlanta, Ga., Constitution; George Otis Smith, director of the United States geological survey; Dr. Edward T. Devine, New York City and Charles T. Neill, manager of the bureau of information of the southern iron railways.

The commission will meet in Washington within ten days for the purpose of organizing. It is expected to hold hearings, both in this city and in the various coal fields, and is required under the Borah-Winslow act to make its first report to the president and congress not later than next January 15. This report would deal with the bituminous industry, but a separate report of the anthracite committee would be required on or before next July 15.

Among other things the commission will inquire into will be ownership and title of mines, the prices of coal, organizations and persons connected with the industry, both in production and distribution, profits of producers and distributors for the last ten years, labor conditions, wages, wage contracts, waste and irregular production and the causes of labor disturbances in the coal fields. Also the commission is to inquire into and recommend regarding the standardization of the mines with the possible closing of those unable to maintain that standard, standardization of the cost of living and living conditions among miners and the advisability of legislation having to do with government or private ownership, regulation and control.

METHODIST PAS- TOR IS CALLED TO A LARGER FIELD

Rev. and Mrs. John Calvert Receive Offer of Position at Mothers' Jewels Home at York.

The members of the Methodist congregation here and the host of friends of Rev. and Mrs. John Calvert were very much surprised and regretful to learn that the genial pastor and his wife have been selected for other lines of work for the church that will take them away from this city, when Rev. and Mrs. Calvert returned yesterday from York.

The position of superintendent and assistant superintendent at the Mothers' Jewels home at York has been tendered to the Calverts and in view of the importance of the work the pastor and wife feel that they owe it to the church to accept this position, much as they regret to leave this city where they have made so many warm friends during the pastorate of Rev. Calvert.

The Mothers' Jewels home at York is one of the five national homes of the Methodist church which are maintained by the Woman's Missionary society of the church, and has at the present time one hundred boys and girls being cared for by this splendid institution.

The home has a large number of buildings and the children are educated in the school of the home until they reach the high school when they attend the city schools at York.

The acceptance of the position will of course depend on the attitude taken by the church in this city, but owing to the great need at the home of a superintendent and assistant of the assured ability of Rev. and Mrs. Calverts, the church here will probably give their consent to the retirement of the pastor, much as they regret it.

The general public will regret fully as much as the Methodist church the loss of the Calvert family, but the home at York can be proud of having two of the finest people in the whole world at their head when Rev. and Mrs. Calvert assume their new duties.

HAVELOCK MINISTER ADDRESSES STRIKERS

Rev. C. L. Slocumb of the Havelock Methodist Church Speaks on Present Railroad Strike.

From Wednesday's Daily.
Last evening Rev. C. L. Slocumb of the Methodist church of Havelock addressed an open air meeting of the strikers and citizens in general in front of the court house and a very large audience was present to hear the address and seemed in full accord with the spirit of the meeting.

The speaker in his opening remarks traced his association with the laboring men of the Havelock shops and his interest and feeling in the strike and its principles and was emphatic in his stand on the side of the men who had left the shops of the railroads on the 1st of July.

Rev. Slocumb bitterly attacked the press of the country, charging its control by the interests which he claimed emanated from Wall street and which also controlled the railroad interests of the country, citing the Burlington railroad especially.

The speaker stated that at the close of the war when the troops of the United States had won a victory, that the railroad workers had in the time of war gained a larger share of the comforts and opportunities than they had possessed and that at the close of the war the railroad owners had awakened to this fact and opposed it.

Attorney General Daugherty also came in for a part of the remarks, Rev. Slocumb denouncing him as the foe of labor and affording the opportunity of those who would break up the organizations of railroad workers.

The speaker took some time of his address in discussing the situation in the strike from his viewpoint, claiming that the conditions of the roads were not as normal as stated and that the various companies were not having the work produced that they claimed.

He stated that the only man who could win the strike was the individual striker and the only man who could lose it was the striker—winning by staying on the strike or quitting at this time. He also denounced the new agreement of the Burlington as a lure and snare for the worker.

Rev. Slocumb urged the striking men to stand firm and this sentiment was received with much enthusiasm by the audience, most of whom were of the shopcraft members and their families.

The speaker had an excellent voice and made a very able appeal for the cause he was representing and at the close urged a greater need of the value of men and women and less of the dollar.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Godwin was the scene of a very pleasant gathering Sunday, when the children gathered at the home to help Mrs. Godwin celebrate her 60th birthday. A delicious dinner was served at noon, which all did justice to. Those in attendance were: Mr. and Mrs. Alva Godwin, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Godwin of Omaha, Mrs. John Shuregar and children from Kenesaw, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Godwin, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lewis of Myrd, Frank and Mrs. George Brinklow and the parents.

HAS INJURED HAND

From Wednesday's Daily.
Our old friend, Fred Nolting, from south of the city, is suffering from a very sore right hand as the result of an accident sustained a few days ago. Mr. Nolting was engaged in some work around the farm and in doing so slipped and fell. As he fell he threw his right hand down to break the force of the fall and struck a board from which a large nail was protruding and the result was that the nail was run in the hand several inches and inflicted a very painful wound that required the services of a surgeon to dress.

YOUNG PEOPLE ARE JOINED IN WEDLOCK

Miss Anna Prohaska and Mr. Joseph Kanka United in Marriage at Holy Rosary Church.

From Wednesday's Daily.
Yesterday at the Holy Rosary church occurred the marriage of Miss Anna Prohaska and Mr. Joseph Kanka, both of this city. The nuptial mass of the church was celebrated by the Rev. Ferdinand Sueser, rector of the Holy Rosary church. The church was filled with the relatives and friends of the two young people to witness the ceremony that was to unite them for life and the bridal couple were attended at the altar by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Skoda, cousins of the bride.

Following the services at the church the relatives and the bridal party were entertained at a very pleasant wedding luncheon at the home of the aunt of the bride, Mrs. John Gradoville, and here the young people were showered with the well wishes of their relatives.

The bride is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. John Gradoville and Mrs. Rose Krivanek and arrived here from her home in Bohemia some two months ago and has since become very popular with a circle of close friends. The groom has been reared to manhood in this city and is one of the best known and popular young men in the west portion of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Kanka will make their future home at the Kanka residence on west Main street.

ENTERTAINS FOR BRIDE-TO-BE.

On Tuesday afternoon at the beautiful country home of Mrs. A. Wetencamp, west of Myrd, occurred the third of a series of showers and entertainments for Miss Opal Cole, a "Kitchen Shower." The beautiful fall weather added much to the delightfulness of the occasion. The afternoon was spent in social conversation, working picture puzzles and music. The most interesting feature of the occasion was the unwrapping of a clothes basket full of gifts that had been showered upon the bride-to-be by the guests. With the gifts went best wishes for Opal in her future home. Many useful articles were received, including aluminum ware, crockery, glass ovenware and even a towel-roller, to which was attached this wish: "May your wedded life run as smooth as the towel on this roller."

A delicious lunch consisting of ice cream with sliced peaches, wafers and cocoa was served by the hostess, assisted by Misses Ethelyn and Florence Wiles. Those present to enjoy the hospitality of Mrs. Arthur Wetencamp were:

Messieurs Howard Wiles, Ida Cole, John Livingston, S. O. Cole, Elbert Wiles, C. L. Wiles, Roy O. Cole, Sherman Cole, C. E. Cook, Myron Wiles, C. C. Barnard, B. F. Wiles, A. A. Wetencamp, Misses Ellen Nolting, De Ella Vanner, Helene and Edyth Gagen, Helen Wiles, Ethelyn, Ella, Margaret and Florence Wiles, and the guest of honor, Miss Opal Cole.

HAS ARM SPRAINED

From Wednesday's Daily.
Yesterday afternoon J. A. Edger-ton sustained a very painful injury to his right forearm that will put him out of commission for several days at least. Alf has been engaged in building a wall at his home, using some of the cobblestones from the street and yesterday was just putting the finishing touches to the work when the accident occurred. He had a stone that was too large for the place he was to use it and turned around to get another and stepped on one of the loose stones which turned under his weight and he fell backward, his arm striking on the stone wall and inflicting a very severe bruise and strain to the forearm. The injured arm was cared for by a physician and no broken bones were disclosed by the examination.

ARRIVES FROM GERMANY

Fritz Seimonett, residing west of this city, was most agreeably surprised on Monday evening when his brother, Arthur, aged fourteen years, and his cousin, August Seimonett, arrived here from the old home in East Prussia. This is the first time that Fritz has seen his little brother, who was born after the departure of Fritz for America and it is needless to say that the young man is very much pleased with America and with the surroundings of his new home. The new arrivals state that the farmers in Germany are doing very well but that the laborers and dwellers in the cities are suffering many hardships through the falling rate on the German currency.

NOW AT HOSPITAL

From Wednesday's Daily.
Mrs. W. P. Sitzman of this city is at the University hospital in Omaha where she will undergo an operation for the removal of her tonsils which have been giving her more or less trouble and will also take a short course of treatment. The many friends are hopeful that she may find relief in the operation.
