LIBERAL WITH UNION FUNDS, IS CHARGE

Former President of Maintenance of Way Brotherhood Faces a Charge of Malfeasance.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 18.—A check for $20,000 was sent to the trades and labor council of Canada by Allen E. Barker, former international president of the maintenance of way workers' organization for the purpose of fighting the "one big union" movement, according to testimony offered by the union in its suit to recover $200,000 Mr. Barker is alleged to have misappropriated. George Seal, former grand secretary treasurer, testified to the $250,000, stating it was his understanding the money was to be used to strengthen existing labor organization in the dominion and to combat the propaganda for a union of all organizations which would have disrupted the brotherhood. Other witnesses gave testimony to support the union's charge that funds designed for organization and other work were used by Mr. Barker in real estate ventures. Thirty pieces of property in Detroit were purchased by the former president, it was alleged. The testimony brought out that when Mr. Barker was removed from office more than a year ago, the union had a membership of 400,000 and the income from dues was $2,200,000 annually. The president's salary was $15,000 and fourteen vice presidents received $8,000 each. J. E. Adams came in this morning from Lincoln where he is attending the agricultural school in that city.

EVOLUTION OF THE PRESENT CALENDAR

Part of the Romance of Civilization and of Man—Pyramids Erected to Tell Time By.

Washington, Oct. 18.—The evolution of the calendar, from the days when man could count only from day to day, thru the time when the lunar month was reckoned as a "year," to the present time of an almost universally used time counting system, is a romance of the history of man. Piecing together the few known facts of the calendar's life story, scientists have found different interpretations and uses for well known facts and remains of early life.

It is agreed that if the roads had all the cars that would be loaded that traffic would be congested and in one way the shortage helps to keep traffic moving by preventing yard and line blockades.

The pyramids were constructed by mathematicians and astronomers, Mr. Cotsworth holds. The size, height and slopes of each being determined by aid of astronomy. Each of the piles in lower Egypt was built at a different period, until the last was found to be the more nearly perfect for studying the sun and stars on the meridian of Egypt. Not until each was abandoned for a better, he claims, was a pyramid given over to the uses of a royal tomb. The pyramidal form, in conjunction with the obelisk, was devised to cast a shadow of sufficient sharpness to be measured and analyzed day by day. The wonderful Washington monument at Washington, D. C. which shadow measurements found to be constructed perfectly from base to peak, while the form of the Egyptian obelisk, is too high, he found to cast a shadow useful for solar measurements. The blending of the sun's rays around the top, at that distance blurs the shadow. However, he declared the shadow was used for certain measurements which prove that September 23 and not the 21 is the day of the fall equinox.

INDIANS DEMAND FRANCHISE RIGHT

And All Other Rights that Go with Citizenship—Holding Meeting in Kansas City, Mo.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 18.—The Indians of the United States demand the right of franchise and all the other privileges that go with American citizenship, speakers declared before the society of American Indians here today.

"Are we, the race that lived here before Columbus came to America, to be denied citizenship," exclaimed Dr. Carlos Montezuma, of Chicago. Declaring that the Indian bureau has outlived its usefulness, Dr. Montezuma continued: "The bureau has a license to ruin the race that lived here before the white race came. America freed the black man. Some one has said that Lincoln should have freed the Indian first. "The Indians have billions of dollars and it pays to be guardian over a ward that has so much money. "But we are not fighting for money. What we want is to be delivered from bondage. The country should put a stop to the close regulation of the reservations which prevent the Indians there from developing responsibility."

TRAFFIC RUSH ON ALL RAILROADS

Heavier Now Than It Has Been for Many Months—Car Shortage
Prevents Congestion.

The present volume of railroad business is less a surprise to railroad men than a puzzle. They know where the business comes from and why it comes at this time in large volume, but they are a bit at sea in trying to determine how long it will last. "When you recall that we are now moving coal that should have been moved months ago; that we got behind in our freight movements during the strike; that we now have the live stock traffic to deal with and that there has been a general increase in business, the present heavy traffic is easily explained," says R. W. McGinnis, general agent for the Northwestern railroad.

"Business is very heavy with us at present," says E. Flynn, general superintendent of the Burlington. "We have orders for 800 stock cars for the northwest range country and 400 for the Sterling and McCook divisions this week. We are hauling from ten to fifteen trains a day on the Lincoln-Ravenna line and business is heavy on the main line. Our Wyoming yards and that part of the Nebraska district where business has slackened. We are short of cars but we have plenty of power to handle all the business we can load."

Mr. McGinnis reports that the Northwestern, though short of cars, was able to supply power to move all loads and that a heavy traffic was being handled.

All railroads are short of cars. Tuesday reports showed that the Northwestern has asked for bids on $900 ore cars; that the Rock Island is in the market for 3,500 ore cars and that the Santa Fe is asking for bids on 2,500 box cars. Other smaller orders have been placed by western roads.

In the Lincoln territory the demand for cars for the movement of sand and building material is strong. Just now the capitol contractors are trying to accumulate 100 carloads of sand before the sand freezes. Sand cannot be handled when it freezes because it solidifies in the cars and cannot be unloaded.

It is agreed that if the roads had all the cars that would be loaded that traffic would be congested and in one way the shortage helps to keep traffic moving by preventing yard and line blockades.

FEAR EXPRESSED OVER FUTURE OF NATIONAL GUARD

Officials Aroused by Conference Called by Secretary Weeks for Re-allotment of Regulars.

Washington, Oct. 18.—Officials of the army in Washington are aroused over the forthcoming conference called by Secretary Weeks for the purpose of reallotting upon a scheme for a reallotment of regulars to the National Guard service. Secretary Weeks recently summoned a group of general staff and National guard officers to deliberate on this subject and make recommendations for the guidance of congress and the War department.

With this board about to function, some of the regular officers of the army who are vitally interested in the National guard as a component part of the national army are aroused over what they fear may be done to the guard.

With their affairs of the National guard are rapidly moving to a crisis, with the fate of the guard resting in the conference group called by Secretary Weeks. Some army officers who have been watching the situation and have learned that an effort will be made to readjust the guard allotments, due largely to failure of congress to provide sufficient funds, fear that a step for the worse rather than for improvement may be taken.
