M. E. Church Notes

On account of the rainy weather we were compelled to postpone once more the launching of that big Sunday school contest. The children were somewhat disappointed as well as the elder attendants for the day. Now the committees have the big auto already up for one side and the aeroplane was brought in by Mr. Friend assuring us that this plane has a fine record and will run well in this race. So we installed this machine on the other side. Now we will surely choose up next Sunday, rain or shine. Captain Tallor and Borsmeier are quite anxious to get started. So please be present.

Oh, yes, next Wednesday is the ladies aid bazaar. Whatever you do, be sure to be present at this bazaar. Supper starts at 5 o'clock, also the sale of goods and dainties. Prices for supper, 25c and 35c.

Mrs. Coon is putting on a fine outline study and revival in the W. H. M. S. Ask her to explain her route in studying the various lessons or guides while on the journey. The members are very busy earning their one dollar for the Dec. 1 meeting. Why not join the ranks?

Rev. Galloway will occupy the pulpit again next Sunday. We are glad for his presence.

The musical is on for next Sunday night. We are hopeful of a good night and a fine time together. The Sunday school classes are sure enjoying the various entertainments that are being given in the basement. Why not the bible class have one soon?

Don't forget to attend your church at least once a week and the prayer meetings on Thursday night, Study Eph. chapter 5. Bring your bibles. Best wishes to all.

CZECHOSLOVAK CHURCH FOUNDER VISITOR IN OMAHA

Tells of Movement Among Bohemians to Break Away from the Roman Catholic Church.

Bishop Gozard Pavlik, of the Czechoslovak Orthodox church, is in Omaha seeking new members for his recently organized church. He arrived last Saturday and left the middle of the week for Kansas, but will return and address the ministerial union of Omaha next Monday morning and preach at Trinity Cathedral in the evening.

The bishop, a former Roman Catholic priest, organized the movement against the parent church in 1919, and since that time its membership has spread to Russia, Austria, Germany and the United States. The largest number of members at the present time is in Czechoslovakia.

"This movement is destined to be one of the greatest religious revivals in the history among the people of Slavic origin," Bishop Pavlik declared. "I take no credit for the movement. I saw the opportunity for the revival and headed it. My position forced me into the leadership."

Following the late war and the overthrow of the Hapsburg rule, a delegation directed by Bishop Pavlik petitioned Pope Benedict XV to grant some changes in the church. The changes included the use of the Czech language instead of Latin, the abolition of celibacy of the clergy, democratizing of the church administration and political separation of the church and the state. These were refused, Bishop Pavlik said. Consequently, they were made a part of the church program to which others have been added since the church has been born by dissenting from the Roman Catholic church and reconstituting itself as "The Czechoslovak Orthodox church."

The bishop stated this new organization had recently realized itself with the Serbian Orthodox church for the purpose of maintaining an apostolic succession in the ordination of clergy. This gives to the church a recognition by most of the Episcopalian type of churches," he explained.

"I began the movement in Olomouc, Moravia, by holding the mass in the Czech language instead of Latin. Other priests did likewise all over Czechoslovakia. Some willfully disregarded the vows of celibacy and married. These things stamped them as heretics in the eyes of the church authorities and they were excommunicated."

"Simultaneously with these events on one hand, a systematic withdrawal by individuals from the Roman Catholic church took place, and on the other hand, a systematic joining by certificates of the National Orthodox Catholic church. The first day I set the machine in motion, thirty-eight signed up, the next day seventeen and the third, eight. Soon, however, the movement was caught up by the wind of national agitation for the separation of the church and state, and swept Czechoslovakia like wild fire. Within three years a million souls have come into its fold."

The bishop pointed out that one of the greatest obstructions which has confronted the new movement, is the fact that judicially under the present status, the property remains in the hands of the Roman Catholic church, although the whole community may leave the church and reconstitute itself as the new church.

Bishop Pavlik is 43 years old and unmarried. When asked in Omaha if he was going to marry in view of the fact that his church permitted it, he smiled and said: "No I haven't got time to be married. I am too busy."

Last Sunday Bishop Pavlik occupied the pulpit of the Bohemian Presbyterian church in Omaha.

HE TOOK A CHANCE

A citizen of Detroit drew his life's savings of $2,000 from his bank and went to a gambling resort to multiply it. He lost it all in ten minutes and threw his week's pay away, and committed suicide. His great loss probably unbalanced his mind.

This man made two grave mistakes. He took a chance which he was sure to lose. He dreamed what he was sure to lose. He had just passed his fortieth birthday. He was still young and should have been able to use his capital to sure result in a good profitable investment or business.

A person is sometimes justified in taking a chance. But he is never justified in playing all that he has in even a legitimate gamble.

PREDICTS SOLONS TO SUPPORT BRYAN

Senator-Elect Banning Gives Out Interview in Lincoln Stating He Looks for Harmony.

Senator-elect W. B. Banning, of Union, democrat, expressed his opinion Wednesday during a visit to Lincoln, that the coming legislature will work in harmony with Governor-elect Bryan, in spite of the efforts which some republican politicians are exerting to keep it from doing so. The precedent set in 1911 by a democratic legislature in co-operating with a republican governor was pointed to by Mr. Banning as a good one for the 1933 lawmaking assembly to follow.

Senator-elect Banning called on Mr. Bryan and after the interview he made this statement to the Lincoln Star.

"I do not believe that the republican legislature is going to waste its time playing politics and trying to defeat the will of the people as it was plainly expressed in the election of Mr. Bryan, who carried practically every legislative district in Nebraska and in most of them received a larger plurality than the men who were elected senators and representatives."

"I believe there will be enough fair-minded and levelheaded republicans to insure harmonious co-operation between the governor and the legislature in doing what the people want done, namely: Repealing the code law and the revenue law, eliminating needless departments and bureaus, and reducing appropriations, expenditures and taxes."

"There is just one course for the democrats in the legislature to pursue. That is to stand as a unit for the program which the people endorsed by electing Mr. Bryan governor with over 50,000 majority. It will then be up to the republicans to join with the democrats in carrying out this program or to block it, as they see fit. Personally, I believe enough republicans will be found working with the democrats to make the people's mandate effective."

"I was a member of the state senate in 1913, when both branches of the legislature were democratic and the governor was a republican. Political differences were not allowed to obstruct the work of the session. I see no reason why the same conditions should not prevail in the coming session."

DENIES HARDING IS IN FAVOR OF WETS

Mrs. Corrine Roosevelt Robinson Declares Extract from Letter has Been Misinterpreted.

Binghamton, N. Y., Nov. 16.—Mrs. Corrine Roosevelt Robinson, lecturing here before women's organizations, authorized a statement tonight in which she said she was under the impression that no reporters were present when she read an extract from a letter written to her by President Harding relating to prohibition enforcement. The letter was read before the republican neighborhood association on Tuesday.

Mrs. Corrine Robinson regrets that publicity has been given to the fact that she read from extracts of the letter to her from the president at a meeting of the republican neighborhood association. The letter in question was one written ten days before election in answer to a communication which Mrs. Robinson had forwarded to President Harding.

"The New York Tribune made a mistake in stating that the general trend of the letter was a prophecy of liberalization of the enforcement act." When Mrs. Robinson read the extract from the letter, the meeting was about to adjourn, and she was under the impression that there were no reporters present, said the statement.

Mrs. Robinson was asked whether she would give the letter to the newspapers if authorized to do so by President Harding.

"That is up to the president," she answered.

ARBUCKLE TO COME BACK, SAYS LLOYD

Uncle of "Four-Eyes" Comedian Has Good Words for Portly Star Now Banned.

Lincoln, Nov. 17.—Patty Arbuckle will "come back," and will hold a place higher in public estimation than he held before the Virginia Rappe episode. John Lloyd of Los Angeles, traveling man and uncle of the famous comedian, said this evening at the home-coming celebration at Plattsmouth today.

"It is the opinion of professional people in the movie colony that Patty Arbuckle is 'framed' for his money, after the incident of the death he says is faked. The elder Lloyd says he has played in many of Harold's pictures—as 'atmosphere' only, however.

The uncle was spending the day here visiting with Assistant Attorney General C. Lloyd Dort, a cousin of Harold Lloyd. He had been visiting with relatives in Pawnee City, the childhood home of Harold Lloyd.

PLATTSMOUTH LOSES GAME TO WAHOO HIGH

The Plattsmouth high school football machine yesterday afternoon went down to defeat at Wahoo by the score of 20 to 8 in a hard fought battle and in which the locals battled valiantly against the exceptionally strong high school team of Wahoo.

Plattsmouth scored on an intercepted forward pass of Wahoo, Chase securing the ball and racing seventy yards for a touchdown, duplicating his feat here against the Peru team a week ago. The other points of Plattsmouth were secured on a touch-back.

The Wahoo team has a strong backfield which was quick in action and kept the locals guessing and made much ground gaining on their series of end runs and line smashes.

This makes the second game lost by the Plattsmouth team this season which is a fine record for the organization, the only other defeat being at the hands of Fremont, one of the leading teams in the state.

GREATER FARM CREDITS LEGISLATION FORECAST

Mellon Reported Not Opposed to Longer Maturity Than Six Months for Credits.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Proposals for legislation modifying the federal reserve act to provide greater facilities for agricultural credits are expected by treasury officials to make their appearance in congress.

The subject has been discussed by the administration, and it was said today that Secretary Mellon saw no objection to some modification of the law, particularly with respect to providing a longer maturity than six months, the present limit for live stock paper, because of the longer turnover in that industry.

Whether recommendations will be made to congress by Mr. Mellon in his forthcoming annual report were not disclosed.

Liberal facilities for the extension of credit to the agricultural industry were seen today by federal reserve officials in recent rulings of the board regarding the eligibility for redemption of the paper of co-operative marketing associations.

The most recent ruling excludes growers' drafts drawn and accepted by co-operative associations from the provisions of the federal reserve act, which limits the amount of paper a federal reserve bank may rediscount for any member bank to 10 per cent of the capital and surplus of the member bank.

Removal of the 10 per cent limitation on co-operative marketing associations was regarded by board officials as of extreme importance in furnishing adequate credit facilities to these organizations.

Other rulings opening up credit channels to these associations announced by the board covered the eligibility for rediscount of growers' drafts accepted by associations, notes of associations for funds to pay for commodities purchased, warehouse receipts covering agricultural products for security and bankers' acceptances drawn by associations and secured by warehouse receipts.

The board also has ruled that the carrying of a crop pending orderly marketing is an agricultural operation, and a farmer's note for financing the carrying of his products for a reasonable period is eligible for rediscount.
