The Immortal Drama of American Hearts!

The greatest of all emotion-dramas the play that has drawn laughs and tears from a million American hearts—at last given a production worthy of its story.

With the screen's greatest character actor, Theodore Roberts in the role he was born for—"Uncle Josh."

A story made of the sorrows and joys of plain folks and a great love that weathered adversity. Reaching its climax in a mighty cyclone scene that dwarfs any storm ever shown on the screen before. For your heart's sake, come.

FEATURE PICTURE COMING TO PARMELE NEXT WEEK

"The Old Homestead" will be Shown For Three Days Commencing with Sunday Matinee

Of special interest to movie fans is the announcement that "The Old Homestead"—most beloved of all the old time melodramas—will be featured at the Parmele for three days commencing with Sunday matinee. To nearly every older person the story of "The Old Homestead" is as familiar as "East Lynne." "Thorns and Orange Blossoms" and others of the early stage successes, enacted long before the advent of movies. Here it is, briefly:
 Uncle Josh Whitcomb owns the Old Homestead farm near Ganzey, New Hampshire. He is the genial patriarch of the surrounding country, beloved by everybody.
 Eph Holbrook, the richest man in town, holds a mortgage on Josh's farm. Eph's worthless son, Lem, is in love with Rose, the village vamp. Josh's son, Rueben, clerks in Holbrook's store. His sweetheart is pretty Ann, Uncle Josh's ward.
 Rose comes to Lem and tells him he will have to marry her, and Lem, to provide funds to get her out of town, steals money from his father's store. Reuben is accused of the theft and sent to jail. With Happy Jack, a genial, resourceful tramp, he escapes from the lockup and flees town. Rose disappears at the same time, and Ann is heartbroken, believing Reuben has gone with her.

 Soon the mortgage on the Old Homestead falls due, and Eph is determined to collect. Uncle Josh goes to New York to see an old friend who is now a millionaire to try and borrow money, but fails. He meets Happy Jack, who tells him that Reuben has fled to China. Struck by the old man's despair at the news, Jack determines to bring the boy back.
 Returning to Ganzey, Josh determines to auction off the Old Homestead. Meantime Lem, growing scared, admits to his father that he stole the money. Eph honest, though hard, starts with him to the Old Homestead to settle with Josh.
 A cyclone sweeps the country, tearing everything up by the roots but the Old Homestead. In the midst of it, Happy Jack brings Reuben home—just in time to save Ann from throwing herself in despair over the cliff at Lover's Leap. And everybody is happy.

TO MOVE LIGHT AND GAS OFFICES TO CAPITAL CITY

Say Continental Gas & Electric Company to Make Move From Omaha at Once.

Lincoln, Dec. 5.—Headquarters of the Continental Gas & Electric corporation properties owned in Iowa, Missouri, South Dakota and Nebraska, will be removed from Omaha to Lincoln immediately, according to C. S. Eaton, chairman of the executive board of the company, which maintains its national headquarters in Cleveland.
 Announcement was also made today that the sale of the Lincoln Gas & Electric company to the new corporation, for an understood consideration of $3,000,000 was consummated here yesterday.
 Within a year, Eaton says, three high power transmission lines will be built into Lincoln from three directions, and new equipment will be installed at an expenditure of $1,000,000.
 The corporation which started in Beatrice with a $150,000 plant sixteen years ago, now owns $20,000,000 in property in the four states in which it operates and has an annual revenue of $4,500,000.
 Rufus E. Lee, president of the company, F. A. Brooks, treasurer, and George A. Lee, attorney for the company, all of Omaha, were here for the completion of the transfer of the Lincoln company heretofore owned by the Doherty interests of New York.

CHRISTIAN PASTOR LEAVES FOR OTHER FIELDS

REV. A. G. HOLLOWELL AND WIFE WILL LEAVE FOR NEW PASTORATE IN KANSAS.

The many friends of the Rev. and Mrs. A. G. Hollowell are regretfully parting with this estimable couple from the social and religious life of the community as the Hollowell family will leave in the next few days for Buffalo, Kansas, where Rev. Hollowell takes charge of the Christian church at that place and will make that their home in the future.

During the time that Rev. Hollowell has been pastor of the First Christian church of this city he has been successful in the advancing of the work in all lines and some fifty additions have been received to the membership during his pastorate covering the period since returning here in August, 1920.

Prior to coming to this city the last time Rev. Hollowell and wife were in charge of the church work at Gillette, Wyoming, and there were very successful in building up the church in that western charge and bringing the message of the church to many.

The Hollowell family have always held a warm spot in their hearts for this city and the Plattsmouth people have felt in turn that they were fortunate in having such efficient workers in the religious field here to assist in the life of the community. Rev. and Mrs. Hollowell were in charge of the church here from 1915 to '16 and from here departed for the west.

The new charge is one that will give Mr. Hollowell and his estimable wife a great opportunity for the furtherance of their church work and the people of Buffalo can feel that they are indeed fortunate in the choice of the pastor of their church.

Last evening the members of the church held a farewell reception at the church in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Hollowell and which was largely attended by the church membership as well as a number of the other friends of the genial pastor and wife.

The program of the evening was in charge of the young people's choir of the church which gave a number of selections and as well as special numbers.

Little Misses Marjorie Pickett and Edith Podd gave a pleasing vocal duet and Miss Wilma Decker a piano selection, both of which were very much enjoyed.

Readings were given by Misses Gretel Hackenberg, Bernice Pumpkin and Wilma Decker, which reflected great credit on the young ladies.

The quartet composed of Misses Edith Podd, Grace Tigner, Doris Winscot and Marjorie Pickett also afforded a pleasing part of the evening program.

During the evening Rev. and Mrs. Hollowell were presented with a set of silverware by their friends and associates as a remembrance of the happy years spent here in charge of the church work.

FUNERAL OF HAROLD SMITH IS HELD THIS AFTERNOON

Services at the St. Luke's Episcopal Church Very Largely Attended By Friends of Young Man

From Wednesday's Daily.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock at the St. Luke's Episcopal church was held the funeral of Harold Smith, whose death early Monday morning caused such a sudden and overpowering sorrow to the entire community.

The deceased young man was a baptized member of the St. Luke's church and had been more or less identified with the church school and church during his boyhood and it was amid the scenes where he had often worshipped that the last services were held.

The Rev. Father W. S. Lee, rector of the church, conducted the beautiful and impressive services of the church and in his remarks brought a sense of comfort and hope to the sorrowing relatives and friends.

During the services the church sang two numbers, "For this, O Dear, Dear Country," and "The Strife is Over," while Mrs. E. H. Wescott sang as a solo number the beautiful musical setting of Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar" by Powell, and Mr. Don C. York also gave a solo number "The Touch of His Hand."
 At the conclusion of the services the body was borne to Oak Hill cemetery where it was laid to rest in the family lot there in the city of the silent. The pall bearers were from the boyhood friends of the departed, Rudolph Wellgren, Leonard Hawkenberry, Clarence Ledgeway, John Schulhof, Jr., Robert Kroehler and Robert Burkle.

The deceased young man was a charter member of Cass chapter, Order of De Molay, members of which were in attendance at the funeral services, and was also engaged the last two years in the study of draftsmanship.

CLARINDA WOMAN BADLY INJURED

Lost Balance in Trying to Catch Child Falling From Car—Child Escapes Injury.

Mrs. T. W. Bullack, wife of a Clarinda, Iowa, dentist is at the Barr-Zimmerer hospital here recovering from injuries she received Sunday afternoon near the Episcopal church at Wyoming northwest of the city when she attempted to prevent her small daughter from being thrown from the car at a turn in the road. The child had unfastened the door of the car and when the father drove around the corner the door flew open and the child was thrown from the car and the mother, in trying to prevent the child from falling lost her balance and was thrown to the highway with considerable force. She struck the hard surfaced road on her head and was badly injured. The child escaped injury.

The family had been visiting in the western part of the state and was on their way home when the accident happened. An Omaha man who was coming toward the city brought the injured woman to the hospital here.

Word from the hospital last night was to the effect that she was doing as well as could be expected but that it would be some time before the extent of her injuries would be known. Doctor Bullack and the daughter returned to Clarinda yesterday.—Nebraska City Press.
