Anti-Picketing and Banking Amendments Effective Upon Proclamation of the Governor.

Acting Governor P. A. Barrows met Monday forenoon with the state canvassing board to canvass the vote cast for and against four legislative acts of 1921. The board found the returns showed a majority for the law known as the anti-picketing act and for an amendment to the banking law which will permit the state banking department to issue state bank charters in the future only when that body finds a necessity exists for additional banks. The two acts defeated were an amendment to the primary law and to require registration of voters in the country and villages.

The anti-picketing act and the amended banking law become effective immediately upon the issuance of a proclamation by the governor, which must be issued within ten days after the meeting of the board. These acts will not go into effect until Governor McKelvie returns from a trip to the governors' conference. As he will return the day before Christmas he may decide to make a Christmas gift of his proclamation. Acting Governor Barrows said he would not issue such a proclamation because he had been informed Governor McKelvie desires to sign this document. He approved the anti-picketing law after it was passed by the last legislature. It was suspended and referred by a petition raised largely by the efforts of non-partisan league workers.

The anti-picketing law carried upon a referendum vote by a majority of 45,632. The banking act carried by 23,425. The amendment to the primary law was defeated by 112,767 majority, and the rural registration law by a majority of 11,148.

The state canvassing board comprises the governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer and attorney general. All with the exception of Governor McKelvie and Attorney General Davis were present.

The law requiring the board to meet the sixth Monday after election is the result of legislation during the war for the purpose of granting a longer period for the return of the soldier vote to Nebraska. The next legislature is likely to put the date of meeting back to the second or third Monday.

No further canvass of the vote is deemed necessary. The constitution itself says the vote shall be canvassed in some manner as the vote for president is canvassed. The statute says the vote for president shall be canvassed by the state board.

TRAVELERS HAVE VERY HARD TIME

Aged Man and Woman Have Rough Time on Way to South—Get Stranded Near Here.

From Wednesday's Daily. This morning an aged man and his ill and helpless wife were stranded on the highway north of this city near the Monte Straight farm and but for the efforts of Mr. Straight and his wife would have suffered very much from the cold and lack of food.

Both of the travelers are well along in years and the wife is a paralytic and in such condition that she cannot travel by train so the husband states and for this reason they were traveling by wagon. The man stated that they started from South Dakota and had been for the past two days coming from Omaha as the horses were all in and this morning as they were nearing Plattsmouth one of the animals gave up the ghost and died, leaving the travelers stranded and with only a 50-cent piece to stand between them and starvation.

Sheriff C. D. Quinton was out to the place where the party was halted and will do what is possible to get them some relief so that they may be able to continue their journey or at least be saved from the pangs of hunger and want.

FOOTBALL TEAM IS GIVEN A BANQUET

Superintendent G. E. DeWolf is Host at Banquet at Hotel Wagner Last Evening to Gridsters

From Wednesday's Daily. Last evening the dining room of the Hotel Wagner was the scene of a very pleasant gathering when the members of the Plattsmouth high school football team were entertained at a banquet given in their honor by Superintendent G. E. DeWolf of the city schools.

The Christmas decorations in the dining room made a very attractive setting for the gathering and the well arranged menu served to add to the enjoyment of the jolly bunch of young men who have so well represented the city schools on the gridiron this season.

During the evening remarks were made by all members of the party but the chief addresses of the occasion were "The Final Whistle" by Captain Frank Gradoville; "Hitting the Line," by Harold Mullis; "Kick Off for 1923," by Joe Krejci, captain-elect of the team for next year, and "The Value of High School Football," by B. C. Doolan, coach of the local high school.

The prospects for the coming season are very bright for a fast team despite the fact that a number of the standbys of the team are retiring next June and among the various schools that will be on the schedule next year are Wahoo, Nebraska City, South Omaha and Fremont.

The banquet brought out much pep and interest in the work of the school athletics and the members of the party felt that the gathering was one filled not only with pleasure but inspiration for better things in the athletic activities of the school.

Those in attendance were: Frank Gradoville, Stuart Chase, Harold Mullis, Glen Henry, Russell Wasley, Chester Reuner, Frank Godwin, John Warza, Joe Weber, Joe Krejci, James Holly, Frank Koubek, Charles Erenberger, cheer leader, and Louis Svoboda, who was one of the '21 players whose injury prevented his attending the banquet last season.

MRS. BRENDEN INJURED

Mrs. B. F. Brenden of Murray, one of the best known residents of that place is suffering from the effects of a very severe fall that she sustained Saturday evening and which has kept her confined to her home since that time. Mrs. Brenden had started from her home to that of her son, Dr. J. F. Brenden, a few blocks north of her home and as she was passing the Col. Jenkins residence she slipped and fell on the sidewalk causing a severe strain to the muscles of one of her limbs as well as a fracture of one of the bones. The injured lady was assisted by neighbors to her home and the fracture dressed and the patient made as comfortable as possible under the circumstances although it will be some time before she is able to use the member freely.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

From Wednesday's Daily. Yesterday at the Presbyterian hospital in Omaha Dr. B. F. Brenden of Murray was operated on following an illness of a long duration. The doctor has been taking treatment at Kansas City and while there felt much improved but since his return he has not been so well and it was found necessary to perform the operation. His condition last night was reported as being very serious, and members of his family were summoned to his bedside.

Doan's Regulets are recommended by many who say they operate easily without scraping and without bad after effects. 30c at all drug stores.

Wishing you gracious days and goodly health,
And early joy of all your heart's desires:
The faith that love is more than golden wealth,
And friendship holier than altar fires.

And when the yule glow deepens on the wall,
And carolings proclaim Judea's Star;
Pause in the hallowed twilight and recall
The days that used to be—the friends that are.
