"ON THE CORNER"

MERRY CHRISTMAS TO THE COMMUNITY IS OUR BEST WISH

The Journal Extends to its Friends and Patrons a Hearty Greeting For Christmas Season.

The Christmas time will have come and gone before another issue of the Evening Journal is brought forth and at this time the Journal desires to express to its friends and patrons the best wishes for a bright and happy Christmas time filled with the true spirit of rejoicing and happiness.

We trust that on this day of universal rejoicing at the anniversary of the Babe of Bethlehem, over the world there may be more of the spirit of the Master who came to earth 1922 years ago to bring of mankind the promise of redemption from sin and the life everlasting and that the strife caused by the struggle for material things of life may be laid aside for this one day in favor of the spiritual teachings of "Peace on Earth Good Will Toward Men."

To many the day merely marks the time when they give or receive a gift and in it they lose the real significance of the giving—that spirit of love and good will which is a tribute to the undying love of Him whose birth is being celebrated on this date.

Hatred of nations, the strife of individuals, class struggles should, at least for this one day, be laid aside so that the song of praise of Christmas day may carry the ring of sincerity and hopefulness for a world free from the narrowness of the material life.

May each one who dwells in the city of Plattsmouth and elsewhere have in their hearts and their homes the real significance of Christmas time and the abundant blessings of the day is the sincere wish of the Journal.

ably the little ones were not so little either, for there was $63 worth of candies and that should go some distance. The meeting and exercises were well attended and enjoyed by the happy crowd.

More Valuable Than Money

Max Dusterhoff and Joe Wutchinek have just completed the papering of two rooms at the Dusterhoff home, and it is looking fine. We were there at the time the work was being done, and a very fine grade of wall coverings were being used. The matter of cost coming into the discussion, Mr. Dusterhoff said that the cost of the paper and its hanging would cost at the present ration of the German mark to the American dollar, 15,000 marks per roll and there being ten of the rolls used, the job would amount to 150,000 German marks for the finishing of the decorations. Were the surface covered with the real German mark, the surface covered would be much greater. However, the rooms are beautiful and much more attractive than if the money was used to decorate the place.

Greetings to Murdock

During the years in which we have been coming to Murdock, with every week, we have been brought into contact with the excellent citizens and with their wants and interests in a way which has made it our own. We have found here many friends, whose friendship has grown with the years and whose prosperity we are wishing may grow with the time, and that their happiness may be abounding. The city of Murdock, during the past few years, has made some very substantial gains that have added many new and substantial residences, which have made the city a better place in which to live. During the past two years Murdock has had installed electric lights, thus taking a forward step in the line of progress. A portion of the city has instituted a system of sewerage and water service. Murdock is looking forward to more and better improvements. A system of water works embracing the entire town, a better town hall and a number of industries which would employ workmen and thus extend its borders, as well as make the living here more enjoyable. These and many other things is the wish of the Journal for this town.

MESSAGE OF DEATH

Postmaster A. A. Jackman received a message last Monday announcing the death of his brother's wife, Mrs. Levi Jackman, which occurred that morning at six-thirty o'clock. She had been in failing health for months and had been under the highest medical treatment, but her trouble was of a cancerous nature and nothing could be done to save her life.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackman live at University Place and they had one daughter, Delores. Mrs. Jackman's maiden name was Miss Ida Leavers, of Greenwood, her father, long since dead, being a Cass county pioneer of that vicinity. Mr. Jackman at one time lived in Louisville, where he is well known. The funeral occurred at Greenwood and interment was in the family lot in the Greenwood cemetery.

The many Louisville friends will join the Courier in extending sympathy to the bereaved husband and daughter and to the other members of the family.—Louisville Courier.

VERY PRETTY HOME WEDDING IS SOLEMNIZED

Miss Esther Schmidt and Robert T Stock United in Marriage on Thursday Afternoon.

On Thursday afternoon at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Schmidt occurred the wedding of their daughter, Miss Esther H. Schmidt, to Mr. Robert T. Stock, in which two of Murdock's very popular young people, were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony.

The Schmidt home had been beautifully decorated in pink and white, making a most pleasant place for the celebration of the nuptial vows and the plighting of the troth, which shall bind these young people during their life. An arch of pink and white was constructed in the corner of the pleasant drawing room, with a large white wedding bell suspended in its center, under which the bridal couple stood while the words were said which made them husband and wife. The bride carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and looked very winsome.

Miss Marie Schmidt, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor, while Mr. Paul Stock, brother of the groom, was the best man at the ceremony.

Little Geraldine Schmidt, niece of the bride, was the ring bearer in the beautiful ring ceremony which was used and little Mabel Stock, niece of the groom was the flower girl. The lines of the ceremony binding the two young hearts and lives, were read by the Rev. Ezra Sohl, pastor of the Evangelical church at Elmwood. The wedding march "at wedding" by Mendelssohn, "The Midsummer Night Dream," was played by Miss Leah Schmidt, sister of the bride.

Those present and to witness the ceremony included only the immediate relatives of the families of the contracting parties.

The bride was born and grew to womanhood in Murdock. She is a graduate of the Murdock and Elmwood schools, and for some time past has been the manager of the Murdock telephone exchange and is a most estimable young lady.

The groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stock and a young man of the highest character. He has made his home on the farm of his father, and with his bride will make their home in Lincoln after January 1st, where he will attend school for the present. Mr. and Mrs. Stock will be returning to their friends in their new home in the capital city after January 15th.

The Journal is pleased to extend heartiest congratulations and well-wishes.
