HOLD PUBLIC INSTALLATION CEREMONY LAST NIGHT

Cass Chapter, Order of De Molay, Conducts Ceremony Before a Large Audience.

From Wednesday's Daily.
Cass chapter, Order of De Molay for boys, has been in existence in this city since June 28, 1921, and during that time they have taken a large number of the boys of the community from sixteen to twenty-one years of age into the order, and as the organization is secret in its nature the public has not had the full opportunity of realization of the many wonderful inspirational principles that enter into the making of the order.

The decision was made to hold the installation of officers at this time as a public ceremony and accordingly the Masonic temple last evening was filled with a large number of the relatives and friends of the members of the order and the Masonic fraternity from which lineage the order of De Molay has its inspiration in many of its ideals and which is the sponsor of the order.

The ceremony of installation gave the public a clearer insight into the real purposes of the De Molay and no one attending could but feel that it was an organization filled with the loftiest ideals and calculated to build up a cleaner, more patriotic standard of manhood than could be found elsewhere.

As installing officer, Fred Warren, retiring master, counselor, served with impressiveness and was assisted by George Schmidtman as marshal and both of these young men gave a very pleasing and inspiring presentation of the new officers into their stations.

The officers installed were as follows:
Master Counselor—Raymond H. Rebal.
Senior Counselor—Edgar Peterson.
Junior Counselor—Russell Perry.
Scribe—Treasurer—Jack McCarty.
Senior Deacon—George Persinger.
Junior Deacon—Carl Ofe.
Senior Steward—Leonard Born.
Junior Steward—Glen Kruger.
Marshal—Wayne Hudson.
Chaplain—Gerald Fleming.
Standard Bearer—Elmer Johnson.
Sentinel—Henry Ofe.
Custodian—George Ebersole.
Preceptors—Delough Uter, Fred Tritley, Stuart Chase, Harold Renner, Russell Hackenberg, Earl Babbitt, Glen Henry.

The lecture of the evening, the story of the life and death of De Molay, was given by the members of the Knights Templar, was given very impressively by Otto Tritley and during the ceremony the musical numbers appropriate to the beautiful service were played by Miss Mable Lee Copenhagen.

The old regime was succeeded by the new, the master counselor in a few well chosen remarks presented to Mr. Warren, the retiring leader, a very handsome past master counselor's emblem which was the gift of the chapter and to this presentation Mr. Warren responded very feelingly and especially as this feature of the ceremony was one entirely a surprise to the recipient of the jewel.

The prayer at the close of the service was given by Rev. H. G. McClusky and served to add to the already impressive ceremony.

At the conclusion of the evening refreshments, prepared by the ladies of the Eastern Star, were served to the guests in the parlors of the Masonic temple.

To witness the installation was inspiring in bringing home to not only the boys but the older members of the audience the lessons of love, of home, of father and mother and mutual helpfulness, the veneration for religious teachings of the bible, the love and respect of flag and country and an appreciation of the great and only American public school system.

From Wednesday's Daily.
Yesterday afternoon the rectory of St. Luke's church was the scene of a very pleasant social gathering when the members of the St. Mary's and St. Luke's guilds were entertained by Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Leete and Madame Leete.

The cozy and attractive rooms were brightened by the holiday decorations and made a pleasing spot for the gathering of ladies who occupied a portion of their time with the plying of the busy needle. For diversions a number of contests were held, the guessing contest on the number of apples in a basket proving a very interesting one as did also the calendar contest in which each lady was provided with cardboard, pen and glue and started in on making the calendars which were later decorated with colored crayons and for which suitable prizes were given.

One of the delightful luncheons which are so characteristic of the rectory, was served at an appropriate hour and favors of tiny lighted candles were presented to the guests. This something new is a solid colored tan, or a blue collar attached, neck band or collar to match. ## OFFICE OF STATE SHERIFF IS NOT DONE AWAY WITH

Thomas W. Carroll Officially Announced by Bryan as Gus Hyers' Successor.

Governor Charles W. Bryan officially announced Tuesday the appointment of Thomas W. Carroll as state sheriff, a selection that had leaked out before the governor intended it should be published. The governor does not, however, call the appointee state sheriff. No such office has even been created by such title authorized by the laws of this state. He designates Mr. Carroll on the payroll as chief deputy enforcement officer. If newspapers and the people generally continue to call him state sheriff for brevity's sake the governor cannot help it.

Mr. Bryan's appointment of Mr. Carroll restores the peace of mind of three classes of people, those who feared he would abolish the office of law enforcement, those who feared he would not and those who desired him to depose Gus Hyers. With one fell swoop the new governor has killed three birds with one shot out of his riot gun.

Those who feared the office of the law enforcement was to be abolished obtained an erroneous idea during the latter part of the campaign. Mr. Bryan had said a few things about the administration of Gus Hyers but when he found the governor himself was the law enforcement head he

BIBLE CLASS HAS A FINE SOCIAL TIME

Mrs. E. H. Wescott Acts as Hostess to Young Men's Bible Class in Delightful Social Event.

Last evening was the regular Tuesday evening "sing" and get-together meeting at the class rooms of the Y. M. B. C. of the Methodist church and an unusually large number of young men were present, some thirty-five being in attendance at the meeting.

As usual the first part of the evening was devoted to the singing of the songs selected by the members of the class and which was much enjoyed and to add to the pleasures of the occasion Mrs. William Baird favored the young men with a number of very pleasing readings in her always charming manner and generously responded to the entreats of the auditors. In addition to this feature various members of the party were called upon for brief remarks which were much enjoyed.

Mrs. Wescott then took charge of the evening program and announced that there was a real surprise in store for all of the members of the class and that each of the gentlemen search back in their memories and repeat some one of the old nursery rhymes of long ago and it was surprising how many were able to recall the rhymes of childhood days. The guests were then invited to the parlors of the church where games of all kinds had been prepared and under the genial spirit of the occasion the members of the party were soon in the midst of the most enjoyable social evenings that they had spent in months. There were many present who were newcomers to the class and these soon were right at home with the more seasoned members.

While the evening was going nicely a party of young ladies with their ukeleles arrived on the scene and gave a pleasing serenade to the members of the class and their friends and in the ladies found a most cordial welcome from the party.

As the evening was progressing refreshments were announced and a very enjoyable "feed" served by Mrs. Wescott, who was assisted by Mrs. Hattie Perry, Mrs. Alvin Craig and Miss Ethel Babbitt.
