INTRODUCE MEASURE FOR HIGHWAY UPKEEP BY STATE

Lincoln, Jan. 11.—The state department of public works will maintain all federal and state highways in Nebraska, which counties now are required to maintain at their own expense, under the provisions of S. F. 32, introduced in the senate today by State Senator M. F. Rickard of Webster.

On the present basis of fees, the total of this license money for the state is about $2,700,000, derived from the 250,000 motor vehicles.

"This proposed law grew out of the investigation of the highway situation of which I was a member early last year, and is calculated to remedy in part the clash over authority between county boards and the state and federal government," Senator Rickard said today.

"Under its provisions, 50 per cent of all automobiles license money will go to the counties where the licenses are paid, and it may be entirely expended on roads other than state and federal aid.

"After deducting 3 1/2 per cent for the administration of the license law, the state will get the remaining 46 1/2 per cent, which Secretary George Johnson of the department says will maintain the 3,500 federal and state roads now built.

"Heretofore the state has been taking from the counties up to 75 per cent of the local auto license money."

The proposed law provides that the department shall take over maintenance of these roads on April 1, this year.

This plan of keeping federal and state roads independent of the counties has been endorsed, Rickard says, by the Nebraska Farmers' union, the Nebraska Farm bureau federation and by the county board of the state.

NATURE'S WARNING

Plattsmouth People Must Recognize and Heed It.

Kidney ills come mysteriously. But nature generally warns you. Notice the kidney secretions. See if the color is unhealthy. If there are settlements and sediment. Passages frequent, scanty, painful. It's time to fear serious kidney trouble.

It's time to use Doan's Kidney Pills.

Doan's have done great work in Plattsmouth. Ask your neighbor. Theo Starkjohan, retired farmer, Locust and Ninth streets, Plattsmouth, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in our family for kidney trouble and backache and they have proven to be all that is claimed of them. Whenever my back feels a little lame and my kidneys are not acting as they should, I take Doan's Kidney Pills for a few days and they never fail to do me good. Doan's cannot be equalled, and anyone having kidney trouble should take them for they are very reliable." (Statement given February 23rd, 1916.)

Over four years later, or on May 12, 1920, Mr. Starkjohan added: "The cure I had from Doan's Kidney Pills has been lasting and I still have faith in Doan's and if ever I should need a kidney remedy again, I would use them."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same Mr. Starkjohan had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

BURIAL OF MR. ELIJAH GWINN

From the Slater (Mo.) Rustler we are able to obtain the following facts relative to the life, death and burial of Mr. Elijah P. Gwinn of Slater, Mo., father of Mrs. A. H. Humble of Manley. On January 2 Mr. Elijah P. Gwinn, aged 86 years, answered the call at his home where he had lived for the past forty years. Mr. Gwinn was born in Saline county, Mo., July 14, 1836, and was during his life a consistent member of the Christian church, and died in that faith. The funeral was preached by Rev. J. W. Boulton, pastor of that church. Mr. Gwinn was a member of the confederate army and fought under Gen. Price and was engaged in some of the biggest battles of the Civil war, having fought in the battles of Stone River, Shiloh, Vicksburg, Springfield, Pea Ridge and Corinth. He was taken prisoner when Gen. Pemberton surrendered to Gen. Grant on July 3, 1864. Following the Civil war he lived in Kansas for a period of ten years and there married Eliza J. Tobin. He came back to Slater, Mo., in 1873 and entered the grocery business where he has lived since. The life of Mr. Gwinn was an open book; he believed in the brotherhood of man. His life work is over and he has passed with a great number who wore the blue and gray to "Fame's eternal camping ground, where silent tent are spread and where Old Glory stands as a bivouac of the dead."

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 9.—Among the cases brought before the state board of pardons and paroles yesterday was that of Walter Duple, who was sentenced for life on a charge of murdering Stanley Ketchel, middleweight boxing champion, twelve years ago.

The case attracted nationwide attention at the time, as Ketchel had shortly before fought Jack Johnson, then heavyweight champion, giving the negro a hard fight.

REPORTS ON NEW HISTORICAL FACTS

Sheldon Says Steady Progress Made in Recording Nebraska Tradition—One Exhibit Lost.

A. E. Sheldon, superintendent and secretary of the Nebraska Historical society presented his report at the annual meeting of the society which opened Tuesday morning. The active membership was increased from 576 to 655 during the year. Nine members died. The summary of the activities of the year show that the society is making steady progress in digging up Nebraska's traditions and recording them in history.

The balance on hand January 1st, 1923, was as follows: Salary fund, $4,219.92; maintenance fund, $1,287.83; miscellaneous cash fund, $24.52.

The total number of visitors at the museum during the year is estimated to be approximately 5,500.

Several hundred items were added to the museum and 824 books, pamphlets, manuscripts and maps to the library. The library contains 15,000 bound volumes of newspapers.

Among the important acquisitions during the year is the collection of Fort Kearney correspondence and maps. This gives a detailed account of the establishment, construction and events connected with Fort Kearney. The collection was secured through Major-General Wm. H. Carter, now of Washington, D. C.

From S. R. McKelvie were received two flags used in the Liberty loan council of defense in Plattsmouth. One of the flags was the one used in laying the cornerstone of the new capitol.

The portrait of W. J. Bryan exhibited during the Trans-Mississippi exposition at Omaha in 1898 was presented by Mrs. Josephine Bell, of Los Angeles.

Josiah Miner, of Friend, presented a model log cabin constructed from walnut trees planted by him on his soldier's homestead in 1872.

Gifts and loans of many important genealogical books and manuscripts have been made by the Nebraska Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

During the past year the Historical society has lost from its museum one of the rarest and most valuable historical articles in its collection. This was the silver medal bestowed upon the Pawnee chief, Wrasat, at the Centennial of the American Revolution, by Miss White's Young Ladies' seminary. It commemorated one of the most important events in Nebraska history—the termination of living human sacrifices. The chief to whom the medal was given in 1817 was a captive of the medon Indians being burned to death in honor of the Pawnee god, "Evening Star."

The medal was buried with the chief's body on the Loup river in Nance county. A party of explorers found the medal in 1884. It became the property of a Washington party, who is now Mr. George W. Ellsworth of College View.

The medal was placed in the museum of the Historical society as a loan. The American Numismatic society of New York got information of the existence of the medal. It telegraphed an offer of $600 for it. The Historical society board met in special session to consider raising an equal amount to keep the medal in Nebraska. Lacking available funds to make the purchase, the society was reluctantly compelled to see this most important document, Nebraska history go to New York city.

President Harvey and Mr. Sheldon spent two weeks making surveys along the line of the Oregon trail and preparing data for an illustrated volume on that subject.

The society has made arrangement with Charles Knife Chief and Louis Bayhille of the Pawnee tribe for gathering the tribal history and traditions and implements of these two tribes.

S. C. Bassett, a member of the board, is writing a history of Nebraska agriculture.

The society is preparing a volume to give the name of every county, town, precinct, postoffice, stream and natural feature of the state, its origin and meaning. The first chapter will appear during the coming year.

The need for more space for the collections is becoming still more urgent.

CHRISTMAS ON THE DESERT

Mrs. Bedella Stander is in receipt of a letter from her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wolph of Nehawka, who left a few weeks ago for an Overland trip by automobile to California. They broke down in Arizona, near the city of Tucson, and had to be towed into a little town by an Indian. They found they would have to wait several days for their repairs to come from Los Angeles so they had to make the best of it.

The town was full of Indians and rough looking cowboys and miners, and was wild enough to suit anyone's fancy. They spent their Christmas in this village and while there they celebrated Mrs. Wolph's birthday and their first wedding anniversary so they will have several good reasons to remember their experience on the desert. The Indian who helped them was the one who found the dead bodies of the two cross-country government aviators who were lost a few weeks ago and he received $700 reward. He was very proud of his feat and talked freely of the adventure. Mrs. Wolph was formerly Miss Ethel Anderson and frequently visited in Plattsmouth with her sister. She taught in California before her marriage.—Louisville Courier.

M'CURBER RAAPS NORRIS BILL

Washington, Jan. 10.—While the senate banking committee was winding up its work on farm credits legislation today with the Capper bill as the basis of its immediate consideration, Senator M'Curber, North Dakota, chairman of the finance committee, delivered a speech in the senate declaring that co-operative organizing of farmers and not credits was their prime needs. He also attacked the bill of Senator Norris, Republican Nebraska, proposing a government corporation to deal in farm products as "dangerously paternalistic."

WOMEN MEET TO DISCUSS THEIR LABOR PROBLEMS

Hours, Wages and Other Conditions Being Analyzed Before Conference in Washington.

Women's wages and why they are so low. Women's hours of labor and why they are so long. The industries that employ women "home workers" and what they mean to women. Women wageearners and their dependents. Women's contributions to their families' support. Factory conditions of women workers and the workers' health. These are among the topics which will be considered at the National Conference of Women to be held in Washington today and Saturday.

When facts have been stated and causes analyzed, remedies for existing evils will be sought.

The conference was called by the women's bureau of the United States department of labor. Its purpose is to bring to light certain industrial conditions, which, says the bureau's director, Miss Mary Anderson, must be faced.

Bureau Names Standards

"The women's bureau," says Miss Anderson, "recommends certain definite standards for women's employment, looking to the welfare of the women workers and the national good, both of which aims involve women's industrial equality with men."

"We want this conference to consider earnestly the question: "What is industrial equality?"

Secretary of Labor Davis will open the conference officially in the auditorium of the new National Museum.

There will be present representatives of the organized employers and of the organized women workers; men, and especially women, in public office; club women, women members of fraternal orders, business women, professional women, women of every political creed and of all kinds of affiliations.

SAYS HAD GREAT TIME IN THE WILDS OF NEBRASKA

Wisconsin Man Returns Home With Stories of Much Game Bagged Near Nehawka, Nebr.

The Daily Gazette of Janesville, Wisconsin, of January 5th contains a very interesting account of the hunting trip which one of the residents of that place has just enjoyed in what he termed the "wilds" of Nebraska. The hunter had been visiting at Nehawka with his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Rough, and if seeking real adventure should have visited the section of the county near the Missouri river where the real wild animals exist amid the hills and hollows of the picturesque section of old Cass county.

The article seems strange to the residents of this locality and reads not unlike the stories of ye mighty hunter on the plains in the early days instead of rabbit hunting near the pleasant and peaceful little city of Nehawka.

The article from the Gazette appears below:

"Having spent two weeks in the wilds of Nebraska on a hunting trip, Harold J. Dane, manager of the Buttoningham and Hixon Lumber company, is home. Mr. Dane, with his family, spent two weeks at Nehawka, Neb., about 50 miles from Omaha, and says he got many bags of game. One day he went with his brother-in-law about a mile from the house and in three hours had bagged 19 rabbits, one squirrel and one jack rabbit the ears of which were six inches long.

"He sent rabbits to every employe here.

"Rabbits are so thick in those parts that the farmers shoot them as pests and some jack rabbits are larger than dogs, he said.

"Inability to get freight cars is weighing a hardship on the farmers of that section and in one place he saw several thousand dollars worth of corn shocked and laying in a pile, to be preyed on by rabbits and squirrels, because freight cars couldn't be secured. Asked about the coal situation there, Mr. Dane said:

"Coal? They aren't worrying about coal. They burn corn cobs in the stoves."

BOARD OF TRADE WILL BROADCAST CURRENT PRICES

Chicago, Jan. 11.—The Chicago Board of Trade today purchased the powerful radio broadcasting station "WDVP," located on top of the Drake hotel, and Friday will begin sending grain quotations every thirty minutes during trading hours on market days. The standard 350 meter wave length will be used.

The board of trade has furnished quotations to a local broadcasting station for several months, but under the new plan will give a much more extended service to farmers throughout the middle west. At a dinner to-day celebrating the acquisition of the station, Robert McDougal, former president of the board, said:

"In this manner we shall give to the entire radio public official prices and other valuable information in connection with all the commodities handled through the board of trade, thus serving the purpose from the farmer to the consumer. We hope to broaden our acquaintance and demonstrate our proclamation that the Chicago Board of Trade is an open book, and that prices are not made behind closed doors and available only to the few.

"Nothing but authoritative facts and figures will be broadcast on the commercial side, but we hope to enter the more human side of life through concerts, as well as instructive addresses.

PROPOSES TAX OF ONE MILL ON ALL CIGARETTES SOLD

Representative Ed Smith, of Omaha, author of the famous broad bill of two years ago, is a filleted with others in the preparation of a bill to provide a one mill tax on every cigarette sold in the state. Mr. Smith is of the belief that such a tax would increase the state's revenue approximately $1,500,000 a year. He would direct such revenue into the general school fund.

This mill tax would bring a revenue of two cents on each packet of twenty cigarettes and one cent on each packet of ten. The member from Omaha appreciates the fact that the measure proposes a sales tax—something bitterly opposed by Governor Bryan.

The bill as proposed is copied after the law passed by the Iowa legislature of 1921. According to information gathered from the neighboring state by Representative Smith, the cigarette tax brings in a greater revenue than came in the old days from operation of the saloon.

STATE SHERIFFS ENDORSE CARROLL FOR STATE POST

Work of Gus Hyers Praised and Ex-Governor McKelvie Thanked For His Co-Operation.

Lincoln, Jan. 10.—Resolutions approving the appointment of Tom Carroll as chief deputy law enforcement officer, praising the work of Gus Hyers as state sheriff and requesting the continuance of the Ranger-print department were adopted this afternoon at the annual convention of the state sheriff's association.

Carroll's appointment was vigorously attacked yesterday by the Omaha W. C. T. U., who endorsed Elmer Thomas of Omaha.

In addressing the convention, Governor Bryan indicated that he would co-ordinate the works of the sheriffs. Local officers would be depended upon to enforce the law without interference by the state sheriff's unless inefficiency or neglect on the part of local authorities made it necessary. Mr. Bryan said that the force of state sheriffs would be greatly reduced in order to do away with duplication. Whereas a force of 48 deputy sheriffs had previously been maintained, Mr. Bryan said it would be his program to maintain a much smaller staff.

Officers elected were: William Condit of Fremont, president; J. E. Howard, vice president, and Claude P. Hensel of Lincoln, secretary.

The resolutions express the appreciation of the sheriffs for the co-operation given by Governor McKelvie during his four years. The endorsing on the Carroll appointment reads: "Resolved, that we endorse Governor Bryan's appointment of Thomas Carroll as head of the state law enforcement bureau."
