JESUS CASTETH OUT A DEVIL

And in the synagogue there was a man, which had a spirit of an unclean devil, and cried out with a loud voice, saying, Let us alone; what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? Art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art; the Holy One of God. And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the devil had thrown him in the midst, he came out of him, and hurt him not.—Luke iv, 33 to 35.

Money isn't important unless you haven't any.

The output of peace doesn't supply the demand.

The great need of the non-Christian nations is Christianity. Still, you can say that much about the Christian nations.

No doubt, if called upon for a sentiment, Mr. Coe would exclaim: "Day by day I am better and better—advertised."

On the other hand, if Will Hays is only the movie interests' "fixer," as Douglas Fairbanks implies, why doesn't he fix something?

How unfortunate that the only men who know how to handle world problems should waste their time in villages whittling god boxes.

President Harding favors the British debt payment plan, and asks congress to approve the program, but frowns on the soldiers' bonus rider.

William Allen White is going on a Mediterranean cruise with Victor Murdock and his friends think he may write another book, "The Marine Adventures of Victor and Me," probably.

M. E. Church

As we pen these brief notes we detect the pleasing odor coming from the direction of the church basement.

Upon investigation we learn that the Blues are arranging for a big six o'clock chicken pie supper. At the reading of the Sunday school report last Sunday the Reds were over five thousand points ahead of the Blues. Some have asked how the purse is relative to that $1,000 debt. The bank has $560 on deposit and not all the collections are on deposit. Now, friends, there remains only three more Sundays in this contest. It will close Sunday, February 11th with our superintendent, John H. Clemens of Lincoln with us for the morning preaching service, then after lunch in the basement, we will have a 2 o'clock service and proceed to burn all the outstanding obligations against the church.

The captain on the winning side of the contest will have the honor of touching the match to the notes.

Captain Taylor desires to announce that on the night of February 9 he expects to put on the stage the play "Marriage, a Lottery." Don't forget the date.

I have on my desk a "Statement of Facts" relating to the action of the Nebraska conference retiring the Rev. J. D. M. Buckner. Anyone desiring to know the particulars of the case may read the booklet or send to Rev. J. W. Kirkpatrick, Secretary Cabinet, Nebraska Conference, 320 City National Bank Building, Omaha, at 20 cents per copy.

Study the Col. Chap. I again for the prayer meeting lesson. Bring your bible with you.

Official board meeting Monday, February 5th at parsonage.

Choir practice every Wednesday night, Mrs. Nickel, leader.

Mrs. William Coatman is doing her best for the young folks Sunday night choir. This is a much appreciated help in the service.

Don't forget the St. Paul banquet and speech by Bishop Stuntz next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock for the Methodists of the state university. Some names of students were omitted last week who are from Alvo attending the state school. Let's go hear the bishop.

Regular services next Sunday. You are invited.
