

LET'S

Let's walk a little straighter, live a little cleaner, work a little harder, speak a little softer, deal a little squarer. Let's give the other fellow a vote of confidence until he proves himself absolutely unworthy of such. Even then, let's try to show him the error of his way, and if possible restore him to our good graces. Let's slow up our car and let the nervous pedestrian cross the street, with the thought that his destination may be just as important to him as ours is to us. Let's "move over," "move up in front" or do anything that will help the social or commercial machinery to function more smoothly in order that the greatest good may come to the greatest number. Let's take our full share of responsibility, political, social and moral. Let's get into the game of life with all our heart and soul, and in the language of that greatly loved American, Theodore Roosevelt, "buck the line hard."

"ON THE CORNER"

OPERATED ON AT LINCOLN

From Wednesday's Daily Joseph Thompson, the caretaker at the Platte river wagon and auto bridge yesterday afternoon received a telephone message from Lincoln announcing that his niece, Miss Helen E. Creamer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Creamer of Nebraska, had been operated on at the St. Elizabeth's hospital in Lincoln and that the operation had proved successful in every way. The message from the members of the family to Mr. Thompson did not state the nature of the operation and stated that the prospects were bright for the speedy recovery of the young lady from her ordeal.

GOVERNOR INTRODUCES 44 PROPOSALS

LEGISLATURE HEARS CHARLEY FLAY CIVIL ADMINISTRATIVE CODE BILL.

ARGUE AFTER BILLS ARE READ

Senator Saunders of Omaha Asserts Joint Session No Place For Governor to Submit Bill.

Lincoln, Feb. 20.—Gov. Charles W. Bryan appeared before the legislature today and presented 44 bills, known as companions to his executive council plan of government. The original bill, known as skeleton, was introduced earlier in the session. The purpose of the governor's appearance was to read a message in which he strongly urged adoption of his plan of government as against any modification of the civil administrative code.

The governor flayed the civil administrative code, and charged it, as usual, with extravagance, waste and inefficiency. In telling what a good form of government he proposed, the governor read figures showing the number of state employes on the payroll in July, which is the height of the road building season in Nebraska. Then he said that under his plan, there will be 150 employes less.

Figures from the department of public works show that in July 100 more employes are on the payroll than during the winter months. The governor took July in showing the number of employes under the code, and used the winter months in showing how many he would have under his executive council plan.

He also said that the accounting part of the department of finance and revenue could be carried on by the state auditor with the help. Then minutes later George Marsh, state auditor, denied that he could do the work without extra help.

The governor also said Dan Swanson, state land commissioner, could act as state purchasing agent with assistance of a multigraph operator. Mr. Swanson, however, said that if he takes over the work of purchasing agent, it will be only with a full and competent staff.

After Governor Bryan concluded reading his message to a joint session of the house and senate and his 44 supporting bills for the council form of government had been placed on the speaker's desk there was a question as to proper procedure.

Senator Charles L. Saunders, Omaha, asserted that a joint session has no place to introduce the bill. He pointed out that under the constitution the governor must introduce bills either through a member or several members, or through a committee.

Governor Bryan asserted the constitution stated plainly it was prerogative of the governor to introduce bills at any time and if neither a committee nor individual cared to introduce a bill the governor, under the Saunders interpretation, would be powerless to have his bills considered.

At this point senators left the lower house and marched to the senate chamber.

Speaker Mathers, republican, sided with Governor Bryan and announced he would consider a motion for the house to accept the governor's bills. The motion was made by Regan, democrat, and seconded by Dysart, republican. It was adopted unanimously.

BANK BILL GOES TO 3RD READING

Creates Guaranty Fund Commission Composed of Bankers With Power of Investigation.

Lincoln, Feb. 20.—With only one audible negative vote, the Nebraska Bankers' association bill was advanced to third reading by the lower house this morning.

This bill creates a guaranty fund commission composed of bankers, who shall have power to examine the records and papers in state banks, in co-operation with the state banking department.

Under the provisions of the bill, this commission may request the banking department to draw on the guaranty fund and with the consent of the state department, banks discovered to be weak, may be advanced money from this fund. It also provides for a legalization of receivers' certificates.

Members explaining the bill told of the millions of dollars lost in the last two years in failed banks and asserted that if some such step as that contemplated in this bill were not taken, the larger banks would nationalize and the smaller banks would be unable to withstand the drain on the guaranty fund.

It also was stated that receiverships numbering today 64, were exceptionally extensive and cost on an average $600 a month per receiver.

JURY GIVEN VACATION

This morning, Judge Begley excused the jury panel for the present but on his return from Lincoln where he will go to sit with the supreme bench, may call the jury back for the trial of any cases that may be left from the term. There is not a great many cases that will require the services of the petit jury and the disposition of the cases may permit the excuse of the jury for the term.

FEELING MUCH BETTER

Simon Clark returned last night from Rochester, Minnesota, where he has been for several days taking treatments at the Mayo brothers hospital. His affliction from which he has been a sufferer for months, Mr. Clark returns feeling much better and received the most favorable reports from his physicians for his recovery from the affliction that he has suffered. He will return later to Rochester for the final treatment and trusts that he will then be able to resume his activities after an enforced layoff of almost a year.

COLONIAL TEA IS A GREAT SUCCESS

Parlors of Methodist Church Very Tastefully Arranged and Ladies Gowned as of Old.

From Wednesday's Daily. The Social Workers of the Methodist church yesterday gave an entertainment at the parlors of the church that was both unique and charming. An ever delicate and attractive colonial costumes worn by the ladies receiving and serving was typical of the days of the colonies and bore out the idea of the colonial tea which was the nature of the gathering.

The windows of the parlors were draped with red and white paper and through this the soft rays of light filtered and cast a pleasing glow over the scene while the use of large rugs and piano lamps throughout the rooms added to the touch of beauty. The tea was in charge of Mrs. Allen J. Beeson and a great deal of the pleasantness of the occasion was due to her efforts.

As the ladies entered the parlors they were greeted by the charmingly gowned committee representing the colonial ladies and Mrs. J. E. Wiles as Martha Washington and Mrs. J. W. Crabill and Mrs. W. R. Holmes composed the committee receiving the guests.

One of the features of the afternoon was the program arranged by Mrs. E. H. Wescott and which served to give the ladies a rare treat in the way of entertainment. Mrs. Ed Roman and Mrs. Frank Barkus gave a very delightful vocal duet as did also Mrs. J. E. Sanderson and Mrs. E. H. Wescott while solos were given by Miss Frances Christ, Mable Lee Copenhagen and Olive Quinn, all of which enhanced the delights of the program. Mrs. Frank Barkus gave a feature of the program was the reading by little Mary Katherine Wiles and this little lady was gracious in her responses to the encores of the audience. Miss Helene Perry, who has been often delighted to address Plattsmouth audiences, was also on the program with one of her always pleasing readings. The pupils of Miss Irene Davis gave an old time minuet that was full of grace and charm and a pleasing diversion on the program.

The refreshments of the afternoon were in keeping with the spirit of the colonial days and consisted of frozen custard, which dainty was first introduced at the receptions of Martha Washington, as well as wafers and tea, and the serving was in charge of Mrs. Emma Pease, Mrs. A. Christ, Mrs. F. E. Ptoutz, Mrs. F. R. Gobelman and Mrs. John Henry, all being in the period costumes. As the result of the delightful afternoon the ladies of the society realized a great sum which will be used in the work of redecorating the church building during the coming summer.

NEBRASKA CITY GIVES LOCALS A REAL TRIMMING

Defeats Plattsmouth Cagers by Score of 26 to 19—Best Game Played Here This Season.

The largest crowd that has been present this season at any of the high school games crowded the gym last night to witness the defeat of the Plattsmouth high school basketball team by the Nebraska City team by the score of 26 to 19.

The game opened with the Plattsmouth team securing a number of points before Nebraska City even registered, but the fast work of the visitors and the apparent uncertainty and indecision of the locals enabled the visitors to snare several field goals and in the last few moments of the first half Nebraska City ran a succession of goals that gave them the lead by 11 to 10 when the half ended.

When Referee Parrish blew the whistle for the second half the Nebraska City team started right in to annex the game and by fast and clever playing advanced the ball into the Plattsmouth territory and scored repeatedly, the defense of the locals seemingly being ineffective and their holding the ball on plays made it possible for Nebraska City to organize a defense that could not be touched. For a few moments in the last half the use of Wesley, substitute, was made and he showed a great deal of promise and with Koube and Warga battled hard but unsuccessfully in trying to block the onrush of the Nebraska City ball tossers. Krejci, center, was not in his accustomed basket throwing stride in time but was carefully guarded by the visitors so that he was compelled to try many long throws the majority of which were fruitless. Gradville, one of the local forwards, who has been sick for some time, was in the game for the greater part of the time but was ineffective against the Oteo's defense.

The Nebraska City team was accompanied by a very large crowd of rooters and with the spirit shown by the rooters for the local school made the game one full of enthusiasm and fun for the students. The visitors were a fine bunch of young men in every way and played a good effective game and well deserve the honors of the struggle.

ASKS UNIFORM LAW FOR ALL DIVORCES

Nebraska Solons Memorialize Congress to Pass Such a Measure Goes Over For a Day.

Lincoln, Feb. 20.—Representatives Stroboad, Johnson and Gilmore joined in a joint resolution introduced Tuesday morning, which went over a day, which memorializes congress to enact a uniform marriage and divorce law for the purpose of combating evils in social conditions. The resolution, if passed, is to be sent to the state's representatives at Washington with a request that they support such legislation, and secure speedy action.

The preamble to the resolution is as follows: "Whereas, the administration of the selective service act, during the world war, disclosed an appalling state of affairs with respect to the physical condition of the young manhood of our country, and

Whereas, the highest military and surgical officials of the United States of America, whose duty it was to administer the draft concluded that more than 50 per cent of the young men of draft age were not physically fit and in conference assembled have urged that remedial legislation be enacted to better these conditions, and

"Whereas, the state institutions of the state of Nebraska are filled and overflowing with unfortunates who are becoming an ever increasing burden on the taxpayers of this state,

"Whereas, statistics and diagnoses prove conclusively that the condition of Nebraska's unfortunates is in many cases the direct result of hereditary and social diseases, and

"Whereas, the stability of the American nation, the bulwark of the American home, is greatly endangered by the laxness and the great disparity of the marriage and divorce laws of the various states.

After a vacation, Cupid appears to be getting busy among the residents of Cass county and as the result there was a sudden rush of business in the marriage license department of the county judge's office when a license was issued to Mr. George R. Swartz and Miss Edna L. Ochlerking, both of Elmwood, and to Lucius Wilson and Miss Cara F. Baldwin, both of this city. The last named couple will be married here Sunday.

HOLDS INTERESTING SERVICE

From Wednesday's Daily. Last evening, the Rev. Stanley Jones, rector of St. Paul's church in Omaha, was here to hold the Tuesday evening services at the St. Luke's Episcopal church, the visits of such side priests to the church each Tuesday being a part of the Lenten program of the church. Rev. Jones is one of the ablest of the younger ministers of Omaha and last evening his sermon to the members of St. Luke's parish was very inspiring and filled with the lessons of the church on the importance of the observance of the Lenten season as a part of the church life.

TUITION REMAINS UNCHANGED FOR RURAL STUDENTS

Battle is Waged in Legislature Over Attempt to Reduce Tuition in the High Schools.

Lincoln, Feb. 20.—City and country legislators held solid lines today in a hot fight over a bill to lower high school tuition for country students from $3 to $2 a week. The city denizens won by a bare majority of two and the bill was killed. The measure has been the subject of discussion for several days. Country legislators assert that country students are at more expense for their schooling without tuition because their parents are obliged to pay transportation and board and room. When confronted by statements to the effect that the $2 a week doesn't pay the tuition now and the $2 would be even further from the actual cost, country members asserted that if trills were taken from high schools the tuition charge would meet expenses. City members asserted that if such procedure would really cut expenses they would accept the bill. However, they asserted that such a reduction would be merely placing an added burden to city residents, who, they asserted, now pay more in taxation than country residents. Finally, agrarian members offered to compromise by amending the bill so $2.50 would be the tuition charge. But the city folks were obdurate and finally won their fight.

DISARMAMENT OF INDUSTRY IS URGED

Former Governor Allen of Kansas Says Labor Leaders Draw $60,000,000 For War Chest.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Industrial disarmament which would relieve the innocent bystander—the public—was declared to be America's need by former Governor Henry J. Allen of Kansas speaking here tonight before the Chicago Association of Credit Men. "A nation which has found a just way to solve the other controversies should find a way to peace and justice in this, which is today the sole remaining quarrel in which men are allowed to fight it out regardless of the danger to which the fight subjects the defenseless public," he declared. "It is unspeakable that every time a new contract is to be signed between men who work in coal mines and the operators, or between men who work in railway shops and the railway corporations, that these industries must be shut down and a species of civil war brought to bear on the helpless public while the leaders of the respective sides are deciding the terms of the new contracts. Today labor leaders are drawing more than $60,000,000 a year of the slender purse of labor for the maintenance of the 'war department.' It is the duty of the government to find justice for labor at a less cost than this."

The state anti-saloon league superintendent, Rev. Frank A. High, filled the pulpit last Sunday morning. Sorry the usual good crowd was not present to hear this able man and to help him in making this fair land of ours at least law abiding on the booze amendment to the U. S. constitution. Come again, Bro. High when so many flu cases will not lessen the attendance.

The Sunday night audience was the smallest yet this year. One word will tell the story—flu.

The prayer meeting was well attended last Thursday night in the Sister Kahler home. There is room for more. We expect fifty next Thursday. Friends and members of your church won't you please plan to put the prayer meeting on a little red book as the first and greatest part in the week's program for you to attend? We sure need your prayers.

Our date set by the lady evangelist, Miss Clara Meeker of Oklahoma, is April 15 unless a certain pastor will let us have his date of March 15. We will hope for the March date. Are we ready for this revival? May God bless such a meeting in the Alvo M. E. church.

OMAHA AUTO SHOW FEBRUARY 26 TO MARCH 3

Omaha, Feb. 15.—Omaha's eighteenth annual auto show, to be held at the auditorium February 26 to March 3, will bring forth many things of interest to car owners and dealers alike. In every sense this will be a "back to prosperity" showing of great values and refinements in motor cars, commercial vehicles and accessories. The leading makes of American cars will be shown, as well as a number of makes new to Omaha. Never before has the motorist been offered so much for his money. The new models, with hardly an exception are featuring lower prices, more complete equipment and greater economy in operating costs. The car of 1932 is more durable and sturdy in construction. Closed cars stand high in popular favor this year. The new sport phaetons, coupes and business coupes will be of especial interest. Manufacturers have given close attention to the equipment of their new offerings. Some models come so completely equipped there is nothing left for the owner to buy. A feature of the Omaha show will be the dealers frolic at the Hotel Fontenelle the evening of February 28. Cabarets, entertainments and a hot party by one of the leaders of the industry will attract dealers from every part of Nebraska. Special railroad rates have been secured for dealers on the certificate plan. They buy one way ticket and get a certificate which will be validated at the show.

F. J. Spangler and wife, residents of the Manly vicinity, motored in this morning from their home to enjoy a few hours here looking after some matters of business.

M. E. Church Notes

We hastily pen a few brief notes for the readers of the Alvo. We contemplate a change of the date in the items is why the brevity at present.

We could hardly believe our eyes last Sunday when not such an enthusiastic audience met for the Sunday school hour. Even the auto and airplane were missing and the air did not seem to be freighted with a spirit of race. The collection was far from seven hundred dollars. There is a reason for this says Bro. Keeter: "We are all broke." The records showed it too.

The state anti-saloon league superintendent, Rev. Frank A. High, filled the pulpit last Sunday morning. Sorry the usual good crowd was not present to hear this able man and to help him in making this fair land of ours at least law abiding on the booze amendment to the U. S. constitution. We recently learned that a certain Sunday school class has a challenge to offer next Sunday. Wonder what it is?

Better be present and consider this challenge. Choir practice in the church Saturday night at 7:30.

Ladies aid meeting next Wednesday afternoon when they have another social function on the move which will be perhaps the "mostest" fun of 'em all and, by the way, bank a few dollars too. Next week you will read about it.

Friends, don't forget to come to your church on Sunday. Sunday School 10:00. Preaching 11:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

We miss you occasionally.
