INDICT HENRY GERING UNDER AN OLD LIQUOR LAW

Number of Others Named in True Bills with "Teeth" in Them, Says World-Herald.

Indictments based on the old internal revenue laws of prohibition days were returned against Henry R. Gering, head of the manufacturing pharmacists' company at 1114 Farman street, which bears his name and a number of other alleged liquor law violators by the federal grand jury yesterday.

Under one section of the three indictments against Gering, the government, according to George Keyser, assistant district attorney, will try to confiscate Gering's plant, Rudolph Gerber and L. B. Hansen, who the government charges were employees of Gering also were named in the Gering indictments.

The liquor indictments described by Keyser as ones which "teeth" were the first of their type ever returned here and, so far as is known, the first ever returned in the country since the advent of prohibition. The laws were enacted for the prosecution of Kentucky and Tennessee mountain moonshiners of the pre-prohibition days. In most of the counts, fines of from $500 to $5,000 and jail sentences are provided in cases where convictions are obtained.

Must Impose Both

They differ from the Volstead penalties in that in convictions under the Volstead act the fines and jail sentences are optional with the court and may be applied separately, but under the old revenue laws, both must be imposed.—World-Herald.

POOL HALL CLOSING BILL IS POSTPONED

Y. M. C. A. Leader Active in Fight to Keep Recreation Places Open at Night.

Lincoln, March 28.—The senate committee on child welfare voted tonight to indefinitely postpone the Sturdevant bill, which would force closing of pool halls in the state from 8 in the evening until 7 in the morning.

There was a hot debate. Senator Sturdevant, white-haired and 60, asserted that in many pool halls gambling and bootlegging prevailed and men and boys should be at home after 8 in the evening, and if this bill were passed, they would be at home.

Arrayed against him were Senator James Good of Chadron, a member of the state executive committee of the Young Men's Christian association, and Senator John L. Larkin of Omaha, representing the stockyards district of South Omaha.

Senator Good denied that he had ever seen gambling or bootlegging in pool halls he had visited. He asserted evening recreation was necessary and straight pool and billiards could be classed as necessary recreation.

Senator Larkin pictured the laboring men in his district, who stopped work at 5 or 6 in the evening, ate their dinners and sought recreation where possible for a few hours.

"The only legitimate recreation outside the pool halls open for my people is the picture show," Larkin said. "I haven't any briefs for pool hall proprietors that permit rowdiness."

"Guess, gentlemen, if the pool halls were closed at 8, where the men and boys would be forced to seek recreation."

TUNEFUL MUSICAL COMEDY COMING

"All Aboard," with Splendid Home Talent Cast, at the Parmele on April 11th and 12th.

A musical comedy, to be a genuine hit must possess two things. First a good interesting plot, and a tuneful musical score. Without these, a show can not be a real success. In "All Aboard," the musical show the Christian Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church will present at the Parmele theatre on April 11-12, will be found the above requirements and more.

"All Aboard" is from the pen of the late Julie McCree, who wrote more than a hundred professional stage successes, and proved to be one of the largest Broadway hits ever produced. Too much cannot be said of the pretty musical score, for not since the good old days of the "Merry Widow" has anything been written which would compare with the "All Aboard" score. The same charm which once held you in the creamy waltz strains of the famous Merry Widow waltz will be found in "My Dream Has Come True" and "The Beautiful Bumble Bee," two of the big song hits of "All Aboard." The musical score contains other hits howling and it would be hard to limit them to one or two numbers.

Some of those taking leading parts are Raymond Rehal, who will portray Bill Brady, a college boy; Damian Flynn, who will be seen as Johnny Thomas, Billy's pal, and Lawrence Sprecker, who will have the part of Alexander C. Phome. Dorothy Brady and Beatrice Sloan, two college girls, will be played by Helen Wescott and Catherine Schneider. Others taking part are Mary Margaret Walling, who will be seen as Mrs. Sloan, mother of Beatrice, and Gus Brubacher, as Captain Kidd of the S. S. Florida.

Tickets may be secured Monday or thereafter, from members of the organization or from the talent.

CELEBRATE 49TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Wendel Heil, of Louisville Observe Pleasant Occasion on March 25th.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendel Heil celebrated their 49th wedding anniversary very quietly at their home on North Hill last Sunday. As they look back over their wedded life, which covers almost half a century, they feel that they have much to be thankful for. They have a family of ten children, all married and living within a few hours' drive of them and all prospering and enjoying good health.

Mrs. Heil's maiden name was Miss Elizabeth Meisinger, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Mike Meisinger, pioneers of Nebraska. The wedding took place at the Lutheran parsonage in Louisville, the pastor, Rev. L. Hannewalt officiating. Rev. Hannewalt then lived in what is now the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCarty. The house was built for a parsonage by the Lutheran society and it was substantially erected so that even today it is one of our splendid homes. The pastor conducted a parochial school in the upper part of the latter years it was held to John Osenkop, changing hands a few times since then until Mr. McCarty purchased it and remodeled and modernized it entirely.

Mr. and Mrs. Heil recall with pleasure their drive to town in a lumber wagon with a span of mules, but perhaps no happier couple ever rode behind a coach and four, or in a royal chariot. They began their married life on the farm then owned by the groom and which remained their home during all their wedded life until two years ago when they retired from active farm life and moved to Louisville, where they are comfortably located and are enjoying the freedom from the many cares attendant upon a busy farm life.

Mr. and Mrs. Heil are highly respected citizens and have the best wishes and congratulations of a large circle of friends who will hope to see them live to enjoy many more happy anniversaries.—Louisville Courier.

North Platte's estimated population July 1, 1923, will be 12,511. Its population in 1920 was 10,466.

The census bureau arrived at its estimates by comparing the average monthly increases since the census of 1920, with those of the preceding ten years, 1910-20.

Miss Honor Seybert, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Seybert, United in Marriage Mar. 27.

Announcement was received here yesterday by the relatives of the bride of the marriage at Dayton, Ohio, on Tuesday, March 27, of Miss Honor Seybert and Mr. Charles A. Young.

The wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Marshall, Jr., after a sister of the bride, who was a very quiet affair, the only guests being Mr. and Mrs. Ralph I. Marshall.

The Rev. Gooding read the beautiful and impressive marriage service as the two young people were joined in the bonds of wedlock.

Following the ceremony the members of the party enjoyed a very delightful wedding luncheon in honor of the newly weds.

The bride is a Plattsmouth girl and was born and educated in Cass county and where she has made her home to a few months ago. She is a lady of most unusual musical talent and has been one of the most accomplished musicians of the city in the last few years since completing her school work and has often delighted Plattsmouth gatherings with her artistic piano playing. The groom is employed by the National Cash Register Co. at Dayton, and is a young man immensely popular among a large circle of friends and has great promise in his future with the company that he is associated with.

Mr. and Mrs. Young will continue to make their home at Dayton in the future.

BEAUTIFUL WOMANHOOD

The March issue of Beautiful Womanhood is fascinating. It contains a wide variety of information on beauty and beauty culture. Among the contributors are Charlotte Perkins Gilman who writes "Do you know beauty when you see it?" Then there is an interview with D. W. Griffith on "What is Beauty?" as told by Capitola W. Ashworth. Marie Rappold advises you "To Sing Your Way to Health" while Kitty Gordon thinks "Forty the Age of Supreme Beauty." These are only a few of the many interesting features in this superbly illustrated number. There are articles by Alice Kimball, Marie Kimball on how to "Overcome Your Shyness—and Get a Husband," "How to be Happy Though Divorced" by Oursler, "Love Roads" by Richard Barry and the autobiography of a foot entitled "Once a Beautiful Foot!" But now an editorial by Bernard Macfadden as only he can write it.

Martin L. Ruby is Near Death's Door at Home in McCook—Suffering Tuberculosis of Bone.

A message was received yesterday by Thomas Ruby of near Mynard, from McCook, Nebraska, announcing the fact that his father, Martin L. Ruby, was sinking very rapidly and all hopes of his recovery had been dispensed of by the attending physicians.

Mr. Ruby has been suffering from tuberculosis of the bone for some months and the spread of the disease has made his recovery long the matter of grave doubt. Mr. Ruby was for many years a prominent farmer residing west of Mynard up to the time he removed to the west.

Mrs. Evi Speir of Alliance, who has been visiting at Aurora, Illinois, at the home of Mr. Speir's parents, came in this morning to visit over Easter at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Streight.

TO VALIDATE TAX ON BANKS BY A LEGISLATIVE ACT

Senate Recommends Governor's Bill For Passage—Legalizes Taxes Levied in 1922 on Banks.

The senate Friday morning recommended for passage H. R. 339, introduced by Governor Bryan for the purpose of legalizing and validating the taxes levied for 1922 against the various state and national banks in Nebraska. The supreme court recently held, on the petition of state bankers, that the state bank tax was illegal because the federal statutes provided that national bank stock should not be taxed any more than other moneyed capital, which carries a fourth of the general tax. This created a discrimination against state banks, and vitiated the state law that provides they shall pay on full value.

Since then congress has passed a law that leaves it open for the state to tax both national and state bank stock at full value, and this bill seeks to hold the owners for last year's taxes.

S. F. 309 was advanced to third reading. It authorizes the expenditure by county boards of up to $2,000 a year to take care of infectious, contagious and communicable livestock diseases.

H. R. 136 was also advanced. It amends the present law relating to the adoption of the commission form of government by cities and which fixes the minimum population limit at 5,000. As amended cities down to 2,000 may adopt this method.

H. R. 215 was likewise favored. It is designed to allow the city of Columbus to purchase the privately owned system of sewers in that municipality.

G. W. Homan was a passenger this morning for Omaha where he will look after some matters of business for a short time.
