GOVERNOR SMITH SIGNS REPEAL OF STATE "DRY" LAW

NEW YORK EXECUTIVE ALSO CALLS ON CONGRESS TO MODIFY DRY LAW.

MUST ENFORCE THE LETTER

Denies That He is Infringing Upon Provisions of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Albany, N. Y., June 1.—Governor Smith tonight signed the Cuyler bill repealing the Mullen-Gage state prohibition enforcement law. In wiping the state law from the statute books the governor issued a lengthy statement explaining that he takes this step the interest of state rights, but that the federal prohibition law remains in force in New York and will be strictly enforced by the New York law officers.

Of preponderant interest and significance, however, is that part of the executive statement which contains a call for a new policy in prohibition enforcement representing a middle course between the "fanatical wets and the fanatical dries."

Governor Smith proposes that the states be permitted to define intoxicating liquor so that some states may have light wines and beer while others may, if they choose, be as dry as the Volstead act.

The governor said that the whole treatment of the prohibition question has been "marked by hypocrisy," and that the country is looking for a deal that will disregard the fanatics on both sides. He denies emphatically that he advocates anything "infringing upon the provisions of the Eighteenth amendment," but he regards the one-half of 1 per cent alcoholic content definition of intoxicating liquor in the Volstead act as dishonest and nonsensical. That definition, he believes, was written by the fanatical dries in defiance of the "general experience of mankind," and he thinks that common sense, backed up by "good medical opinion" would produce a "more scientific" definition. "Such a definition," said the governor, "should be adopted by congress as a proper and reasonable amendment of the Volstead act, and a maximum alcoholic content which would limit all states to the traffic in liquors which are in fact non-intoxicating within the meaning of the Eighteenth amendment. Subject to that limitation each state should hereafter be left free to determine for itself what should constitute an intoxicating beverage. States which then wished to limit traffic to beverages containing not more than one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol would be free to do so, and those who desired to extend the traffic to the maximum limit when allowed by federal statute would be equally free to do so."

EIGHTY-ONE YEARS OLD

From Saturday's Daily.
Eighty-one years is a long space of time but today, Col. M. A. Bates, who has been editor of the Journal for the past twenty years, is celebrating his eighty-first anniversary and the greater part of these years have been spent in the newspaper business. The colonel ascribes a part of his long life to the fact that he has always been a democrat and expects to continue so until the close of his career.

Col. Bates was born at Summerford, four miles from London, Ohio, June 2, 1842, and made his first venture into the newspaper game in the office of the Madison County Democrat when a lad of twelve years and with the exception of the time spent in the Union army during the Civil war, he has been in the newspaper game since that time. He has founded perhaps as many papers as any living editor at this day and represents the editorial writers of the old school who were outspoken and fearless in their stand for the ideas that they believed in. Col. Bates started twenty-six newspapers in long life as well as many in Missouri before he came to Nebraska and located at Plattsmouth to assume the editorship of the Journal, which is owned by his son, Robert A. Bates. The many friends will join in wishing the colonel the completion of his one hundredth anniversary and that he may continue to enjoy life as he is at the present time.

The condition of my liver made me feel sluggish and dizzy, my head ached dreadfully and the pains in my back and arms were something awful. "Well, all my troubles have left me since taking the Tanlac treatment, and I eat fine, sleep fine and feel fine in every way. Search the world over and you couldn't find such a grand good medicine as Tanlac."

MEMORIAL MESSAGE FROM KING ALBERT OF BELGIUM

Washington, May 30.—The state department today made public a Memorial day message received by President Harding from King Albert of Belgium and the president's reply. The king called: "Belgium forever will remain deeply grateful to the brave soldiers, sailors and marines of the United States, who so gallantly fell on her soil. Their graves on this coming Decoration day will be reverently covered with flowers and, on this solemn occasion, I join with all my heart, all those who will pay tribute to these heroic sons of the United States. I send to your excellency my warmest wishes for the prosperity of your great country and the assurance of my sincerest friendship."

In his message of reply the president said: "It is a sad but grateful sentiment of sympathy that binds our nations together on this memorable occasion and the tie is made the more binding inasmuch as it is indeed not alone a united tribute to our own dead, but equally a loving tribute to the brave men who mingled their blood with ours in defense of their fatherland and the liberty of free men. My countrymen wish for their colleagues of Belgium prosperity and happiness in the merited enjoyment of liberty by men who have bitterly learned the cost of freedom."

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT!

No Reduction on Men's, Young Men's or Boy's Clothing for Spring.

If band wagons were still the thing, we would climb into one and play the tune "NO SUIT SALE THIS YEAR," as written by The Nebraska Clothing Co., and our good friends, the Wescott's.

Don't put off buying that suit another day, thinking clothing will be cheaper or that you will strike a sale. Good clothes have reached the lowest level of prices and are now on the upward bound.

We are determined to maintain the integrity of this establishment and will not substitute inferior merchandise to make the appearance of a so called bargain. We stand back of everything we sell, but could not do so with cheap goods.

When our Omaha suit customers inform us that our suit prices are $5 to $10 under the big store sale prices, and buy their clothes here, we are convinced we are selling right.

Our only plan of a sale and one we follow out is: When any goods do not move, or we are broken in sizes, they are promptly reduced and nothing is said about it. But you will understand if you trade here.

Watch our Bargain Wednesday Ads. In addition to our Specials you will always find adds and ends that are real bargains.

CLARK MICKEY'S NAME APPEARS ON TWO PAYROLLS

University Professor Draws Dual Salaries From State and Has Several Jobs Besides.

Lincoln, June 1.—C. D. Robinson, state treasurer, ordered Lincoln banks today to refuse to cash the salary warrant for May issued to Prof. Clark E. Mickey of the engineering college of the state university, in payment for services with the state department of public works. Robinson asserted today that Mickey, under the code law, had no right to draw dual salaries, one for $2,500 a year for testing stone and paving materials for the department of public works and the other for $4,000 a year for teaching engineering in the state university.

Salary Increased
Mickey's records show that he drew a salary of $2,000 a year for teaching at the university until September 1 of this year when his salary was increased to $4,000 a year. Other records indicate that Mickey has been drawing $2,500 a year from the department of public works for two years for testing stone in the state house walls and testing of materials used in state paving.

The original appointment to the state department of public works position was made by George E. Johnson, state engineer. Immediately after the appointment of Roy Cochran as state engineer was made by Governor Bryan, Cochran reappointed Mickey to the same position at the same salary.

Wait on Cochran
"I think it only fair to wait until Mr. Cochran returns to Lincoln to give him an opportunity to make an explanation as to why he reappointed me," Professor Mickey said. "However, I will say right now that the state needs someone to inspect materials put into the public works done by the state, and I have been doing the work cheaper than anyone else would."

Mickey stated, that in addition to the job of inspecting state materials and teaching engineering in the university, he often inspected paving and materials for various towns in the state for certain prices. "None of this work interferes with my duties at the university," Mickey said.

Attorney General O. S. Spillman stated today that he would withhold an opinion on the legality of the dual salary until asked officially to give one by Robinson or some state official.

GIVES PRE-NUPTIAL BREAKFAST TODAY

W. S. Leete Family Entertain at an Eleven O'Clock Breakfast For Miss Margaret Donelan.

From Saturday's Daily.
Father and Mrs. W. S. Leete and Madame Joshua Leete entertained this morning at 11 o'clock at a very charming 3-course pre-nuptial breakfast in honor of Miss Margaret Donelan, who will be one of the brides of the late summer season, her engagement to Mr. Karl Brown of Papillion having recently been announced. The rooms of the rectory were arranged in a color scheme of yellow that added to the brightness of the home and in the dining room the decorations were unusually beautiful, yellow roses being used profusely in the color scheme.
The centerpiece was a large tray of roses surrounded by yellow candles and from the chandelier was suspended a beautiful spray of yellow roses of the spring season. At the places were tiny bags of yellow as well as place cards with yellow roses and from the glasses were suspended tiny varied colored parrots and the brightness of the colors with the very handsome breakfast linen made the scene one of unusual charm. The of the guest of honor was decorated in yellow roses and with huge bows of white ribbon that enhanced the beauty of the scene.

As the bride-to-be was seated she was handed a number of envelopes each containing a verse describing the hiding place of a gift with which the rectory family were to shower her, and the finding of these produced a great deal of interest for the guest of honor and the members of the party.

After the breakfast the members of the party repaired to the attractively arranged porch where the time was spent in stamping the linen for the bride and in a general pleasant visit with each other and the charming guest of honor who is soon to leave this city. The members of the Leete family were assisted in entertaining and serving by Mesdames Frank H. Dunbar, Robert A. Bates and J. S. Livingston and Misses Ursula Herold, Violet Begley and Eleanor McCarty. The invited guests were Mrs. Brown, mother of the groom-to-be, Miss Marguerite Brown of Papillion, Mrs. W. H. Young of Fremont, Mrs. J. A. Donelan, Mrs. Casper Thygeson of Nebraska City, Miss Verna Leonard, Miss Mable White, Miss Ruth Shannon, Miss Barbara Gering and the guest of honor, Miss Margaret Donelan. A number were prevented from attending, they being Misses Mia Gering and Dora Fricke, Karl Brown of Papillion and Mr. Casper Thygeson of Nebraska City, W. H. Young of Fremont.

GOLF IS ORDER OF THE DAY AT PRESENT

Enthusiasts Busy on the Links and Workmen Getting the Course Ready For Opening.

One of the busy spots in the whole community at present is the golf course on the Luke L. Wiles farm and if nothing else has been accomplished by the installing of the course it has developed a desire among the residents of the city who belong to the club for early rising and it is claimed that some of the members who formerly arose when the tollers were about ready for dinner, now get up long before the orb of day has lifted itself from behind the Iowa hills and shed its bright light over the landscape.

While the course was not fully completed until today, practice has been going on for the past ten days and the new golfers are becoming familiar with the task of "putting," "teeing" and other parts of the game that we have taken over from our Scottish friends across the sea. A number of very skillful players are developing among the new members of the club and after a few weeks of play there will be some good scores made on the course. The new course is one of nine holes and is well laid out in one of the ideal spots that could be found in this part of the state and those who are familiar with other courses state that the one here is very well suited in every way.

DRAWS DOWN FINE

Last evening, Chief of Police Alvin Jones in company with Sheriff Quinton were motoring out Washington avenue to look over the travelers along the highway and overhauled a Ford containing two gentlemen, one of whom was decidedly in a state of intoxication. The men were brought in and complaint lodged against Fred Sey of Omaha for being drunk and he paid the fine of $10 and costs. The other member of the party was merely riding with Mr. Sey and accordingly was not molested.

CARS ARE LAID UP

During the rain and storm yesterday there were nine cars stalled near the home of P. E. Scott, south of this city and one of the striking facts of the case was that there were no two cars of the same make, showing that the storm was not discriminating in the least but the mud laid them all up. C. E. Metz of Omaha, who was one of the parties was loud in his praise of the hospitality of Mr. Scott during the time the parties were stalled there and he placed his home at their disposal.
