WALK IN WISDOM

Walk in wisdom toward them that are without redeeming the time. —Colossians IV, 5.

A soft collar turneth away sweat.

A family at odds soon comes to odds and ends.

Just about every fly we know needs swatting.

It is almost cheaper to move than to cut the weeds.

Probably the starving Armenians are fed up on Turks.

Keep away from Chicago. Chicago has a brass band contest.

We are always afraid a barber will make our hair look like his.

Nothing tickles a real dog more than biting a pedigreed pup.

Electricity producing costs are lower, but it is still shocking.

It is astonishing how much help you can get when you don't need it.

Now is the time to take back all those mean things you said about winter.

Boys are not getting sick near so often as they did before school turned out.

Our observation is that men have less neuralgia than formerly, but more neuritis.

One thousand German marks are now quoted at one cent, but they are not worth it.

New York is talking as big as if Al Smith had knocked prohibition into smithereens.

Funniest thing in Austria right now is it costs more to print money than the money is worth.

An Oregon man pawned his wife's false teeth and now he's all gummed up with a divorce suit.

If all the June brides put their first biscuits together we sure could build some fine roads.

Scientists are digging up the missing links but New York is digging up the missing drinks.

China wants to buy some old airplanes. Let's get even with China by letting her have them.

"What a Grass Widow Knows" is a new book. The thing must have about ten million pages.

Senator Smoot predicts taxes will not be lowered. Also, we predict it will not snow this July.

City people have lots of fine things to wear. Country people have lots of fine things to eat.

France and England couldn't argue much more if one had garden and the other kept chickens.

A California woman asks divorce so she can live in Michigan. Now California can laugh that off.

The recent rains will give some of us a chance to see whether a mortgage can really be floated.

A scientist says the next war will be fought by radio. The way our radio sounds, it's going on now.

A man tells us there is so much booze in New York now they have quit looking up to drunk people.

Pottstown (Pa.) man's leg broke as he had a tooth pulled. The dentist claims he didn't pull his leg.

It may be characteristic of this age that expressions of trust in God are mostly confined to our currency.

If all men are born free and equal, how does Mr. Edison's get a job in the paternal factory without taking the intelligence test?

Son of old Mr. Aguinaldo has just graduated from a New England academy and plans to enter Annapolis. Which is probably more than Spain would have done for the young man had Dewey been less successful in that May day surprise party twenty-five years ago.

A day in the woods will be nice

Some statesmen are very patriotic in print.

Many of this year's college graduates show signs of recovery.

Attend the community picnic at Wiles' Grove on the 4th of July.

Before letting your conscience be your guide be sure you have one.

Some people notice the days are longer, and others that the nights are shorter.

A Kentucky judge got arrested for trying a case, because the case was a case of rye.

Only nice thing about most troubles is you soon have some new ones to take their place.

Things are getting so it takes good eyesight to tell a filling station from an ice cream parlor.

Oregon crops are being ruined by caterpillars, probably on vacation from some silk mill.

The airplane will never be popular until you drive with one hand and park on a crowd.

We used to envy Dempsey's money. But it's worth a million to feed the cat and goldfish.

We are eating more soft boiled eggs than ever before, according to a dry cleaner's figures.

Baltimore's new council is asking for beer. The weather must be getting hot in Baltimore.

Scientists made 2,000,000 volts of lightning. One time we saw that much in a quart bottle.

About 75 were poisoned at a New York wedding party, even though the bride didn't do the cooking.

Our shipping board wouldn't take a million dollars for its ships. This, also, is the value of a June bride.

The only trouble with the wide awake young fellow of today is he doesn't get wide awake until midnight.

The Prince of Wales, they say, will wear ready-made clothes. We would hate to wear any not already made.

Foreign buyers have accepted tentatively our standards of cotton grades. That's fair to middling accommodation.

No matter how much a man complains of the cost of living, he sends for a doctor when he gets sick enough to die.

Considering how many people know how to run newspapers it is astonishing how many limping papers there are.

And of course the cost of living was a good deal lower in the good old times when men didn't wear buttons on their breeches.

Sometimes a woman's intuition is so keen she can tell when her husband has been drinking by the kind of fool he makes of himself.

A good man of last year's short frocks are being worn as house dresses this year, but the girls are so modest they run and hide if the door bell rings.

Mr. Gompers thinks the farmers ought to form a union too. And then the consumers, maybe. If we're going to have a nation of blocs let's do the job thoroughly.

Scores of New Yorkers paid no attention to the loud screams of a girl who was being kidnapped, thinking, perhaps that her parents has just told her she could have her hair bobbed.

The president told the people of Delaware that the United States could not remain in an isolated condition. The executive concedes that the time has passed when the country can remain aloof from world affairs. This has been known for a long period, but the chairman of the republican national committee has not yet learned the lesson that Woodrow Wilson endeavored so earnestly to teach us.

Alvo News

H. D. Richardson has installed an electric fan in his store.

Robert Parmenter went to Lincoln Monday evening on business.

The free movies at Alvo every Saturday night are enjoyed by large crowds.

The Alvo baseball team was defeated in a game with South Bend last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Richardson entertained relatives from Kansas City a few days last week.

The Ta-ta-po-chen campfire girls and their guardian spent few days last week camping in the country.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Robertson from York county were here last week visiting their brother, A. J. Brobst and family a couple of days.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Quellhorst and children returned home Monday night from a nineteen days' trip. They visited with relatives in St. Joe, Mo., and in Kansas at Paola, Edgerton, Culver and at Carleton, Nebraska. They also took in the sights at Kansas City and Topeka, Kansas. They were accompanied by Mrs. Quellhorst's mother Mrs. J. P. Rouse who remained at St. Joe with her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Uhley and family.

Card of Thanks
I wish to extend thanks to all for their many acts of kindness and for the lovely flowers sent during my recent illness.—Mrs. J. W. Rathbun.

M. E. Church Notes
We were all confident of the fact that the public press was right when it declared Sunday to be the hottest day of the season, having a record of 96 degrees. The farmer would say, "We need this hot weather for the corn." The preacher perhaps would say "Amen" and it is also God's reminder of the old fashioned theology of hell, fire and damnation. It may be somewhat uncomfortable to be stylish and have to sit in the pew and listen to some sermons but even at that it would be more profitable to endure this one hour of formal worship rather than spend a whole Sunday at King park with all the lively amusements. Strange to say, but it is a truth that many people accept the invitations as are printed on the auto callopes. The radio gave a report on Monday night that one filling station just this week dispensed with 15,000 gallons of gas and oil. This may give the reader an idea of the cost of the Sunday amusements. Now this amount of gas for one day as per the WOAW broadcasting station is at least a sum of $3,000. If the world would put into the coffers of our churches such sums of money I tell you we as church folks would be right in the front ranks doing the noblest work of our lives for Jesus Christ. Are we as a Christian nation making the right use of our automobile? What will our country be when Mr. Ford puts out his next 10,000,000 Fords? We will have more filling stations need more money, enlarge our parks, empty more churches and perhaps finally land in a bottomless pit. Friends, many a church in the various denominations transacts business for one whole year on less than $3,000. I suppose as long as the Stars and Stripes are unfurled on the pole, we think it to be in harmony with the teachings and the examples of the day. What think ye?
Superintendent Clemens will hold the last quarterly conference of this year on Friday night July 13. He calls for reports from pastor, Sunday school superintendent, president of ladies aid, W. H. M. S., church treasurer and treasurer.

Friends, this is the fifth year for the centenary and also the closing year. The "I will maintain" campaign failed. Let every one do his best to close up this centenary work by the annual conference time, September 19. St. Paul would say, "Be not slothful in business."

Prayer meeting Thursday night. Sixteen attended last meeting. Why not double the number for next meeting? Study John the Baptist.

The parsonage folks dined in the Fairfield home last Sunday and enjoyed the day.

The morning church attendance is just fine but there is room for others. You are invited.

The aid society meets in the Timblin home this week.

WHO SHOULD PAY FOR THE BUILDING OF ROADS
John Smith, who lives three miles from town drives a Ford for which privilege he pays an annual license fee of $10. He is an industrious man and spends most of his time on the farm, but two or three times a week he goes his Lizzie out to make a trip to town, he brings the family in to church on Sundays, and now and then takes a pleasure trip into the next county. In a year he drives some 2,000 miles. The license fee costs him half a cent per mile.

John Jones is a traveling man and he also drives one which made Detroit famous. His work keeps him on the road six days in the week and on Sunday he and his wife and babies drive for fun. During the year his mileage reaches 40,000. He also pays a license fee of $10. The license fee costs him one-quarter of a mill per mile.

Both men have paid the same fee for road maintenance, but John Jones has traveled twenty times as far as Farmer Smith.

Suppose a gasoline tax of 2c per gallon to be in force. If each man makes 20 miles per gallon, it costs each one-tenth of a cent per mile for road maintenance. Farmer Smith pays for the 2,000 miles he drives during the year, the not unreasonable fee of $2. Traveling Man Jones for driving over 40,000 miles of state road, pays $40. Each man pays in proportion to the amount he has used the road. Mr. Jones, traveling 20 times as far as Mr. Smith, pays 20 times as much for road up-keep.

does your motor just use up oil?

or is it properly lubricated?

JUST because there's plenty of oil in the reservoir and you use up lots of oil, you can't be sure your motor is getting proper lubrication. Bearings may be heating and parts wearing out at top speed.

The temperature of the pistons and the cylinder walls varies from 400 to 900° F. Unless your motor oil is of the right grade, the normal operating heat of the motor can destroy its lubricating efficiency.

Years of laboratory and practical service tests have proved the lubricating efficiency of Polarine. It resists heat and always flows freely. Made in five grades—light, medium, heavy, special heavy and extra heavy—but one unsurpassed quality.

Consult the Polarine Chart for the grade best suited to your motor. Standardize its use and your motor will run quietly—a protective film guarding every moving part against friction and wear.

Ask for Polarine by name and be sure you get what you ask for. Sold where you see this sign.

GET IN LINE AND BOOST FOR IT.
Details of the big community picnic July 4th at the Wiles grove are rapidly being worked out and every-thing points to a most successful affair both from the standpoint of attendance and an unusually good time as well.

Contributions of Plattsmouth business houses and others interested in the success of the event have made possible the securing of ice cream, lemonade, watermelons, etc. for free distribution to the multitude who will be present providing, of course, the weather man smiles kindly on the event.

Everybody get behind and boost hard for this event. It will be the biggest time from a picnic standpoint ever attempted in this part of the country and the magnitude of its success will be in direct ratio to the manner in which everyone in the community boosts it.

ENTERTAINS FOR HUSBAND
The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Taylor in the west part of the city was the scene of a very pleasant gathering Sunday when Mrs. Taylor entertained a number of friends in honor of her husband's birthday anniversary and the day was one of the greatest pleasure to all of the party. The day was characterized by a fine dinner and as well as in the playing of progressive whist which proved a pleasing diversion. Mr. Taylor received a very handsome smoking set as a remembrance from the friends. Those attending were: Messrs. and Mesdames Robbin, Rhamey, Pross, Schwarick, Reimers, Childs, Isackson, Byers, Lundstrom, Pool and Westphal of Omaha and Mrs. A. F. Seybert of this city.
