STATE CORN CROP WILL BE BIGGEST IN MANY YEARS

Only Sunshine Needed Now to Make It Mature Ahead of Frost, Say the State Experts.

From Monday's Daily.

"If the weather man will shut off the rain and give the state a lot of warm weather in the next two weeks, Nebraska's corn crop will be the best in many years," A. E. Anderson of the federal bureau of crop statistics, Lincoln, declared Sunday. "The corn has all the moisture it needs, but heat to mature it before frost will be the most welcome," he added.

No More Rain Needed for Corn

Professor Burr, of the state university department of agronomy, at Lincoln, concurs in Anderson's optimism. "The corn from now to maturity will increase one-fourth of an inch of moisture daily, but this is now in the soil. A light shower now and then can do no harm, but it is not especially needed," he said. "A great deal of fall plowing is now done, and this will put the land in fine shape for fall wheat."

Other farm and garden crops in the state are equally as good as corn, both Anderson and Professor Burr reported. Oats are very good through the state, running 50 per cent higher yield than last year, and approximately 10 per cent greater than the ten-year average.

Big Potato Yield

Potatoes will produce a big yield, the early varieties probably only fair in quality, due to some second sprouting and scab, but in the late potatoes, both the quality and quantity will be good.

The state's yield of barley will be double that of last year with an acreage double that of 1922, both the crop experts said.

Hay crops are immense, averaging 15 per cent more than 1922 for both tame and wild varieties and pastures are equally as good.

Stockmen are experiencing some trouble with an unusually bad scourge of flies and mosquitoes. The insects are more numerous this year than for fourteen or fifteen years, Professor Burr declared.

WILL VISIT LAKE COUNTRY

From Monday's Daily.

Owing to the rains and the conditions of the road, Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Schneider and son and daughter, Carl and Catherine, have been compelled to postpone their auto trip to Minnesota and Wisconsin and now expect to leave on Wednesday if the weather conditions will permit and will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Troop and children who will enjoy the opportunity of visiting in the lake country.

PASSING OF WELL KNOWN UNION MAN

Elza Leonard Taylor, Aged Twenty Years, Died At Omaha Hospital On August 8, 1923.

From Tuesday's Daily.

The community of Union was called upon to mourn the passing of one of the well known and popular young men in the death of Elza Leonard Taylor, aged twenty years, who passed away on August 8 at the Lord Lister hospital in Omaha, after an illness of some duration which resulted in his finally having to undergo an operation for appendicitis.

The deceased was born February 7, 1903, at Union and has lived there for his lifetime and graduated from the schools in the class of 1922.

For some months he has been poorly and decided on his own accord to enter the hospital, leaving a letter giving his desire expression and stating that he had entered the hospital on his own accord and wish and also left a letter giving his last wishes and remembrances to his friends and particularly to the Scotia Sunday school of which he was superintendent. In his sickness he was cheerful and arranged his house in order ere going to the hospital and gave his last wishes as to his burial in case he should not return alive, having a thought of the coming of the death messenger.

The funeral services were held according to his wishes with the Rev. W. A. Taylor conducting the services and the choir singing the hymns he had requested, "Pass Me Not, O Gentle Savior," and "Lead Kindly Light."

CHANGE IN DENTAL BUSINESS

From Tuesday's Daily.

The dental offices of Dr. A. D. Caldwell and Dr. J. F. Fogarty will change hands on Thursday morning when Dr. Paul Heineman of Columbus, Nebraska, will take charge of the offices and conduct the large dental practice in the future. Dr. Heineman is one of the popular and well known young professional men of Columbus and is a graduate of the Creighton university dental college and has been very successful in his practice at Columbus where he has been located.

Drs. Caldwell and Fogarty have not announced their plans for the future and their host of friends will regret very much to see them leave the city as they have been very active in the professional life of the city and being skilled musicians have been very active in this line of work.

FAVORITES STILL IN THE RUNNING

Ray Larson Loses in First Round of State Tourney—Alfred Calvert Comes in Junior Meet.

All of the favorites stood the gaff of first round play in the annual state tennis tournament which got under way Monday afternoon at the University courts. W. Hellwege, Seaward, defeated Ray Phelps, Omaha, in straight sets. This was the closest to a surprise match of the afternoon as Phelps, while playing this spring as a candidate for the university team showed signs of being able to weather several rounds in the state meet.

Probably the hardest battle of the day developed between Lawrence McCague, formerly of Omaha but now a Lincoln resident, and Charles Patterson, Arapahoe, official referee of the tournament. The first set went 11-9 for McCague, Patterson rallying in the second to win a 6-2 victory, but falling in the deciding set 6-4. Mr. Patterson has been suffering from neuritis in his arms and it hampered his play noticeably.

It looked bad for a time for Fred Archer, Lincoln city champion, when F. H. Bek Seward, took the first five games of the first set. Archer pulled it out, however, and won the next set handily. His running mate, Clyde Seymour also had a mighty difficult time disposing of Albert Finkle, present junior champion of the state last year.

Cod Potter, runner-up in the Lincoln city meet, won from G. Winkinson, Lincoln, in straight sets. Don Elliott, former city champion of Lincoln and present holder with E. R. McCormick of the state doubles title, was forced into extra games to win the first set from A. H. Stanley, a young player from York, but Elliott won the second set handily.

George Stocking, Omaha, who has been a dangerous contender in former tournaments, appears to be right on top of his game. He had no trouble surviving the first round.

The players repaired to the chambers of commerce where they were guests at a banquet following the play.

Secretary Potter announced that all first round play in singles must be completed by 10 a. m. Tuesday and those matches not finished by that time will be defaulted.

Play in the doubles starts Tuesday morning in both divisions. From the looks of things Monday the junior singles title will probably rest between Alfred Calvert, York, son of Rev. John Calvert, president of the state tennis association, and Finkle, the youthful flash from Omaha.

Finkle plays a steady game and young Calvert has every move indicative of a comer. Rev. John Calvert of York defeated Robinovitz, 6-4, 6-4, while Ray Larson of this city was defeated in the opening round of the tournament by Weaverling of Lincoln, 6-4, 6-4.

To feel strong, have good appetite and digestion, sleep soundly and enjoy life, use Burdock Blood Bitters, the family system tonic. Price $1.25.

Jacob Kraeger and wife and son, Glen, departed this morning for Omaha to visit Miss Thelma at the hospital.

URGENT OBSERVANCE OF CONSTITUTION BY ALL CITIZENS

American Bar Association Starts a Movement to Bring About Return of Respect.

From Monday's Daily.

The American Bar association, of which D. O. Dwyer of this city is a member, has started a movement that is destined to bring to the minds of the citizens over the nation the need for a re-awakened respect for the law of the land, particularly the Constitution of the United States.

It is proposed to have a series of meetings in every community over the country, starting on Sunday, September 16th, with a church service for a fitting opening of the law respecting campaign and throughout the week meetings are to be planned in the schools, among the different societies and patriotic organizations to teach a greater respect for the law of the land and especially the basic law found in the Constitution.

The founders of the Constitution set about to form a government that would abound all else give them and their posterity the blessings of liberty through organized government and for this purpose was enacted the Constitution of the United States. This was the first document that gave full measure of liberty to the people of the world and has served as a model for the constitutional government of the nations of the earth since that time.

In late years it has grown to be a habit of attempting to tuck on amendments to the constitution and this has led to a growing disrespect for the great fundamental law of the land and the trend in that direction is even greater at this time, when many would encumber the document with unnecessary amendments that tend to weaken it.

The laws that have been made a part of the Constitution should have the respect of the American people as long as they remain a part of the law of the land and the people should be educated to realize just what the Constitution means to them as the guarantee of their right of liberty of thought, speech and action.

Prepare to do your part in this observance of Constitutional week and bring closer to the people an understanding of the law of the land.

STANDARD OIL CO. SLASHES GAS PRICE

Cut from 22 1/2 to 16 1/2 Per Gallon is Announced in This City—Is Welcomed by Motorists.

From Tuesday's Daily.

The effect of the gasoline cut price war that is now sweeping through the northwest, was reflected in this city today when the Standard Oil company cut the retail price of gasoline from 22 1/2 cents to 16 1/2 cents per gallon, thereby making a great saving to the gas consumers of the community.

The cut is the result largely of agitation of the past week that led Governor Charles W. Bryan to announce that the state would establish filling stations if the price was not cut to a reasonable figure and in conformity with the price at which it is being sold in other states adjoining Nebraska.

The gasoline war waged between the independents and the Standard company in Kansas City was one of the first indications of the enormous profits derived in the handling of gasoline and was followed by the slashing of the price there by the Standard company. Since then, all over the northern and central states there has been a movement to force down the retail price of gasoline.

The telegram from the Standard Oil company to their representatives authorizing the cut in the price is the first indication of the war reaching this city as the auto owners have been paying the higher price here all of the time.

The result will be a marked rush for the filling stations and many tanks that are infrequently filled to their capacity, will be loaded up by their owners, for fear that the cut will not be lasting.

RAINBOW TROUT FOR GRETTA

From Tuesday's Daily.

Chief Game Warden Koster has returned from Denver where he obtained 240 rainbow trout to restock the state fisheries at Gretna. Many trout died at that fishery this spring and the stock must be replenished. A fungus disease which is not uncommon among fish was the cause of the fatality. Mr. Koster obtained large fish at a private hatchery near Denver, where there is a stock of 33,000 rainbow trout. He brought back one female fish that weighs eight pounds. This fish and others will be shown at the state's display at the state fair the first week in September.

One ton of ice was used in the state fish car on the way from Denver to Gretna. The water in tanks had to be kept at a temperature from 48 to 50 degrees. Five fish died on the way.

SUFFERING FROM LUMBAGO

From Monday's Daily.

P. T. Becker has been suffering for the past few days from a very severe attack of lumbago and which has kept him confined to his home for the greater part of the time. Mr. Becker is reported as showing some improvement, but is still feeling quite poorly.

Mrs. W. V. Weber departed this morning for Omaha to visit for a few hours looking after some matters of business.
