

THOROUGHbred CATTLE AT POLLARD STOCK FARM

Hon. E. M. Pollard Receives Shipment of Fine Thoroughbred Ayrshire Cattle Today.

From Saturday's Daily. Today Mr. Pollard unloaded a car of Ayrshire dairy cows. As they were led from the car they made a picturesque appearance. Every animal was of perfect dairy type, well grown young cows and heifers. Mr. Pollard has taken great pains to secure foundation stock for his herd that are not only correct in type but they represent the best there is of the breed from the standpoint of milk production. They are sired by such noted bulls as Hill Top Major Douglas, Netherland Statesman, Henderson Dairy King and Henderson White Cloud the 4th. These bulls are all proven sires and have daughters that have records of over 20,000 pounds of milk and from 800 to 900 pounds of butterfat annually. They are a carefully selected bunch of young cows from such famous herds as the Alta Crest Farm, Massachusetts; Penshurst farm of Pennsylvania; and the Reymann Memorial farms of West Virginia. Mr. Pollard took the stand that in starting a new herd the best were the cheapest in the long run. It general appearance stands for anything his cattle surely give promise of great future. Nebraska is surely fortunate in having such a herd located within its bounds. The Ayrshire cow is of the dual purpose type. Pre-eminently it is a dairy breed, but the animals are all of good size and well proportioned in conformation. They will sell on the market along with the Durham and the Herford as beef animals. Mr. Pollard thinks there is a great future for the breed in the state, and that they are the ideal all purpose cow best adapted to the farmers of the state. This is especially true of the farmer who is milking a few cows in connection with his other work. All his grade male calves will be an asset instead of a loss as is the case with the dairy breeds.

COURT HOUSE IS QUIET

From Saturday's Daily. John Heinrich, who is now located in Lincoln is enjoying a vacation visit here at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Heinrich and family. The county court house was a good place to enjoy a rest today, as there was almost nothing of consequence transpiring there in marked difference to the usual busy bustle and stir and only the routine work was transpiring to keep the officials and clerks busy. The county clerk's office is busy with the preparation of the tax list for the year and the county treasurer's office is always kept very busy with the daily volume of business, but in the legal departments there appears to be a lull of all litigation. Whether this is due to the fact that the people are getting better or the lawyers are on a vacation, it is hard to tell. In the county attorney's office, the county judge's office and the district court clerk's office there was nothing doing in the way of legal matters.

The air way from Chicago to Cheyenne is now equipped with lights to direct the night flights, Mr. Henderson said.

LUTHERANS CONFER AT COLUMBUS, NEB.

Louisville Minister Reads Paper Commending Practice of Delivering Baccalaureate Sermons. Columbus, Neb., Aug. 17.—Rev. J. H. Herr, Sheridan, Wyo., was elected chairman and Rev. George Kupke, Omaha, secretary of the pastoral conference of the north Nebraska district of the Missouri Synod German Lutheran church Thursday. Eighty ministers are attending the meetings in Columbus held at the Immanuel Lutheran church of which Rev. H. Meissler is pastor. The conference opened Thursday morning and will continue until Monday. Rev. Theodore Hartman of Louisville, reading a paper on baccalaureate sermons, indicated it was the position of the Lutherans belonging to the Missouri synod to oppose the preaching of baccalaureate sermons by their clergymen when those sermons are delivered for the commencement exercises of public state schools. It is the opinion of the clergymen that such actions by their ministers involved matters of joining church and state. The Missouri synod branch of the Lutheran denomination takes the view that their clergymen should hold aloof from these. Rev. E. Gherke, Wakefield, will read a paper on schools Friday. The district includes the churches in Nebraska, north of the Platte river and Wyoming. This district synod of the Missouri synod of the Lutheran denomination formerly included the state.

DOG POISONERS ACTIVE

From Saturday's Daily. The activities of the dog poisoners are not confined to the south part of the city, as evidenced by the fact that on Thursday some one administered poison to the very valuable Air-dale dog belonging to Mrs. John Geiser, who resides on North Fourth street. The dog was not only valued in money, but was a great family pet and a very gentle animal and had never offered the least indication of harming anyone and what motive could have prompted this killing is a great grief among the family. The habit of poisoning helpless animals is certainly a very underhanded one and should the party committing the offense be found they will find it decidedly warm for them.

MOTOR FROM COLORADO

From Saturday's Daily. This morning, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Spies and wife and children, Edmund Louis and Robert Earl, arrived in this city from Branson, Colorado, for a visit here with the relatives and friends. They had an ideal trip and came through in fine shape and enjoyed very much the trip over the country. Mrs. Spies will be remembered here as being formerly Miss May Peterson, daughter of Mrs. Martha Peterson. The family will visit with their relatives of both the Peterson and Spies families for the next few weeks.

PAINFULLY INJURED

Fred Rodewald, our genial Ford man, had the misfortune Monday morning to get painfully hurt. He stepped out of a car onto a rock, which threw his ankle out of place and tore some ligaments on his ankle. He was getting around very carefully Monday morning and we have an idea that for several days it has been very painful.—Weeping Water Republican.

SUFFERS BROKEN LEG

From Saturday's Daily. Joe Reynolds, of Leavenworth, Kansas, is here for a short visit with his father, B. J. Reynolds and family and the many friends of Joe were sorry to find that he was getting around on crutches as the result of an accident sustained a month ago at Leavenworth. Joe was in a street wreck that resulted in the car being demolished and in the destruction of the car he sustained a broken leg that has kept him idle since that time. He will spend a short time here with his father.

Same Old Story, but a Good One

Mrs. Mahala Burns, Savanna, Mo., relates an experience, the like of which has happened in almost every neighborhood in this country, and has been told and related by thousands of others: "I used a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy about nine years ago and it cured me of flux (dysentery). I had another attack of the same complaint three or four years ago and a few doses of this remedy cured me. I have recommended it to dozens of people since I first used it and shall continue to do so, for I know it is a quick and positive cure for bowel troubles." Weyrich & Hadraba.

WILL ESTABLISH EXPERIMENT STATION NEAR HERE

State Farm Bureau and University Agricultural College to Establish it at Perry Farm.

From Saturday's Daily. To combat the inroads of the Hessian fly on the wheat crops of this section of the state, the state college of agriculture and the farm bureau will open an experiment and observation station in this part of Cass county, states County Agent L. R. Snipes of Weeping Water, who was here today arranging for the establishing of this branch. The observation station will be located on the farm of Glen Perry, south of this city on the K. T. highway and here will be observed the habits of the Hessian fly and a study made to offset its devastating influence on the crops of the county. The state college will have a special representative present at the farm and daily observations taken that will be transmitted each day to the state college for the benefit of the farming interests in this section. The laying season of the fly will be watched as well as the periods of hatching and migration so that it can be determined just what is the best time for the plowing and the planting of crops to escape the inroads of the fly. As the lowest period of laying is found the word will be sent out to the farmers that they may prepare their plans for the season's work and by a careful study of the fly it is hoped to eliminate a great deal of the loss that has occurred in the past and especially this season when the wheat has suffered a great deal from the pest. The results of the experimental work here will be announced daily by letter and broadcast by radio from the state farm and thus enable the farmers to keep in the closest touch with the situation and to safeguard their crops.

BALL TEAM GOES TO AFTON

From Saturday's Daily. There will be no baseball game here tomorrow as the C. B. & Q. team is to pack its bats and other utensils of war and hie themselves to Iowa, on No. 4 over the Burlington to arrive Monday to play the fast baseball team of that place Sunday afternoon. The Afton people were well pleased with the showing made at the previous game with "Q" team of this city which resulted in a victory for the Iowa team by a margin of one run. One of the best games played by the locals this season. The Iowa fans have been urging a return game with the Plattsmouth aggregation and have finally secured one. With favorable weather conditions a number of fans may drive over to take in the game.

ACCIDENT AT QUARRY

From Saturday's Daily. A few days ago at one of the stone quarries near Weeping Water occurred a most unfortunate accident to Charles Sellick, one of the employees of the quarry. He was busy at his work and had evidently failed to notice that a blast was being set off nearby until the explosion occurred. The concussion proved too great and caused a serious injury to the ear drums that have since made it very difficult for Mr. Sellick to hear at all and which has proven a very serious handicap to the gentleman in his work.

GETTING ALONG NICELY

From Saturday's Daily. The reports from the bedside of Abram Ruple of this city, who is at the Immanuel hospital in Omaha, indicate that Mr. Ruple is doing very nicely although he still has the hospital decidedly irksome and tiresome and is looking forward to the time when he can return home. He is doing just as well as could be expected and shows every improvement. His daughter, Mrs. R. A. Bates was at Omaha yesterday to visit with him for a few hours.

RETURNS FROM VIRGINIA

From Saturday's Daily. This morning Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mauzy returned home from a visit of almost two months back in Virginia, their childhood home, and the occasion has been one of the rarest pleasure to this estimable couple in meeting the friends and associates of their tender years and in viewing the scenes where their families have resided for many generations. The principal part of their stay was in the vicinity of Crab Bottom and the very scenic Blue Ridge country on the slopes of which they were born and reared. They brought back with them several boxes of the star anise and which will serve to remind them of their pleasant trip in the southland. Mr. and Mrs. Mauzy have been absent from this city since the 1st of July.

THE MEANING OF ADVERTISING

Some Pointers on Making It Most Effective—Honesty of Great Importance to Merchant.

From Saturday's Daily. Every now and then we like to talk to our merchants about advertising and we like to do it in this way because the subject is of equal interest to the public, says the Sheldon (Iowa) Sun, continuing: "Frankly, the interest of the public, the interest of the merchant and that of the local newspaper publisher are inseparably linked. "The public always is best served by buying advertised goods. Goods that are advertised are goods that are more extensively manufactured and consequently cheaper because of increased production. Moreover advertising today is a guarantee of merit. No one need be afraid either of the honesty of the price or of the quality of advertised goods. Competition compels honesty even if there be a wish to avoid it. "There is another benefit, too, in local newspaper advertising. When advertising is thoughtfully employed it means the building of trade for our local merchants and this reacts in an increase in real estate values generally. A prosperous business section means added population and increased conveniences. The whole scheme of advertising, merchandising and buying is one of co-operation to mutual advantage. "The merchant always wins favorable reaction when he talks frankly in his advertising to the people and shows them he is dealing honestly with them and making a normal profit. "The man who week by week consistently in his advertising shows he holds the public interest at heart is the man who wins. Many merchants lose the substance of public confidence in grasping for the shadow of immediate sales."

TELLS OF SLAVERY DAYS

Miss Mable H. Kenea, of Clarinda, relates an interesting incident concerning a former slave, Henry Webb, who came north at the close of the war with the late Capt. G. W. Burns. The negro was selected by Gen. John T. Morgan of the Confederate army to serve as cook for himself and staff. Six months later the Union forces captured Gen. Morgan's division and the general was killed. Webb made his way to the union lines and served Gen. McCook and staff as cook for nearly four years, but he was never mustered into the service and therefore has no claims for either remuneration or pension, although Gen. McCook promised the colored boy that he would see that he was paid. At the close of the war Captain Burns asked the colored cook if he would not like to accompany him north and the proffer was accepted. Through the passing years Webb has been cooking in hotels and restaurants, never lacking a job. When the Spanish-American war broke out he enlisted and was assigned as cook for Company K, of Corning, commanded by Capt. Emerson C. Pearis, and he was 18 months in the service, a large part of the time in the Philippine islands. The old man is spending his last days among friends in Clarinda. He talks intelligently of slavery days in Tennessee and the life of this old negro spans the years that have wrought wonders in the civic and commercial life of the nation and of the world.—Glenwood Tribune.
