BUSY TIME IN COURT

Justice William Weber was one of the busiest men in the city today and his mill of justice was grinding at full speed as there were a large number of the law violators on hand when the session of the combined police and justice courts opened.

Tom Fields of Neb. City with three other colored friends, was among the first to receive a dose of the celebrated brand of justice that has become as famous as the well known Blue Valley cigars which the genial judge formerly manufactured. The colored residents from Nebraska City had been enjoying a visit to Omaha and on returning came with a supply of the goods that cheers as well as inebriates and which was discovered by Officer William Grebe and G.
