WILSON CELEBRATIONS PART OF ARMISTICE DAY PLAN

Many Delegations to Visit Washington Home of Former President—Broadcast His Speech

Washington, Nov. 8.—Friends of Woodrow Wilson are planning to make their armistice day tribute to him the greatest demonstration in his honor that has taken place since he became ill.

Not only will the former president's address on "The Significance of Armistice Day" be distributed by radio throughout the country on Saturday evening, but delegations from several cities and representing a number of organizations are expected to take part in the pilgrimages to his S street home here on Sunday.

It was announced today that the visit to the Wilson residence will be preceded by a parade through the residential section from Dupont Circle. A band has been engaged to march at the head, and the first organization in line will be composed of disabled veterans of the world war. Those in charge of the arrangements say that the delegations from New York, Baltimore and a number of Virginia cities have arranged to be present, and to take part in the celebration.

Mr. Wilson is expected to speak briefly from the front steps of his home in reply to a greeting extended on behalf of his visitors by Senator Glass of Virginia.

Facilities for broadcasting the former president's Saturday evening address, which will be spoken into a microphone installed in his study, are believed by radio experts to be ample to make it accessible for receiving sets in all parts of the United States. The address will be distributed by the WCAP broadcasting station in Washington on a wave length of 469 meters. At the same time it will go over a telephone wire to New York, where it will be passed through an amplifier and broadcast by WCAP on a wave length of 452 meters. Mr. Wilson is to begin speaking at 8:28 p. m., eastern time.

FEDERAL RESERVE RULES TOO RIGID

Charges Made at Hearing at Omaha that Many State Banks Kept Out on that Account

Omaha, Nov. 7.—Rigid rules of the federal reserve bank, at least as practiced in Nebraska, had prevented many state banks from affiliating with the federal reserve system, witnesses Wednesday told the joint congressional committee which is investigating failure of non-member eligible state banks to join.

This reason was given by Dan V. Stephens of Fremont, president of the state bankers' association, C. E. Butler, of Weeping Water, vice president of the Nebraska State bank.

The committee was also told that it was not profitable for a state banker to join and at the same time keep adherence to the state guaranty fund system and that bankers in the state system do not favor the present clearance system in handling checks.

Mr. Stephens declared the policy of deflation had been pursued in Nebraska causing huge losses and though it was possible this had been done at the whim of the governor of the Kansas City branch of the federal system, it still fear of recurrence of this was one reason why he did not join. If the bank were to affiliate it would be obliged to carry a $100,000 reserve and also contribute to the state guaranty fund, he said. This fund is used to protect depositors in case of bank failures.

Congressman Otis Wingo, democrat, Arkansas, called Mr. Stephens' attention to denials of the governor of the Kansas City district that a deflation policy had been pursued, and to statements that the system had expanded in aiding the west instead of withdrawing assistance.

"I have read all that," the witness replied, "but still I know with what violence money was collected in this state by reason of the rulings of the federal reserve system."

So stringent was the system's ruling on liquid assets that men worth $250,000 had been prevented from getting credit thru technical observance of the regulation, Mr. Stephens said.

How Not to Take Cold

Some persons are subject to frequent colds while others seldom, if ever, have a cold. You will find that the latter take good care of themselves. They take a shower or cold sponge bath every day in a warm room, avoid overheat rooms, sleep with a window open or partly open, avoid excesses, over eating, becoming over heated and then chilled, and getting their feet wet. Then, when they feel the first indication of a cold, they take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy without delay and it is soon over.
