Taking Desperate Chances

It is true that many contract severe colds and recover from them without taking any precaution or treatment and a knowledge of this fact leads others to take their chances instead of giving their colds the needed attention. It should be borne in mind that every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality, makes the system less able to withstand each succeeding attack and paves the way for the more serious diseases. Can you afford to take such desperate chances when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of bad colds may be had for a trifle?

Workers in Sand Pit Find Molar of Monster Weighing Five Tons—Lived 10,000 Years Ago

Schuyler, Neb., Dec. 28.—A tooth weighing three pounds and three ounces and in a remarkable state of preservation, was found today by workmen in a sand pit near here, and brought to this city where it was said by Dr. T. Gibbons, after an examination, to have once formed the masticating machinery of a prehistoric mammal weighing at least five tons.

The gigantic molar was dug out of a sand formation twenty-five feet below the surface and the earth formation above it indicated, men versed in geology said, that the animal whose oral cavity it helped to fill, roamed this section at least 10 thousand years ago.

The tooth has been sent to Dr. R. P. Gilder, noted archeologist at Omaha, for further examination.

Manager John Ehrenberger, of the sand pit, tomorrow will set a gang of workmen to exploring the ground near which the tooth was found, in the hope of recovering more of the skeleton.

Falls City, Dec. 26.—"Party lines" were disregarded when Edwin J. Morehead, son of Congressman J. H. Morehead, democrat, was married to Anne Margaret Gist, niece of former Congressman C. Frank Reavis, now heading the Coolidge forces in Nebraska, at Holton, Kansas, on Monday afternoon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Gist, of Falls City. Mr. Gist is a prominent banker and Mrs. Gist is head of the Gold Star Mothers of the state as well as being active in Legion Auxiliary work.

Young Morehead, an overseas veteran, is the proprietor of a local automobile agency.

The bride is the second member of the family to evade the new Nebraska marriage law by skipping away to a neighboring state, her sister, Elizabeth, having been married to Mr. M. U. Burton, also of this city, in Council Bluffs about three months ago.

DEATH OF JUDGE M' HUGH AT HIS HOME IN CHICAGO

From Thursday's Daily—
The death of Judge William D. McHugh, former Omaha jurist and one of the most widely known attorneys of the nation, occurred yesterday at the home of the family in Chicago, following a long series of attacks of throat trouble that for the past year made it impossible for the distinguished attorney to appear in court to argue his cases owing to the fact that he had practically lost the use of his voice.

Judge McHugh was well known in Plattsmouth where he has many friends who will deeply regret to learn of his passing and the loss that his death brings to the state and the American bar. During the time that J. G. McHugh, a brother, was superintendent of schools here, Judge McHugh visited Plattsmouth frequently and became well acquainted with many of our people.

William D. McHugh was born in Galena, Illinois, September 10, 1859, and early in life started the study of law. He was married in 1886 at Galena and in 1887 came to Omaha and remained there until three years ago when he removed to Chicago to take the position of general attorney for the International Harvester company, which he occupied until his death.

While in Nebraska, Judge McHugh was a leader in the democratic party and a close friend and associate of the late J. Sterling Morton and the Cleveland forces in the struggles in the party during the period from 1893 to 1897 when democracy was divided in this state, under the leadership of William Jennings Bryan on the one hand and J. Sterling Morton and Tobias Castor on the other hand. It was during this period, in 1895, that Judge McHugh was nominated to the U. S. district judgeship, by President Grover Cleveland but was never confirmed by the senate and the position was later given to Judge W. H. Munger.

The funeral will be held Friday at Omaha, from the residence of the daughter, Mrs. Claire J. Baird, 316 North 41st street.

When You are Constipated

To insure a healthy action of the bowels and correct disorders of the liver, take two of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper. They will not only cause a gentle movement of the bowels, without unpleasant effects, but banish that dull, stupid feeling that often accompanies constipation.
