VERY PRETTY HOLIDAY WEDDING AT GREENWOOD

Miss Edith Kyles United in Marriage to Dr. William Wallace of Lincoln on Christmas Eve.

From Saturday's Daily— A pretty home wedding occurred at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kyles, of Greenwood, Monday evening, December 24, at 8 o'clock, when their eldest daughter, Miss Edith, was united in holy wedlock with Dr. William Wallace, of Lincoln.

The impressive service was introduced by the Park orchestra, which played "Love and Roses," by Engleman. Then Miss Dorothy Park sang De Koven's "O Promise Me." The solemn and majestic strains of Lohegrin's Wedding March were then played by the Park orchestra, while the bridal pair led by Rev. C. A. Park, and attended by Miss Ima A. Park, sister of the bride, and Mr. Urban Rouse, an uncle of the bride, took their place under a beautiful archway of Christmas festoons. The matrimonial vows were there taken, the ring ceremony being used. After congratulations the bridal party was seated and Miss Park sang Cadman's love song "At Dawning."

A bounteous evening dinner then awaited the guests in the dining room, which had been tastily and appropriately garlanded for the occasion.

The bride was modestly attired in a gown of becoming brown silk crepe de chine, and wore a rhinestone bandeau, while the groom was conventionally dressed in black.

The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wallace and son, Glenn Leroy, of Omaha, also Mr. W. Herbert Babbitt of Logan, Ia.

The bride gave roses as favors to her guests and the dining table was adorned with a bouquet of rich beauty.

Dr. and Mrs. Wallace went to Omaha for a short visit with the groom's parents, returning to Greenwood Thursday, where an informal reception was given at the home of the bride.

They will be at home to their friends in Greenwood after December 27.—Ashland Gazette.

SECURE MARRIAGE LICENSES

From Saturday's Daily— The marriage record department at the office of the county judge received a boost yesterday when the applications of Donald H. Wilson of Crete and Miss Geneva Rough of Nehawka were received as well as Dwight L. Alverson of Belleville, Kansas, and Miss Edith Stanton of Louisville. These young people will enjoy their wedding ceremonies at the homes in Cass county rather than seek the tying of the nuptial knot in some other locality.

CHILDREN CAUSE TROUBLE

From Saturday's Daily— Yesterday afternoon, Chief of Police Jess Elliott received an S O S call from the west end of the city where he was summoned to try and untangle the threads of a neighborhood dispute that hinged around the actions of the children of two families. When the chief arrived on the scene he found the two rival factions up in arms and the stories told were decidedly conflicting and as usual "the other children were to blame," both sides placing the responsibility on the other and as one claim was as strong as the other the chief of police decided that he would have the battle ground transferred to Judge Weber's office and the judge will some time today be called upon to arbitrate the differences of the parties and the judge is facing a real responsibility in the matter. If he settles the dispute to the general satisfaction of the warring neighborhood he is a real Solomon.

SHOT IN THE FOOT

From Saturday's Daily— Yesterday, while Louis Sedlak, a fifteen year old lad of this city, was out hunting, he met with an accident that will lay him on the retired list for some time and make his traveling around very difficult. Louis had been in pursuit of some game but decided to rest for a few moments and placed the muzzle of his 12-gauge shotgun on the left foot, unthinkingly, and in some manner the gun was discharged, the shot entering the foot just back of the toes and inflicting quite a serious wound. The wound was not large on the top of the foot but the bottom of the foot was very badly torn by the shot and made a difficult wound to dress. While there were no toes amputated at this time, it may be necessary later to amputate one as it is in rather bad shape and at the very least it will be a considerable time before the foot is healed up.

CANDIDATES WARMING UP

From Saturday's Daily— While the primary election is still several months in the dim distance the candidates for the state offices are becoming restless and each day there are some new entries into the political game and this is true particularly in the congressional races in the various districts. R. H. Thorpe, who, for a brief period, was the occupant of a seat in the house of representatives from the First Nebraska district has evidently felt the lure of the office and has offered himself on the altar of the republican primary election as the candidate for the seat now so ably filled by John H. Morehead, former governor and the democratic congressman. The path of Mr. Thorpe, however, is not to be all roses as is evidenced by the fact that petitions are being circulated over the district for W. A. Selleck of Lincoln for the republican nomination and the well known Lincoln business man will make things decidedly warm for the "boy orator" if all signs fall not, and particularly in Lancaster county, the home of the two candidates, where Mr. Selleck is exceptionally strong.

DISTRICT JUDGES ELECT OFFICERS

All Officers of Association Are Re-elected—Short Talks Given by Some of the Jurists.

From Saturday's Daily— Judge George F. Corcoran of York was re-elected president of the District Judges' association of Nebraska at its dinner at the Lincoln hotel Friday evening in connection with the Nebraska Bar association convention held in Lincoln this week.

Judge Charles Leslie of Omaha was re-elected vice president, Judge Paine of Grand Island, secretary and Judge Morning of Lincoln, treasurer. Nineteen district judges of Nebraska were present and also Judge T. C. Munger of the United States federal court.

Judge Corcoran presided at the meeting. Short talks were given by Judge Munger and Judge Broady of Lincoln, Judge Lighter of Columbus, Judge Hastings of Omaha and Judge Gillan of Lexington.

A committee was appointed to send a resolution of condolence to the relatives of the late District Judge Elliott J. Clements of Lincoln and A. M. Post of Columbus. The following district judges were present:

- James T. Begley, Plattsmouth.
- William M. Morning, Lincoln.
- Frederick E. Shepherd, Lincoln.
- Willard E. Stewart, Lincoln.
- L. D. Day, Omaha.
- Charles A. Goss, Omaha.

PRESBYTERIAN CHOIR HAS A FINE SUPPER LAST NITE

Members of the Choir and Families Meet and Enjoy a Fine Evening at Church Parlors.

From Saturday's Daily— Last evening the members of the Presbyterian choir enjoyed a very nice time at the church parlors which will long be very pleasantly remembered and to join in the occasion there were present the wives and husbands of the members who appreciated to the utmost the unusual pleasantness of the event.

The members and their guests enjoyed supper in the church parlors, the room and tables being arranged in a color scheme of red and place cards at the table were made by portions of song titles by which the members found their seats and were soon in the enjoyment of the fine feast provided by the ladies.

During the evening the members listened to the reading of telegrams and from all sections of the United States in regard to the radio program recently given by the choir which had been heard clearly all over the country by the radio fans. Station WOAW at Omaha had gathered the letters and messages and forwarded them to the church here and it was a very appreciative audience that sent them, judging from the tenor of the various messages.

REX YOUNG BACK HOME

From Saturday's Daily— This morning, Col. W. R. Young, the well known auctioneer, arrived home from a visit of several days at Evansville and Janesville, Wisconsin, where he has been to secure several head of the fine Holstein dairy cows for sale in Cass county, and which movement is being sponsored by the Farmers' State bank of this city. Mr. Young states that he secured twenty-six fine dairy cows which will arrive here tomorrow under the charge of Ed Leach and will be taken direct to Union where they are to be offered for sale later at the Leach sale pavilion there and will be a unit in the placing of this department of modern farming in Cass county.
