When a wise man makes a mistake, he learns something!

Pay by check — and you'll make no mistake.

"Haven't the Change" — You've heard that expression many times, of course.

Carrying an account at a good bank and paying by check enables you to always have the "exact change."

It removes the temptation to SPEND, too, in many ways. And every check is automatically a receipt.

Don't carry cash — it's dangerous. Carry a Check Book — and PAY BY CHECK.

DE MOLAY CHAPTER HAS PUBLIC INSTALLATION

Number of the Residents of the City Present to Enjoy the Very Impressive Ceremonies.

Last evening was held the second public installation of Cass Chapter, Order of DeMolay, and the ceremonies incident to the newly elected officers being invested with their offices were very interesting and impressive to the audience of the young men and friends of the young men. The work of this boys' and young men's fraternity has not been fully realized by the general public in its excellent effect on the young men of the community and the opportunity of realizing a little of the good work of the order was fully appreciated by the general public of the city.

At the installation last evening James Warren, master counselor, officiated as the installing officer assisted by Carl P. Ofe as marshal.

Presidents Leonard Born, Covert Jean, Joe Buttery, Russell Wasley, Walter Johnson, James Jean, Fred Holland.

The new master counselor has been one of the very active members of the order almost from the date of its establishment and should prove a very able executive in guiding the chapter. The members of the Masonic advisory board assist in the work of the chapter management and Raymond C. Cook is the advisor of the chapter at this time.

OTHER CROPS TO REPLACE WHEAT, FARMERS ASSERT

Nebraska Crops Growers' Association Plans Substitutes That Will Be Profitable to Farmers

Lincoln, Jan. 8.—Nebraska will raise less wheat this year. Determined not to continue to produce a bumper crop to be sold at a price below actual cost, members of the Nebraska Crops Growers' association devoted their entire session this afternoon to a discussion of crops to grow when the wheat acreage is reduced.

"The wheat acreage is decreasing in the whole South Platte country," said J. H. Claybaugh, county agent from Outlook Center. "A larger income can be produced from alfalfa and other crops. There are many farmers in my section who have to ship in hay. They could avoid freight charges and add to their income by raising their feed."

Mr. Claybaugh advocated more rye for winter pasturage, more barley for hogs and a general program of diversification in which drought resistant crops would play a larger part, among them kafir corn and milo maize, the latter of which he declared would outyield corn.

The discussion turned into an experience meeting. "Not one farmer in this audience made a dollar from growing wheat last year," one man spoke up. "The only man who benefited from wheat is the hired man, who got $4 a day for shocking."

B. C. Danly of Axtell, president of the crop growers, urged more dairying. To this a Lancaster county dairyman replied that the price of butterfat was so low that he was only feeding his cows enough to live on, and was not trying to produce much milk.

"Wheat disasters are inevitable, and it is certain that corn acreage will be greatly increased in the western part of the state," Mr. Danly said.

L. L. Zook of the North Platte experimental station corroborated this from his scientific observations. He remarked on the gradual increase and improvement in the corn crop in west Nebraska. One town, where formerly 1,000,000 bushels of wheat were shipped out now has an annual corn show and never mentions wheat.

W. E. Grimes of Kansas State Agricultural college outlined in a statistical way the critical wheat situation and indicated the belief that 11,000,000 less acres should be planted in the United States this year.

FARMERS' ELEVATOR MEETS
The Farmers' Elevator Co., of Murray, held their annual meeting yesterday afternoon at that place and the reports of the officers were received and despite the unfavorable conditions the company reports a dividend of seven per cent on the returns of the year's business was declared by the company which was a most excellent showing indeed.

In the election of officers the following were chosen: Parr Young, president; C. D. Spangler, vice president; W. H. Puls, secretary; Fred Lutz, treasurer; Charles Herren, C. R. Troop and Albert Wheeler, directors.

The company elected no manager at this meeting and will hold another meeting the latter part of the week at which they expect to name this officer and complete the business of the year.

SOUTH OMAHA MAN SERIOUSLY INJURED

Accident While Hunting May Result in George Harkins Losing All of Fingers of Hand.

From Monday's Daily—Yesterday about 12:30 while Geo. Harkins, aged 28, 539 Missouri avenue, Omaha, with two companions, was out hunting south of this city, the young man met with an accident that may result in the loss of all the fingers of the right hand and deprive him of the full use of the arm.

The party had made the trip from South Omaha in a car and while they were successful in bagging a number of rabbits they decided to seek other localities and loading in the car started out for more plentiful fields and as they made another stop to hunt Harkins started to pull his gun from the car, grasping it by the muzzle and in pulling the gun the trigger caught on some object in the car and the contents of the gun were discharged at the young man. The right thumb was completely shot off and the first finger left just hanging by a few torn pieces of flesh and the remainder of the hand badly injured.

The companions of the injured man hurried him on into Plattsmouth and the victim of the shooting taken to the office of Dr. P. J. Flynn where it was found necessary to amputate the first finger which was so badly injured and the other remaining three fingers were in very bad shape, so much that it is feared that it may be necessary to have them taken off later. A part of the shot had also lodged in the scalp of Mr. Harkins which will be taken out at the hospital. After dressing the wounds here the injured man was hurried to the South Omaha hospital where he will be given further treatment and cared for. The severeness of the accident makes it a matter of the gravest doubt as to the saving of the hand in the opinion of the physicians, or the negro at least.

The injured man is a son of Albert Harkins, formerly a resident of this city and was born here where his grandmother, Mrs. Mike McCool still resides. The old friends of the family will regret to learn of the accident and trust that the injuries may not prove as severe as first thought.
