LOUISVILLE PEOPLE ASKING FOR A STATE AID BRIDGE

Would Have the Present Toll Bridge Taken Over and Made into a Free State Bridge.

The board of county commissioners at their session this week received from the residents of Louisville and vicinity a petition asking that the present toll bridge at that place be replaced by a state aid bridge and recommending to the board that the present structure be purchased if it could be secured at a reasonable figure and converted to the state and county owned bridge.

The bridge at Louisville as well as the one north of this city are practically the only toll bridges along the main traveled roads of the state and which are used very extensively in travel north and south, and for the past two years there has been more or less agitation as to having the two bridges either purchased by the state and county under the law or having state aid bridges built that would in time eliminate the charges for crossing.

The fact that the bridges are toll structures has served to hold back some of the improvements on the highways as the government will not permit the expenditure of funds in a certain distance of the toll bridges and which has served to check the extension of the federal highway movements.

The board of county commissioners has approved the request of the Louisville people and made the application to the state, pledging Cass county to the one-fourth cost of the bridge which is to be repaid by charging tolls until the purchase price is received and then making the structure free to the travel of the public. This action is similar to that taken in the matter of the Platte river toll bridge here, and the resolutions of the board of commissioners will be sent to the state department of public works at Lincoln for its action.

It has been the general proceedings where the already standing and in use could be purchased at what was deemed a reasonable figure to make the purchase and turn the bridge over to the control of the county and state.

The people of Louisville as well as this section are certainly entitled to free bridges which would allow the full development of the good roads movement and make the highways truly the thoroughfare of the people and the outcome of the two applications will be watched with interest. In the event that it is found necessary to erect new bridges it will require more funds are not available at this time.

JUDGE BROBST, LOUISVILLE, DIES AT OMAHA

From Thursday's Daily— Judge James W. Brobst, well known resident of Louisville, and who has made his home in that locality for the past thirty years, passed away this morning at 4 o'clock at the Wise Memorial hospital in Omaha. The deceased had been suffering with Bright's disease for some time and several months ago went to the hospital, where he underwent several minor operations from which he seemed to obtain relief. A fortnight ago he came home from the hospital apparently much improved in health and with high hopes of adding a few more years to the seven he had already lived above man's allotted three score, ten.

A setback in his condition caused his return to the hospital Sunday, although he was not even then believed seriously ill and was doing very well when a sudden change occurred last evening and he gradually sank into the last, long sleep.

Judge Brobst was a native of the state of Pennsylvania, where he was born 77 years ago and came west to Ohio, where he was married in 1864 to Miss Malissa Reeves. The family moved to Nebraska more than thirty years ago and located in the vicinity of Louisville, where they have since resided. Some fifteen years ago, Mr. Brobst was elected as justice of the peace for Louisville precinct and has continued to hold that office up to the present time.

There were five children born to Mr. and Mrs. Brobst, two of whom died in infancy. Of the three surviving, one is Mrs. Charles Urwin, of Louisville, and the other two are residing in the west. The wife and mother is also left to share the grief of his passing.

The body will be brought from Omaha to the home in Louisville this evening, but no definite arrangements for the funeral have been made as yet.

CONFIDENCE THE GREAT NEED AT PRESENT TIME

"In looking back over 1923, the outstanding feature of the year seems to be the uncertainty regarding the meaning of the business signs, and more uncertainty regarding the proper course to follow to overcome the undeniable difficulties which all classes of business have faced," said Mr. George O. Dovey, cashier of the First National bank, in an interview given today.

"For that reason, I am inclined to be decidedly hopeful regarding the business outlook, especially as it concerns the farmers and the agricultural communities. There is a general belief in Washington and in the large financial centers that the country as a whole can not prosper unless our farmers are given an opportunity to make a fair return for their time and work, and for the money they have invested in land, livestock and equipment. be shown in a practical way, I believe, and what remains is for the farmers, and all of us who have the farmers' interests at heart, to go ahead with confidence and work shoulder to shoulder to make the most of improved conditions and larger opportunities.

"If this is done," Mr. Dovey concluded, "I am sure there will be a very different story to tell twelve months from now."

HISTORICAL GIFT TO THE PUBLIC LIBRARY HERE

The public library has just been presented with a most valuable painting in water color, from Dr. Cap. Reed-Graves, of Peru, whose people were among the first settlers in this county. This picture is of especial interest as it is a painting of the first school in this county, being a subscription school located near Murray, in Section 12, Township 11. The first teacher, Miss Clara Stocking, was drowned in Sand Creek flood in Denver.

The building is a log house, built by the father of D. A. Young, in 1856, and the painting is the work of Louie Ottmat, formerly of this city.

William Young, who erected the log house that was later the first school in Cass county, was one of the earliest settlers in the territory of Nebraska when it was thrown open to settlement to the white people in the fifties, following the consummation of treaties with the Indians. The house has been visited by many of the residents of the county and is one of the real historic spots of this locality.

The picture has been framed and will be on exhibition at the library in the D. A. R. case. The public library is fortunate in having this gift, not only for its beauty but for the historical value.

BADLY CRUSHED FOOT

Chas. Philpot came in from his ranch near Gandy on Sunday, and will spend some time here with home folks.

He is not moving around very fast these days. A short time ago he was riding horseback and looking after cattle, when the horse slipped and fell, catching Mr. Philpot's foot under its body and crushing it badly.

It has been and still is very sore so Mr. Philpot thought it was a good idea to come home.—Weeping Water Republican.

A STITCH IN TIME

Plattsmouth People Should Not Neglect Their Kidneys

No kidney ailment is unimportant. Don't overlook the slightest backache or urinary irregularity. Nature may be warning you of approaching dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease. Kidney disease is seldom fatal if treated in time, but neglect may pave the way. Don't neglect a lame or aching back another day. Don't get more dizzy spells, irregular or discolored urine, headaches, weariness or depression. If you feel you need kidney help begin using the reliable, time-tried remedy, Doan's Pills. For 50 years, Doan's have been found effective. Endorsed by Plattsmouth people. Ask your neighbor!

Theo. Starkjohan, retired farmer, Locust and Ninth streets, Plattsmouth, says: "Doan's Pills have been used in our family for kidney troubles and backache and they have proven to be all that is claimed of them. Whenever my back feels a little lame and my kidneys are not acting as they should I take Doan's Pills for a few days and they never fail to do me good. Doan's can't be equalled and anyone having kidney trouble should take them for they are reliable." (Statement given February 23, 1916.)

OVER FOUR YEARS LATER, or on May 12, 1920, Mr. Starkjohan added: "The cure I had from Doan's Pills has been a lasting one. I have faith in Doan's and if ever I should need a kidney remedy again, I will use them."

It is a favorite with mothers of young children, as it contains no opium or other harmful drug. Try it when you have need of such a remedy.

PHILATHEA CLASS HOLDS ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Also Enjoys Very Interesting Talk on South America by George L. Kerr, of New York.

From Friday's Daily— Last evening the Philathea class of the Methodist Sunday school, composed of the adult ladies, had a very pleasant gathering at the home of their teacher, Mr. C. C. Wescott. It was the regular business meeting of the month and the attendance at the meeting embraced the larger part of the class.

The ladies held their regular election of officers for the ensuing year and selected as the leaders in the class instructor W. R. Holmes as president, Mrs. Will Heinrich as vice-president, Mrs. Lawrence Sprecher as secretary and Mrs. Herman Hough as treasurer. As the teacher of the class, the ladies unanimously re-elected Mr. Wescott, who has been their instructor since the organization of the class.

The outgoing president, Mrs. A. Christ, was tendered a rising vote of thanks by the members as she has performed some very splendid work in the past year toward the up-building of the organization and her efforts have contributed largely to the increase in the membership of the class.

One of the pleasant features of the meeting was the informal address of Mr. George L. Kerr, of Olean, New York, on "South America." Mr. Kerr spent a number of years in the southern hemisphere, where he was engaged in research work in Ecuador and his delightful accounts of the character of the country, the habits of the people and the descriptions of the tropical wealth of beauty as well as the wildness of the mountains part of the country proved very interesting and held the closest attention of his hearers. The speaker had with him a number of photographs of the southern republic that proved a real treat to the ladies and his address was also fully appreciated by all the members of the class.

LETTER ARRIVES FROM ACROSS THE OCEAN

The Courier is in receipt of a letter from Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sundstrom, postmarked at Gothenberg, Sweden, which is the port at which they landed on the other side. The letter was written on board ship and indicates that Mr. Sundstrom had suffered from seasickness on their journey across the ocean, but Mrs. Sundstrom had proven herself to be a pretty good sailor. They encountered stormy weather which made the voyage a rough one a good part of the way and which accounted for Mr. Sundstrom's condition.

They spoke enthusiastically of the trip and said the service on the Drottningholm was excellent. They had three good meals a day and coffee
