

MAKES CLEAR THE RULING ON COMPENSATION CLAIMS

More Concise Outline of the Rules of the Veterans' Bureau on Compensation Claims.

From Saturday's Daily— All claims for compensation must be filed within five years from the date of discharge, provided the disability for which the claim is made existed at the time of discharge. Those disabilities which arose subsequent to discharge and are connective with service can be the subject of a claim at any time within five years from the date of discharge. Service connection could be established if the disability existed in a permanent degree as great as ten per cent within three years from the claimant's discharge and if there is no evidence to show that the disability existed at any time prior to the three year period. The disabled man would have three years from that time in which to file his claim. There are so many questions involved concerning the time limit for filing claims for disability compensation, that it appears that the only safe and fair procedure to follow is to permit all claims to be filed, at the same time urging all ex-service men to enter their claims without delay in order to insure the protection of their rights under the law.

WILL ENJOY A TRIP TO THE OLD WORLD

Miss Marie Kaufman and Mrs. Perry Coffman Expect to Journey to Europe in the Spring.

From Saturday's Daily— Two Plattsmouth ladies are planning a very delightful journey to the old world this spring that will lead them over some of the most interesting spots on the continent of Europe and places that are especially interesting as marking scenes where but a few years ago the American forces swept onward in the most victorious march in the days of '18.

The ladies planning the trip are Miss Marie Kaufman, supervisor of membership in the city schools, and Mrs. Perry Coffman, another of the well known ladies of the city. They expect to sail from New York and land at Cherbourg, France, from where they take the mail train direct to Paris and spend some time in the French capital so rich in beauty and places of historical interest and from there they will go by train to the frontier where they will look over a number of the scenes of the one-time battle front where American forces contended with the foe and from here they will go to Belgium and visit a number of the leading cities of that country including all of the famous spots in the old time province of Flanders. They will then visit for a short time in Holland and its unique cities and then Miss Kaufman expects to enjoy a boat trip down the Rhine river to Basel, Switzerland, near where the Kaufman family came years ago, and Mrs. Coffman will go from Holland to old England where she will visit the places of interest and the old home of the Barwick family in the British Isles and reach this section at the time of the year when it is most delightful to enjoy the mild climate of the English country.

This action is one in which the plaintiff seeks the recovery of damages in the sum of $25,000 which is alleged to be due on account of the defendants and their agents from completing a contract to sell certain real estate entered in by the parties in March, 1920, and which represents the depreciation in value of the real estate from the date of the contract to September, 1921. It is alleged that the plaintiff paid to the defendants the sum of $5,000 as a part payment on the land and that the defendants failed to deliver the proper abstract of the land showing the rights of the defendants in the land.

VIOLIN RECITAL AT HIGH SCHOOL VERY PLEASING

Miss Agnes Knoflickova Heard in Concert by Delighted Audience of Music Lovers.

From Saturday's Daily— Last evening the junior class of the high school presented Miss Agnes Knoflickova, well known former Plattsmouth girl, at the high school auditorium in a recital. This artist, who has studied violin under some of the leading teachers of this country as well as the old world, has had a large experience in the last two years in her concert work and her exquisite touch and handling of the numbers given last evening was a real delight to the music lovers who had gathered to hear this talented lady.

The program given embraced some of the most difficult and beautiful of the masters and were given with a beauty that is beyond words to express. Selection from Correlli, Chopin, Farafate, Moskowski, Nachev and Korngold were among the numbers given and proved a real treat to those who appreciate the high class offerings of the musical world.

PLATTSMOUTH ADDS ANOTHER VICTORY

Ashland High School Smothered by Plattsmouth Quintet on Ashland Floor Last Night.

From Saturday's Daily— The blue and white last evening again triumphed over the Ashland high school team on the Ashland floor by the decisive score of 31 to 6 in a game that demonstrated conclusively the marked superiority of Plattsmouth over their opponents in every department of the game, and in the defensive in particular, the Ashland five making only one field goal.

In the opening half of the game Plattsmouth piled up a score of 17 to 2 and in the second frame annexed an additional 14 points to Ashland's four.

Krejci secured six baskets in the first half and five in the second while Rebal and Chase, forwards, each secured one apiece in each half. The vast improvement of the team over its early season form was shown by the fact that it defeated Ashland on its own floor by 25 points while it only defeated them 14 points here at the first of the season.

At the end of the last half Buttery and Harter were used in the place of Captain Wasley and Rebal and battled the Ashland team with as great a vigor as the first string men.

DEATH OF FORMER CASS COUNTY LADY

Mrs. Mary Wilson Passed Away Suddenly at Her Home in Omaha—Sister of Simon Clark.

From Saturday's Daily— Last evening Simon H. Clark of this city was greatly shocked to receive a message announcing the death of his sister, Mrs. R. A. Wilson at her home in Omaha. The death message came very much as a surprise as Mr. Clark had been in Omaha earlier in the day and visited with the sister at her home and found her in the best of spirits apparently and there was no intimation that she was seriously ill in any way and a few hours later she had been called away.

The deceased lady was forty-five years of age and was born and reared at Cedar Creek where her family resided for many years.

Miss Mary Clark was married at Lincoln a number of years ago to R. A. Wilson, they later moving to Omaha where Mr. Wilson is now engaged in a building business for the city of Omaha. To mourn her death there remain three brothers, J. T. Clark of Carleton, Nebraska; R. J. Clark of Omaha, and Simon Clark of Plattsmouth, and two sisters, Mrs. J. J. Schneider of Cedar Creek, and Mrs. Henry Mockenhaupt of Sterling, Nebraska.

Mr. Clark departed this afternoon for Omaha to learn of the funeral arrangements and it is thought that the services will probably be held at Cedar Creek, the old home, where the other members of the family are buried.

LIBRARY NOTES

The library is a popular place these days when the mercury is near zero. The pleasant room, the interesting periodicals and especially the courteous, efficient attention from the librarian and assistant, make it a pleasure to go there. The average circulation of books for January was 141 per day—the largest number given out in one day since the beginning of the year. The most popular books this month have been: "The Life of Lincoln," "The Life of Washington," "White Flag," "The Covered Wagon," "Lost Lady," "Stella Dallas."

Reference work for the schools is very heavy. This week special work is being done on immigration, the demand for material on that subject has been almost more than the library affords.

New books are being added for the benefit of the grade work.

The talk on Panama by Mr. Drago was much enjoyed by those fortunate to hear him tell of his life and work in that wonderful country.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM A BAD EARLY MORNING FIRE

Louisville Man Almost Trapped in Burning House Last Tuesday—Burns to the Ground.

The wailing of the fire siren at 3 o'clock Tuesday morning, mingled with the roar of the wind, aroused Louisville people from a sound slumber. With the mercury down below zero and a forty mile wind blowing it was anything but a welcome sound to the fire boys who had to turn out and juggle frozen hose. The fire was located in the residence of A. Conkley on the corner of Second and Cherry streets. Mr. and Mrs. Conkley were absent from home having left Monday forenoon by auto for Lincoln, but could get no farther than Eagle on account of the roads.

Harry Conkley was sleeping alone in the house and did not awaken until neighbors had discovered the fire and the alarm had been turned in. He was awakened by the barking of a pet dog and then heard a crash like dishes falling in the kitchen. He at once saw that escape was cut off through the door and gathering up his clothing as best he could in the dark he slipped under the bed and breaking out a window threw them out and then crawled through. Before taking his departure he threw out a trunk, but the lid came open and when it was rescued most of the contents had fallen out and were burned. He succeeded in getting his shoes on and an overcoat and made his way to the home of Mrs. Martha Haddon just across the street. The house and all its contents were consumed.—Louisville Courier.

DECLARES MELLON FOR CORPORATIONS

Senator Couzens Submits New Tax Reductions Proposal While Attacking Secretary.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Charging Secretary of the Treasury Mellon with "playing directly into the hands of the corporations," Senator Couzens of Michigan, in another tax letter today said Mellon's laxity in enforcing the law is costing the government much revenue.

"It is the administrative provisions of the law and the lax enforcement which is cutting down the revenues if they are being cut, as you claim," Couzens stated. "You are directing no effort to get at the corporations, but rather are playing directly into their hands. For example you are selling billions of dollars of government securities at unreasonably high interest rates."

Excessive Interest— "It is estimated that you have paid the banks over $1,000,000 in excessive interest rates and you did this even though the banks pay no income or corporation taxes on government securities."

"Your own banks, the Mellon National of Pittsburg, holds nearly forty millions on which it pays no tax whatsoever."

Couzens submitted two tax reduction proposals to Mellon:

1.—Tax all dividends and interest of personal holding companies on the same basis as individuals, or

2.—This corporation taxes from 1 1/2 to 25 per cent if congress reduces the maximum surtax to 25 per cent.

Couzens cited Teapot Dome testimony to prove that rich individuals are avoiding the tax laws in various ways, especially by the formation of personal holding corporations for their own personal stocks and bonds.

"The greatest loopholes for avoiding surtaxes is the formation of holding companies in addition to the large number already in existence," Couzens wrote.

"Will you tell me if there is any reason why they should not be taxed, or, in other words, why corporations receive all the preference?"

HAS DELIGHTFUL MEETING

From Friday's Daily— The Philathea class of the Methodist church last evening enjoyed one of the most delightful meetings of the winter season at the home of Miss Jessie M. Robertson which was attended by a very large number of the class membership and was an occasion that was enjoyed to the utmost by everyone.

During the evening a number of piano selections were given by Miss Helen Cedar, and Miss Dorothea Pond furnished a delightful vocal offering that was appreciated very much by the members of the party.

The ladies also enjoyed a few remarks from Mr. Ragoon on "Panama and the Canal Zone" in which he had resided for a number of years and gave a most interesting account of the country, its people and their customs and the general conditions that prevail in this possession of the United States. The speaker described the manner in which the government engineers and medical corps had cleaned and made sanitary the conditions that had previously existed in this tropical land and made the canal zone one of the most delightful spots for the many Americans who had come there since the building of the canal.

At an appropriate hour the members of the party were treated to very dainty refreshments served by the hostesses assisted by the members of the class committee.

NEW PREMIER IS A FRIEND OF AMERICA

Ramsay MacDonald Anxious to Remove Every Obstacle Which Might Impair Relations.

London, Feb. 7.—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, in his desire to remove every obstacle calculated even remotely to impair the good relations between this country and the United States, will at an early date attempt to effect a settlement of the controversy concerning the reopening of the American consulate at Newcastle, the question of the control of the American consulate at Newcastle, it was learned from an authoritative source this afternoon.

The prime minister also will support the confirmation in the house of commons of the Anglo-American liquor treaty, and he expects no serious opposition to the passage of this measure. Mr. MacDonald is understood to feel regretful that it had ever become necessary to safeguard America's right to enforce her own prohibition laws by the negotiation of this special treaty. He would have preferred, it is indicated, to see all foreign nations, individuals, and ship owners, honorably to respect the American desire to keep out all illicit liquor in the attempt to enforce the principle of prohibition.

Mr. MacDonald is known to share heartily the views of the American government, and would welcome a gesture from Washington for the convocation of another conference having as its object a further diminution of the naval and military equipment of the nations of the earth. He is firmly convinced that an appeal to the sense of justice; the reason and the higher instincts of the nations would do more to restore the peace of the world than the maintenance of giant navies and armies.

The premier advocated the extension of the principles of arbitration between the United States and Great Britain and will do everything possible to facilitate formal agreement.
